HUNNEWELL'S ECLECTIC PILLS.—The true Type of Cathartic.—By the application of true Pharmaceutical Laws, both Character and Economy are combined in this valuable Pill. To prevent putting such quantities of indigestible drugs into the stomach, the griping pains so erroneously judged to be the evidence of thorough action, and to require from 4 to 6 Pills, to get a decent cathartic, was the study in this development. The dose seldom exceeding One, and never more than Two Pills, settles the question of economy, and character can be best known by confidence to test them in DYSPEPSIA, COSTIVENESS, BILIOUSNESS, LIVER COMPLAINT, all derangements of the stomach and Bowels, and as a Family Pill. spno

Probate Advertisements.

The language of the law relating to the publication of Probate Notices is:

"The party required to publish any notice ordered by the Judge of Probate to be given in a newspaper, may select the paper thereior."

We will our subscribers remember this, and when they have occasion to do business at the Probate Office, if agreeable, request that their notices may be ordered for the Chronicle or the Gazette; otherwise a different paper may be selected.

Our terms are as low as those of any other paper.

Local.

☞ Two sailors on Friday evening last occasioned considerable disturbance at the Portsmouth bridge, in attempting to pass over without paying the usual toll. The keeper, of course, refused to allow them to pass, and they accordingly came at him with shovels, which he succeeded in wresting from them. They then drew their knives, when the toll-gatherer struck one of them on the head with a billet of wood, thus persuading them to forego their intended raid. The wounded man was taken to the Navy Yard by his companion and other sailors who were near by at the time.

☞ Could some of our law-abiding citizens, who wish well for our city and for its people both young and old, take a stroll through certain portions of Portsmouth early or late on any Sunday evening, they might witness scenes that would startle and grieve them. Open grog-shops, at any time, do not have a tendency to improve the morals of a community; and when these are open and freely patronised on Sunday evenings, the results must be still deplorable.

☞ Artificial ponds are getting fashionable in our city, and it has been suggested that a ferry boat in the vicinity of the post office might do a good business, while pontoon bridges would prove an equally profitable investment.

☞ The fortification appropriation bill, as reported, reduces somewhat the estimates for fortifications in New England, except that of Portland. The amounts now asked for to continue work on the forts in Portsmouth harbor are as follows: New Fort Constitution, $100,000; for Fort McClary, $50,000.

☞ It is reported from Augusta that one of the new regiments of infantry to be raised in Maine will be commanded by Dr. Mark F. Wentworth of Kittery, formerly Colonel of the 27th Maine.

☞ A new sign, the "Dew Drop Inn," has made its appearance on Congress street.

EDITORS IN OFFICE.—A zealous copperhead paper in New Hampshire informs its readers that a certain republican editor has just been appointed to office, and then remarks that in Frank Pierce's administration no editor held office. This remark, however, is a grand error, not to say a gross falsehood. It is well known that all administrations of the democratic party subsidized papers by giving offices to editors, either for present or past services; and Pierce's was no exception.

In this city, the New Hampshire Gazette was ably edited by Mr. Rundlett during the Taylor & Fillmore administration, when of course no U. S. subsidy was to be had for that sheet. When Frank Pierce took the Presidential Chair, Mr. Rundlett became Postmaster of Portsmouth, as the reward of his editorial services; and he held that good office about eight years.

His successor, Mr. Fuller, was appointed Pension Agent soon after he became editor of the Gazette; and held the office as long as he remained editor.

He was succeeded as editor by Mr. Alexander, for whom an office in the Custom House was created, that the paper might live, under the Buchanan administration.—At the same time the Pension Agency, which had become small, was given to Mr. Hoyt.

When Mr. Alexander espoused the cause of Douglas, the office in the Custom House which was created to reward him, was suppressed to punish him; the bread fell from his mouth, and he sold out to Mr. Gray, for whom the office was revived, and the paper was thereby sustained! Mr. Rundlett, the Postmaster, being the editor in the cause of Breckinridge, though his name did not appear. This arrangement continued till Mr. R. left the Post Office; and Mr. G. published till his Custom House place was lost, and then he sold also.

These statements are not made in any spirit of contention or fault-finding,—but they are plain facts, which go against the false pretence that Pierce's administration, or any administration of that party was very careful and scrupulous not to reward or punish editors!

No pretence could be more false or absurd: and the papers that make it are not much to be relied upon for any statements they make. U. T.

A GOAT TEACHES A MORAL LESSON. A goat in Webster, Mass., noted for its combativeness, while walking on a pond in that town, came to a hole in the ice, made by some fishermen, and espied his face in the water. Thinking that he saw one of his fellows, he concluded that this was an opportunity not to be lost, and at once prepared for his usual attack. Drawing back a few feet, he lowered his head, shook his tail spasmodically, and at a tremendous pace, rushed upon his shadow. But the old fellow went into the hole out of sight under the ice in a twinkling, nor has he since been seen. Moral: Never rush into anything without giving the subject due consideration.

THE STATE OF NEW HAMPSHIRE

A PROCLAMATION.

By His Excellency Joseph A. Gilmore,
Governor of the State of New Hampshire.

The General Government has determined to put down the Rebellion by the Fourth day of July next. By a Proclamation of the President of the United States it is

"Ordered, That a draft of 500,000 men to serve for three years, or during the war, be made on the 10th day of March next, for the military service of the United States, crediting and deducting therefrom so many as may have been enlisted or drafted into the service prior to the 1st day of March and not heretofore credited."

New Hampshire, having filled her quota under the call for 300,000 volunteers, will need to raise only her proportion of 200,000 men, in order to meet all demands upon her before the tenth of March. By telegram from the War Department I am informed that this call is equivalent to a call for 200,000 men in addition to the 300,000 called for, October 17th, 1863." The quota of New Hampshire under this last call has not been officially announced, but will be, in round numbers, an advance of 67 per cent. on the quotas of each town as assigned under the call of October 17th, by circular from the Adjutant General's Office, bearing date November 9th. The whole number of men required of our State to meet the present call will not be far from 2000. A detailed statement of the additional men required from each town will be issued from the Adjutant General's Office as soon as possible.

Meanwhile I would urge upon the people of New Hampshire the importance of taking prompt and decisive measures to meet the new demand upon them. The Government bounties will not be paid after the first of March next; but till that time each fresh recruit will receive from the General Government $300.00; each man who has seen nine months service, $400.00. By the advice and with the consent of the Executive Council, I do hereby declare that the State bounty of $100.00 to soldiers enlisting in New Hampshire Regiments will continue to be paid up to March 10th, 1864.

In order to meet this new requisition I am authorized by the War Department to recruit the four companies of New Hampshire Cavalry which have recently been attached to the First R. I. Cavalry to a full Regiment which shall be known hereafter as the First New Hampshire Cavalry.—This affords the sons of New Hampshire an opportunity to enrol their names in a regiment which is to be made up of picked men and will doubtless be assigned to special service. An accomplished officer of the regular army has already been detailed by the War Department to assist in the organization of this Regiment.

Re-enlistments under the recent call from members of New-Hampshire Regiments which have seen two years service will be credited to the quota of their respective towns, or any other town which they may prefer within the limits of the same Congressional District. Each man re-enlisting from these old Regiments will receive $300 Government bounty and $100.00 State bounty, and have the privilege of spending 30 days with his family. Many members of the 2d, 4th, 5th and 6th regiments of infantry, the Sharp-shooters and the N. H. Battery have already re-enlisted, and will be credited under this new call, as our quota of 3768 men under the call of Oct. 17th, 1863, was filled at home, without counting these re-enlistments.

The men from New-Hampshire can be raised by volunteering, and I am determined they shall be. By filling up the New Hampshire Cavalry to its maximum and encouraging the hearty disposition of our glorious veterans to re-enlist we shall meet all requisitions upon us by the 1st of March. I am confident that we shall do this. There will never be another draft in the old Granite State. Her sons will rise in their might and like an avalanche from their icy hills sweep the last traces of armed treason into the Gulf of Mexico before another return of our great national anniversary. Only one more effort and the thing is done.

Given at the Council Chamber in Concord, this first day of February, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and sixty-four, and of the independence of the United States the eighty-eighth.

JOSEPH A. GILMORE.

By His Excellency the Governor,
ALLEN TENNY, Secretary of State.

Constitution Life Syrup,
COMPOSED OF
IODIDE POTASSIUM,
With the compound concentrated fluid extract of
VALUABLE MEDICINAL
ROOTS AND HERBS,
Prepared by WM. H. GREGG, M. D.,
Graduate College Physicians and Surgeons, N. Y. formerly Assistant Physician Blackwell's Island Hospitals, late Medical Inspector New York State Volunteer Depots, under Gov. Edwin D. Morgan.

Constitution Life Syrup
HAS PRODUCED
A REVOLUTION IN MEDICINE!
What may seem almost incredible, is, that many diseases hitherto considered hopelessly incurable are frequently cured in a few days or weeks, and we cheerfully invite the investigation of the liberal minded and scientific to cures which have no parallel at the present day.
Our medicine is peculiar, by it the seat of disease is directly reached, and the equilibrium restored. Those who have suffered long from painful and obstinate diseases, those who have vainly sought relief from advertised medicines, those who cannot be cured by other physicians—are Invited to use Constitution Life Syrup.
During the past five years we have contended with obstacles and overcome opposition as herculean as ever encountered by any Reformers.
Rapidity of Cure.
Some say, "Your cures are too quick," while others doubt their permanence, and think that diseases can only be cured by the slower recuperative process of Nature." This is our reply:
In health, the body, like a well-balanced scale, is in a state of equilibrium. But when from any cause there is a weight on one side of the scale, we have the effects of disease. What is requisite is, to restore the normal balance of the scale.
CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP,
A positive and specific remedy for all diseases originating from an IMPURE STATE OF THE BLOOD, and for all (hereditary) DISEASES transmitted from PARENT TO CHILD.
Paralysis.
Hemiplegia, Paresis, Paraplegia, Paralysis Agitans.
It is so universally admitted that Constitution Life Syrup is the only effective means of restoration in the various forms of Paralysis, that we need not reiterate that it is emphatically the Great Life-Giving Power.
Dyspepsia.
Indigestion, Liver Complaint, Constipation, Weight at Stomach, Biliousness, Want of Appetite, Flatulence, Bad Breath.
Scrotula.
Struma, Glandular Swellings, Ulcerations, King's Evil, Erysipelas, Salt Rheum.
This taint (hereditary or acquired), filling life with untold misery, is by all usual medical remedies incurable.
Rheumatism.
Arthritis, Gout, Lumbago, Sciatica, The Dolourex.
If there is any disease in which the Constitution Life Syrup is a sovereign, it is in Rheumatism and its kindred affections. The most intense pains are almost instantly relieved—enormous swellings are reduced. Cases, chronic or vicarious, of 20 or 30 years standing, have been cured by us.
Nervousness.
Nervous Debility, Confusion of Thought, Epilepsy, Loss of Power, Shattered Nerves, St Vitus' Dance.
Thousands who have suffered for years will bless the day on which they read these lines. Particularly to weak, suffering woman will this medicine prove an inestimable blessing—directing their footsteps to a Hope which fulfils more than it promises.
Mercurial Diseases.
Salivation, Pelting of Weariness, Rotting of Bones, Bad Complexion, Aches in Bones, Depressed Spirits.
Constitution Life Syrup purges the system entirely from all the evil effects of MERCURY, removing the Bad Breath, and curing the Weak Joints and Rheumatic Pains which the use of Calomel is sure to produce. It hardens Spongy Gums and secures the teeth as firmly as ever.
Constitution Life Syrup
Eradicates, root and branch, all Eruptive Diseases of the Skin, like
ULCERS, PIMPLES, BLOTCHES,
And all other difficulties of this kind, which so much disfigure the outward appearance of both males and females, often making them a disgusting object to themselves and their friends.
CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP
Cures all Swellings of the Glands,
Either of the Face, Neck or Female Breast, and should the cause be of a cancerous character, it will be detected, thus preventing their breaking and producing troublesome Discharging Sores, which disfigure so many of the younger portion of the community, from six to twenty years of age. Young children are very subject to Discharges from the Ears, which deprive us of a healthy constitution. These cases can recover by taking a few doses of the Life Syrup.
All scrofulous persons suffering from Debility, Emaciation, Dyspepsia, Dropsy, of the limbs or abdomen, and in the female Dropsy of the ovaries and womb, generally accompanied with inflammation and ulceration of the uterus; are permanently cured by Constitution Life Syrup. The disease known as Goitre or Swelled Neck, the Life Syrup will remove entirely. The remedy should be taken for some time, as the disease is exceedingly chronic and stubborn, and will not be removed without extra effort. Tumors of the Ovaries, Tumors of the Breast, and swelling of other glands of the body will be completely reduced without resorting to the knife or operations of any kind.
Epileptic Fits, Sympathetic or Organic Diseases of the Heart (as Palpitation, Disease of Valves—producing a grating or filing of Blood), Dropsy of the Heart Case and all the affections of this important organ, or persons suffering from any acute pain in the region of the heart, will be greatly relieved by Constitution Life Syrup.
Broken Down and Delicate Constitutions, Suffering from Indisposition to Exercise, Pain in the Back, Loss of Memory, Forebodings, Horror of Insanity, Fear of Disease, Dimness of Vision, Dry Hot Skin, Hot Flashes, Nervousness, Want of Sleep, Restlessness, Pale Haggard Countenance and Lassitude of the Muscular System, all require the aid of the CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP.
For all forms of Ulcerative Diseases, either of the Nose Throat, Tongue, Spine, Forehead or Scalp, no remedy has ever proved its equal.
MOTH PATCHES upon the female face, depending upon a diseased action of the Liver, are very unpleasant to the young wife and mother. A few bottles of Constitution Life Syrup will correct the secretion, and remove the deposit which is directly under the skin.
In Diseases of the Liver, giving rise to languor, dizziness, indigestion, weak stomach, or an ulcerated or cancerous condition of that organ, accompanied with burning or other, unpleasant symptoms, relief may be obtained by the use of CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP.
☞ As a general Blood-Purifying Agent, the Life Syrup stands unrivalled by any preparation in the world.
Diseases of the Spine, as usually developed in the young, Hip Disease, Neuralgia, and all Nervous Diseases, and Ladies who are suffering from diseases for which they are at a loss to know what to do, we would advise the use of CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP. It will restore their pallid countenance, strengthen their weak back and side, give them new energy, new life and happiness.
THE RICH AND POOR are liable to the same diseases. Nature and Science have made the Constitution Life Syrup for the benefit of all.
PURE BLOOD produces healthy men and women; and if the constitution is neglected in youth, disease and early death are the results. Do not delay when the means are so near at hand, and within the reach of all.
TO NURSES AND MARRIED LADIES.
It is the safest and most effectual medicine ever discovered for purifying the system and relieving the suffering attendant upon childbirth. It strengthens both the mother and the child, prevents pain and disease, and increases and enriches the food.—Those who have used it think it indispensable. It is highly useful both before and after confinement, as it prevents disease attendant upon childbirth.

Is the Poor Man's Friend and the Rich Man's Blessing!—Buy it, take it, and be cured.—It is Universal in its effects

DEEDS, NOT WORDS.

Prune thou thy words, the thought control,
Or that o'er three swell and strong
They will condense within thy soul,
And change to purpose strong.

But he who lets his feelings run
In soft, luxurious flow,
Shrinks when hard service must be done,
And faints at every war.

From our Regular Correspondent.

LETTER FROM NEW YORK.

NEW YORK, Feb. 1.

Dear Chronicle:—

You see I'm not accustomed to this '64 yet, and was obliged to correct my figures above; and really these years slide so quickly "adown the back entry of time," that one can hardly keep up with them. It scarce seems possible that this correspondence is a "five-year-older," or that the snow of nearly a dozen winters has been pressed on your door-sill by the foot of the early morning carrier of the "Chronicle." The snow flakes of '64 lay lightly o'er many a friendly heart which palsied quickly then, but who can say that they watch not the clustering formation of your type to-night with as much interest as they read its first impression in 1852.

Let us waste a moment in wishing success to ourselves and each other—and if we add an equal quantity for the general public, surely that complex and compound individual can't be dissatisfied.

I condense for you the following items:—

Two hundred dollars bonus was paid by Claflin, of the late firm of Claflin, Mellen & Co., for first choice of pew at Beecher's Church. This is additional to all taxes, and secures the pew for one year only.—$150 was paid for second choice, and $120 for the third.

$10,000—is Beecher's salary.

$1000 per day—cost of Helmbold's advertisements.

In a melting mood—Skating at the Park.

Moody—The skates.

Overdue and feared to be lost—Clipper ship Dreadnaught.

Preparing prosperously—The Sanitary Commission Fair.

Drawing crowds—"Rosedale" at "Wallacks,"—84th night.

For the benefit of the Sanitary Commission—"Rosedale" to morrow night.

Sure thing—1860—Ten years—S.-T.-1860—X.

Scarce at the N. Y. Post Office—Stamps.

Not to be laid this year—Broadway railroad.

To be laid—Two more "Crosstown" roads.

Not expected to live— Barnum's seal.

Stopping at "Delmonico's," 14th street—Gen. Scott.

To lecture to-morrow night—Gen. Gantt, of Arkansas.

Delivered a humorous lecture last week—Barnum.

Grand torchlight procession—When the Fire Zouaves come home on their furlough.

Going up—Real Estate.

Many new blocks and buildings.

The thermometer.

Going down—Gold.

Creating a sensation—Mrs. Cora Hatch.

Has seven and a half miles of gas pipe—Continental Hotel, Philadelphia.

Lost—Lives of two passers by a cartridge factory explosion in Maiden Lane.

Won—A patent suit involving a million dollars, by Jordan, Marsh & Co.

A new book and a good one—"Pique"; author unknown—Probably a lady. N.

— One of the leading doctors of Paris, and a real coont also, has been making a large fortune by getting the lives of his patients insured and then poisoning them—a very Frenchy way of doing business. But he has been found out, and his business is ended.

— In Paris not long since an artist painted a portrait of Mr. J.——, who was noted for his frequent libations. The artist invited the gentleman's friends to see it, and they inspected it and pronounced it excellent. One of them who was rather nearsighted, complained of the light, and approached it to change its position, when the artist exclaimed, "Don't touch it; it isn't dry!" "No, no—looking at it then," replied the gentleman; "it can't be my friend J.——if it isn't dry."

LAST AND BEST.
THE MODEL COOK,
AN AIR-TIGHT STOVE,
WITH TWO OVENS,
And Five Boiling Places!

At the present high prices of fuel it is very desirable to lessen its consumption. This can be best accomplished by using a MODEL COOK STOVE. More cooking can be done in one with a single ton of coal, or cord of wood, than with double the quantity in any common stove or range—and in less time also.

The fire being placed in the centre of the stove, with an oven on either side (which may be thrown into one at pleasure), all the heat from the fuel is made available for cooking purposes.

The oven doors are lined with tin, and jackets are provided for the bottom and back of the stove, thus retaining much heat, ordinarily wasted.

A check draft is applied, by means of which much fuel is saved, and a continuous fire may be kept as long as desirable.

A Water Tank and Hot Closet can be applied to either size, when needed.

In fact, no pains or expense have been spared to make this a PERFECT Stove, and we think it surpasses all others for Economy, Durability, Capacity, Convenience, Beauty of Design and Perfection of Finish.

It is equally well adapted for Coal or Wood; Summer or Winter use; excellent in a family where help is employed, and invaluable to the housewife who does her own work, lightening it at least one-half.

No family, large or small, where economy, convenience and dispatch are desirable, should be without one.

We refer to some parties who have purchased the Model Cook—

THE MAGEE
COOKING STOVE.

The subscriber, having received his Fall stock of Stoves, would especially call the attention of the public to the

CELEBRATED AND UNEQUALLED
MAGEE COOK STOVE,

as the very best Stove yet made, and would invite those about purchasing or exchanging Stoves, to examine this, believing it to be far superior to any other Stove yet invented, the castings being heavier, and the oven larger than usual. The oven plates are covered with plaster, which renders it equal to the old-fashioned brick oven for perfection in baking.

There is a new style and very superior broiler and sad-iron heater combined, by which the odor of broiling meats are prevented from escaping into the room. With the extension top there is a large copper Reservoir for hot water; also a large tin warming closet attached, in which any article can be kept warm, while the other parts of the Stove are occupied for other purposes.

The arrangements for sifting the coal and cleaning the grate are far superior to those of any other Stove now in use, as no dust can possibly escape into the room, and the shovelling up of the ashes is entirely dispensed with. The fire is regulated in the same manner as the MAGEE PARLOR STOVE, and can be continued day and night for weeks together, thus saving the expense of re-kindling every day.

For economy, durability, ease of management, cleanliness and perfection in cooking, it cannot be surpassed by any other Stove, as hundreds of families in this city and vicinity, who are now using them, are willing to testify, and speak of them in the highest terms of praise.

We would refer to the following purchasers:

"MAGEE'S PATENT"
VENTILATING & AIR WARMING
FURNACES.

The subscriber, being the Sole Agent in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of this valuable Furnace, would ask those about remodelling or erecting buildings to examine this truly valuable invention.

For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, moist and agreeable;—and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pot is used for consumption, the tendency to produce headache so much complained of in other Furnaces, is entirely obviated.

The objects aimed at by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.

To accomplish this many complicated and expensive heating arrangements have been constructed, requiring little improvement over former methods, while many have proved a total failure. The reason for this is obvious. The communicating heat passing lighter than gas off into the pipe or chimney without being consumed. This objection, so common in other Furnaces, is obviated in the

MAGEE FURNACE.

The flue or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot descend, and are burned up by the admission of cold air through the fire-pot, which ignites them as they pass off from the coal, thus saving at least 20 per cent. of the properties of the heat in the fuel.

No heating apparatus with the smoke-pipe or flue on the top of the cone can be made to consume the gases of the coal, as they pass off with a large amount of the heat generated, making the chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.

This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.

These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.

For ease of management, economy and purity of air, these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire may be kept the entire season without once going out.

They give entire satisfaction wherever used. We have in store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world,—and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:

Samuel Cleaves, Esq.,	Albert R. Hatch, Esq.,
Aaron H. Hill,	Charles H. Mendum,
Henry F. Wendell,	John Sise, and others.

The Chronicle.

"Boundless party—to sect confined;
The world our home; our brethren, all mankind.
Love truth, do good, be just and fair with all;
Exalt the right, though every law fall."

"Let me warn you in the most solemn manner against the baneful effects of the spirit of party, generally. It is a spirit not to be encouraged.—Its common and continual mischief is sufficient to make it the interest and duty of a wise people to discourage and restrain it. In governments of the popular form, it is seen in its greatest rankness, and is truly their worst enemy."—Washington's Farewell Address

A ROMANCE OF THE DAY.—One of the returned soldiers of Beverly, says the Salem Gazette, who has just re enlisted for the war, was coming to the city with a pocket full of money, when he made the acquaintance, in the car, of a good looking girl from the same place. Her dress, however, was to his mind not exactly the thing, and he made bold to ask her why she did not wear a better one. "For the very good reason," said she, "that I have none." "How would you like to have a new fit-out, Miss?" "Nothing would suit me better," was the reply. "Come, then, with me," said our kind-hearted soldier as he handed her from the cars. Suiting the action to the word, he took her to various shops and gave her the choice of the best fabrics for dresses.—He then purchased her a nice fashionable cloak and hat, and not satisfied with that, crowned his generosity by buying for her a gold watch and chain. "And now," said he, "I want you to become my wife." Of course she would—who would not?—and away went the happy pair to be united in the close bonds of wedlock. The service was speedily performed, and the unexpended balance of our soldier's bounty safely invested for the benefit of his new and youthful bride.

The new call for troops brings again prominently before the public the proposition that our regiments in the West should be allowed to recruit their numbers from the loyal population among whom they are placed, paying the same bounties which are given here. Such a course would relieve the strain on our industry, and at the same time relieve the poverty and destitution of the inhabitants of the region which is now the seat of war. The payment of the bounties is, of course, an important element of the scheme. The families of the enlisted men in Tennessee would by this means be lifted out of their present misery, and our present regiments would be reinforced by soldiers who would go into the fight from passion as well as principle.—The process which has tried the loyalty of these men has inflamed their feelings. They have personal wrongs to avenge as well as a country to save, and this combination of passion and patriotism makes a soldier thoroughly indifferent to danger and death. Transcript.

The Grand Jury, at Salem, on Monday, reported bills against 15 persons for keeping liquor nuisances, six for adultery or lewd and licentious behavior, and against two or three for other crimes. On Wednesday, 18 persons were arraigned for keeping liquor nuisances. The parties from this city were fined $75 and costs each, and if not paid, four months to the House of Correction. The rum business gives the principal employment to the Court, and as everybody convicted now has a choice between enlisting in the army and going to prison, some of the towns will be helped in filling their quotas by the liquor nuisances.—Newburyport Herald.

Lieut. Governor Hall of Missouri, who succeeds Gov. Gamble, deceased, concludes his message with the most patriotic declarations. He says—"My chief and constant efforts shall be to co-operate with the Federal Government in its efforts to suppress the existing rebellion. In doing this I shall not be solicitous to find fault with the President, Congress, or Generals in the field.—I shall rather defer my objections to whatever I may consider blameworthy to a more propitious period, and trust to a cordial support of the government of the United States to contribute something to the restoration of peace."

This is really a great improvement. The change of Governors is for the better.

The celebrated John Foster thus describes a bigot: "He sees religion, not as a sphere but as a line and it is a line in which he is moving. He is like an American buffalo—sees right forward, but never on the right or left. He would not perceive a legion of angels or devils at the distance of ten yards, on the one side or the other."

A boarder not liking a way his landlady's daughter had of appropriating his hair oil, filled the bottle with Spalding's glue the day before a ball to which the girl was invited, and she stayed at home in consequence.

— It is stated that a Frenchman in Vernon, Vt., recently cut sixteen and three-quarters cords of wood in three days. At one dollar per cord, which is the current price for chopping wood this winter, he earned over five dollars and a half per day.

TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 9, 1864.

THE REBELLION.

Regiments are rapidly going to the Army of the Potomac, and it is said that it will soon be larger than ever. Gen. Meade has recovered from his illness, and will go to the front in a few days.

On Saturday morning a large rebel force moved down to Mitchell's and Raccoon Fords, as if prepared to cross the Rapidan. Our whole army was instantly put in motion to check the movement, which it is now thought, was intended by the rebels to conceal the departure of troops to East Tennessee and North Carolina. Perley states that Lee's whole force in our front is not believed to exceed 18,000 or 20,000 men. On Friday morning a reconnoissance in force started from the Army of the Potomac, and considerable cannonading took place at Morton's ford on the Rapidan during the day; there was also considerable musketry fire late in the afternoon. This was occasioned by the rebels resisting their crossing, but our forces finally succeeded in laying a pontoon bridge and advanced, driving the enemy before them and capturing many prisoners. The 2d and 3d corps and Kilpatrick's cavalry were all engaged in this reconnoissance, which was extended through Saturday and resulted in ascertaining the strength of the enemy and obtaining other information.

Advices from Newbern, N. C., to the 3d state that the rebels were in sight of the city, and every citizen was under arms, expecting an attack. The rebels held Newport, thus cutting off communication with Beaufort, and also giving them command of the approaches to Newbern by the Neuse river should they fortify its banks. A force of 300 or 400 Union troops are reported to be in possession of "the Block house," 9 miles from Newbern, surrounded by the enemy, and holding their position against vastly superior numbers. Nearly two-thirds of the crew of the Underwriter (destroyed by the rebels,) are safe. All the officers, except Third Assistant Engineer Allen, were captured. A large number of the crew, while being conveyed away by the rebels in a barge, seized the rebel officer and his men, and brought them safely into port. [The reports already given that the rebels had retired to Kinston, and that Newburn was thus relieved, are one day later than the foregoing. The Richmond papers also confirm the report, and there is therefore no cause for apprehension in regard to the safety of the post.]

The reporter of the Associated Press states on the highest authority in Nashville that all skirmishes recently reported are merely foraging fights between our own and the rebel cavalry; that Gen. Park, on the night of the 4th inst., was at Knoxville in command of the 9th Army Corps, and had no communication cut off this side of Cumberland Gap. The Tazewell fight was unimportant, and did not affect the general situation. Gen. Schofield has assumed command of the department of the Ohio, vice Gen. Foster, relieved.

— Gen. Gantt, of rebel notoriety, has spoken at Manchester and Nashua, in this State, for Union and freedom: but much to the disappointment of thousands in this State, he could stay here no longer,—and has gone to other fields of labor—it is said, to Arkansas.

Gen. Gantt was last year actively engaged in the rebellion, and commanded a brigade in the rebel army, but becoming convinced that the South could not achieve its independence, he came out for the reconstruction of the Union and the abolition of slavery as the best thing which can now be done for the Southern States and the whole country. In his letter accepting an invitation to speak in New York, he says:

With proper assistance our State will be again in full fellowship with her sister States in four months; and under an anti-slavery Constitution. I have no interest in misrepresenting. I am no politician. I would not have an office. I mean what I say. I believe I am an honest man. I want peace—a permanent peace—a speedy peace. It cannot come but by the sword: it wrings my heart to say so. Yet it is so, and this is likewise true, that the more men in the field, the more determination and unity displayed, the shorter the struggle, and the less suffering and sorrow inflicted.

I do not deny that I love the South; that every blow inflicted on it agonizes me; but I love my country, and love order, and love republican institutions, and would have all preserved, and I see but one way to do it. The war must be pressed with vigor, the redeemed territory reorganized, and its shattered society built up. And above all, we must let negro slavery be removed at once. Its death will be new life to our nation. To the poor and to the capitalist, it opens up a new country, that is like the discovery to them of a new continent.

— George Thompson, Esq., arrived in Boston on Saturday, from England.

— A brilliant genius has discovered that although tame pigeons have nothing of the India rubber formation, yet they are notoriously gutter-perchers.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— There is in Northfield a family of eight, of four generations, all sitting at one fire and eating at the same table.

—— A piece of iron, weighing 107 lbs., was found in a bale of cotton at the Waukewan Mills, Meredith Village. It cost, at 84 cents a pound, $89.88.

—— The American Fire Insurance Company, chartered by the last Legislature, is about being organized in Exeter, with a capital stock of $100,000, divided into shares of $100 each.

—— A yoke of cattle were stolen from the barn of Mr. Dean Smith, of Raymond, on the night of Jan. 25. They were traced to Chichester; and the thief paid the damage and escaped a term at State Prison.

—— On Friday last, at Manchester, the exceptions which were taken by the counsel of Samuel V. B. Bennett, convicted of murder in the second degree, were considered by Justices Bell and Sargent, and they were overruled. The prisoner was then sentenced to three days' solitary confinement and eighteen years' hard labor in the State Prison.

—— A meeting of the mayors of the cities and the selectmen of many of the principal towns in this State was held in Manchester on Saturday, and a resolution was adopted requesting the Governor and Council to assume the entire responsibility of filling the quota of the State under the last call. The towns will thus be relieved of the necessity of offering bounties, and each soldier will receive the liberal State and National bounties without the intervention of a third party.

The Malden Murder.—Immediately upon the murder of young Converse, at the Malden, Mass., Bank, being known, two Boston detectives were specially detailed to ferret out the murderer if possible, while the whole police force had their instructions in regard to the matter. The Boston Journal states that their efforts have at length been successful, and that the murderer has been arrested. The criminal is Edward W. Green, Postmaster of Malden. Suspicion was first attached to him by the fact that during the excitement in Malden Green manifested no interest whatever, never attending the public meetings or making any enquiries relative thereto. A detective was placed on his track to watch him whenever he visited Boston, to see what places he visited and what money he expended, and for the past three or four weeks this detective followed him like a shadow, obtaining much information tending to fasten the crime upon him. It was ascertained at the same time that Green stood well with the people of Malden, but was involved in debt. A few days since he paid a debt of $700,—nearly all in bills on the Malden Bank; and he had previously paid other smaller debts in bills on the Malden Bank. His arrest was accordingly determined on, and was made on Sunday evening. Green was silent, but exhibited no marked emotion. He subsequently confessed his guilt, stating that on the day of the murder he visited the bank twice, and that at the second time, just half-past eleven o'clock, seeing there was no one but young Converse there, he drew his pistol—a six-barreled Smith & Wesson's revolver—placed the muzzle within a foot of the young man's head and fired, the ball taking effect under or back of his ear—the shot felling him to the floor. He instantly discharged a second barrel, the shot from which took effect in the temple, while his victim lay on the floor. He then seized the bills in the drawer, about $5000, and returned to his office.

After detailing these facts, Green stated that a portion of the money was concealed in a piece of newspaper in an old boot in the Post office, where $615 in bills on the Malden Bank was subsequently found.—The balance of the stolen money, Green said, was secreted underneath the flooring in the attic of the "Volunteer" Engine House, and, on making search there, the detectives found $3454, all in Malden Bank bills, making in the whole $4069. This, with the several sums paid away by him, accounts for the whole amount stolen from the Bank.

Green is a man of small stature, being scarcely over five feet and an inch or two in height. He was 27 years of age last October, and has an estimable lady for a wife, who has an infant but three or four months old. The agony of his wife on being informed of the arrest of her husband can be better imagined than described. It is represented as having been of the most heart-rending description.

The wretched prepetrator of the awful deed, who maintained the utmost coolness of manner at the time and after his arrest until left in his cell in the Tombs, appeared entirely different on Monday morning, being completely broken down, and shedding tears quite freely. He avers that his sole object in taking the life of young Converse, with whom he was well acquainted and whom he highly esteemed, was the getting possession of the money to pay off debts which were a source of trouble to him.

— Philadelphia, Chicago and St. Louis each had a thunder storm a few days since.

— There are nearly twenty-one millions of gold in the Treasury.

— The latest excitement in Albany was caused by a skating carnival for the Sanitary Commission.

— An arrest was made in New York, on Saturday for passing a one dollar Treasury note altered into a ten.

— A change is being made in the fashionable circles of New York to have evening parties commence at five o'clock and break up before midnight.

— A New York milliner has obtained $500 damages for abusive language, from a gentleman whose wife's skating cap she had not trimmed satisfactorily.

— The petition of the Eastern Railroad for a new bridge across the Merrimac at Newburyport, we learn from the Herald, will be strongly opposed.

— It is proposed to hold a fair in Gloucester to provide suitable dresses for those ladies who would "like to attend the Leap Year Party but have nothing to wear."

— A negro boy who attended one of the colored schools in New Orleans, has been sent to the House of Refuge for stealing the bracelet and watch of his teacher.—Gratitude.

— Some changes are being made in the armament of screw-steamer Niagara at the Brooklyn yard. They were necessary because she was found to ship seas when she was intended to seize ships.

— The whole number of barrels of mackerel packed in the State of Maine in 1863 was less than half, and but little more than one-third as many as in Gloucester, Mass., alone.

— The Richmond Examiner proposes to put all men who weigh 250 and over into a heavy regiment, to take the field in iron clad omnibuses, and to be called the omnibusters.

— A man on Monday purchased a military overcoat from one of the second-hand clothing stores in Detroit, and found sewed inside the lining $150 in money. He paid $10 for the coat.

— The Petersburg Express says it will soon be impossible for a vessel to go in or out of Wilmington. The steamer Austin, from Havana, arrived at Mobile on the 9th ult., with a cargo of pork, gunpowder, &c.

— Hon. Reverdy Johnson made a speech in Washington on Saturday evening, denouncing slavery as the cause of the rebellion, and declaring himself favorable to an amendment of the Constitution which should withdraw all national protection from it.

— Our late files of New Orleans papers are filled with the proceedings of the Second District Court in the Egana succession case, a case in which hundreds of thousands seem as plenty as strawberries in June, and whose total foots up into millions.

— Wm. Willis, of Hallowell, who lost a leg at the siege of Fort Pulaski, having been furnished with an artificial Palmer leg, goes skating on the river as gibly as though he had never been engaged in subduing the rebellion.

— A new York jury has been fined $250 each for bringing in a verdict of "We agree to disagree." The officer who suggested the verdict to the foreman of the jury was fined $100, and suspended from pay and duties until the further order of the Court.

— Among the regulations of one of the fishing firms of Gloucester is that of requiring every man who ships in their vessels to have his picture taken before leaving port. In case of any accident to the vessel, it can be known for a certainty who were the crew.

— The year 1863 was marked by an increased, and in some respects, remarkable mortality throughout the country, in the rural districts as well as in the cities. There appears to have been no general or wide spread epidemic; but a general increase of mortality from all causes.

— Gen. Fremont declines going to Europe and, it is said, will accept the Presidential nomination from the Convention which will meet at Louisville, Ky., on the 22d. His friends say that he will consent to run as an independent candidate against President Lincoln, but not against Secretary Chase.

— In Gloucester, Mass., at a town meeting in which the subject of building a new town hall was being discussed, one gentleman opposed the project, stating that "more cemeteries were needed in town, and that accommodations for the dead were to be preferred to conveniences for the living."—Gloucester is not the only town in the Union containing men who are more interested in the matter of cemeteries than of "conveniences for the living."

— The widow of the late Col. Henry F. O'Brien, who was brutally murdered by a mob in the New York riots, makes an appeal through the newspapers that the remains of her husband may be taken from the "paupers' grave," where they lie buried, and placed, with some show of respect, by the side of his little children, who died before him. Mrs. O'Brien was driven from her house by the mob, who pillaged it and destroyed or stole everything she possessed.

The Recent Calamity at Santiago, Chili.—A fortnight's later intelligence from the West coast of South America has been received by the steamer Ocean Queen, arrived at New York, on Saturday. Concerning the recent calamity at Santiago we have the following news:

"This terrible event has continued during the past fortnight to occupy the minds of the people. On every hand indignation has been expressed at the insanicism of the priesthood, which was the cause of so horrible a catastrophe, and at the cruel, heartless conduct of those priests connected with the church which was burned. With one mind the people of Santiago demanded that the building should be razed to the ground, and had not government issued an order to this effect, notwithstanding the most strenuous efforts of the priests, most certainly the people would have done the work themselves; and now a struggle goes on between the priests and people; the former, if possible, to regain the power and influence they have lost, and the people to assert their own freedom of thought.

By the voice of the people the first result has been obtained in an act of the Senate that henceforth there are to be no illuminations of churches and splendid night services, and that proper measures are to be carried out in all the churches as to proper construction and sufficient number of doors. While this has been carried, the clergy have arranged the publication of a new newspaper for the defense of religious interests.

Another result of this calamity is the organization of a fire brigade for Santiago, and much enthusiasm has been displayed in this matter. The fire companies in Valparaiso are the most popular of the social institutions of the city.

Two thousand one hundred corpses extracted from the 'Compania' have been registered at the burial ground. Besides those a number of single limbs and pieces of bodies have been found, and not a few sufferers have died afterward from effects of burns, and about 2500 altogether may be safely estimated to have perished through the priests' folly and imprudence.

On the 31st December a similar calamity had nearly befallen the worshipers in the San Isidro Church. One of the numerous candles on the altar came in contract with a pot of artificial flowers, and although the fire was immediately extinguished, there was such a great confusion, rushing to the doors, falling and crying, that the service had to be closed for the night."

— Miss Braddon has married her publisher.

Health for the Soldier.—For one who dies from the effects of the bullet, ten perish from damp and exposure to night air. Small doses of Holloway's Pills, taken every other night, will correct all disorders of the liver and stomach, purify the blood, and insure sound health to every man. Only 30 cents per box. 222

Important.—The fact cannot be too often stated, or too strongly urged upon the public, that the majority of the Saleratus in market is not only very unhealthy, but actually a clear poison, causing teeth to decay, and bringing on disease generally. Thanks to science, skill, perseverance and energy, that the man still lives who invented Herrick Allen's Medal Saleratus, which has and is still doing such great wonders in the culinary department. We say that one trial will convince the most skeptical that there is none other to be compared with it. Most of our merchants have it for sale. Chief depot at 112 Liberty Street, New York.

HUNNEWELL'S ECLECTIC PILLS.—The true Type of Cathartic.—By the application of true Pharmaceutical Laws, both Character and Economy are combined in this valuable Pill. To prevent putting such quantities of indigestible drugs into the stomach, the griping pains so or ponously judged to be the evidence of thorough action, and to require from 4 to 6 Pills, to get a decent cathartic, was the study in this development. The dose seldom exceeding One, and never more than Two Pills, settles the question of economy, and character can be best known by confidence to test them in DYSPEPSIA, COSTIVENESS, BILIOUSNESS, LIVER COMPLAINT, all derangements of the stomach and Bowels, and as a Family Pill.

ACCIDENT.—Mr. Isaiah Wilson, one of our most enterprising and estimable architects, was precipitated to the pavement on Monday afternoon from the third story of the store of Mr. J. Woodman Moses, on Market street, by the giving way of a staging on which he was standing. The force of the fall was fortunately broken by a plank which fell with and beneath him, thus partially supporting him in the descent and causing him to strike on his feet. He was taken to his home on a litter, but no bones were broken, and, apparently, he was not very seriously injured. His escape from most serious fractures and bruises was somewhat remarkable.

FATAL ACCIDENT.—About half-past 6 o'clock Saturday evening, Mrs. Mary C. Bruce made a misstep and fell down a flight of stairs in the house of her son-in-law, Mr. Nelson W. Hahn, 26 Maverick street, East Boston, dislocating her neck, and causing almost instant death. Deceased was 68 years of age—the wife of Mr. Lewis Bruce of this city, and was on a visit to her children in East Boston.

☞ Twenty six rebel prisoners, captured in various vessels while they were attempting to run the blockade, and brought to this port by the U. S. steamer Colorado, were sent to Fort Warren, Boston harbor, on Monday. They were a very ordinary looking set of men, nearly, if not quite all of them being foreigners.

POLICE COURT, Monday.—Aaron Lang pleaded guilty to a charge of being drunk, and was fined $3, and costs $3.86.

Jack Straw, for breaking in a door in a house on Hunking street, was ordered to pay a fine of $3, and costs $5.74.

☞ Ship Athens, 575 tons, built at this port in 1839, and owned by Mr. E. F. Sise and others, has recently been sold in London for £2,100.

Ship John Cummings, 748 tons, built at this port in 1835, and formerly owned here, was also sold in London for £3500.

☞ Our citizens were made jubilant on Monday by a telegraphic report from New York that Mobile had been captured, with 8000 prisoners, 400,000 bales of cotton, &c., but unfortunately it proved to be a shameful hoax, got up for stockjobbing purposes.

☞ Mr. Henry E. Ham, of this city, is Commissary Sergeant of the 30th Maine Regiment, (Veterans,) which left Portland on Monday by steamer.

☞ Mrs. Van Benthuysen's lecture this evening, at the Temple, if we can judge anything from the recommendations, will be highly instructive and interesting, and we presume the house will be full, as usual on so interesting a subject.

☞ See advertisement of Social Assembly, this evening.

DEFICIENCY IN THE QUOTAS.—The official records to Feb. 1st, give the following as the number required from each town in this District which, at that date, had failed to fill the quota assigned to it under the call of Oct. 17, 1863, for 300,000 men:

Albany, 11; Bartlett, 2; Brookfield, 2; Barrington, 6; Brentwood, 9; Candia, 1; Chester, 2; Deerfield, 1; Eaton, 4; Epping, 1; Gosport, 1; Gilmanton, 2; Gilford, 5; Hart's Location, 1; Jackson, 2; Kensington, 1; Milton, 3; Middleton, 2; Newton, 4; Northwood, 2; Plaistow, 6; Rochester, 6; Scabrook, 4; So. New Market, 1; Sandown, 1; Salem, 1; Strafford, 7; Sanbornton, 4; Sandwich, 6; Tuftonborough, 3; Tamworth, 4. Total, 98.

DECISION.—The following decision concerning the tax on salaries or payments made to persons in the employment of the Government, was made by the Commissioner of Internal Revenue in September:

In making payments to persons in the employment or service of the United States, when such persons are employed at a given rate per day, paymasters and disbursing officers will calculate the amount of tax to be withheld therefrom, upon a basis of three hundred working days in each year. Any amount paid not exceeding the rate of $600 per year, is exempt from tax. The amount of $2 per day is therefore exempt.

Where persons in the service of the Government are employed or paid by the month, the amount paid them above $50 for each month is subject to a tax of three per cent. Where such persons are paid or employed by the year, payments above the sum of $600, are liable to the same tax.

THE SEASON OF LENT, of forty days' continuance, commences on Wednesday, Feb. 10th. The regulations for the Roman Catholic diocese of Boston are as follows:

1. All the days of Lent (Sundays excepted) are fast days of obligation.

2. The use of flesh meat is allowed by dispensation on all Mondays, Tuesdays and Thursdays, in Lent, once in the day only; on Sundays it is allowed without restriction as to the number of times.

3. Lard may be used in preparing food on all the days in Lent. (This dispensation extends also to the days of abstinence throughout the year.)

4. Eggs, fish, butter, cheese and milk may be used at the evening collation.

5. The use of flesh meat and fish, at the same meal is prohibited.

THE STATE OF NEW HAMPSHIRE

A PROCLAMATION.

By His Excellency Joseph A. Gilmore,
Governor of the State of New Hampshire.

The General Government has determined to put down the Rebellion by the Fourth day of July next. By a Proclamation of the President of the United States it is

"Ordered, That a draft of 500,000 men to serve for three years, or during the war, be made on the 10th day of March next, for the military service of the United States, crediting and deducting therefrom so many as may have been enlisted or drafted into the service prior to the 1st day of March and not heretofore credited."

New Hampshire, having filled her quota under the call for 300,000 volunteers, will need to raise only her proportion of 200,000 men, in order to meet all demands upon her before the tenth of March. By telegram from the War Department I am informed that this call is equivalent to a call for 200,000 men in addition to the 300,000 called for, October 17th, 1863." The quota of New Hampshire under this last call has not been officially announced, but will be, in round numbers, an advance of 67 per cent. on the quotas of each town as assigned under the call of October 17th, by circular from the Adjutant General's Office, bearing date November 9th. The whole number of men required of our State to meet the present call will not be far from 2000. A detailed statement of the additional men required from each town will be issued from the Adjutant General's Office as soon as possible.

Meanwhile I would urge upon the people of New Hampshire the importance of taking prompt and decisive measures to meet this new demand upon them. The Government bounties will not be paid after the first of March next; but till that time each fresh recruit will receive from the General Government $300.00; each man who has seen nine months service, $400.00. By the advice and with the consent of the Executive Council, I do hereby declare that the State bounty of $100.00 to soldiers enlisting in New Hampshire Regiments will continue to be paid up to March 10th, 1864.

In order to meet this new requisition I am authorized by the War Department to recruit the four companies of New Hampshire Cavalry which have recently been attached to the First R. I. Cavalry to a full Regiment which shall be known hereafter as the First New Hampshire Cavalry.—This affords the sons of New Hampshire an opportunity to enrol their names in a regiment which is to be made up of picked men and will doubtless be assigned to special service. An accomplished officer of the regular army has already been detailed by the War Department to assist in the organization of this Regiment.

Re-enlistments under the recent call from members of New-Hampshire Regiments which have seen two years service will be credited to the quota of their respective towns, or any other town which they may prefer within the limits of the same Congressional District. Each man re-enlisting from these old Regiments will receive $400.00 Government bounty and $100.00 State bounty, and has the privilege of spending 30 days with his family. Many members of the 2d, 4th, 5th and 6th regiments of infantry, the Sharp-shooters and the N. H. Battery have already re-enlisted, and will be credited under this new call, as our quota of 3768 men under the call of Oct. 17th, 1863, was filled at home, without counting these re-enlistments.

The men from New Hampshire can be raised by volunteering, and I am determined they shall be. By filling up the New Hampshire Cavalry to its maximum and encouraging the hearty disposition of our glorious veterans to re-enlist we shall meet all requisitions upon us by the 1st of March. "I am confident that we shall do this. There will never be another draft in the old Granite State. Her sons will rise in their might and like an avalanche from their icy hills sweep the last traces of armed treason into the Gulf of Mexico before another return of our great national anniversary. Only one more effort and the thing is done.

Given at the Council Chamber in Concord, this first day of February, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and sixty-four, and of the independence of the United States the eighty-eighth.

JOSEPH A. GILMORE.

ALLEN TENNY, Secretary of State.

Constitution Life Syrup
HAS PRODUCED
A REVOLUTION IN MEDICINE!

What may seem almost incredible, is, that many diseases hitherto considered hopelessly incurable are frequently cured in a few days or weeks, and we cheerfully invite the investigations of the liberal minded and scientific to cures which have no parallel at the present day.

Our medicine is peculiar, by it the seat of disease is directly reached, and the equilibrium restored. Those who have suffered long from painful and obstinate diseases, those who have vainly sought relief from advertised medicines, those who cannot be cured by other physicians—are Invited to use Constitution Life Syrup.

During the past five years we have contended with obstacles and overcome opposition as heroism is ever encountered by any Reformers.

Rapidity of Cure.

Some say, "Your cures are too quick," while others doubt their permanence, and think that diseases can only be cured by the "slow recuperative process of Nature." This is our reply: In health, the body, like a well-balanced scale, is in a state of equilibrium. But when from any cause down goes one side of the scale, we have the effects of disease. What is requisite is, to restore the normal balance of the scale.

CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP,

A positive and specific remedy for all diseases originating from an IMPURE STATE OF THE BLOOD, and for all (hereditary) DISEASES transmitted from PARENT TO CHILD.

Paralysis.

Hemiplegia, Paresis, Paraplegia, Paralysis Agitans.

It is so universally admitted that Constitution Life Syrup is the only effective means of restoration in the various forms of Paralysis, that we need not reiterate that it is emphatically the Great Life-Giving Power.

Dyspepsia.

Indigestion, Liver Complaint, Constipation, Weight at Stomach, Biliousness, Want of Appetite, Flatulence, Bad Breath.

Scrofula.

Struma, Glandular Swellings, Ulcerations, King's Evil, Erysipelas, Salt Rheum.

This taint (hereditary or acquired), filling life with untold misery, is by all usual medical remedies incurable.

Rheumatism.

Arthritis, Neuralgia, Gout, Lumbago, Sciatica, Tic Doloureux.

If there is any disease in which the Constitution Life Syrup is a sovereign, it is in Rheumatism and its kindred affections. The most intense pains are almost instantly alleviated—enormous swellings are reduced. Cases, of long and severe standing, or 20 or 30 years standing, have been cured by us.

Nervousness.

Nervous Debility, Confusion of Thoughts, Epilepsy, Loss of Power, Shattered Nerves, St. Vitus' Dance.

Thousands who have suffered for years will bless the day on which they read these lines. Particularly to weak, suffering woman will this medicine prove an inestimable blessing—directing their footsteps to a Hope which fulfils more than it promises.

Mercurial Diseases.

Salivation, Feeling of Weariness, Rotting of Bones, Bad Complexion, Aches in Bones, Depressed Spirits.

Constitution Life Syrup purges the system entirely from all the evil effects of MERCURY, removing the Bad Breath, and curing the Weak Joints and Painful Limbs which the use of Calomel is sure to produce. It hardens Spongy Gums and secures the Teeth as firmly as ever.

Constitution Life Syrup

Eradicates, root and branch, all Eruptive Diseases of the Skin, like

ULCERS, PIMPLES, BLOTCHES.

And all other difficulties of this kind, which so much disfigure the outward appearance of both males and females, often making them a disgusting object to themselves and their friends.

CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP

Cures all Swellings of the Glands,

Either of the Face, Neck or Female Breast, and should the latter be upon the eve of being so affected, thus preventing their breaking and producing troublesome Discharging Sores, which disfigure to many of the younger portion of the community, from six to twelve months, during which young children are very subject to Discharges from the Ears, which depends upon a Scrofulous constitution. These cases soon recover by taking a few doses of the Life Syrup.

All scrofulous persons suffering from Debility, Emaciation, Dropsy, Dropsy of the limbs or abdomen, and in the female Dropsy of the ovaries and womb, generally accompanied with inflammation and ulceration of the uterus; are permanently cured by Constitution Life Syrup. The disease known as Goitre or Swelled Neck, the Life Syrup will remove entirely. The remedy should be taken for some time, as the disease is exceedingly chronic and stubborn, and will not be removed without extra effort. Tumors of the Ovaries, Tumors of the Breast, and swelling of other glands of the body will be completely reduced without resorting to the knife or operations of any kind.

Epileptic Fits, Sympathetic or Organic Diseases of the Heart (as Palpitation, Disease of Valves—producing a grating or filing sound), Dropsy of the Chest and all the affections of the Heart in important organ, or persons suffering from any acute pain in the region of the heart, will be greatly relieved by Constitution Life Syrup.

Broken Down and Delicate Constitutions,

Suffering from Indisposition to Exercise, Pain in the Back, Loss of Memory, Forebodings, Horror of Calamity, Fear of Disease, Dimness of Vision, Dry Hot Skin, Nervous Restless, Want of Sleep, Restlessness, Pale Haggard Countenance and Lassitude of the Muscular System, all require the aid of the CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP.

For all forms of Ulcerative Diseases, either of the Nose Throat, Tongue, Spine, Forehead or Scalp, no other remedy has ever proved its equal.

MOTH PATCHES upon the female face, depending upon a diseased action of the Liver, are very unpleasant to the young wife and mother. A few bottles of Constitution Life Syrup will correct the secretion, and remove the deposit which is directly under the skin.

In Diseases of the Liver, giving rise to languor, dizziness, indigestion, weak stomach, or an accumulated or cancerous condition of that organ, accompanied with burning or other unpleasant symptoms, relief may be obtained by the use of CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP.

Diseases of the Spine, as usually developed in the form of Spinal Disease, Disease of the Hip, and all Nervous Diseases, and Ladies who are suffering from diseases for which they are at a loss to know what to do, we would advise the use of CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP. It will restore their pallid countenance, strengthen their weak back and side, give them new energy, new life and happiness.

THE RICH AND POOR are liable to the same diseases. Nature and Science have made the Constitution Life Syrup for the benefit of all.

PURE BLOOD produces healthy men and women; and if the constitution is neglected in youth, disease and early death are the results. Do not delay when the means are so near at hand, and within the reach of all.

TO MOTHERS AND MARRIED LADIES. It is the safest and most efficient medicine ever discovered for purifying the system and relieving the suffering attendant upon childbirth. It strengthens both the mother and the child, prevents pain and disease, and increases and enriches the food—Those who have used it think it indispensable. It is highly useful both before and after confinement, as it prevents disease attendant upon childbirth.

Constitution Life Syrup

Is the Poor Man's Friend and the Rich Man's Blessing!—Buy it, take it, and be cured.—It is Universal in its effects

SMILING DOWN THE REBELLION.—In a speech in Congress, on Thursday, Mr. Garfield stated that Gen. George H. Thomas (a native of Virginia, and who so signally distinguished himself in the battle of Chickamauga,) wrote to the Secretary of War nearly a year ago:—

We can never make solid progress against the rebellion until we take more sweeping and more severe measures. We must make these people feel the rigors of war; subsist our army upon them; and leave their country so that there will be little in it for them to desire.

Mr. Garfield went on to say that he had lately seen a stanza from the nursery rhymes of England, which he would commend to those gentle-hearted patriots who propose to put down the rebellion with soft words and paper resolutions, viz.:—

There was an old man who said, how Shall I free from this horrible cow?
I will sit on the stile,
And continue to smile,
Which may soften the heart of this cow.

— Harding, whose drawing books are well known to pencil sketchers, has recently died at a good old age.

— The type founders of the country have made an advance of about thirty per cent. in the price of all kinds of type.

— Jonah Clark recently cut a black oak in Southampton, from which he got 6 1-2 cords of wood.

— The Douglas Monument Association at Chicago have authorized the preparation of a design for the monument, the cost not to exceed fifty thousand dollars.

— The new official map of France is finished. This immense work, executed by the general staff of the army, has occupied nearly 60 years.

— A movement is being made in Maine to increase the salaries of the Judges of the Supreme Judicial Court, which now remain as they were forty-three years ago. A true regard for the State's real interests demands an increase.

— It is rumored that a company of Frenchmen has been formed in Chicago, for the purpose of catching all the rats possible, curing their skins and exporting them to Paris, to be used in the manufacture of gloves.

— A bog or marsh in England becoming dry, the people were surprised at the sight of a square mile of frogs moving across the country, the old frogs with little frogs upon their backs, and all led by huge old paddacks emigrating to the nearest water.

REBEL REVOLT.—A writer in the Boston Journal reports a revolt on the 17th ult., by the rebel soldiers in Fort Morgan, Mobile Bay. The soldiers were eventually overcome by a force from Mobile, with the exception of four men who escaped to Ship Island. The same letter reports much dissatisfaction both among officers and men in the rebel army in and around Mobile.

FROM PARIS.—The conspiracy to take the Emperor's life, discovered a few days back, continues to be the most interesting topic of conversation in Paris. The fact that the enemies of Napoleon III. are plotting, and that a single well directed blow may at any moment change the present European order, is sufficient to keep the public mind in a constant state of alarm.

The menace of war which has kept France and Europe for some time in a state of painful anxiety has been broken in upon by actual events. War has actually commenced and the first battle, more terrible in its ferocity, and in the number of its victims, than any known since the wars of Napoleon, has actually been fought in Paris. It continued twenty-four hours, and the facts and incidents as they occurred have been given in the, journals of this city.—It is well known that the underground sewerage of Paris is the most perfect in the world.—The egouts are built in the most perfect manner in Roman cement, of an oval form, the largest diameter being perpendicular.—All of them are high enough for a man to walk nearly upright, and some of the principal ones have a diameter of ten or more feet. A large number of men are constantly employed taking care of them, and as great quantities of clean water from the fountains and aqueducts are every day let on, they are kept perfectly pure. The ancient quarters of Paris are infested with rats in numbers which are enormous. The excessively cold of last week drove, as usual, this population from the garrets and cellars of the old houses into the sewers, there to find a comfortable temperament and abundant nourishment.

On the third and fourth days of this month—ever to remain memorable as those on which the great battle of Paris was fought—seven or eight hundred of the considerable army of equatiers which garrisons the subterranean world of Paris, descended into those regions at various points, and commenced chasing the enemy from all the lateral sewers to the great central one, such as those under the Rue de Rivoli, and the Boulevards. The hunt was spread over a region several miles in extent. As the rats hurried in hundreds and thousands before their pursuers, screaming with fright and biting each other in their rage, it is said that the scene presented was a good image of the infernal regions. When the enemy had been driven into the common field where it was to be the theatre of the battle, all the issues were closed by bulk-heads of boards built across the width of the sewers. No hole of escape was left. This accomplished, forty-five dogs, rat-hunters of the most ferocious species, were let in. Then commenced a slaughter which it is said lasted for twenty-four hours, whose fierceness no language can describe. Several of the dogs were exhausted before the fight was over, and some of them were made completely blind. The mortality was enormous.

LAST AND BEST.

THE MODEL COOK,

AN AIR-TIGHT STOVE,

WITH TWO OVENS,

And Five Boiling Places!

At the present high prices of fuel it is very desirable to lessen its consumption. This can be best accomplished by using a MODEL COOK STOVE. More cooking can be done in one with a single ton of coal, or cord of wood, than with double the quantity in any common stove or range—and in half the time.

The fire being placed in the centre of the stove, with an oven on either side (which may be thrown into use at pleasure), all the heat from the fuel is made available for cooking purposes.

The oven doors are lined with tin, and jackets are provided for the bottom and back of the stove, thus retaining much heat, ordinarily wasted. A check draft is applied, by means of which much fuel is saved, and a continuous fire may be kept as long as desirable.

A Water Tank and Hot Closet can be applied to either side, when needed.

In fact, no pains or expense have been spared to make this a PERFECT Stove, and we think it surpasses all others for Economy, Durability, Capacity, Convenience, Beauty of Design and Perfection of Finish.

It is equally well adapted for Coal or Wood; Summer or Winter; and excellent in a family where help is employed, and invaluable to the housewife who does her own work, lightening it at least one-half.

No family, large or small, where economy, convenience and dispatch are desirable, should be without one.

We refer to some parties who have purchased the Model Cook—

THE MAGEE COOKING STOVE.

The subscriber, having received his Fall stock of Stoves, would especially call the attention of the public to the

as the very best Stove yet made, and would invite those about purchasing or exchanging Stoves, to examine this, believing it to be far superior to any other Stove yet invented, the castings being heavier, and the oven larger than usual. The oven plates are covered with plaster, which renders it equal to the old-fashioned brick oven for perfection in baking.

There is a new style and very superior broiler and sad-iron heater combined, by which the odor of broiling meats are prevented from escaping into the room. With the extension top there is a large copper Reservoir for hot water; also a large tin warming-closet attached, in which any article can be kept warm, while the other parts of the Stove are occupied for other purposes.

The arrangements for sifting the coal and cleaning the grate are far superior to those of any other Stove now in use, as no dust can possibly escape into the room, and the shoveling up of the ashes is entirely dispensed with. The fire is regulated in the same manner as in the MAGEE PARLOR STOVE, and can be continued day and night for weeks together, thus saving the expense of re-kindling every day.

For economy, durability, ease of management, cleanliness and perfection in cooking, it cannot be surpassed by any other Stove, as hundreds of families in this city and vicinity, who are now using them, are willing to testify, and speak of them in the highest terms of praise.

We would refer to the following purchasers:

"MAGEE'S PATENT"

VENTILATING & AIR-WARMING

FURNACES.

The subscriber, being the Sole Agent in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of this valuable furnace, would ask those about remodelling or erecting buildings to examine this truly valuable invention.

For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, moist and agreeable;—and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pot is used for respiration, the tendency to produce headache so much complained of in other Furnaces, is entirely obviated.

The objection aimed at by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.

To accomplish this many complicated and expensive heating arrangements have been constructed, thereby possessing but little improvement over former methods, while many have proved a total failure. The reason for this is obvious. The combustible gases being lighter than the air, pass off into the pipe or chimney without being consumed. This objection, so common in other furnaces, is obviated in this.

MAGEE FURNACE.

The flue or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot escape without being turned up by the admission of cold air through the fire-pot, which ignites them as they pass off from the coal, thus saving at least 20 per cent. of the properties of the heat in the fuel.

No heating apparatus with the smoke-pipe or flue on the top of the cone can be made to consume the gases of the coal, as they pass off with a large portion of the heat generated, making the chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.

This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.

These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.

For ease of management, economy and purity of air, these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire may be kept the entire season without once going out.

They give entire satisfaction wherever used. We have in store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world,—and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:

Samuel Cleaves, Esq.,	Albert R. Hatch, Esq.,
Aaron H. Hill,	Charles H. Mendum,
Henry F. Wendell,	John Sise, and others.

IMPORTANT TO THE AFFLICTED.

DR. DOW continues to be consulted at his office, Nos. 7 and 9 ENDICOTT STREET, Boston, on all diseases of a

PRIVATE OR DELICATE NATURE.

By a long course of study and practical experience of unlimited extent, Dr. D. has now the gratification of presenting the unfortunate with remedies that have never, since he has introduced them, failed to cure the most alarming cases of

GONORRHŒA AND SYPHILIS.

Beneath his treatment, all the horrors of venereal, and impure blood, Impotency, Scrotula, Gonorrhœa, Ulcers, pain and distress in the regions of procreation, Inflammation of the Bladder and Kidneys, Hydrocele, Abscesses, Humors, frightful Swellings, and the long train of horrible symptoms attending the release of disease, are made to become as harmless as the simplest ailings of a child.

SEMINAL WEAKNESS.

Dr D. devotes a great part of his time to the treatment of those cases caused by a secret and solitary habit, which ruins the body and mind, unfitting the individual for business, pleasure or society. Some of the sad and melancholy effects produced by early habits of youth, are Weakness of the Back and limbs, Dimness of the head, Dizziness of sight, Palpitation of the heart, Dyspepsia, Nervousness, Derangement of the digestive functions, Symptoms of Consumption, &c. The fearful effects on the mind are much to be dreaded; loss of memory, confusion of ideas, depression of spirits, evil forebodings, aversion of society, self-distrust, timidity, &c., are among the evils produced. Such persons should, before contemplating matrimony, consult a physician of experience and be assured of their restored health and happiness.

Patients who wish to remain under Dr. Dow's treatment a few days or weeks, will be furnished with pleasant rooms, and charges for board moderate.

Medicines sent to all parts of the country, with full directions for use, on receiving description of your case. Dr. Dow has also for sale the French Capotes, warranted the best preventive. Order by mail. Three for $1 and a red stamp.

Highly Important!

To Females in Delicate Health.

DR. DOW, Physician and Surgeon, No. 7 & 9 Endicott Street, Boston, is consulted daily for all diseases incident to the female system. Prolapsus Uteri, or falling of the Womb, Fluor Albus, Suppressed and other unnatural menstruations, are all treated upon new pathological principles, and speedy relief guaranteed in a few days. So invariably certain is the new mode of treatment, that most obstinate complaints yield under it, and the afflicted person soon rejoices in perfect health.

Dr. Dow has no doubt had greater experience in the care of diseases of women and children, than any other physician in Boston.

Boarding accommodations for patients who may wish to stay in Boston a few days under his treatment.

Dr. Dow, since 1845, having confined his whole attention to an office practice, for the cure of Private Diseases and Female Complaints, acknowledges no superior in the United States.

N. B.—All letters must contain four red stamps, or they will not be answered.

Office Hours from 8 A. M. to 9 P. M.

CERTAIN CURE

in all cases, or No Charges Made.

Dr. Dow is consulted daily, from 8 A. M. to 9 P. M. as above, upon all difficult and chronic diseases of every name and nature, having by his unwearied attention and extraordinary success gained a reputation which calls patients from all parts of the country to his office, Boston.

Among the physicians in Boston, none stands higher in the profession than the celebrated DR. DOW, No. 7 Endicott street, Boston. Those who need the services of an experienced physician and surgeon should give him a call.

P. S.—Dr. Dow imports and has for sale a new article, called the FRENCH SECRET. Order by mail. Two for $1 and a red stamp.

"Saundio no party—to no sect confined:
The world our home; our brethren, all mankind.
Love truth, do good, be just and fair with all:
Exalt the right, though every law fall."

"Let me warn you in the most solemn manner against the baneful effects of the spirit of Party, generally. It is a spirit not to be encouraged.—Its common and continual mischief is sufficient to make it the interest and duty of a wise people to discourage and restrain it. In government of the popular form, it is seen in its greatest rankness, and is truly their worst enemy."—Washington's Farewell Address

☞ The State of Maine, last year, produced seven million bushels of potatoes, and in the amount of production was only exceeded by the two great States of New York and Pennsylvania. Probably it would have been the first, but for the potato rot, that has discouraged the cultivation to a great extent. A half million bushels were last year shipped from Bangor alone. The Maine Farmer says it has been proved that high manuring with barn yard manure, as was used before the advent of the rot, tends to promote that disease, probably because it renders the stalks more succulent and tender, so that the seed, or spores of the fungus which constitutes that disease, find it easier to effect a lodgment, can penetrate easier and find more nourishment.—A moderate dressing of barn yard composted manure, spread and harrowed in, with an application of some of the modern fertilizers in the hill, secures a crop of excellent quality, if it does not give so many bushels as a full, old-fashioned dressing of animal manure used to. Among the many fertilizers recommended, the Farmer thinks most higely of sea rock-weed and muck, articles easily procured in this vicinity. The muck is composted with salt and lime and put in the hill with seaweed. The Farmer also notices a labor-saving machine for planting potatoes, which cuts the potato, makes the furrow, drops the pieces regularly and at given distances in it, and then covers them up as it moves along. A man and a horse will plant, say six acres per day, as our land is generally prepared, and more in proportion to the smoother condition of the field.

JEFF. DAVIS' SERVANTS.—Systematic attempts having been made by the Copperhead press to discredit the persons who have reached our lines from Richmond, claiming to be slaves who have escaped from the personal service of Jeff. Davis, we are glad to find the following in the Richmond Examiner of the 4th ult. :—

Henry, the third servant of President Davis, who has run away within three weeks, escaped on Tuesday night, and was till at large last evening. Both the others ran away on a Tuesday.

It is believed that some outside influence has been brought to bear upon the President's servants to induce them to abscond. All of them are supposed to have gone off with the intention of making their way North. Henry, the butler, will turn up in the North the after-runner of "Jeff. Davis' coachman," and, like him, will form the chief attraction of Puritan lecture-rooms, and furnish for the press "highly interesting and intelligent statements" affecting the kitchen arrangements of a Presidential mansion, as a sequel to the history of the intelligent barber," from Richmond, that unveiled the whole North a short time ago. Henry, the last candidate for Yankee notoriety, is described as a tall, stoutly-built mulatto, well-mannered, with soft voice, which is rather slim in volume for so large a man. He had no quarrel with his master, and no cause can be assigned for his secession, other than he had recently been supplied with a new outfit of clothing and money, which he was very proud of, and probably wanted to exhibit to the Yankees.—He was a slave of Robert Ford, Esq., and hired in the President's service for only two or three months.

A contractor in the Scottish highlands, says a contemporary, was waited upon by a deputation from his workers, to request him to make "no a pito" difference in the wages, but shust a wee shynge in the time for paying." On cross-questioning the deputies, it found they wanted to be paid weekly instead of fortnightly, but they also wanted the fortnight's wages weekly. "Why my lads," said the contractor, "you are just demanding exactly double wages." "Hoots, man, sir!" said one of the deputation, "it's just as more as less as the same wedges, and you must shust paid us twice as faster ever more." After a little parleying, the contractor got his Celtic logicians to assume work at a trifling advance.

The boy who drives a flock of geese is quite as respectable a "quill-driver" as many votaries of pen and ink.

Portsmouth, N. H.

WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 10, 1864.

THE REBELLION.

The N. Y. Times dispatch says it has been satisfactorily ascertained that the main body of Lee's army is between Gordonsville and Orange Court House. The conscription act is being everywhere thoroughly enforced by the rebels.

Richmond papers report an advance of the Union troops up the Peninsula, and regard it as a movement against the city. The rebel pickets were driven in on Saturday night at Bottom's bridge, 12 miles from Richmond, and the Union troops were still advancing. Further accounts of this expedition, received from Fortress Monroe, state that it had returned. It was under command of Brig. Gen. Wistar, and was undertaken for the purpose of making a raid into Richmond and endeavoring by a surprise to liberate our prisoners there. The surprise failed, because, as the Richmond Examiner said, "a Yankee deserter gave information in Richmond of the intended raid." The enemy had felled a large amount of timber so as to block up and obstruct the fords, and make it impossible for our cavalry to pass. The whole object of the surprise having been defeated, Gen. Wistar returned to Williamsburg. On his march back his rear was attacked by the enemy, but they were repulsed without loss to us. The movement caused a great scare in the city; the Home Guards were called out, the bells were rung, all the citizens were ordered under arms, &c.

The Richmond Sentinel states that the rebel army "has fallen back sixteen miles from Newbern, finding the fortifications so strong that they could not be taken without a great loss."

A Mobile dispatch states that the Union troops, 30,000 strong, crossed the Big Black on the 6th. There was some excitement in the city.

Private advices from Vicksburg to the 1st inst., represent that everything was progressing favorably with the military expedition.

Gen. Foster telegraphs from Knoxville, 7th, that an expedition sent against Thomas and his band of Indians and whites, at Qualltown, had returned, completely successful. They surprised the town, killed and wounded 215, took 50 prisoners, and dispersed the remainder of the gang in the mountains. Our loss was 2 killed and 6 wounded.

A dispatch from Augusta states that by order of the War Department, the 31st and 32d regiments, now being raised in Maine, have been assigned to Gen. Burnside's expeditionary corps, with the probability also of Col. Woodman's cavalry regiment being similarly ordered. Arrangement have just been made to this effect with Gov. Cony by Lt. Col. Goodrich, of Gen. Burnside's staff.

☞ In the U. S. Congress, Friday, Feb. 5, the House passed the joint resolution amendatory of the resolution explanatory of the Confiscation act, by a vote of 82 to 74. The adoption of the resolution is an expression of the opinion of the House that the real estate of traitors may be confiscated in fee, and not merely for life, as was intended by the orginal explanatory resolution. Every Republican member present, voted Yea. Owing to the absence of many, the vote was rather close, but it will do. It indicates very plainly the growing sentiment of Congress in favor of extreme measures against the rebellion, and its determination to erect an impassable barrier to the return into political supremacy of the insolent slaveholding aristocracy, which for years before the rebellion broke out into open war, had controlled the Government and the country.

☞ A project has originated at West Point to erect there a "Battle Monument," upon which shall be inscribed the names of all officers of the Regular Army who shall have been killed or died of wounds received in the field during the present war. The expense of the monument is to be defrayed by a sliding-scale of taxation upon the officers of the Regular Army—$27 for a Major General, down to $7 for a Lieutenant.

☞ It appears that the gunboat Underwriter, captured at Newbern by the rebels, was hard aground, and this alone saved her from being carried off by them. Being unable to move the Underwriter from her position, they set her on fire, and the flames communicating to her magazine, she was blown into fragments.

☞ A large amount of stamps have been placed on a deed of conveyance from Messrs. Flag, Hoadley and Williams to the Chicago & Alton Railroad. The amount of the conveyance was $4,100,000, on which their was a returned mortgage of $1,600,000, and the stamps amounted to $14,395. A few such documents every day would soon fill the coffers of the Internal Revenue.

— Twenty new operas were produced in Italy during the year 1863.

THE EASTERN RAILROAD BRIDGE.—There is no doubt the Eastern Railroad understands its own wants better than any body else, and probably it will have from the Legislature what it asks. It is a wealthy and powerful corporation, and not easily resisted. Still, public matters are debatable; and most of all by parties who are to be affected by them. It was unfortunate for the Eastern Railroad, when they came into Newburyport on grade with Washington street, and determined to run over the top of Newburyport Bridge. Wherever they entered the city—(and the Southend was the place)—they should have come to a grade with Water street, which would have secured them all the merchandise transportation against competition, and been for their interest and for the public good. Then they could have built their own bridge by the side of the Newburyport bridge, and so have avoided much expense and got rid of the scarecrow. At much expense they have made the Newburyport bridge as firm and substantial as any bridge on their whole road; but it got a bad name and they have lost by it.

But they made a worse mistake in thinking to cross the river from this city at all. There is no population and no business for a railroad for many miles beyond the Merrimack river, on the route they took. Salisbury and Amesbury must be of more importance than all the towns between here and Portsmouth. If, therefore, instead of crossing the Merrimack river to Ring's Island, they had run up the bank of the river, crossing to Amesbury Mills, they would have saved the whole cost of the Salisbury Branch; and when there, they could have taken a line to Exeter, and thence East, if they had desired it. Then the Boston and Maine would never have been built, and the towns between them and the seacoast would still have been their patrons, because another road would not have paid. That line would have been cheaper, since the nearer the coast the more bridging and the more cost in building, and the more trouble, as experience has proved, in keeping the track clear in winter. Their branch should have been to accommodate Portsmouth, and not Amesbury. But still, if they had not wished to head off the building of the Boston & Maine, they could have gone to Portsmouth without trouble. Somehow the public have the idea that the way to Portsmouth is much shorter over the Newburyport than over the Essex Merrimack bridge; but the difference is only about a half mile; and therefore it is very evident that to have crossed the river where they could have accommodated Amesbury—not necessarily going through the Mills Village, but near it—would have been their true route.

The mistakes of the past cannot always be corrected, but this case offers a remedy. If, instead of a bridge from the centre of the city, they can bend their road up the river and cross at Carr's Island, or above, and thence reach Amesbury, they would in the first place have a cheap bridge instead of an expensive one; second, increase their income by all the freight that now goes to the ship yards; third, accommodate Amesbury and Salisbury, which is an important station to them, and without greatly lengthening their route do away with the Salisbury branch entirely.—Newburyport Herald.

EDWARD W. GREEN, the Malden murderer, was arraigned on Monday afternoon on two complaints,—one for the murder and bank robbery, to which he pleaded not guilty, and another charging him with setting fire to the post-office in Malden in November last, to which he pleaded guilty. The Boston Advertiser states that Green was appointed postmaster about four years ago on the death of his father, the former incumbent, and has more than once been suspected of embezzling the funds of the office. At one time, indeed, his accounts with the department showed so large a deficit that it was determined at Washington to remove him, but the interposition of citizens of Malden gave him another term of office. His accounts, however, became still more complicated, and he also found himself embarrassed in his capacity as agent of the town for the sale of school books, from having bought books on credit and appropriated the proceeds of the sales to his own use. In this critical situation he conceived the brilliant idea of burning his own office, that he might attribute the gaps in his balance sheets to the destruction of postage stamps and books by the fire. The fire, however, was discovered and extinguished before it had done much injury.—The failure of this scheme, and the urgent demands for money, created by his loose way of keeping accounts and extravagant mode of living, impelled him to the murder of young Converse.

He has been committed to jail at East Cambridge, and it is expected that the case will come before the Grand Jury this week.

☞ A committee was once appointed, it is said, to investigate the affairs of the California Asylum of the Deaf and Dumb, and the Chairman subsequently reported that they looked at the building on the outside; looked at the grounds; then went in and looked at the inside, after which they listened to a song from the pupils, and went away! The improvement of the deaf and dumb pupils was unanimously voted to have been remarkable.

☞ The San Francisco Journal states that the Russian Admiral has through the flag officer of the Russian Pacific fleet, Capt. Nachinoff, tendered to the agent of the New York underwriters the use of four complete sets of diving apparatus with experienced divers to work them, and whatever force of men from his crews is necessary to work the apparatus for service in raising the Aquila, or recovering the Comanche, at San Francisco.

"INTO THE LION'S MOUTH," is the title of a chapter in Hosmer's "COLOR GUARD," one of the most readable and valuable books called forth by the war. The following is a specimen of the book, culled from this chapter.

The Fifty-second had stopped for its dinner last Saturday noon. I lay, as I have written it, on my side, pencil in hand; then I snoozed; then I looked across the furrows, through the sweet, sunny, blossom-scented airs, to the long line of the Ninety-first, their color exactly opposite ours.—Half a dozen pigs ran down between the regiments; a gauntlet, I believe, not one survived; and before night they were eaten with much gusto; for, during our stay at Baton Rouge, we have very rarely tasted fresh meat.

Boom, boom!—big guns from the river. We can hear, too, the cough of high-pressure transport steamers, and know now that the fleet are, at last, as near old Port Hudson as we are; and we are only four or five miles away. At length, "Fall in, men, at once!" An aide has come galloping up to the colonel, who is on horseback in a moment. "We shall probably have sharp work before we come back." "Keep cool, and do not waste your fire." So Capt. Morgan and the rest gave such caution to their men as is needful on the eve of battle. "Leave knapsacks here; the footsore men will guard them," poor Hines, and the like of him, whose feet these secesh roads have beaten and bruised with true rebel violence.

How do we feel? We are going out to meet the enemy, we all fully believe, and so do our officers: and even staff officers of the General, who are friendly to us, look pityingly after, as we march on; for they know, though we do not, that we are to be pushed up in front of the whole army, into close range of the cannon upon the fortress walls. The Fifty-second is cool, and yet eager; and not a man, that can limp at all, wants to stay. For the last thing, "Load!" Open cartridge-box; tear the tough paper from the powder and—there it goes down the barrel; and now the ball; half-cock, then cap the cone, and all is done. If I have to fire, it will be for the cause.—Scruples, now are mere squeamishness.—Now, "By the right flank, 'idward!" Hardiker carries the white State flag, the tall sergeant, the Stars and Stripes. Old flag, you are woven of no ordinary stuff! Rank and file and shoulder-straps, is a sacred thing! It has for a warp, liberty; and for a woof, constitutional order; and is dyed deep in tints of love and justice. Between Hardiker and the sergeant marches Wilson—a fine-looking corporal, with a military face, eye, and figure; mustached, bearded, eager—such a face as I have seen in Horace Vernet's battle pieces. A good marksman, too, is Wilson; for many years the terror of squirrels in the woods of E——. Prince and Claypole cover Hardiker and Wilson; while I march behind, right in the folds of the great flag. Along-side, in the line of file-closers, go West, and lisping light-haired Wiebel, the German; and, last, the ever sage, serene, and satisfactory Bias Dickinson.

* * * * * * *

So we go out of the field into the road, in the centre of the long column, with banners waving, and, I hope, the true light of battle upon our faces—soldiers in a noble cause—farmer and mechanic, merchant and preacher, shoulder to shoulder.—"Boom!" go the faraway guns. We are coming rapidly to the front: so the other regiments and the great battery men and the yellow cavalry-men give way for us, cheering us on. Down a cross road towards the river, a sweet south wind shaking white cloud-favors out of every window in heaven at us; the sun smiling God-speed, and the lady rose-bushes, from fence-corners like balconies, showing their blossom-handkerchiefs.

* * * * * * *

Cautiously, boys! A few steps, and we stumble over the handsome horse of the wounded colonel, dead in the middle of the road, with eight bullets through him. There, too, is the bloody boot of his rider, hastily cut off after the wounding was accomplished. A company are detailed as flankers; and as they go through the wood a few rods distant from the road, they hear the groans of other wounded men. They cannot go to them; for to stop would be to expose the whole flank of the column to danger.

Now we pass other dead horses belonging to the cavalry-men, which were shot in the road by the retreating rebel pickets. At length we reach a fork where is a regiment drawn up, and Geb. Grover sitting on horse back with his staff—a light-haired man, with face sufficiently resolute, his beard cut in a peak, and wearing a cavalier hat. We halt only for a moment. The general's pointing hand indicates the direction we are to take: so down we go through a wooded road, driving before us the enemy's pickets; our flankers in the woods seeing them mount their horses and gallop off as we come within musket range. Presently we go by their camps, where they have cut on trees some defiance or warning to us: "Beware, Yankee! this is a hard road to travel."

By the side of the column rides an officer of engineers, who stops every now and then to note a by-path or prominent knoll, or draw a rough plan of the wood. The dust has hardly settled yet along the road from the tramp of their retreating infantry. We press on close behind, until at length the column halts close within range of the Port Hudson batteries.

We fell back that Saturday night two or three miles, then camped in the woods.—Later, a battery went forward to a position near that to which we advanced, and fired shells for a while towards the rebel intrenchments. Our blankets and baggage were four miles behind. We hung equipments and haversacks on the gunstocks; and, wet with sweat, lay down in our clothes, without covering. Wilson and I laid rails on the ground; then made a sloping roof of rails overhead, which was some protection against the damp.

The eyelids shut together like a pair of scissor-blades, and cut the thread of consciousness; but, in the midst of my dreaming, crash after crash broke upon my ear, like the chorus of doomsday. We all jumped to our posts; for we thought the hour of battle had come. I looked at my watch by the light of a few embers. It was half-past eleven. At the time, we were in complete ignorance of the events that were transpiring. We know now that it was the fleet just passing the batteries, and all this was the uproar of the bombardment. Through the trees to the westward arose the flashes, incessant, like the winking beat lightning of a hot summer evening. Through the air rolled reports—now isolated, now twenty combining in a grand crash, now a continuous roll of them—a thundering rub-a-dub, as if the giants were going to storm heaven again, and were beating a reveille to summon every gnome and all the gens and each slumbering Titan to fall in for a charge. The centre of the regiment, the color-guard, rested in the road. The pickets, four or five rods off, could see the falling of bombs, the streams of comet-like rockets, and the outlines of the shore batteries lit up by the cannon flashes. It went on, and we sat listening with our hands close at our guns. Then, at last, the heavens reddened high and far with a fiercer and steadier glare that moved slowly southward, crimsoning in turn the moss and old scars on the north, on the west, on the southwest, of the tree trunks. Meantime came up the boom of cannon, slowly receding in the same direction. So we heard the swan-song of the stern old "Mississippi"—abandoned, beaten with shot, ragged through her whole frame where shells had torn and burst. On that night a freight of dead men was on her deck, and the bodies of drowned men floated about her boary hull for refuse! Then came a crash—a light making all bright, flung back from the burnished gun-stocks, from the pool by the roadside, revealing the watching soldiers and the slain steeds fallen headlong in the road in the midst of the camp. So passed the veteran ship through fire and earthquake-shock to an immortality in history.

The book is published in Boston, by Walker, Wise & Co., who will send it free by mail on receipt of $1.25.

☞ A boy has been arrested in Boston for breaking and entering a shop, under the following circumstances: "A fortnight or so since he carried a pair of boots to the shop for the purpose of having them mended. The mending was done,—but the boy did not seem disposed to call for them, although asked to do so. On Monday of last week they were found to be missing, and it was afterwards learned that he went to the shop on Sunday, and gaining admission through a sky-light, descended and stole his own boots."

☞ Gov. Brough, of Ohio, seeing a young officer of fine talents and good connections drunk in the streets, at once requested the Secretary of War to dismiss him. His request was granted. The persuasions of the friends of the young man were unavailing to induce the Governor to ask for his restoration to office. He said that as President of a railroad he had always made it a rule to dismiss employees who got drunk, and he would not put the happiness and lives of Ohio soldiers at the mercy of such a man.

HUNNEWELL'S ECLECTIC PILLS—The true Type of Cathartic.—By the application of true Pharmaceutical Laws, both Character and Economy are combined in this valuable Pill. To prevent putting such quantities of indigestible drugs into the stomach, the griping pains so frequently judged to be the evidence of thorough action, and to require from 4 to 6 Pills, to get a decent cathartic, was the study in this development. The dose seldom exceeding one, and never more than Two Pills, settles the question of economy, and character can be best known by confidence to test them in DYSPEPSIA, COSTIVENESS, DILIGESTION, LIVER COMPLAINT, all derangements of the stomach and bowels, and as a Family Pill.

Local.

☞ Capt. John Hanscom, of the ship James Guthrie of Portsmouth, now at Calcutta, suddenly disappeared on the 18th of December; on the afternoon of the 21st the mate of the ship sent a man down into a little cuddy, under the cabin, for something, when the body of Capt. Hanscom was found with the throat cut from ear to ear. In lowering the remains of the captain into a boat, the side ladder, upon which were five or six men, broke, and the men all tumbled into the boat and swamped it. One of the river police was drowned. The body was precipitated into the river, but was recovered and subsequently interred on shore. Capt. Hanscom was about 28 years of age and belonged in this city. He married an English lady a year or two since, and his wife was at Calcutta with him. He had been a very successful and skilful shipmaster.

☞ Such is the demand for the new and excellent enamelled thread manufactured at the Portsmouth Steam Factory, that portion of the mill has for some time past run until half past nine o'clock at night to keep up a supply.

☞ The Boston Post, in speaking of the Malden murder, makes the following statement:—

Many persons now known to be innocent were for some time closely watched by the police. Two men from Portsmouth were induced to come to Malden, ostensibly to make arrangements for engaging in the substitute business, but really to see if they answered the description of the stranger said to have been seen about the time on the day of the murder. They were walked across Malden Square, little knowing that half a dozen people were watching their every motion to see if they could be recognized. Fortunately they did not answer the description, and returned home without knowing the real purpose for which they were called to Malden.

☞ A gentleman whose official station compels him to understand the moral and social state of the streets, wishes us to republish the following paragraph from the City Mission Report, and request parents to look at it, as they value their own character and the welfare of their children.

Another serious evil, to which in a former report we have had occasion to call the attention of this community, and which we earnestly wish might be arrested, is that of allowing young girls to patrol our streets after nightfall, unprotected by some judicious friend. We think that to this, more than to any other one cause, may be traced the entire wreck of moral character, which in too many instances it has been our painful lot to witness, in girls who at the age of twelve or even fourteen bade fair to become useful and respectable members of society. We feel it our duty most solemnly to warn parents against allowing their daughters in a practice so dangerous because often so ruinous. We may prevent the loss of character, but can never recall it when it is once gone.

☞ An unknown man, about 40 years old, jumped from the evening train on the Eastern road, at Lynn, on Monday evening, while the cars were in motion, and was killed,—his head and both arms being cut completely off by the wheels passing over them.

—— The National Guards of Manchester will give a grand ball at Smyth's Hall, this (Wednesday) evening. The proceeds will go to the Sanitary Commission, to be devoted solely to the benefit of the New Hampshire sick and wounded soldiers.

A CONTRABAND SOLDIER AND HIS WATCH.—A letter from one of our officers at Point Isabel, Texas, gives the following anecdotes of our colored soldiers, relates the following:—

It is amusing to see how completely nonplussed some of our privates are in the possession of their money. Some never had a dime in their lives to call their own, and could not distinguish a one, two or five dollar greenback. One fellow paid ten dollars for a watch, and his Lieutenant noticing it, inquired the time of day.—

"Lor,' Cap'n," replied the darkey, (they call every officer cap'n,) "I dunno, d'ye 'spose I can tell?"

"Why, what did you waste your money for a watch then?" asked the Lieutenant, whereupon the darkey broke out in a loud laugh, as he said, "Why, Cap'n, I bought it so dey couldn't keep this chile on guard, ober two hours."

☞ Braithwaite's Retrospect of Practical Medicine and Surgery, part XLVIII, on page 249, has another article, from the British Medical Journal, Sept. 5, 1863, page 266, on the poisonous effects of the "red vulcanite," used in dentistry for bases of artificial teeth. B.

— Nearly 10,000 dressed hogs from Chicago, over the Grand Trunk Railway and Portland steamers, have been received at Boston within the last three days.

— Woolen fabrics are now selling at prices never before equalled in the history of manufactures, or at least since the introduction of modern labor-saving machinery; and the factories are now paying larger dividends than ever before.

What a meaning and unique expression was that of a young Irish girl who was rendering testimony against an individual:—"Arrah, sir," said she, "I'm sure he never made his mother smile."

— A temperance society is forming in the army at Hilton Head.

— Rosa Bonheur is painting a picture ten feet high—a companion to the horse fair.

— The Bulletin complains that Philadelphia is the dirtiest city in the Union.

— Dollar bills purporting to be issued by the Hartford Exchange bank are in circulation. There is no such bank.

— The Court of Queen's Bench, Dublin, have decided that women have a right to vote for Town Commissioners.

—They have a bill before the New York Legislature to prevent the overcrowding, &c., of city railroad cars.

— It is reported that Gen. Halleck will resign on the passage by the Senate of the bill to make Gen. Grant Lieut. General.

— It is said Rev. Mr. Hammond, the revivalist preacher, is about to make a trip to Palestine, to recruit his exhausted energies.

— The new ship Daniel Draper, which cleared at Boston, on Monday, for Hong Kong, carries a couple of good sized "Long Toms" to defend herself from pirates.

— A new and fast blockade runner, the Wild Darrell, was destroyed at New Topsail Inlet, N. C., not long since, by the Sassacus and the Florida. The victim had got ashore, and was landing her cargo.

— Army mules are going to Grant's Department in large numbers. They are to be used as pack mules for supply trains, for East Tennessee, as the roads are impassable for wagon trains.

— The Richmond Examiner reports that the federal prisoners at Belle Isle kill and eat such dogs as they can catch! Our poor fellows are no doubt in a state of semi-starvation.

— Bishop Duggan, of Chicago, has followed the example of Bishop Wood of Philadelphia, in denouncing the Fenian Brotherhood and directing true Catholics to have nothing to do with the organization.

— Two brothers, aged respectively 12 and 15 years, have been arrested in Portland for purloining from their father's desk the sum of $21. The eldest has been held for examination but the youngest was discharged upon the supposition that he was corrupted by his brother.

— Two or three years since the Post-office in Malden, Mass., was robbed, and the rifled letters were found a day or two after on a post by the road between the office and Green's house. No intelligence was ever obtained of the robber, but the recent developments have excited suspicions that the postmaster himself was the perpetrator of the crime.

HEALTH FOR THE SOLDIER.—For one who dies from the effects of the bullet, ten perish from damp and exposure to night air. Small doses of Holloway's Pills, taken every other night, will correct all disorders of the liver and stomach, purify the blood, and insure sound health to every man. Only 30 cents per box. 222

IMPORTANT.—The fact cannot be too often stated, or too strongly urged upon the public, that the majority of the Saleratus in market is not only very unhealthy, but actually a clear poison, causing teeth to decay, and bringing on disease generally. Thanks to science, skill, perseverance and energy, that the man still lives who invented Herrick Allen's Medal Saleratus, which has and is still doing such great wonders in the culinary department. We say that one trial will convince the most skeptical that there is none other to be compared with it. Most of our merchants have it for sale. Chief depot at 112 Liberty Street, New York.

Constitution Life Syrup,

COMPOSED OF

IODIDE POTASSIUM,

With the compound concentrated fluid extract of

VALUABLE MEDICINAL

ROOTS AND HERBS,

Prepared by WM. H. GREGG, M. D.,

Graduate College Physicians and Surgeons, N. Y. formerly Assistant Physician Blackwell's Island Hospitals, late Medical Inspector New York State Volunteer Depots, under Gov. Edwin D. Morgan.

Constitution Life Syrup

HAS PRODUCED

A REVOLUTION IN MEDICINE!

What may seem almost incredible, is, that many diseases hitherto considered hopelessly incurable are frequently cured in a few days or weeks, and we cheerfully invite the investigations of the liberal minded and scientific to cures which have no parallel at the present day.

Our medicine is peculiar, by it the seat of disease is directly reached, and the equilibrium restored. Those who have suffered long from painful and obstinate diseases, those who have vainly sought relief from advertised medicines, those who cannot be cured by other physicians—are Invited to use Constitution Life Syrup.

During the past five years we have contended with obstacles and overcome opposition as heroic as ever encountered by any Reformers.

Rapidity of Cure.

Some say, "Your cures are too quick," while others doubt their permanence, and think that diseases can only be cured by the "slow recuperative process of Nature!" This is our reply:

In health, the body, like a well-balanced scale, is in a state of equilibrium. But when from any cause, down goes one side of the scale, we have the effect of Disease. The Public is, to restore the normal balance of the scale.

CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP,

A positive and specific remedy for all diseases originating from an IMPURE STATE OF THE BLOOD, and for all hereditary DISEASES transmitted from PARENT TO CHILD.

Paralysis.

Hemiplegia, Paresis, Paraplegia, Paralysis Agitans.

It is so universally admitted that Constitution Life Syrup is the only effective means of restoration in the various forms of Paralysis, that we need not reiterate that it is emphatically the Great Life-Giving Power.

Dyspepsia.

Indigestion, Liver Complaint, Constipation, Weight at Stom'h, Biliousness, Want of Appetite, Flatulence, Bad Breath.

Scrofula.

Struma, Glandular Swellings, Ulceration, King's Evil, Erysipelas, Salt Rheum.

This taint (hereditary or acquired), filling life with untold misery, is by all usual medical remedies incurable.

Rheumatism.

{Arthritis}, Neuralgia, Gout, Lumbago, Sciatica, The Dolorenx.

If there is any disease in which the Constitution Life Syrup is a sovereign, it is in Rheumatism and its kindred affections. The most intense pains are almost instantly alleviated—enormous swellings are reduced. Cases, either acute or vingrious, of 20 or 30 years standing, have been cured by us.

Nervousness.

Nervous Debility, Confusion of Thoughts, Epilepsy, Loss of Power, Shattered Nerves, St. Vitus' Dance.

Thousands who have suffered for years will bless the day on which they read these lines. Particularly to weak, suffering woman will this medicine prove an inestimable blessing—directing their footsteps to a Hope which fulfils more than it promises.

Mercurial Diseases.

Salivation, Feeling of Weariness, Rotting of Bones, Bad Constitution, Pains in Bones, Depressed Spirits.

Constitution Life Syrup purges the system entirely from all the evil effects of MERCURY, removing the Bad Breath, and curing the Weak Joints and Rheumatic Pains which the use of Calomel is sure to produce. It hardens Spongy Gums and secures the teeth as firmly as ever.

Constitution Life Syrup

Eradicates, root and branch, all Eruptive Diseases of the Skin, like

ULCERS, PIMPLES, BLOTCHES.

And all other difficulties of this kind, which so much disfigure the outward appearance of both males and females, often making them a disgusting object to themselves and their friends.

CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP

Cures all Swellings of the Glands,

Either of the Face, Neck or Female Breast and should be taken as soon as the swelling is manifested, thus preventing their breaking and producing troublesome Discharging Sores, which disfigure so many of the younger portion of the community, from six to twenty years of age. Young children are very subject to Discharges from the Ears, which depends upon a Scrofulous constitution. These cases soon recover by taking a few doses of the Life Syrup.

All scrofulous persons suffering from Debility, Emaciation, Dropsy of the limbs or Dropsy of the abdomen, and in the female Dropsy of the ovaries and womb, generally accompanied with inflammation and ulceration of the uterus; are permanently cured by Constitution Life Syrup. The disease known as Goitre or Swelled Neck, the Life Syrup will remove in time. The remedy should be taken for some time, as the disease is exceedingly chronic and stubborn, and will not be removed without extra effort. Tumors of the Ovaries, Tumors of the Breast, and swelling of other glands of the body will be completely reduced without resorting to the knife or operations of any kind.

Epileptic Fits, Sympathetic or Organic Diseases of the Heart (as Palpitation, Disease of Valves—producing Apoplectic or Bilious sound), Dropsy of the Heart Case and all the affections of this important organ, or persons suffering from any acute pain in the region of the heart, will be greatly relieved by Constitution Life Syrup.

Broken Down and Delicate Constitutions, Suffering from Indisposition to Exercise, Pain in the Back, Loss of Memory, Forebodings, Horror of Contiguity, Dizziness, Dimness of Vision, Dry Hot Skin and Extremities, Want of Sleep, Restlessness, Pale Haggard Countenance and Lassitude of the Muscular System all require the aid of the CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP.

For all forms of Ulcerative Diseases, either of the Nose Throat, Tongue, Spine, Forehead or Neck no remedy has ever proved its equal.

MOTH PATCHES upon the female face, depending upon a diseased action of the Liver, are very unpleasant to the young wife and mother. A few bottles of Constitution Life Syrup will correct the secretion, and remove the deposit which is directly under the skin.

In Diseases of the Liver, giving rise to languor, dizziness, indigestion, weak stomach, or an ulcerated or cancerous condition of that organ, accompanied with burning feet or other unpleasant symptoms, relief may be obtained by the use of CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP.

Diseases of the Spine, as usually developed in the symptoms of Spinal Disease, Neuralgia, and all Nervous Diseases, and Ladies who are suffering from diseases for which they are at a loss to know what to do, we would advise the use of CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP. It will restore their pallid countenance, strengthen their weak body and side, give them new energy, new life and happiness.

THE RICH AND POOR are liable to the same diseases. Nature and Science have made the Constitution Life Syrup for the benefit of all.

PURE BLOOD produces healthy men and women; and if the constitution is neglected in youth, disease and early death are the results. Do not delay when the means are so near at hand, and within the reach of all.

TO MOTHERS AND YOUNG LADIES.

It is the safest and most effectual medicine ever discovered for purifying the system and relieving the suffering attendant upon childbirth. It strengthens both the mother and the child, prevents pain and disease, and increases and enriches the food—Those who have used it think it indispensable. It is highly valuable both before and after confinement, as it prevents disease attendant upon childbirth.

Constitution Life Syrup

Is the Poor Man's Friend and the Rich Man's Blessing!—Buy it, take it, and be cured—It is Universal in its effects.

CHINESE WITNESSES.—In the towns and at the gold fields of Victoria no cause list would now look complete without a few Chinese names in it. Their powers of giving evidence are as amazing as is their fastidiousness as to the fashion in which they are sworn. Some of them in the witness box blow out a lucifer match; some burn a strip of yellow paper with Chinese characters inscribed thereon; and one once, in my hearing, at Ballarat, refused to be sworn at all but upon the ceremony of chopping off the head of a cock at one blow. In vain was the witness tempted with lucifer, wax candle, china saucer, and every other article at once handy and deemed likely to bear on the Chinese conscience. He was inexorable, and as his evidence was important, and poultry was scarce in the township, the court, jury, and practitioners were kept waiting while messengers scoured right and left in search of the necessary victim. On the cock being brought into court, emitting a clock of terror whenever he could disengage his beak from the hand of the roguish or nervous Irish policeman, even judicial gravity was sorely tried, and yet this was not all. A second commission became necessary to go in quest of a chopper, common pocket knives being of no use, as "the one blow" was carefully explained by the interpreter as being so indispensable that cock after cock must be offered up if there were any failure in this particular.—The chopper was at last procured, the cock satisfactorily beheaded, and the Chinaman's conscience satisfied, whereupon, so exhausted was the witness's virtue by its preliminary effort, that he burst at once into a paroxysm of perjury which satisfied all that he was not nearly so particular in the substance of his evidence as he had been in the form of his oath.

☞ A Boston merchant went into the Granite Bank on Friday and drew $4500, which mysteriously disappeared while he was at the counter, no person in the meantime having gone out or entered the room. Subsequently a clerk found it outside the banking room door, and on Saturday returned it to its owner, declining to receive the $500 reward offered.

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY,
SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,
Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, (vide the Act of 1837.)
76 State street, opposite Kilby street,
Boston.

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Urgent cases, Specifications, Reissues, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with dispatch. Inventors made safe in America or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of patents or Inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by any, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The Testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional service so moderate.

The immense practice during the preceding twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to Patents.

These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessary of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse."

CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in 1 form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents

Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, and has secured for which patents have been granted, and that in now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges.

JOHN P. ROBERTS.

During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents.

LAST AND BEST.
THE MODEL COOK.
AN AIR-TIGHT STOVE,
WITH TWO OVENS,
And Five Boiling Places!

At the present high prices of fuel it is very desirable to lessen its consumption. This can be best accomplished by using a MODEL COOK STOVE. More cooking can be done in one with a single look of coal, or cord of wood, than with double the quantity in any common stove or range—and in less time also.

The fire being placed in the centre of the stove, with an oven on either side (which may be thrown into one at pleasure), all the heat from the fuel is made available for cooking purposes.

The oven doors are lined with tin, and jackets are provided for the bottom and back of the stove, thus retaining much heat, ordinarily wasted.

A check draft is applied, by means of which much fuel is saved, and a continuous fire may be kept as long as desirable.

A Water Tank and Hot Closet can be applied to either size, when needed.

In fact, no pains or expense have been spared to make this a PERFECT Stove, and we think it surpasses all others for Economy, Durability, Capacity, Convenience, Beauty of Design and Perfection of Finish.

It is equally well adapted for Coal or Wood; Summer or Winter use; excellent in a family where help is employed, and invaluable to the housewife who does her own work, lightening it at least one-half.

No family, large or small, where economy, convenience and cleanliness are desirable, should be without one.

We refer to some parties who have purchased the Model Cook.

THE MAGEE
COOKING STOVE.

The subscriber, having received his Fall stock of Stoves, would especially call the attention of the public to the
CELEBRATED AND UNEQUALLED
MAGEE COOK STOVE,
as the very best Stove yet made, and would invite those about purchasing or exchanging Stoves, to examine this, believing it to be far superior to any other Stove yet invented, the castings being heavier, and the oven larger than usual. The oven plates are covered with plaster, which renders it equal to the old-fashioned brick oven for perfection in baking.

There is a new style and very superior broiler and cod-iron heater combined, by which the odor of broiling meats are prevented from escaping into the room. With the extension top there is a large copper Reservoir for hot water; also a large tin warming-closet attached, in which any article can be kept warm, while the other parts of the Stove are occupied for other purposes.

The arrangements for sifting the coal and cleaning the grate are far superior to those of any other Stove now in use, as no dust can possibly escape into the room, and the shoveling up of the ashes is entirely dispensed with. The fire is regulated in the same manner as in the MAGEE PARLOR STOVE, and can be continued day and night for weeks together, thus saving the expense of re-kindling every day.

For economy, durability, ease of management, cleanliness and perfection in cooking, it cannot be surpassed by any other Stove, as hundreds of families in this city and vicinity, who are now using them, are willing to testify, and speak of them in the highest terms of praise.

We would refer to the following purchasers:

"MAGEE'S PATENT"
VENTILATING & AIR-WARMING
FURNACES.

The subscriber, being the Sole Agent in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of this valuable Furnace, would ask those about remodelling or erecting buildings to examine this truly valuable invention.

For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, moist and agreeable—and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pot is used for respiration, the tendency to produce headaches so much complained of in other furnaces, is entirely obviated.

The objects aimed at by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.

To accomplish this many complicated and expensive heating arrangements have been constructed, some possessing but little improvement over former methods, while others have proved a total failure. The reason for this is obvious. The combustible gases being lighter than the air, pass off with the smoke pipe or chimney without being consumed. This objection, so common in other Furnaces, is obviated in the

MAGEE FURNACE.

The flue or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot descend, and are burned up by the admission of cold air through the fire-pot, which ignites them as they pass off from the coal, thus saving at least 20 per cent. of the properties of the heat in the fuel.

No heating apparatus with the smoke-pipe or flue on the top of the dome can be made to consume the gases of the coal, as they pass off with a large amount of the heat generated, making the chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.

This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.

These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.

For ease of management, economy and purity of air, these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire may be kept the entire season without once going out.

They give entire satisfaction wherever used. We have in store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world,—and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:

Samuel Clemes, Esq., Albert H. Hatch, Esq.,
Aaron H. Hill, Charles H. Mendum,
Henry F. Wendell, John Sise, and others.

CALENDAR CLOCKS.
These Clocks are reliable Time Keepers and Calendars combined, and require the winding of the time movement only, to secure all the required changes of the Calendar at midnight; showing the day of the week, the month, and day of the month, including the 29th day of February of leap year, perpetually and with unfailing certainty.

Having taken the Agency for the sale of these Clocks, we would invite the public to call and examine them.

Any person desirous of purchasing a Clock will find it to their advantage to examine these before purchasing elsewhere, as we warrant them as good time-keepers as can be obtained for the same price without the Calendar Attachment, and those not in want of a clock will find the Calendar alone worth more than the price of the clock. They will be set up in any part of the city, and regulated without extra charge.

IMPORTANT TO THE AFFLICTED.

DR. DOW continues to be consulted at his office, Nos. 7 and 9 EDDICOTT STREET, Boston, on all diseases of a

PRIVATE OR DELICATE NATURE.

By a long course of study and practical experience of unlimited extent, Dr. D. has now the gratification of presenting the unfortunate with remedies that have never since the world first introduced them, failed to cure the most alarming cases of

GONORRHŒA AND SYPHILIS.

Beneath his treatment, all the horrors of venereal; and impure blood, Impotency, Scrofula, Gonorrhœa, Ulcers, pain and distress in the regions of procreation, Inflammation of the Bladder and Kidneys, Hydrocele, Abscesses, Bubones, Frightful Swellings, and the long train of horrible symptoms attending this class of disease, are made to become as harmless as the simplest ailings of a child.

SEMINAL WEAKNESS.

Dr D., devotes a part of his time to the treatment of those cases caused by a secret and solitary habit, which ruins the body and mind, unfitting the unfortunate individual for business or society. Some of the sad and melancholy effects produced by early habits of youth, are Weakness of the Back and Limbs, Dizziness of the head, Dimness of sight, Palpitation of the heart, Dyspepsia, Nervousness, Derangement of the digestive functions, Symptoms of Consumption, &c. The fearful effects on the mind are much to be dreaded; loss of memory, confusion of ideas, depression of spirits, evil forebodings, aversion of society, self-distrust, love of solitude, &c., are among the evils produced. Such persons should, before contemplating matrimony, consult a physician of experience, and be at once restored to health and happiness.

Patients who wish to remain under Dr. Dow's treatment a few days or two weeks, will be furnished with pleasant rooms, and charges for board moderate.

Medicines sent to all parts of the country, with full directions for use, on receiving description of your cases. Dr. Dow has also for sale the French Cupettes, warranted the best preventive. Order by mail. Three for $1 and a red stamp.

Highly Important!

To Females in Delicate Health.

DR. DOW, Physician and Surgeon, No 7 & 9 EDDICOTT STREET, Boston, is consulted daily for all diseases incident to it female system. Prolapsus Uteri, or falling of the Womb, Fluor Albus, Suppression, and other menstrual derangements, are all treated upon new pathological principles, and speedy relief guaranteed in a few days. So invariably certain is the new mode of treatment, that most obstinate complaints yield under it, and the afflicted person soon rejoices in perfect health.

Dr. Dow has no doubt had greater experience in the cure of diseases of women and children, than any other physician in Boston.

Boarding accommodations for patients who may wish to stay in Boston a few days under his treatment.

Dr. Dow, since 1845, having confined his whole attention to an office practice, for the cure of Private Diseases and Female Complaints, acknowledges no superior in the United States.

N. B.—All letters must contain four red stamps, or they will not be answered.

Office Hours from 8 A. M. to 9 P. M.

CERTAIN CURE
in all cases, and No Charges Made.

Dr. Dow is consulted daily, from 8 A. M. to 9 P. M. as above, upon all difficult and chronic diseases of every name and nature, having by his unwearied attention and extraordinary success gained a reputation which calls patients from all parts of the country to obtain advice.

Among the physicians in Boston, none stands higher in the profession than the celebrated DR. DOW, No. 7 Eddicott street, Boston. Those who need the services of an experienced physician and surgeon should give him a call.

F. S.—Dr. Dow imports and has for sale a new article, called the FRENCH SECRET. Order by mail. Two for $1 and a red stamp.

"Soundio no party—to no sect confined:
The world our home; our brethren, all mankind.
Truth, truth, do good, be just and fair with all:
Exalt the rights, though every lem fall."

"Let me warn you in the most solemn manner against the baneful effects of the spirit of Party, generally. It is a spirit not to be encouraged.—Its common and continual mischief is sufficient to make it the interest and duty of a wise people to discourage and restrain it. In governments of the popular form, it is seen in its greatest rank, and is truly their worst enemy."—Washington's Farewell Address

EDUCATION AND LOYALTY.—A people well educated cannot engage in efforts to break up a Government like ours. Ohio, for instance, has from the first stood firm to the Union and Liberty: she has given of her means without stint, and her sons have freely offered themselves as sacrifices for their country's welfare. Why is this? May not a key to it be found in the general system of education which prevails there? It appears from a report just published, that the number of schools taught in that State the last year was 14,561, and the whole number of children enrolled in the schools was 750,413. The expenditures for these schools was nearly two and a half millions of dollars. It is reasonable, therefore, to suppose that a people who have such educational advantages would not be found on the side of Jeff. Davis and slavery. Restore the rebel States to the Union; root out slavery; give the people the common school; let the children of all classes enjoy the benefits of such institutions, and the future of the Republic is sure.—Bath Times.

ON ANCIENT JESTS.—The Kynge with a goodlie compane, rydinge thro' Cheape one day, espied a very fat woman, and be asked who she was, whereupon ye Lord Mayr, with reddie wyt, answered that she was Barklie and Perkyns, his stout, if it might please his Majestie. And his Majestie gracioushie replyed: "Barklie and Perkyns, his stout, well pleases mee, but yt seemeth mee she is not XXX but XLent stout." At which every one laughed ryghte merrile. Then the Kynge asked the Lord Mayr if he would have that woman for his wyfe; but quoth he: "We thanke ye, Majestie, but there is a proverb, 'Waist not, want not!'" which pleased the Kynge muche, and gave to the Lord Mayr a dygge in ye ribbes, and caused him to fall off hys horse into ye Conduit, whych greatly delyghted ye Kynge and his Courtiers, and he sayed, "Rise uppe, Sir Thomas de Muddinose." So be becayme a knight that daye. And ye chroniclers say that Sir Thomas de Muddinose was the only Mayr that ever made two jests, and that ye Cittie of London is famous for its wittles and not for its writ.

☞ A letter from New York to the Boston Evening Gazette informs us that the Central Park has cost already some seven millions of dollars, but it has improved the property in the neighborhood to such an extent that it will yield to the city treasury a very large amount in the shape of taxes. Then the city will have one of the most beautiful parks in the world, which another generation will be able to enjoy.—More than 79,000 trees, shrubs and herbaceous plants were planted last year, of which 29,000 were from the Park nurseries. There is a carriage drive of eight miles, a bridle road of five miles, and a walk, now complete, of nearly twenty miles. Over four millions of persons visited the Park during the year, and as many as nine thousand carriages have entered it in one day. The zoological collection is constantly receiving additions, and it will soon be an exceedingly interesting feature of the place.

VALUE OF A LEG.—A man at St. Mary's, C. W., named Humphreys, whose wife lost a portion of her leg by a late accident on the Grand Trunk railway, preferred to the Company's Stratford solicitor the modest demand of $10,000. The principle on which he had calculated the amount of damage was a novel one. He said that a short time ago at L'Original, a woman met with an accident on the Grand Trunk, which shortened her leg by an inch and a half, and the jury compensated her at the rate of $500 an inch. The Grand Trunk had been the means of shortening his wife's leg by over sixteen inches, which at $500 an inch, with expenses, amounted to $10,000.

☞ "Perley" writes that well informed Englishmen declare that if the Confederate iron clads could leave the Mersey, to encounter our Monitors, the engagement would result in drawn battles, which might put an end to sea fights, for of what use would it be to go on building vessels at an enormous cost merely for the sake of having them "ram" each other, or fire great guns? Were both to sink, it would only be a loss to each side of a few men and a large amount of iron!

Morning Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 11, 1864.

By His Excellency Joseph A. Gilmore,
Governor of the State of New Hampshire.

A PROCLAMATION.

To the People of New Hampshire:

I am informed by the telegraph from Washington, on the authority both of the Secretary of War and the Provost Marshal General, that our State will be accredited with all men furnished under the draft of July 3, 1863, while no account will be made of men called for under the draft. As a consequence of this decision, I am happy to say that New-Hampshire is in excess of all demands upon her at the present time.

Our deficiency at the beginning of the present official year was	388
Quota called for Oct. 17, 1863,	3700
Quota as estimated under call of Feb. 1, '64,	2912
Total	6998
Men furnished under the draft	3012
Men furnished under call of Oct. 17	4746
Re-enlistments from old regiments, not reckoned as a part of our quota under the call of Oct. 17,	387
Total	7145

In addition to the re-enlistments already reported at the Adjutant General's office, a number of men have been mustered as veterans from the Third, Seventh and Eighth Infantry and the N. H. Cavalry, and these are yet to be credited to the State. It is not too much to hope that New Hampshire is at the present time at least 600 men in excess of all demands upon her. It is certain that her quota under every call is full.

While this cheering news relieves us from the necessity of any especial exertion to avoid a draft in the Old Granite State, let me appeal to her patriotic citizens to keep the balance on the right side. Other calls may be made upon us, and in meeting them New Hampshire must still head the column. Let us send into the field in the Spring a full regiment of cavalry, composed exclusively of the sturdy yeomanry of our own State. As an incentive to continued effort in this direction, I do hereby announce that the State Bounty of $100.00 will continue to be paid, till further notice, to citizens of New Hampshire, who enlist either as fresh recruits or veteran volunteers to the credit of towns in which they have residence. The bounties offered by the General Government of $300.00 for fresh recruits, and $400.00 for veterans will be paid up to March, 1, 1864.

Given at the Council Chamber, in Concord, this ninth day of February, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and sixty-four, and of the Independence of the United States the eighty-eight.

JOSEPH A. GILMORE.

By his Excellency the Governor, with the advice and consent of the Executive Council.

ALLEN TENNY, Secretary of State.

THE REBELLION.

Last July, 16 men, teamsters and soldiers, were killed in cold blood twelve or fifteen miles from Cape Girardeau, Mo., by a gang of guerrillas under Lieut. J. F. Bolin. This band has just been captured, and Lieut. Bolin is in irons. He is guilty of other brutal murders.

Johnston is opposing the advance of Gen. Sherman's expedition at Clinton.

Bragg has left Montgomery for Richmond.

Union reinforcements are hurrying forward to Knoxville, Longstreet having gained some advantage in a cavalry fight on the 29th of January.

The Richmond Examiner of the 8th reports the arrest of A. W. Heinz, a baker, charged with being connected with an organization to release the Yankee prisoners, assassinate President Davis and destroy the public buildings. Other arrests were likely to follow, as the roll of the members was seized along with Heinz.

A letter from Walhalla, S. C., Jan. 24, states that Western North Carolina and the town and county of Georgia were recently invaded by 1500 Yankee cavalry, who pillaged, carried off negroes, horses, food, &c.

The Savannah Republican sees no indications of a formidable attack in that vicinity. It reports the shelling of Thunderbolt battery by a Monitor, without effect.

It is officially stated that the whole number of troops actually enlisted in the rebel service since October was 100,000.

The Richmond Whig says the Virginia Legislature has been occupied in secret session with a resolution requesting the Confederate authorities to suspend the ban of outlawry against Gen. Butler, until an exchange of prisoners is effected.

☞ In the U. S. Senate, on Tuesday, Mr. Wilson reported back the bill reviving the grade of Lieut. General, with an amendment striking out the clause making said officer Commander-in-Chief, and the clause recommending Gen. Grant for the position.

Mr. Johnson introduced a bill transferring Acting Assistant-Paymasters in the navy to the regular naval service on their undergoing regular examinations. Referred to the Naval Committee.

☞ The House Military Committee have agreed to report a resolution that all Generals who on the 15th of March next have not been in active service the previous three months, shall be dismissed. The Senate Judiciary Committee have agreed to an amendment to the Constitution forever prohibiting slavery in the United States.

BOSTON CORRESPONDENCE.

[From our Regular Correspondent.]

BOSTON, Feb. 8th, 1864.

Editors Chronicle:—The community were startled this morning by the announcement that the murderer of Frank E. Converse, at the Malden Bank last December, had been arrested, had confessed his guilt, and that the murderer proved to be the Postmaster of the town, a man considered above suspicion. The offices of the various newspapers were beset by anxious crowds at an early hour, all anxious to read the particulars of this startling rumor. In the cars, at the offices, in the streets, everywhere where men congregate, this was the universal topic of conversation. [Our correspondent gives a detailed account of the circumstances attending the discovery and arrest of the murderer, but as our columns have already contained the full particulars, he will pardon us for omitting this portion of his letter.—EDS.]

Nothing has so greatly excited and horrified this city since the murder of Dr. Parkman by Professor Webster, and but little doubt is felt that Mr. Green will suffer the full penalty of his deliberate, cold-blooded crime. Our kind hearted Governor in his first message strongly urged the abolishment of capital punishment, and probably strong efforts will be made by Green's friends, if he is condemned to suffer the full penalty of the law, to induce Gov. Andrew to commute his sentence to imprisonment. I will keep your readers informed of the proceedings in the case. All sorts of crimes and misdemeanors are now attributed to Green,—most of them, probably, without foundation.

Adding to the general excitement of today, we have had the arrival of the war-worn, battle-scarred veterans of the 19th Mass. Regt., to the number of about 150, who marched through our streets to Faneuil Hall, this forenoon. Mayor Lincoln addressed them, and they then partook of the usual collation. After the inner man had been fully satisfied, Adjt. Gen. Schouler introduced Brig. Gen. Edward W. Hinks as the Governor's representative on this occasion, the Governor being too ill to be present. Gen. Hinks, Asst. Provost Marshal of New Hampshire, was formerly Colonel of the 19th, was wounded at Antietam, soon afterwards promoted to the star, and has since his recovery been on duty in New Hampshire. He made a stirring speech, frequently interrupted by applause. Col. Devereaux replied in but few words, saying he was no speech-maker, that they came home to fill up their regiment and had no time to talk. The hall was decorated with flags, and at the foot of the platform was the motto "Boston honors the Brave,"—under the clock, "A cordial welcome Home." The 19th has been in nearly every battle with the Army of the Potomac since Ball's Bluff. Sergt. Plunkett, who while carrying the colors at Fredericksburg lost both arms, was a member of this regiment.

While you in New Hampshire have been listening to the eloquent words of Gen. Gantt, we in Boston have been made acquainted with the sufferings of the Union people of East Tennessee by that true patriot, Col. Taylor, formerly Representative from the 1st Tenn. District. From the position of a gentleman of property, he has been reduced by the war almost to penury. Last Friday he addressed the Legislature, by invitation from that honorable body, Gen. Burnside being present and endorsing heartily the Colonel's statements of the steadfast loyalty of the people of his section. At the close of his speech a committee was appointed to relieve the suffering Unionists of East Tennessee. The committee met Saturday at the State House, and adopted a resolution recommending the Legislature to appropriate a sum not less than $100,000. Col. Taylor visited the Custom House on Saturday and by invitation of Collector Goodrich delivered an address to a large company collected in the rotunda. Such men as Amos A. Lawrence and Judge Russell are thoroughly interested in this matter, and Massachusetts will not belie her reputation for liberality.

Last Saturday Ex-Gov. Marcus Morton died at Taunton, at the age of 80 years.—He was Governor three times. Being Lieut. Governor at the decease of Gov. Eustis, he succeeded him; in 1842 he was elected by the Legislature, and in 1849 was elected over Edward Everett by the Democrats, by a majority of one vote.

Letters from the 3d N. H. regiment say there is a movement to make the regiment a cavalry one. It is popular among the officers, and was so among the rank and file until it was discovered they would have to re enlist for three years, which caused them to think twice before deciding. John W. Day of Portsmouth, Chief Trumpeter 1st R. I. Cavalry, is home on furlough.—The N. H. Battalion is attached to this regiment. The Colonel was Captain of one of the N. H. companies: most of the officers of the N. H. companies are Rhode Island men, and Mr. Day says a large portion of the battalion would prefer to remain as they are instead of being made the nucleus of a new regiment.

MANNING.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— A flock of wild geese flew over Winchester, last week, steering northward.

—— Perley states that the Union men of New Hampshire, resident in Washington, have formed an association, and nearly all of them will go home to vote.

—— The Unitarian Society in Concord, who have been without a pastor for upwards of a year, have voted to call Rev. Mr. Hatch, formerly of Brooklyn, N. Y., to the pastorate.

—— A correspondent of the Wolfborough News states that Barker Wiggin, of Jackson draft notoriety, is soon to begin legal action against those deputy marshals who so unceremoniously introduced his Honor to the powers that be at Portsmouth.

—— At a recent meeting of the stockholders of the Granite State Bank, in Exeter, the following gentlemen were chosen Directors: Abner Merrill, Charles Conner, Wm. W. Stickney, Stephen W. Dearborn, Edmund Elliott, Jeremiah L. Merrill, George G. Smith.

—— On Monday afternoon a man with a two-horse team and a load of wood, attempted to drive across the railroad track in Manchester, but before getting fairly over a train came along, and the engine striking the sled, dashed it in pieces and scattered the wood for some distance down the track. The horses and driver escaped uninjured.

—— A precocious youth in Freedom, who went home very late one night from a social club, went into the barn to escape a scolding. Parents wait until past midnight, and sonny doesn't come; rouse the neighbors, and during the remainder of the night half the neighborhood are out searching for the lost pet, who, meanwhile, is comfortably snoozing the hours away in the barn.

—— A Springfield man has invented a steam sheep-shearer.

—— Artemas Ward is dangerously ill at Great Salt Lake City, of typhoid fever.

—— The town of Warsaw, N. C., was destroyed by fire on the 31st ult.

—— Officers are not credited as part of the quota of a town, nor are they entitled to a bounty.

—— Colt's Armory at Hartford, recently burnt down, is to be reconstructed without delay. There were six miles of heating pipes in the burnt building.

—— Wigfall recently made a speech in the rebel Congress on the subject of national honor. There are other topics with which he is more familiar.

—— Accounts from the South state that the rebel armies embrace to-day more men than at any moment since the commencement of the war, the conscription having been ruthlessly enforced in all classes liable to its action.

—— A colored servant of Major Lawrence, Assistant Paymaster Department of the Gulf, robbed the Major's safe of $35,000 in greenbacks a few days since. Verily, the blacks are rapidly becoming civilized.

—— The freight train from Portland, on the P., S. & P. Railroad, on Tuesday afternoon, when near Saco ran into an express team. The wagon was smashed to pieces, one of the horses killed, and the driver, it is supposed, fatally injured. The train sustained no damage.

UNIVERSAL HAIR RESTORER.

ITS MODUS OPERANDI.

Immediately beneath the scalp there are very small Glands, or, more commonly Roots of the Hair. It is from these Glands that every hair of the head is formed and secreted. As long as the scalp is free from disease, these bodies will remain healthy, and the hair keeps its natural appearance and color. But when humors and other diseases affect the scalp, these glands become involved in the same disease, and the hair gradually turns gray, dry and brittle. Sooner or later the hair begins to fall off, and in many cases, it not arrested, will produce a complete baldness of the scalp.

To remedy this pathological condition of the glands and create a new and healthy action, the Physiological Hair Regenerator has proved a perfect success—inasmuch as it is the only preparation yet known that can boast of such wonderful results.

Unlike thousands of other articles in the market, containing Silver, Lime, Lead, Litharge, Tannin, Sulphur, &c., and producing only a sort of yellow or flax color, it will, if properly applied restore the hair to its former appearance and beauty.

The Physiological Hair Regenerator is warranted in all cases to produce the following results:

1. It is not a Dye and will not stain a single particle. It contains no coloring matter whatever, and is not the least injurious in its application.
2. It will certainly RESTORE the hair from a gray to a beautiful Black, Brown, Auburn, or whatever might have been its original color.
3. It will effectually prevent the hair from falling off, remove all Heat, Inflammation and Dandruff from the scalp, keeping the head clean and cool, and the hair soft, glossy and of a silky appearance.
4. It will PROMOTE a luxuriant growth of new hair on bald heads, except in extreme cases of old age and where the glands have become disorganized.
5. It will cure the most inveterate itching and neuralgia of the scalp, and being highly perfumed, it affords a most delightful article for the toilet.

We have a great abundance of testimony to prove beyond a doubt all that we claim for the Regenerator; and it is positively certain that in a very short time it will have a world wide reputation.

HOME TESTIMONY.

BEDFORD, N. H., Dec. 17, 1863.

Messrs. Tebbetts Brothers—The preparation you induced me to try on my hair, about six weeks ago, has had a wonderful effect. My hair was then almost white and now it is almost black. My daughter has also tried it on her hair, which was fast falling off on account of a severe attack of the diptheria, it stopped it immediately on its application. My wife has also been trying it for baldness on top of her head, and finds that a new growth of hair is rapidly starting. We have only used one bottle, and I think one more will fix our heads up in good shape. J. C. CUTLER.

MANCHESTER, Dec. 20, 1863.

Gents—Unless I am very much mistaken, your Hair Regenerator is destined, ere long, to work a complete revolution with all other Hair Preparations. It not only restores the hair to its natural color and keeps the head free from Dandruff, but it is the most beautiful dressing that can be prepared. My hair, without any apparent cause, began to turn gray when about thirteen years of age, and had been gradually increasing for more than ten years, when at our two months ago I began the use of your Regenerator, and it has completely astonished all my friends to see my hair brought back to its natural color, which is almost a complete black. It is the only thing, unless it was a regular Hair Dye, that I ever knew would produce such effect. It also keeps the head so clean and free from scurf, that it makes a very nice dressing. JACOB J. ABBOTT.

HUNNEWELL'S ECLECTIC PILLS—The true Type of Cathartic.—By the application of true Pharmaceutical Laws, both Character and Economy are combined in this valuable Pill. To prevent putting such quantities of indigestible drugs into the stomach, the griping pains so generally judged to be the evidence of thorough action, and to require from 4 to 6 Pills, to get a decent cathartic, was the study in this development. The dose seldom exceeding One, and never more than Two Pills, settles the question of economy, and character can be best known by confidence to test them in DYSPEPSIA, NERVOUSNESS, BILIOUSNESS, LIVER COMPLAINT, all derangements of the stomach and Bowels, and as a Family Pill. 1y910

We found so close-sticking friends, that it was impossible for us to call on half we desired to.

SUPREME JUDICIAL COURT.

JANUARY TERM.

No. 64—John Knox v Levi S. Bartlett, a suit brought to recover damages for an alleged deceit in the sale of a farm in Kingston, and which has occupied the Court more than a week, was committed to the Jury on Tuesday afternoon. As soon as the jury had retired, Mr. Wm. H. Y. Hackett addressed the Court as follows:—

May it please your Honor: Since the last term of this Court, Jotham Lawrence, Esq., the senior member of this Bar, died at his residence in this town.

Mr. Lawrence was born in the neighboring town of Epping, studied law with the late Hon. George Sullivan, and in 1803 commenced practice in the neighboring town of Brentwood, but soon removed to this town, where he ever afterwards resided in the practice of his profession, until late in the decline of life, when he retired from the Bar. But he retained his interest in the proceedings of the Courts to a recent date, and was frequently in attendance upon their sessions.

Mr. Lawrence was nearly 87 years old. He was not only the oldest member of the Bar, but was the oldest citizen of Exeter. With the exception of Gov. Plumer, no lawyer has died in this county at so advanced an age for a long period. The junior members of this Bar can have no recollections—some of them no knowledge of the large practice which he acquired and held for a long period. His tastes and business tended rather to the details of the office than to the contentions of the Courts—though I have heard him argue cases with decided ability.

In his prime and maturity he was, what many who reach the more coveted positions of our profession fail to become, a good business man. His professional status is sufficiently indicated by the fact that he occupied a prominent position and enjoyed a good and lucrative practice at a Bar with such cotemporaries as Mason, Webster, Smith, Sullivan, Plumer, Bartlett, Woodbury, Cutts, Haven, Tilton, Porter, Richardson, French and Kent.

While he lived, he served as a sort of connecting link between this generation and their great lawyers who conferred honor not only upon this Bar but upon the Bar of New Hampshire,—and now that this link is broken these great men appear greater as we recede from them. What County in this country at any period of our history could have furnished such a list of great lawyers as Mr. Lawrence met in the course of his practice at this Bar?

Mr. Lawrence represented this town in the State Legislature, and he held several positions of trust under the State Government. One of his sons, the late Alexander H. Lawrence, became a distinguished lawyer, and had a considerable practice in the Supreme Court of the United States. He died suddenly a few years ago, in the city of Washington.

My brethren of the Bar have agreed to a Resolution which I now ask the leave of the Court to read, and move that the same may be entered upon the Records of this Court.

Mr. Hackett then read the following resolutions:—

Resolved, That in the death of Jotham Lawrence, Esq., the senior of this Bar, we mourn the loss of a Member who for more than half a century maintained a prominent position as a lawyer and a citizen, and who for many years conducted, with ability and integrity, a good share of the professional business of this county.

Resolved, That the Clerk of the Bar forward to the family of Mr. Lawrence a copy of the foregoing Resolution.

To which the Court, Judge Bellows, replied:—

We regard this as an appropriate proceeding, especially upon the occasion of the death of a member of the Bar so venerable in years, and who held a respectable position at the Bar with such men as Webster, Mason, Smith, Sullivan, Bartlett, Richardson, Woolbury, and the other lawyers of distinguished ability referred to by the gentleman who has addressed the Court. It may be truly said that no County in the country ever furnished such a Bar. Every New Hampshire man, and especially every New Hampshire lawyer, should be proud of it, and it is proper on such an occasion as this, when one of their cotemporaries, and the last of them passes away, that he and they should be noticed with such tokens of respect.

The Court ordered the Resolutions to be recorded.

No. 154—Bartlett, v. Kimball was then called, and assigned for trial for Wednesday morning. This is a suit for false imprisonment, and involves the question whether the place where the Pl. was arrested was in N. H. or Mass. It is supposed that the case will occupy the rest of the week.

☞ We take it that most of our readers who are interested in such matters will observe and read the new advertisement of "Dr. Tabbetts' physiological Hair Regenerator, and universal Hair Restorer," in our columns, this morning. We are not acquainted with the article, and can only say that it comes very highly recommended; but we do know that Dr. Tebbetts is one of the most enterprising and successful druggists and business men of Manchester or any other city, and his name is a good guaranty for anything. Thacher is agent in Portsmouth.

☞ It will be seen by Governor Gilmore's last Proclamation, which we publish this morning, that there is not much chance for another draft in New Hampshire—but the work of recruiting is to be continued, as it should be.

☞ It will be seen by the advertisement that Col. Taylor, of East Tenessee, to whom reference is made by our Boston correspondent in his letter published this morning,—is to speak at the Temple in this city to-morrow (Friday) evening.

☞ The House has made various amendments to the Senate Enrollment bill, principally those proposed by the Committee on Military Affairs. Of course the amendments will have to be sent to the Senate for their action, including the one retaining the present commutation, viz., $300, the Senate having proposed to make it $400. Both Houses, however, are agreed on consolidating the two classes, and exempting from the draft only the Vice President, members of the Cabinet, United States Judges, and those who may be declared by the proper officers physically incapable of bearing arms.

☞ In the Newburyport City Council, an order was adopted instructing the Committee on Public Property to consider the expediency of altering the outside doors of all the Public Buildings so that the same shall open outward, as a measure of safety in case of fire.

— There is no truth in the rumor that infantry volunteers are to be consolidated into regiments of 2400 men.

— 7600 hogs have recently arrived in Portland over the Grand Trunk railway, whereat the morning paper men are jolly.

— It is stated that corn starch is an excellent substitute for eggs for culinary purposes, one spoonful of corn starch being reckoned as equal to a single egg.

— There is a great excitement in Michigan over the discovery of silver near Lake Superior. Speculation has already commenced.

— A substitute broker in Springfield is said to have made much money by passing in toothless men, whom he supplied with teeth made of wax.

— A paper at the Provost Marshal's office in Portland described a recruit as having tall and slim eyes, hazel hair and auburn complexion. The officer in filling out the blanks, mistook the columns.

— The combined Lincoln associations of New York have issued a circular, proposing meetings everywhere on the 22d of February, to nominate Mr. Lincoln without a convention.

— The Roman Catholic Bishop of Chicago has publicly denounced the Fenian Brotherhood, and prohibits all true Catholics from uniting in the National Irish Fair under its auspices, shortly to be held in that city.

☞ Is it possible that any soldier can be so foolish as to leave the city without a supply of Holloway's Ointment and Pills?—Whoever does so will deeply regret it. These medicines are the only certain cure for bowel complaints, fevers, sores and scurvy. Only 30 cents per box or pot. 223

A NOVEL MODEL REFORM.—One of the great questions of the day relates to prison disciplne. How can we cure a felon? is the cry. We answer that Grace's wonderful Salve not only cures felons, but boils, burns, scalds, fresh wounds, bruises, all eruptions of the skin and scalp, and even the most obstinate old ulcers and other sores. It is a wonderful compound, suited alike to the skin of the child and of the adult. No one who has ever tried its virtues will ever be without a box of it. Sold everywhere. 25 cts. a box.

IMPORTANT.—The fact cannot be too often stated, or too strongly urged upon the public, that the majority of the Saleratus in market is not only very unhealthy, but actually a clear poison, causing teeth to decay, and bringing on disease generally. Thanks to science, skill, perseverance and energy, that the man still lives who invented Herrick Allen's Medal Saleratus, which has and is still doing such great wonders in the culinary department. We say that one trial will convince the most skeptical that there is none other to be compared with it. Most of our merchants have it for sale. Chief depot at 112 Liberty Street, New York.

Constitution Life Syrup,
COMPOSED OF
IODIDE POTASSIUM,
With the compound concentrated fluid extract of
VALUABLE MEDICINAL
ROOTS AND HERBS,
Prepared by WM. H. GREGG, M. D.,
Graduate (College Physicians and Surgeons, N. Y. formerly Assistant Physician Blackwell's Island Hospitals, late Medical Inspector New York State Volunteer Depot, under Gov. Edwin D. Morgan.

Constitution Life Syrup
HAS PRODUCED
A REVOLUTION IN MEDICINE!

What may seem almost incredible, is, that many diseases hitherto considered hopelessly incurable are frequently cured in a few days or weeks, and we cheerfully invite the investigations of the liberal minded and scientific to cures which have no parallel at the present day.

Our medicine is peculiar, by it the seat of disease is directly reached, and the equilibrium restored. Those who have suffered long from painful and obstinate disease, those who have vainly sought relief from advertised medicines, those who cannot be cured by physicians—are Invited to use Constitution Life Syrup.

During the past five years we have contended with obstacles and overcome opposition as formidable as ever encountered by any Reformers.

Rapidity of Cure.

Some say, "Your cures are too quick," while others doubt their permanence, and think that diseases can only be cured by the "slow recuperative process of Nature." This is our reply:

In health, the body, like a well-balanced scale, is in a state of equilibrium. But when from any cause down goes one side of the scale, we have the effects of disease. What is requisite is, to restore the normal balance of the scale.

CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP,

A positive and specific remedy for all diseases originating from an IMPURE STATE OF THE BLOOD, and for all HEREDITARY DISEASES, transmitted from PARENT to CHILD.

Paralysis.

Hemiplegia, Paresis, Paraplegia, Paralysis Agitans.

It is so universally admitted that Constitution Life Syrup is the only effective means of restoration in the various forms of Paralysis, that we need not reiterate that it is emphatically the Great Life-Giving Power.

Dyspepsia.

Indigestion, Liver Complaints, Constipation, Weight at Stom'h, Biliousness, Want of Appetite, Flatulence, Bad Breath.

Scrofula.

Struma, Glandular Swellings, Ulceration, King's Evil, Dyspepsia, Sale Rheum.

This taint (hereditary or acquired), filling life with untold misery, is by all usual medical remedies incurable.

Rheumatism.

Arthritis, Neuralgia, Gout, Lumbago, Sciatica, The Dolorous.

If there is any disease in which the Constitution Life Syrup is a sovereign, it is in Rheumatism and its kindred affections. The most intense pains are almost instantly alleviated—enormous swellings are reduced. Cases, chronic or vicarious, of 20 or 30 years standing, have been cured by us.

Nervousness.

Nervous Debility, Confusion of Thoughts, Epilepsy, Loss of Power, Shattered Nerves, St. Vitus' Dance.

Thousands who have suffered for years will bless the day on which they read these lines. Particularly to weak, suffering women will this medicine prove an inestimable blessing—directing their footsteps to a Hope which fulfils more than it promises.

Mercurial Diseases.

Salivation, Aching of Weariness, Rotting of Bones, Bad Complexion, Aches in Bones, Depressed Spirits.

Constitution Life Syrup purges the system entirely from all the evil effects of Mercury, removing the Bad Breath, and curing the Weak Joints and Rheumatic Pains which the use of Calomel is sure to produce. It hardens Spongy Gums and secures the teeth as firmly as ever.

Constitution Life Syrup

Eradicates, root and branch, all Eruptive Diseases of the Skin, like

ULCERS, STYPTICS, BLOTCHES,

And all other difficulties of this kind, which so much disfigure the outward appearance of both males and females, often making them a disgusting object to themselves and their friends.

CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP.

Cures all Swellings of the Glands,

Either of the Face, Neck or Female Breast, and should be taken soon as the swelling is detected, thus preventing their breaking and producing troublesome Discharging Sores, which disfigure so many of the younger portion of the community, from six to twenty years of age. Young children are very subject to Discharges from the Ears, which depends upon a Scrofulous constitution. These cases recover by taking a few doses of the Life Syrup.

All scrofulous persons suffering from Debility, Emaciation, Dyspepsia; Dropsy of the Chest or abdomen, and in the female Dropsy of the ovaries and womb, generally accompanied with inflammation and ulceration of the ovaries; are permanently cured by Constitution Life Syrup. The disease known as Goitre or Swelled Neck, the Life Syrup removes entirely. The Remedy should be taken for some time, as the disease is exceedingly chronic and stubborn, and will not be removed without extra effort. Tumors of the Ovaries, Tumors of the Uterus, and swelling of other glands of the body will be completely reduced without resorting to the knife or operations of any kind.

Epileptic Fits, Sympathetic or Organic Diseases of the Heart (as Palpitation, Disease of Valves—producing a great variety of symptoms), Dropsy of the Heart Case and all the affections of that important organ, or persons suffering from any other part of the region of the heart, will be greatly relieved by Constitution Life Syrup.

Broken Down and Delicate Constitutions, Suffering from Indisposition to Exercise, Pain in the Back, Loss of Memory, Melancholy, Horror of Ocasiety, Fear of Disease, Dreams and Visions, Dry Hot Skin, and Extremities, Want of Sleep, Restlessness, Pale Haggard Countenance and Lassitude of the Muscular System, all require the aid of the CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP.

For all forms of Ulcerative Diseases, either of the Nose Throat, Tongue, Spine, Forehead or Scalp, no remedy has ever proved its equal.

MOTH PATCHES upon the female face, depending upon a diseased action of the Liver, are very unpleasant to the sufferer, wife and mother. A few bottles of Constitution Life Syrup will correct the secretion, and remove the deposit which is directed under the skin.

In Diseases of the Liver, giving rise to languor, dizziness, indigestion, weak stomach, or an ulcerated or congested condition of that organ, accompanied with burning or other unpleasant symptoms, relief may be obtained by the use of CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP.

Diseases of the Spine, as usually developed in the young, Hip Disease, Neuralgia, and all Nervous Diseases, and Ladies who are suffering from disease for which they are at a loss to know what to do, we would advise the use of CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP. It will restore their pallid countenance, strengthen their weak back and side, give them new energy, new life and happiness.

THE RICH AND POOR are liable to the same diseases. Nature and Science have made the Constitution Life Syrup for the benefit of all.

PURE BLOOD produces healthy men and women; and if the constitution is neglected in youth, disease and early death are the results. Do not delay when the means are so near at hand, and within the reach of all.

TO MOTHERS AND MARRIED LADIES. It is the safest and most efficacy medicine ever discovered, in purifying the system and relieving the suffering attendant upon childbirth. It strengthens both the mother and the child, prevents pain and disease, and increases and enriches the blood—those who have used it think it indispensable. It is highly useful both before and after confinement, as it prevents disease attendant upon childbirth.

Constitution Life Syrup.

Is the Poor Man's Friend and the Rich Man's Blessing!—Buy it, take it, and be cured.—It is Universal in its effects

NOTHING BUT LEAVES.

Nothing but leaves; the spirit grieves
Over a wasted life
Sin committed while conscience slept,
Promises made but never kept.
Hatred, battle and strife;
Nothing but leaves!

Nothing but leaves; no garnered sheaves
Of life's fair, ripened grain;
Words, idle words, for earnest deeds;
We sow our seed—ho! tares and weeds;
We reap with toil and pain
Nothing but leaves!

Nothing but leaves; memory weaves
No veil to screen the past:
As we retrace our weary way,
Counting each lost and misspent day,
We find, sadly, at last,
Nothing but leaves!

And shall we meet the master so,
Bearing our withered leaves?
The Saviour looks for perfect fruit—
We stand before him, humbled, mute,
Waiting the words he breathes—
"Nothing but leaves!"

—[Mrs. L. E. Akerman.

THE SOURCE OF THE NILE.—Dr. Beke, a veteran Nile explorer, recently delivered a lecture in London in which he denied that Messrs. Speke and Grant had discovered the true source of the Nile. He admitted that the river, as they traced it, issued out of Lake Nyanza, but claimed that it also ran through it, having its real source in the mountains of the Moon, to the eastward of the lake, where, contrary to the general supposition, they lie in a northerly and southerly direction. In conclusion, Dr. Beke announced that so dissatisfied was he with the results of the last two expeditions, and so certain was he of the truth of his own theory, that he intended to undertake an expedition in person which should set the question at rest forever, and a public subscription would be opened for this purpose.

— The laws of France punish with a fine of five hundred francs any person who incloses a bank note in a common letter, on the ground that thereby the Post Office carriers are exposed to undue temptation.

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY,
SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,
Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, (on the 1st of July last)
76 State street, opposite Kilby street,
Boston.

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States, also in Canada, England, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on the most reasonable terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of patents or inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished, by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions unsurpassed by, if not infinitely superior to, any which can be offered elsewhere. The Testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber, and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate.

The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.

These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and a full account of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and most competent practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse."
CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in form to secure them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.

Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability can be put beside no other agency. I shall continue to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at the lowest regular charges."
JOHN TAGGART.

During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made no unsuccessful applications. SIXTEEN PATENTS issued, of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents.

LAST AND BEST.

THE MODEL COOK.

AN AIR-TIGHT STOVE,

WITH TWO OVENS,

And Five Boiling Places!

At the present high prices of fuel it is very desirable to lessen its consumption. This can be best accomplished by using a MODEL COOK STOVE. More cooking can be done in one with a single ton of coal, or cord of wood, than with double the quantity in any common stove or range—and in less time also!

The fire being placed in the centre of the stove, with an oven on either side (which may be thrown into one at pleasure), all the heat from the fuel is made available for cooking purposes.

The oven doors are lined with tin, and jackets are provided for the bottom and back of the stove, thus retaining much heat, ordinarily wasted. A check draft is applied, by means of which much fuel is saved, and a continuous fire may be kept as long as desirable.

A Water Tank and Hot Closet can be applied to either side, when needed.

In fact, no pains or expense have been spared to make this a PERFECT Stove, and we think it surpasses all others for Economy, Durability, Capacity, Convenience, Beauty of Design and Perfection of Finish.

It is equally well adapted for Coal or Wood; Summer or Winter; and excellent in a city where help is employed, and invaluable to the housewife who does her own work, lightening it at least one-half.

No family, large or small, where economy, convenience and cleanliness are desirable, should be without one.

We refer to some parties who have purchased the Model Cook—

THE MAGEE
COOKING STOVE.

The subscriber, having received his Fall Stock of Stoves, would especially call the attention of the public to the

CELEBRATED AND UNEQUALLED
MAGEE COOK STOVE,

as the very best Stove yet made, and would invite those about purchasing or exchanging Stoves, to examine this, believing it to be far superior to any other Stove yet invented, the castings being heavier, and the oven larger than usual. The oven plates are covered with plaster, which renders it equal to the old-fashioned brick oven for perfection in baking.

There is a new style and very superior broiler and sad-iron heater combined, by which the odor of broiling meats are prevented from escaping into the room. With the extension top there is a large copper Reservoir for hot water; also a large tin warming-closet attached, in which any article can be kept warm, while the other parts of the Stove are occupied for other purposes.

The arrangements for sifting the coal and cleaning the grate are far superior to those of any other Stove now in use, as no dust can possibly escape into the room, and the shovelling up of the ashes is entirely dispensed with. The fire is regulated in the same manner as in the MAGEE PARLOR STOVE, and can be continued day and night for weeks together, thus saving the expense of re-kindling every day.

For economy, durability, ease of management, cleanliness and perfection in cooking, it cannot be surpassed. Many other Stoves are in families in this city and vicinity, who are now using them, are willing to testify, and speak of them in the highest terms of praise.

We would refer to the following purchasers:

"MAGEE'S PATENT"
VENTILATING & AIR WARMING
FURNACES.

The subscriber, being the Sole Agent in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of this valuable Furnace, would ask those about remodeling or erecting buildings to examine this truly valuable invention.

For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, moistened and agreeable—and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pots is used for respiration, the tendency to produce headache and much complained of in other Furnaces, is entirely obviated.

The objects aimed at by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.

To accomplish this many complicated and expensive heating arrangements have been constructed, some possessing but little improvement over former methods, while others have proved a total failure. The reason for this is obvious. The combustible gases being lighter than the air, pass off into the pipe or chimney without being consumed. This objection, so common in other Furnaces, is obviated in the

MAGEE FURNACE.

The flue or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot descend, and are burned up by the admission of cold air through the fire-pot, which ignites them as they pass over it. The coal, thus using at least 20 per cent. of the properties of the heat in the fuel.

No heating apparatus with the smoke-pipe or flue on the top of the stove can be made to consume the gases of the coal, as they pass off with a large amount of the heat generated, making the chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.

This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.

These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.

For ease of management, economy and purity of air, these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire can be kept the entire season without once going out.

They give entire satisfaction wherever used. We have in store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world,—and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:

Samuel Cleaves, Esq.,	Albert R. Hatch, Esq.,
Aaron H. Hill,	Charles H. Mendum,
Henry F. Wendell,	John Sise, and others.

CALENDAR CLOCKS.

These Clocks are reliable Time Keepers and Calendars combined, and require the winding of the time movement only, to perform all the required changes of the Calendar at midnight; showing the day of the week, the month, and day of the month, including the 29th day of February of leap year, perpetually and with unfailing correctness.

Having taken the Agency for the sale of these Clocks, we would invite the public to call and examine them.

Any person desirous of purchasing a Clock will find it to their advantage to examine these before purchasing elsewhere, as we warrant them as good time-keepers as can be obtained for the same price without the Calendar Attachment, and those not in want of a clock will find the Calendar alone worth more than the price of the clock. They will be set up in any part of the city, and regulated without extra charge.

IMPORTANT TO THE AFFLICTED.

DR. DOW continues to be consulted at his office, Nos. 7 and 9 ENDICOTT STREET, Boston, on all diseases of a

PRIVATE OR DELICATE NATURE.

By a long course of study and practical experience of unlimited extent, Dr. D. has overthrown the fallacious idea of presenting the unfortunate with remedies that have never, since he first introduced them, failed to cure the most alarming cases of

GONORRHŒA AND SYPHILIS.

Beneath his treatment, all the horrors of venereal, and impure blood, Impotency, Scrotula, Gonorrhœa, Ulcers, pains and distresses in the regions of procreation, Inflammation of the Bladder and Kidneys, Hydrocele, Abscesses, Humors, frightful Swellings and the long train of terrible symptoms attending this class of disease, are made to become as harmless as the simplest ailings of a child.

SEMINAL WEAKNESS.

Dr D. devotes a great part of his time to the treatment of those cases caused by a secret and solitary habit, which ruins the body and mind, unfitting the unfortunate individual for business or society. Some of the sad and melancholy effects produced by such habits of youth, are Weakness of the Back and limbs, Dizziness of the head, Dimness of sight, Palpitation of the heart, Dyspepsia, Nervousness, Decayed teeth, of the digestive functions, Symptoms of Consumption, &c. The fearful effects on the mind are much to be dreaded; loss of memory, Confusion of ideas, depression of spirits, evil forebodings, aversion to society, self-distrust, timidity, &c., are among the evils produced by such habits. Young persons should before contemplating matrimony, consult a physician of experience, and be at once restored to health and happiness.

Patients who wish to remain under Dr. Dow's treatment a few days or weeks, will be furnished with pleasant rooms, and charges for board moderate.

Medicines sent to all parts of the country, with full directions for use, on receiving description of your case. Have shown his office for sale the French Capotites, warranted the best preventive. Order by mail. Three for $1 and a red stamp.

Highly Important!

To Females in Delicate Health.

DR. DOW, Physician and Surgeon, No 7 & 9 ENDICOTT STREET, Boston, is consulted daily for all diseases incident to the female system. Prolapsus Uteri, or falling of the Womb, Fluor Albus, Suppression, and other menstrual derangements, are all treated upon new pathological principles, and speedy relief guaranteed in a few days. So invariably certain is the new mode of treatment, that most obstinate complaints yield under it, and the afflicted person can rejoice in perfect health.

Dr. Dow has no doubt had greater experience in the cure of diseases of women and children, than any other physician in Boston.

Boarding accommodations for patients who may wish to stay in Boston a few days under his treatment.

Dr. Dow, since 1845, having confined his whole attention to an office practice, for the cure of Private Diseases and Female Complaints, acknowledges no superior in the United States.

N. B.—All letters must contain four red stamps, or they will not be answered.

Office Hours from 8 A. M. to 9 P. M.

CERTAIN CURE

in all cases, or No Charges Made.

Dr. Dow is consulted daily, from 8 A. M. to 9 P. M. as above, upon difficult and chronic diseases of every name and nature, having by his unwearied attention and extraordinary success gained a reputation which calls patients from all parts of the country to claim his advice.

Among the physicians in Boston, none stands higher in the profession than the celebrated DR. DOW, No. 7 Endicott street, Boston. Those who need the services of an experienced physician and surgeon should give him a call.

N. B.—Dr. Dow imports and has for sale a new article, called the FRENCH SECRET. Order by mail. Two for $1 and a red stamp.

"Boundto no party—to no sect confined:
The world our home; our brethren, all mankind.
Love truth, do good; be just and fair with all;
Exalt the right, though everyism fall."

"Let me warn you in the most solemn manner against the baneful effects of the spirit of Party, generally. It is a spirit not to be encouraged.—Its common and continual mischief is sufficient to make it the interest and duty of a wise people to discourage and restrain it. In governments of the popular form, it is seen in its greatest rankness, and is truly their worst enemy."—Washington's Farewell Address

☞ A Washington correspondent states that if the Lieutenant General bill passes the Senate it is quite certain that the President will ask General Grant to remain in the field. In his present position General Grant has supreme command west of the Alleghanies, and in no wise acts from dictation at Washington. Every request that he makes is complied with, as may be instanced in the sending of Schofield to Knoxville. Whether General Halleck remains after that is probably optional with the President, as a law of last Congress enables him to select any Major General, without regard to seniority of rank, to advise in the management of a portion or of all the armies. General Halleck is engaged in writing several military works and might welcome some relief from official duty.

☞ The Newfoundland traders are now beginning to return, with full fares of fresh herring. Some seventy sail of fishing vessels have sailed for George's Banks, and they commence the year with excellent prospects. All kinds of fish are in demand, at prices that would have been thought a few years ago very extravagant. The outfits for vessels this season, however, are so very high—such as provisions, cordage, duck and salt—that even a very large stock will not leave much profit.

— Philip H. Lunt has been appointed cashier of the Ocean Bank, Newburyport, in place of Jacob Stone.

— The making of combs in this country commenced in West Newbury, Mass., during the Revolutionary war.

— The Eastern Express Co., in Portland own a horse whose upper lip is graced with a handsomely developed, dark, curly mustache.

— It is recorded as a singular fact that the Superior Court in Windham county, Conn., refused to grant a petition for a divorce the other day.

— An Irishman was challenged to fight a duel, but declined on the plea that he did not wish to "have his ould mother an orphan."

— The Boston Courier says: "Our nearest Democratic neighbor, the Boston Post, seems to us occasionally to get so close to the abolition platform, as actually to lean upon it." The Newburyport Herald responds: "That is good!"

— Gen. Butler proposes to establish a common school system at Norfolk and Fortress Monroe, based on that of Massachusetts. Of nearly 3500 colored soldiers in camp on the eastern shore of Maryland not one can either read or write.

— The Portland Argus perpetrates the following horrible one: Why did Cobden attack Delane? Because he was behind the Times. Cobden was a successful cotton spinner, but he failed in muslin delaine (muzzling Delane).

— It is said that there is an increasing pressure by powerful Southern families which may influence the rebel government to waive its objections to the negotiations of Gen. Butler; but there is not much faith put in this influence by the friends of prisoners.

— Lieut. Col. Benedict, temporarily commanding the 4th Corps d'Afrique regiment, who produced the recent outbreak at Fort Jackson by tying up and with his own hands severely flogging some of his men, has been cashiered for his unsoldierly and unlawful conduct; while the chief of the mutineers have been condemned to a proper punishment.

— A most expensive piece of mechanism, costing over 2000 francs, has been produced in Paris, representing the recent prize-fight in England. On being wound up, the figures draw naturally near, and, lash out frightful blows, ending by falling down in a heap; and round two begins with absolute variations, though of course always going down in the same fashion.

FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 12, 1864.

THE REBELLION.

A Chattanooga letter says rebel deserters assert that in Joe Johnston's army there exists a society, embracing fully three-fourths, the members of which are sworn to support the confederacy no longer than their mustered in time. They have passwords and signs, and are sworn to assist each other in getting away. A new rebel society has also been formed, called the "Sons of the Southern Cross," who swear never to cease fighting until the confederacy is independent. The rebel sick, wounded, and hospital stores are removing rapidly to Atlanta. Indications multiply that they will make no stand at Dalton.

A cavalry division cut off by Longstreet on the 29th, has got safely within our lines.

It is said that the largest and most powerful fleet yet seen on the Mississippi, is now being fitted out by Adm. Porter.

A fight is reported as going on in Arkansas between a Union brigade and a superior force of rebels.

☞ In the rebel House of Representatives, Jan. 30, an important debate occurred on the question of conscription. Many speeches were made, and the bill under discussion passed, 41 to 31. It amends the conscript law so as to exempt farmers and planters on condition of their giving an additional tenth of their supplies for the use of the army. On the next day, after debate, a bill passed to impress all male free negroes between 18 and 50, to work on fortifications and in the production or preparation of materials of war, or in military hospitals, at a compensation of $11 per month; also to employ 20,000 slaves in a similar manner at the same rate of compensation, their owners to receive full pay for those who die in the service or escape to the enemy; also allowing the impressment of slaves in any military department where they can be obtained in the above manner to the number of 20,000, they to be paid for in the same manner as the above. Free negroes are in all cases to be first impressed.

☞ On the 17th ult. a noted Sioux chief, named Little Six, said to be a half brother of Little Crow, was captured near Fort Garry, on British territory, brought across the line and delivered up to the United States military authorities. The capture was made by an American named McKenzie, and one Gyere, a French Canadian. These men went to the Sioux camp, about twenty-five miles west of Fort Garry, with a letter from Major Hatch, and endeavored to persuade the Indians to surrender. The reply of Little Six is given as a specimen of Indian oratory. He said:—"All the Sioux that wanted to shake hands with the Yankees the Yankees now have. We will never make peace with them. They are all liars, and this letter you now have was written by one of them. Do you think I will believe it? You are a very little man to talk to a great chief like me. When I want to say anything I say it; and when I want to do anything, I do it. Nobody can stop me." The chief was induced to visit the house of McKenzie, where he was made drunk with whiskey, drugged with chloroform, and then fell an easy prey to the captors. Besides Little Six, another Indian named Medicine Bottle fell a victim to the same strategy. It is thought possible that the British government may object to this summary mode of execution.

☞ O. A. Brownson has changed his Review from a theological Catholic to a secular publication. It now defends the special interests of the Catholic church only so far as they are implied in the freedom of conscience and the religious and civil liberty of the citizens. The great essayist—inferior in his department of literature to no man in America, will therefore devote himself hereafter to politics as well as philosophy. He says—"our only earthly ambition remaining is to be permitted to contribute our mite towards settling the great question this rebellion has raised, in a sense in accordance with the grand idea of American civilization."

☞ The London Times thinks it the clear interest of Great Britain that this country should be divided and weakened, as we were becoming entirely too strong and powerful before Secession. Very naturally, it considers Gov. Seymour's late Message a wise and statesmanlike production, and wonders why its author is so unpopular at home. The reason is just this—New-York does not believe that this country ought to be divided and paralyzed; and therefore the loyal New-Yorkers do not think well of Gov. S.; and at the same time the ultra copperheads of the Woods species, find fault with the governor for his half-way loyalty.

— The Michigan Legislature on the 3d passed the soldiers' voting bill, by which all the citizens of the State absent in the field will be secured their franchise as electors.

POSTAL REFORMS.

There is scarcely any agency performed by the Government which more intimately concerns the comfort and convenience of the people, or which more directly reacts on the business facilities of the country, than the regulation of the mails. The reader will find in to-day's paper an interesting table of the manner in which letters are distributed in Europe, and the mode in which postmasters receive their compensation. The carrier system universally obtains, and this service is in most cases performed without fee.

We are indebted to the present efficient Postmaster General for the partial introduction of this system into the administration of our postal service. The law authorizing the free delivery of mail matter by carriers took effect on the first day of July last.—About that time the system was put in operation at forty-nine of the larger offices, with a competent corps of carriers to each, numbering in the aggregate four hundred and forty-nine, at an aggregate annual compensation of $300,000 While we cannot hope, with the present distribution of our population and the extent of our country, to attain the point reached by European Governments under this head, we may at least mark the progress they have made, as indicating a reform which should be adopted wherever the conditions of its existence are found.

There is also in this proposed revision of our postal laws (which is for the most part but a digest of existing legislation, the provisions of which would be but slightly affected by the modifications suggested) another recommendation as to which the practice and experience of Europe may be studied with advantage. We allude to the mode in which postmasters are paid. It is by a salary, and not left to be ascertained by calculations on the number of letters received and apparent service rendered. This latter method involves the keeping of large accounts for no other purpose than to ascertain what is to be paid in any given case, when in point of fact the Department can readily arrive at the approximate rate of payment from the average revenues of the post office during a series of years. Hence Mr. Blair proposes in his revised code to divide post offices and the compensation to the postmasters during four years last past. The advantage of this change, whether regard be had to the convenience of the Department or to the satisfaction of postmasters, would seem to be apparent.

There is one point to which we would particularly advert. We allude to the recommendation which the Postmaster General has renewed in his last annual Report, that a postal money order system be established to facilitate the transmission of small sums of money through the mails, which would not only prove a great convenience to civilians and soldiers, but would almost entirely obviate the loss of money letters, the great majority of which enclose small remittances. The present Congress has just shown itself properly mindful of the comfort of our soldiers in the field, by providing that articles of clothing comprised in a package not exceeding two pounds in weight, addressed to any non-commissioned officer or private serving in the armies of the United States, may be transmitted in the mails. By authorizing "the postal money order system," Congress would conduce to the increased comfort of our soldiers, while placing at the same time within the reach of all a facility for the safe remittance of small sums. It is a matter of surprise that this desirable reform has been so long postponed in the United States.—Abridged from the National Intelligencer.

DISTRIBUTION OF LETTERS IN EUROPE. The following table shows the manner in which letters are distributed in the principal countries of Europe:—

Austria—Brought to the door. In all larger places without carrier's fee. In smaller places (villages and farms) a fee of two kreutzers (one cent) is charged.

Belgium—Brought to the door throughout the kingdom.

England—By carriers without fee.

France—By carriers without fee (to the door) in both city and country. Posta-restant exists for letters so addressed, and when the person's address is not found.

Hanseatic Cities—Bremen—By letter-carriers to the door.

Italy—To the door by carriers without fee.

The Netherlands—By carriers without fee.

Prussia—By carriers. In larger cities the fee will soon be abolished entirely. In the rural districts it is six pfeunige (about 1 1-4 cent) per letter.

Switzerland—By carriers without fee.

Postmasters and letter-carriers are paid in Europe as follows, viz:—

In Austria—By salary.

In Belgium—By salary, payable every month.

In England—By salary.

In France—By salary.

In Italy—By salary.

In Hanseatic Cities—By salary.

In the Netherlands—By salary.

In Prussia—By salary.

In Switzerland—By salary.

Postmasters in Austria, Belgium, France, Italy, Hanseatic Cities, The Netherlands, Prussia and Switzerland render their accounts monthly. In England they account weekly.

☞ Says the Newburyport Herald: "McClellan's report is admitted on all hands to be one of the best written papers that has ever come from the press. Congress has ordered 15,000 copies to be printed: but so great a demand is anticipated that Sheldon & Co., of New York, have it in press and will issue it at once. Their edition will also have an account of his campaign in Western Virginia. As a political document it will be much in demand."

— The liberal party in England have subscribed £100,000 towards establishing a new paper for gratuitous circulation.

— Once an editor, always an editor, says the Louisville Democrat. There is no lover so lingering as the typhus.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— The 14th New Hampshire, for over a year doing guard and provost duty in Washington, has been ordered to report to Gen. Banks.

—— The Ballot states that in the 6th regiment, Lieut. Thos. H. Dearborn of Seabrook has been promoted to Captain, and Sergeant John S. Rowell of Exeter to 1st Lieutenant.

—— Mr. Jacob Carlisle, of Exeter, last year cut 1000 cords of hard and hemlock wood from a fifty-acre lot, for the B. & M. railroad, and has commenced filling a second order for a like quantity from the same lot. He has also sold 2500 tons of lumber from the same.

—— Last season the sales of Enoch F. Connor, Esq., of Lancaster, in wool and lambs, from thirty-two sheep, amounted to $208.60; besides which he saved four fleeces and killed one sheep, and keeps the number of his flock good. Mr. Connor has also sold within a short time a pair of yearling steers that weighed 2250 pounds, for $95.62.

☞ Appalled by the high prices of ice ($60 to $100 per ton) which obtained in New Orleans the last season, a number of the largest consumers there have combined to furnish their own supplies, and have subscribed a capital of $30,000, which they expect to increase to $100,000. After paying salaries and all expenses, and allowing two-thirds for waste, their ice will cost them $36 per ton. The lowest it ever sold there was $5 per ton on shipboard, in 1842. Tradition reports that the first cargo ever carried there, thirty-five or forty years ago, produced general commotion and consternation, and the ship was finally ordered to the middle of the Mississippi, where she discharged her cargo into the river.

SHIPBUILDING.— Messrs. Kenniston, at Salisbury Point, have now on the stocks two vessels, one of 140 tons for parties at Cape Cod, and intended for a whaler; the other a schooner of 150 tons, for Messrs. Ireland & Trefethen of this city, and intended for the fishing and coasting business, which will cost from $10,000 to $12,000 when completed. They are both to be built in the best style, and of selected materials. Cyrus Burnham has two schooners of 90 tons each, for parties in Gloucester, which are rapidly progressing.

At the yards in Newburyport, great activity is manifested, there being at the present time twelve vessels of different grades in various stages of advancement; and we understand that Messrs. Fillmore & McQuillen will soon commence another ship of about 700 tons burthen, for parties in Boston and New York. Contracts can be had almost every day for the building of small vessels at $50 per ton, but our builders are not inclined to take this work. There is good opportunity, however, for new builders of small vessels in Newburyport.—Herald.

In Portland and vicinity, shipbuilding continues quite brisk.

☞ The largest casting ever made in Baltimore was poured at the Vulcan Works of Messrs. Hazelburst & Co., on the south side of the basin, on Saturday. It is a condenser for one of the large steam frigates now in process of construction. It weighs 26 tons or 52,000 pounds. A large pit was required, into which all the molds were made, requiring a preparation of nearly three months. The iron was melted and run from two cupolas into a large reservoir, and thence into the pit. About four tuns were poured from a kettle. The whole was most successfully done, and was witnessed by a considerable number of persons. Several days will be required to cool it off sufficiently for removal.

THE CHANGE IN EUROPE.—The Paris correspondent of the Baltimore American, speaking of the change going on in that city favorable to the North, says:

I was greatly struck the other day by what I heard from an eminent financier and capitalist recently come from Germany, of the manifestation of the same feelings of profound confidence in the cause of the North which prevailed on the other side of the Rhine. Many of the wealthiest and ablest men in that country, he assured me, were directing all their views and enterprises toward American securities. American stock of every description, and especially Government stock, was being largely dealt in, and was in the greatest demand. There were large and influential houses named to me who now confined their business operations almost exclusively to trans-Atlantic transactions.

Rev. Mr. Collyer, formerly of Newburyport, is lecturing in Gloucester, on "The Impudence of the Rum Powder." We noticed on Sunday, that it was not quite as impudent in Newburyport as common.—Grog shops and saloons that have heretofore desecrated the Sabbath, and abused the patience of Christian people by their unblushing impudence, had their doors closed and their curtains down. If Alderman Pettengill's order does no more good than to drive them back into their dark and filthy dens, we thank him for that.—But we trust he will follow up the battle, nor allow them to retreat with their plunder. Under the nuisance act it can be known what is back of their doors and curtains, and it should be. No rational man desires to trouble respectable merchants in their business, but there are full forty liquor nuisances—all places are such that exist only to sell rum to be drank on the premises—that should be closed within forty days; and they will be, if we have an honest city government and honest police officers, whose duty it is to see that the public receives no detriment from such causes.—Herald.

PHYSIOLOGICAL

HAIR REGENERATOR

—AND—

UNIVERSAL HAIR RESTORER.

ITS MODUS OPERANDI.

Immediately beneath the scalp there are very small Glands, or, more commonly Roots of the Hair. It is from these Glands that every hair of the head is formed and secreted. As long as the scalp is free from disease, these bodies also remain healthy, and the hair keeps its natural appearance and color. But when humors and other diseases affect the scalp, these glands become involved in the same disease, and the hair gradually turns gray, dry and brittle. Sooner or later the hair begins to fall off, and in many cases, it not arrested, will produce a complete baldness of the scalp.

To remedy this pathological condition of the glands and create a new and healthy action, the Physiological Hair Regenerator has proved a perfect success—insmuch as it is the only preparation yet known that can boast of such wonderful results.

Unlike thousands of other articles in the market, containing Silver, Lime, Lead, Litharge, Tannin, Sulphur, &c., and producing only a sort of yellow or flax color, it will, if properly applied restore the hair to its former appearance and beauty.

The Physiological Hair Regenerator is warranted in all cases to produce the following results:

1. It is not a Dye and will not stain a single particle. It contains no coloring matter whatever, and is not the least injurious to its application.

2. It will certainly RESTORE the hair from a gray to a beautiful Black, Brown, Auburn, or whatever might have been original color.

3. It will effectually prevent the hair from falling off, remove all Heat, Inflammation and Dandruff from the scalp, keeping the head clean and cool, and the hair soft, glossy and of a silky appearance.

4. It will PROMOTE a luxuriant growth of new hair on bald heads, except in extreme bases of old age and where the glands have become disorganized.

5. It will cure the most inveterate itching and neuralgia of the scalp, and being highly perfumed, it affords a most delightful article for the toilet.

We have a great abundance of testimony to prove beyond a doubt all that we claim for the Regenerator; and it is positively certain that in a very short time it will have a world wide reputation.

HOME TESTIMONY.

BEDFORD, N. H., Dec. 17, 1863.

Messrs. Tebbetts Brothers—The preparation you induced me to try on my hair, about six weeks ago, has had a wonderful effect. My hair was then almost white and now it is almost black. My daughter has also tried it on her hair, which was fast falling off on account of a severe attack of the diptheria; it stopped it immediately on its application. My wife has also been trying it for baldness on top of her head, and finds that a new growth of hair is rapidly starting. We have only used one bottle, and I think one more will fix our heads up in good shape. J. C. CUTLER.

MANCHESTER, Dec. 20, 1863.

Gents—Unless I am very much mistaken, your Hair Regenerator is destined, ere long, to work a complete revolution with all other Hair Preparations. It not only restores the hair to its natural color and prevents the head free from dandruff, but it is the most beautiful dressing that can be prepared. My hair, without any apparent cause, began to turn gray when about thirteen years of age, and had been gradually increasing for more than ten years, when at out two months ago I began the use of your Regenerator, and it has completely astonished all my friends to see my hair brought back to its natural color, which is almost a complete black. It is the only thing, unless it was a regular dye, or Dye, that I ever knew would produce such effect. It also keeps the head so clean and free from scurf, that it makes a very nice dressing. To prevent putting such quantities of indigestible drugs into the stomach, the griping pains so erroneously judged to be the evidence of thorough action, and to require from 4 to 6 Pills, to get a decent cathartic, was the study in this development. Local.

☞ Almost anybody who sees much of the world, comes finally to regard praise or censure comparatively lightly; but after all, it is rather satisfactory to have the good opinion of those whose regard is worth seeking. In this view, we take pleasure in acknowledging the annual receipt for the past dozen years, of double or triple the amount of subscription to our Weekly paper, from an ex-Governor of New Hampshire (resident in the interior of the State), who has always evinced an interest in the reforms of the day—"one-half for the paper, and the other for the cause of temperance."

While we neither ask nor receive the support or encouragement of any party, sect, clique or class; nor of any individual who don't render it voluntarily; still we will say that there are not a few "constant readers" of this Chronicle, nearer home, who while they profess great interest and regard for topics which our paper has always "done what it could" to uphold and defend, (oftentimes at no little sacrifice of comfort or means,) yet contribute no material aid or comfort in the premises. We are not complaining at all—and can excuse such men, if they can excuse themselves; but we commend to them the above example. F.

☞ Mr. F. W. Fernald is constructing at his yard at the north end a fine white oak Bark of 375 tons, contracted for parties in Harwich, Mass., and designed for general freighting business. She will be launched about the middle of May.

COL. TAYLOR, the eloquent orator of East Tennessee, for reasons of illness provoked by his labors in behalf of his suffering people, is unable to address the citizens of Portsmouth this evening, as announced. We learn from Col. Goodrich, between whom and Col. Taylor a warm friendship exists, contracted in Tennessee, that Col. Taylor is by invitation to address the Legislatures of Rhode Island, New York and Maine, and that he will probably meet the citizens of this place about the 18th inst.—His reception and success in Boston have been most gratifying and complete.

☞ Charles L. Stackpole, of Beverly, Ms., has been found guilty of attempting to poison his father, mother and sister, all of Beverly, by mingling poison with their food. The indictment contained four counts—One for attempting to murder Mary A. Stackpole, by mingling poison in her soup, on the 26th day of March, 1862; the second for attempting to murder Simon Stackpole, on the 7th day of April, by poison in a quantity of wheat meal; the third for mingling poison with the food of Mary Stackpole; and the fourth for mingling poison with the food of Mary A. Stackpole. All the facts in the case were published at the time. Besides the above named persons whom Stackpole is accused of attempting to poison, a little sister named Caroline died, and Dr. Swazey who tended her testified that he had no doubt she died from the effects of poison. This is one of the most terrible cases of human depravity on record.

☞ The ladies of the Metropolitan Fair in aid of the U. S. Sanitary Commission have issued a circular appealing to the farmers of our country to assist in furnishing means for sustaining, nursing and comforting suffering soldiers. They say:

Come then, we pray you, bring to us of the products which God hath given you, whatever you can: oxen, cows, horses (such have been already contributed), or beef, mutton, pork, poultry, hay, oats, butter, cheese, eggs, grain or flour, apples, cranberries, nuts—anything that you can spare of your abundance. The fair will open on the 28th of March. As it will probably continue for two weeks, contributors can send from time to time as may best suit their convenience. Address all articles to Receiving Committee, West 14th street, between 6th and 7th Avenues, New York City. Forward by any express or transportation company. Please send name and address, that we may acknowledge.

RYE, N.H., Feb. 26, 1846. "I hereby certify that my daughter has had the salt rheum for a number of years—some of the time so badly as to prevent her labor, or even rest—as it affected her hands very much. A large sum had been expended to the most celebrated physicians, for Sarsaparilla Syrup, &c., &c., but she obtained no relief until I procured some ten or twelve bottles of Dr. SWETT'S PANACEA, and several bottles of his Humor Wash, which have effected a cure. There can be no mistake, as the cure was effected more than three years ago. No other medicines can equal Dr. Swett's in removing the various kinds of humors. I have sold it to a number of my acquaintances, who were afflicted, and witnessed many full cures effected by it since I have noted as agent for the sale of it. JOSIAH JENNESS.

PORTSMOUTH, April 21st, 1862.

I have for several years been afflicted with distress at my stomach, loss of appetite, and often vomited up all of my food immediately after eating it, and all medicine failed to give any relief until about a year ago, when I took one bottle of DR. S. SWETT'S PANACEA, which fully cured me, so that I have not had the least trouble from any of these complaints since, and I enjoy good health. M. LOWD.

From ELDER I. CHESLEY, Lee, May 31, 1841.

DR. SWETT: Permit me to testify, as I feel in duty bound to do, that my daughter was afflicted with scrofulous humor, and that previous to your visiting our house in the spring of 1840, she had been confined for a number of months, without her natural rest by day or night. She had applied to a number of physicians, but continued to grow weaker till you commenced giving your PANACEA and HUMOR WASH. Since then, she has recovered her health so far as to rest quietly by night, and labor by day. I esteem your medicine one of the best that can be found for the disease above named." ISRAEL CHESLEY

☞ Any one returning the remainder of a bottle or box of Dr. Swett's medicines shall have pay for it, if it do not agree with his case, or if not worth the price. All orders directed to DR. S. SWETT, No. 7 High street, Portsmouth, N. H., promptly attended to. mav26

Constitution Life Syrup,
COMPOSED OF
IODIDE POTASSIUM,
With the compound concentrated fluid extract of
VALUABLE MEDICINAL
ROOTS AND HERBS,
Prepared by WM. H. GREGG, M.D.,
Graduate College Physicians and Surgeons, N. Y. formerly Assistant Physician Blackwell's Island Hospitals, late Medical Inspector New York State Volunteer Depots, under Gov. Edwin D. Morgan.

Constitution Life Syrup
HAS PRODUCED
A REVOLUTION IN MEDICINE!

What may seem almost incredible, is, it, at many diseases hitherto considered hopelessly incurable are frequently cured in a few days or weeks, and we cheerfully invite the large obligations of the liberal minded and scientific to cures which have no parallel at the present day.

Our medicine is peculiar, by it the seat of disease is directly reached, and the equilibrium restored. Those who have suffered long from painful and obstinate diseases, those who have vainly sought relief from advertised medicines, those who cannot be cured by other physicians—are invited to use Constitution Life Syrup.

During the past five years we have contended with diseases and Nervous opposition as heroic as ever encountered by any Reformers.

Rapidity of Cure.

Some say, "Your cures are too quick," while others doubt their permanence, and think that disease cannot only be cured by the "slow recuperative process of Nature." This is our reply:

In health, the body, like a well-balanced scale, is in a state of equilibrium. But when from any cause down goes one side of the scale, we have the effects of disease. What is requisite is, to restore the normal balance of the scale.

CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP,

A positive and specific remedy for all diseases originating from an IMPURE STATE OF THE BLOOD, and for all (hereditary) DISEASES transmitted from PARENT TO CHILD.

Paralysis.

Hemiplegia, Paresis, Paraplegia, Paralysis Agitans:

It is so universally admitted that Constitution Life Syrup is the only effective means of restoration to the various forms of Paralysis, that we need not reiterate that it is emphatically the Great Life-Giving Power.

Dyspepsia.

Indigestion, Liver Complaint, Constipation, Weight of Stomach, Biliousness, Want of appetite, Flatulence, Bad Breath.

Scrotula.

Struma, Glandular Swellings, Ulcerations, King's Evil, Erysipelas, Salt Rheum.

This taint (hereditary or acquired), filling life with untold misery, is by all usual medical remedies incurable.

Rheumatism.

[Arthritis], Neuralgia, Gout, Lumbago, Sciatica, Tic Doloureux.

If there is any disease in which the Constitution Life Syrup is a sovereign, it is in Rheumatism and its kindred affections. The most intense pains are almost instantly alleviated—enormous swellings are reduced. Cases, chronic or vicarious, of 20 or 30 years standing, have been cured by us.

Nervousness.

Nervous Debility, Confusion of Thoughts, Epilepsy, Loss of Power, Shattered Nerves, St. Vitus' Dance.

Thousands who have suffered for years will bless the day on which they read these lines. Parthoughts of weak, suffering woman will this medicine prove an inestimable blessing—directing their footsteps to a Hope which fulfils more than it promises.

Mercurial Diseases.

Salivation, Feeling of Weariness, Rotting of Bones, Bad Complexion, Aches in Bones, Depressed Spirits.

Constitution Life Syrup purges the system entirely from all mercurial effects of Mercury, removing the Bad Breath, and curing the Weak Joints and Rheumatic Pains which the use of Calomel usually produces. It hardens spongy Gums and secures the teeth as firmly as ever.

Constitution Life Syrup

Eradicates root and branch, all Eruptive Diseases of the Skin, like

ULCERS, PIMPLES, BLOTCHES.

And all other difficulties of this kind, which so much disfigure the outward appearance of both males and females, often making them a disgusting object to themselves and their friends.

CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP
Cures all Swellings of the Glands,

Either of the Face, Neck or Female Breast, and should be taken as soon as the swelling is detected, thus preventing the dreadful effects of Scrofulous troublesome Discharging Sores, which disfigure so many of the younger portion of the community, from 8 to 18 years of age. Young children are very subject to Discharges from the Ears, which depends upon a Scrofulous constitution. Diseases soon recover by taking a few doses of the Life Syrup.

All scrofulous persons suffering from Debility, Emaciation, Dropsy, Dropsy of the limbs or abdomen, and in the female, Dropsy of the ovaries and womb, generally accompanied with inflammation and ulceration of the uterus; are permanently cured by Constitution Life Syrup. The disease known as Goitre or Swelled Neck, the Life Syrup will remove entirely. The remedy should be taken for some time, this disease is exceedingly chronic and stubborn, and will not be removed without extra effort. Tumors of the Ovaries, Tumors of the Bowel, and swelling of other glands of the body will be completely reduced without resorting to the knife or operations of any kind.

Epileptic Fits, Sympathetic or Organic Diseases of the Heart (as Palpitation, Disease of Valves—producing a grating or filing sound), Dropsy of the Heart Case and all the affections of this important organ, or persons suffering from any acute pain in the region of the heart, will be greatly relieved by Constitution Life Syrup.

Broken Down and Delicate Constitutions, Suffering from Indisposition to Exercise, Pain in the Back, Loss of Memory, Forebodings, Horror of Calamity, Fear of Disease, Dimness of Vision, Dry Hot Skin, Nervous Restlessness, Want of Sleep, Nervous Dreams, Pale Haggard Countenance and Lassitude of the Muscular System, all require the aid of the CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP.

For all forms of Ulcerative Diseases, either of the Nose, Throat, Tongue, Spine, Forehead or Scalp, no remedy can be found to prove its equal.

MOTH PATCHES upon the female face, depending upon a diseased action of the Liver, are very disagreeable to young ladies, and may blight A few bottles of Constitution Life Syrup will correct the secretion, and remove the deposit which is directly under the skin.

In Diseases of the Liver, giving rise to languor, dizziness, indigestion, weak stomach, or an ulcerated or cancerous condition of that organ, accompanied with burning or other unpleasant symptoms, relief may be obtained by the use of CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP.

☞ As a general Blood-Purifying Agent, the Life Syrup cannot be surrounded by a preparation in the world.

Diseases of the Spine, as usually developed in the young, like Disease, Neuralgia, and all Nervous Diseases, and Ladies who are suffering from diseases for which they are at a loss to know what to do, we would advise the use of CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP. It will restore their pallid countenance, strengthen their weak back and side, give them new energy, new life and happiness.

THE RICH AND POOR are liable to the same diseases. Nature and science have made the Constitution Life Syrup for the benefit of all.

PURE BLOOD produces healthy men and women; and if the constitution is neglected in youth, disease and early death are the results. Do not delay when the means are so near at hand, and within the reach of all.

TO MOTHERS AND MARRIED LADIES. It is the safest and most effectual medicine ever discovered for purifying the system and relieving the suffering attendant upon childbirth. Its strengthens both the mother and the child, prevents pain and disease, and increases and enriches the food—thus those who have used it think it indispensable. It is highly useful both before and after confinement, as it prevents disease attendant upon childbirth.

Is the Poor Man's Friend and the Rich Man's Blessing!—Buy it, take it, and be cured.—It is Universal in its effects

Morning Chronicle.

HOME CONVERSATION.— Children hunger perpetually for new ideas, and a pleasant way of reception is by the voice and ear. An audience will listen closely from the beginning to the end of an address which not one in twenty of those present would read with the same attention. This is emphatically true of children. They will learn with pleasure from the lips of parents, what they deem it drudgery to study in books; and even if they have the misfortune to be deprived of the educational advantages which they desire, they cannot fail to grow up intelligent if they enjoy in childhood and youth the privilege of listening daily to the conversation of intelligent people. Let parents, then, talk much and talk well at home.

— It has become so much the practice to rob the present parcels and boxes, at Washington, directed to the soldiers by their friends, under the pretense of looking for whiskey, that the Washington Chronicle calls the attention of the government to the fact to have a stop put to it.

— The largest manufacturing interest in Michigan, says the Detroit Advertiser, is that of pine lumber. The capital invested amounts to $8,000,000 and there are nearly 1,000 mills in operation, turning out 1,200,000,000 feet. In Detroit, three mills ran the whole season and 4 one third of the time.

— Three ladies who wished to attend a fashionable ball in St. Louis, it is said, had money enough to purchase only one set of jewels. A council of war was accordingly held by them, and it was agreed to send to an Eastern house for three diamond necklaces on samples, from which a choice was to be made. After the diamonds had done their work at the ball, two of the necklaces were returned, while one was retained and promptly paid for. This piece of female financiering was worthy of the most strategic general of modern times.

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY,

SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,

Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, (see the Act of 1837.)

76 State street, opposite Kilby street,

Boston.

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with dispatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity of any patents or inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished, by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantage for securing Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The Testimonials below given prove this more in MORE NEWSPAPER AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber, and he SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional service so moderate.

The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.

These, besides its extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render this office, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse."

CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they can confide in the patents thus promptly and faithfully and more capable of putting their applications in form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.

Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on which patents have already been granted, and that is new pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on the part inside me to recommend to my friends to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges."

JOHN TAGGART.

During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made on twice rejected application SIXTEEN NEW CLAIMS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents.

THE MODEL COOK.

AN AIR-TIGHT STOVE,

WITH TWO OVENS,

And Five Boiling Places!

At the present high prices of fuel it is very desirable to lessen the consumption. This can be best accomplished by using a MODEL COOK STOVE. More cooking can be done in one with a single ton of coal, or cord of wood, than with double the quantity in any common stove or range—and in less time also.

The fire being placed in the centre of the stove, with an oven on either side (which may be thrown into one at pleasure), all the heat from the feed is made available for cooking purposes.

The oven doors are lined with tin, and jackets are provided for the bottom and back of the stove, thus retaining much heat, ordinarily wasted.

A check draft is applied, by means of which much fuel is saved, and a continuous fire may be kept as long as desirable.

A Water Tank and Hot Closet can be applied to either side, when needed.

In fact, no pains or expense have been spared in this, the PARLOR STOVE, and we think it surpasses all others for Economy, Durability, Capacity, Convenience, Beauty of Design and Perfection of Finish.

It is equally well adapted for Coal or Wood; Summer or Winter use; excellent in a family where help is employed, and invaluable to the housewife who does her own work, lightening it at least one-half.

No family, large or small, where economy, convenience and cleanliness are desirable, should be without one.

We refer to some parties who have purchased the Model Cooks:

THE MAGEE

COOKING STOVE.

The subscriber, having received his Fall stock of Stoves, would especially call the attention of the public to the

CELEBRATED AND UNEQUALLED

MAGEE COOK STOVE,

as the very best Stove yet made, and would invite those about purchasing or exchanging Stoves, to examine this, believing it to be far superior to any other Stove yet invented, the castings being heavier, and the oven larger than other stoves. The oven plates are covered with plaster, which renders it equal to the old-fashioned brick oven for perfection in baking.

There is a new style and very superior broiler and cod iron heater combined, by which the odor of Broiling meats are prevented from escaping into the room. With the extension top there is a large copper Reservoir for hot water; also a large tin warming-closet attached, in which any article can be kept warm, while the other parts of the Stove are occupied for other purposes.

The arrangements for sifting the coal and cleaning the grate are far superior to those of any other Stove now in use, as no dust can possibly escape into the room, and the shoveling up of the ashes is entirely dispensed with. The fire is regulated in the same manner as in the MAGEE PARLOR STOVE, and can be continued day and night for weeks together, thus saving the expense of re-kindling every day.

For economy, durability, ease of management, cleanliness and perfection in cooking, it cannot be surpassed by any other Stove, as hundreds of families in this city and vicinity, who are now using them, are willing to testify, and speak of them in the highest terms of praise.

We would refer to the following purchasers:

"MAGEE'S PATENT"

VENTILATING & AIR WARMING

FURNACES.

The subscriber, being the Sole Agent in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of this valuable Furnace, would ask those about remodelling or erecting buildings to examine this valuable invention.

For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, moist and agreeable,—and as none of the air is taken from the room in contact with the fire-pots used for respiration, the tendency to produce headache so much complained of in other furnaces, is entirely obviated.

The objects aimed at by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.

To accomplish this many complicated and expensive heating arrangements have been constructed, some possessing but little improvement over larger machinery, but many have proved a total failure. The reason for this is obvious. The combustible gases being lighter than the air, pass off into the pipe or chimney without being consumed, a defect, so common in other Furnaces, is obviated in the

MAGEE FURNACE.

The flue or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot descend, and are turned up by the admission of cold air through the fire-pot, which ignites them as they pass off from the coal, thus saving at least 20 per cent. of the properties of the heat in the fuel.

No heating apparatus with the smoke-pipe or flue on the top of the concave can be made to consume the gases of the coal, as they pass off with a large amount of the heat generated, making the chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.

This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.

These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.

For ease of management, economy and purity of air, these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire may be kept the entire season without once going out.

They give entire satisfaction wherever used. We have in store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of this best Furnace in the world,—and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:

Samuel Cleaves, Esq.,	Albert R. Hatch, Esq.,
Aaron H. Hill,	Charles H. Mendum,
Henry J. Wendell,	John Sise, and others.

IMPORTANT TO THE AFFLICTED.

DR. DOW continues to be consulted at his office, Nos. 7 and 9 ENDICOTT STREET, Boston, on all diseases of a

PRIVATE OR DELICATE NATURE.

By a long course of study and practical experience of unlimited extent, Dr. D. has now the gratification of presenting the unfortunate with remedies that have never, since he first introduced them, failed to cure the most alarming cases of

GONORRHŒA AND SYPHILIS.

Beneath his treatment, all the horrors of venereal, and impure blood, Impotency, Scrotula, Gleet, Strictures, Urinary pain and distress in the regions of procreation, Inflammation of the Bladder and Kidneys, Hydrocele, Abscesses, Humors, frightful Swellings, and the long train of horrible symptoms attending these diseases, soon vanish, and become as harmless as the simplest ailings of a child.

SEMINAL WEAKNESS.

Dr D., devotes a great part of his time to the treatment of those cases caused by a secret and solitary habit, which ruins the health and mind, unfitting the unfortunate individual for business or society. Some of the sad and melancholy effects produced by early habits of youth, are Weakness of the Back and Limbs, Dizziness of the head, Dimness of sight, Palpitation of the heart, Dyspepsia, Nervousness, Derangement of the digestive functions, Consumption, Insanity, &c. The fearful effects on the mind are much to be dreaded; loss of memory, confusion of ideas, depression of spirits, evil forebodings, aversion to society, self-distrust, timidity, &c., are among the evils produced. Such persons should, before contemplating marriage, consult a physician of experience, and be at once restored to health and happiness.

Patients who wish to remain under Dr. Dow's treatment a few days or weeks, will be furnished with pleasant rooms, and charges for board moderate.

Medicines sent to all parts of the country, with full directions for use, on receiving description of your cases. Dr. Dow has also for sale the French Capsules, warranted the best in the native. Order by mail. Three for $1 and a red stamp.

"Boundless by party—to no sect confined;
The world our home; our brethren, all mankind.
Love truth, do good, be just and fair with all;
Exalt the right, though every item fall."

"Let me warn you in the most solemn manner against the baneful effects of the spirit of Party, generally. It is a spirit, not to be encouraged.—Its common and continual mischief is sufficient to make it the interest and duty of a wise people to discourage and restrain it. In governments of the popular form, it is seen in its greatest rankness, and is truly their worst enemy."—Washington's Farewell Address

AN ELOQUENT APOSTROPHE.—At a ratification mass meeting, held in Virginia City, N. T., on Saturday evening, December 19th, after referring to the right of suffrage and paramount allegiance clauses of the Constitution, Henry Edgerton said:

In the name of my country I endorse both those sections of the Constitution: In the name of the Constitution of the United States I declare that it is right. "Upon the authority of every great expounder of the Constitution, North and South, I declare that it is a sound exposition of constitutional law. In the name of the noble dead—I pause to pay them tribute. Ye saints in Heaven, ye shall live forever in the grateful affections and remembrance of your country. Ye shall descend to immortality, the martyrs of liberty and the heroes of the Republic.

The gory hand of treason could rob you of country and of life, but it cannot deprive you of that crown of glory with which your deeds have bound your brows. Your day of vengance shall not be long delayed.—Slowly but surely and brightly it shall break. Three hundred thousand of your surviving countrymen are to day pouring forth from the forests and the prairies of the loyal North and West, and they go forth to shame by immortal deeds the deep damnation of your taking off, and to avenge your offended shades with reaps of bloody sacrifice.

Your spirit has descended upon them.—Your genius and that of America shall wield the sacred sword and one heroic band after another shall wield the desperate steel. This night they press forward eager to seize the helm as it drops from your dying hands, and they swear that the flames of war shall burn over your ashes until that banner [pointing to the old flag] floats in triumph over the whole broad domain.—[Applause.] Upon that banner is inscribed the oath that the war shall wage with all its horrors until the Genius of Liberty, with the scattered trophies of our destiny in her hands, shall stand upon the banks of the Potomac, one hundred stars in her diadem, broken chains beneath her feet, and the olive branch of peace extended to the whole earth. [Enthusiastic cheers were here given which lasted for some moments.]

SERGEANT JOHNNY CLEM, of the 22d Michigan regiment, who has already become famous, is a very handsome bright boy only twelve years old! This is his bright history. He was born in Newark, O. He enlisted as a drummer boy at the beginning of the war. He was made a "marker" in his regment. At the battle of Chickamauga, a rebel colonel rode up to him and ordered him to surrender. Johnny (being short he said he could do it unobserved) cocked his gun, at the shoulder. Just as the colonel was rushing at him to cut him down, Johnny levelled and fired and shot him through the heart! For this coolness and bravery he has been promoted. But this is not the whole of the story. When he joined the army he could neither read nor write, swore and drank like an old rowdy. Now he neither swears nor drinks, and can read and write. The fact is he is a bright-eyed, handsome little fellow, of few inches, but every inch a soldier, saved from ruin and made good and manly by being in the service. He has been promised a 2d lieutenant's commission. Is there not some six-footer—some young man of leisure—whom Johnny's example will induce to fight for the country?

THE REBELLION.

The rebels are again threatening our communications at Newbern, N. C. A large rebel force is in the State, and they have an iron-clad at Kinston, 35 miles above Newbern.

The N. Y. Tribune says a letter from a London correspondent states: At this moment there is a fleet of six rebel war steamers in the Chinese waters. These vessels are fitted out in England under Sherrard Osborne, an English naval captain, and the officers and men are recruited from Her Majesty's navy. They were under contract to the Chinese Government, but when they reached China a disagreement arose between Osborne and the Chinese authorities, and the vessels were not delivered, but sold at auction—Osborne, officers, crews, guns and all to Jeff. Davis. It is not unnaturally intimated that Osborne expected this result. Funds for the purchase are said to have been provided in part by the sale of the rebel rams in the Clyde, which Earl Russell embargoes; and an attack on San Francisco is hinted at as not improbable, there being but few American ships in the East India waters.

☞ Perley telegraphs that the Sons of New Hampshire in Washington met on Thursday evening and formed a State Association. Hon. Edward H. Rollins is President, and Col. Henry O. Kent, Secretary. Arrangements were perfected for visiting the hospitals and camps and for attending to the wants of the soldiers from the Granite State. Excellent speeches were made by Senators Hale and Clark, and Representatives Patterson and Rollins.

☞ The dentists of Manchester and Concord have held a meeting and raised their prices from 15 to 33 per cent.

☞ In the French Chambers recently, M. Thiers strongly condemned the Mexican expedition and demanded that France should treat with Juarez. M. Chaux D'Est Conge defended the expedition as just, and asserted that it was impossible to treat with Juarez. M. Berryier contended that the Government had been misled, and that France ought to retire.

☞ The Congregationalist gives a synopsis of a book on the "Atonement" just put forth by Rev. Charles Beecher. It says Mr. Beecher holds that "Adam was born as we are—not, as commonly supposed, holy, and then falling. He fell before he was born here. Mr. Beecher combats the idea that the race fell in Adam, as not supported by Scripture, as not valuable, as a heavy load to piety, and an incubus to faith."

The New York Daily News — which never even pretended to support or approve the war for the Union, but always condemned and opposed it — announces that it will print Gen. McClellan's report in full in successive issues of its sheet. If there be one sincerely loyal man who still clings to Gen. McClellan, we ask him to answer this question: "If Gen. M. is a true man, why is every traitor his noisy champion?"—New York Tribune.

An Interesting Family.—A New Bedford paper, in referring to a family in that place, says:— The old patriarch, Peter, and his eldest daughter, Margaret, are dead; Tom is in the Suffolk jail, awaiting trial for forgery; Kate is in our house of correction for keeping a disorderly house; Tom's wife and Isabella were sent to the workhouse on Thursday last, on a charge of being idle and disorderly; on Friday the overseer of the poor took charge of the old lady, Kate's daughter, "Pot-pie," and the Morrison baby; and Elizabeth has eloped.

— The Senate Military Committee are unanimously against reporting Gen. Schofield's name for confirmation as Major General.

— William M. Stone, the new Governor of Iowa, was once a canal driver between Rocco and Cleveland, Ohio, at three dollars a month.

— The Tribune's dispatch says there is little doubt but what the proposition to amend the Constitution to abolish slavery will pass both Houses by a large vote.

— The U. S. corvette St. Louis left Lisbon, Jan. 25, to intercept an English bark with guns and stores for the rebel cruiser Rappahannock.

— It is stated that the Danish Government has purchased the powerful irons-clade in the Clyde, reported to have been constructed for the Confederates.

— It as announced that the Great Eastern will be peremptorily sold at auction, Feb. 17th, unless she is previously sold on private contract.

— Thomas Buchanan Read, the artist and poet, has left the army of the Cumberland, and has returned to Philadelphia to practice his profession.

— The Times' Washington dispatch says a vast batch of nominations for Major and Brig. Generals have been returned to the President with the statement that there are no vacancies and the appointments are therefore illegal.

NOTES OF FORMER DAYS.

Collected and Collated — By Uncle Tony.

Defense of Gov. Belcher.

Dr. Belknap makes an earnest defence of Gov. Belcher's conduct and motives, from which we take the following extracts:

At this distance of time, when all those parties are extinct, and every reader may be supposed impartial; it may seem rather strange, that Governor Belcher should meet with such treatment, from the British court, in the reign of so mild and just a prince, as George the Second. That Mr. Belcher was imprudent and unguarded, in some instances, cannot be denied. He was indeed zealous to serve his friends, and hearken to their advice; but, by this means, he laid himself open, to the attacks of his enemies; to whom he paid no court, butopenly treated them with contempt. His language to them was severe and reproachful, and he never spared to sell the world, what he thought of them.

This provoked them; but they had the art to conceal their resentment, and carry on their designs, in silence, till they were ripe for execution. He had by far too mean an opinion of their abilities, and the interest which they had at court; and when he knew that they had the ear of the lords of trade, he affected to think them, 'not very mighty lords, nor able to administer life and death.' He had a consciousness of the general integrity of his own intentions; and appears to have been influenced by motives of honor and justice; but he was not aware of the force of his own prejudices.

The cruelty and hardship of his case may appear from the following considerations.—He had been one of the principal merchants of New-England; but, on his appointment to the chair of government, quitted every other kind of business, that he might attend with punctuality, and dignity to the duties of his station. By the royal instructions, he was restrained from giving his assent, to any grant of money, to himself; unless it should be a permanent salary. What he received from New-Hampshire was fixed, and paid out of the excise; but the assembly of Massachusetts could not be pursuaded to settle any salary upon him. They made him a grant of three thousand pounds, (worth about seven or eight hundred sterling) generally once in a year, at their session in May. He was then obliged to solicit leave from the king, to accept the grant, and sign the bill; and sometimes could not obtain this leave till the end of the year; once not till five days before the dissolution of the assembly. In the mean time, he was obliged to subsist on his own estate; and had he died within the year, the grant would have been wholly lost, to his family. He was earnest to obtain a general permission to sign these grants; but in that case, the clerks of offices, in England, through whose hands the permission must have passed, would have lost their fees. He was now in the sixtieth year of his age; he had a family of children and grand children, whose sole dependence was on him; and he thought with reason, that if his course of faithful service, and the unworthy arts of his enemies had been duly considered; the censure of his superiors would have been less severe, than 'to deprive him of his bread and honor.'

Whilst he entertained the worst opinion possible of the characters of his enemies, he had a strong confidence, in the justice of the government, before which he was accused. In one of his letters to his son, he says, 'I must expect no favor while Bladen is at the board of trade; but were the devil there, I should expect justice, under the British constitution, corroborated by the Hanover succession.' The event proved, that his confidence was not ill founded.—For, on being superseded, he repaired to court; where, though his presence was unwelcome to some, yet he had opportunity to bring the most convincing evidence of his integrity, and of the base designs of his enemies. He was so far restored to the royal favor, that he obtained a promise, of the first vacant government in America, which would be worthy of his acceptance. This proved to be the province of New-Jersey; where he spent the remaining years of his life; and where his memory has been treated with deserved respect.

[Jonathan Belcher died at Elizabethtown, 31 August, 1757. In a letter to Secretary Waldron, dated 7 January, 1740, he says, "This day entered the fifty-ninth year of my age." He was therefore at the time of his death in his 76th year. His father Andrew Belcher was born at Cambridge, 1 January, 1647, and removed to Boston about 1707. He was one of the council of safety on the deposition of Andros in 1689, and a member of the council of the province of Massachusetts, from May, 1702, to the time of his death, 31 October, 1717, at the age of 70. The grandfather of Governor Belcher was Andrew Belcher, who came from England as early as 1640, and settled at Cambridge.]

A Good Institution.—The New York correspondent of the Boston Journal describes one of the institutions of that city which we copy as worthy of public notice, namely the lodging-rooms of the news-boys. He says:

It is a home for not only newsboys, but shoeblacks and homeless boys of all trades and callings. In the upper story of the Sun Buildings, occupying the whole story, is the home for these wandering boys. The rooms are handsomely carpeted, warmed and well ventilated. The lodging rooms, where from a hundred to a hundred and fifty sleep, are a model of comfort and cleanliness. On the payment of five cents a night the boys can enter this room, have the benefit of a bath, a good supper, instruction in reading and singing, with a good bed. Entertaining services are held on Thursday night and on Sunday night, which are crowded. No boy is turned away who seeks a lodging because he has no money. A savings bank is a part of the institution, and one boy has laid up two hundred dollars of his earnings. A healthier, heartier, happier, shrewder class of boys can't be found in New York.

— Of 28,890 persons arrested in Boston last year; 22,022 were foreigners.

How Submarine Divers Operate.—A correspondent of the New York Tribune says:—

During a recent visit to Port Royal I witnessed with considerable interest the operations of the divers employed to clean the bottoms of the monitors, and perform other operations under the water. Messrs. Joseph H. Smith and James B. Phelps have a contract with the Government for the performance of this work, and have been of great use here. The principal diver—appropriately named Waters—is so used to this work that he has become almost amphibious, remaining for five or six hours at a time under water. A man of herculean strength and proportions, when clad in his submarine armor he becomes monstrous in size and appearance.

A more singular sight than to see him roll or tumble into the water and disappear from sight, or popping up, blowing, as the air escapes from his helmet, like a young whale, can scarcely be imagined. Waters has his own ideas of a joke, and when he has a curious audience will wave his scraper about as he "bobs around" on the water, with the air of a veritable river god. One of his best jokes—the better for being a veritable fact—occurred last Summer.—While he was employed scraping the hull of one of the monitors, a negro from one of the up-river plantations, came alongside with a boat-load of water-melons. While busy selling his melons the diver came up, and rested himself on the side of the boat.

The negro stared at the extraordinary appearance thus suddenly coming out of the water with alarmed wonder, but when the diver seized one of the best melons in the boat, and disappeared under the water, the gurgling of the air from the helmet mixing with the muffled laughter, the fright of the negro reached a climax. Hastily seizing his oars, without waiting to be paid for his melons, he put off at his speed, and has not been seen in the vicinity of Station Creek since. He cannot be tempted beyond the bounds of the plantation, and believes that the Yankees have brought river devils to aid them in making war.

The diver when clothed in his armor is weighted with 185 pounds. Besides his armor, he has two leaden pads, fitting to his breast and back. The soles of his shoes are of lead, an inch and a half thick. All this weight is needed to overcome the buoyancy given by the mass of air forced into the armor and dress, the latter of india-rubber, worn by the driver. When below the surface he can instantly bring himself up by closing momentarily the aperture in the helmet for the escape of the air. His buoyancy is immediately increased, and he pops up like a cork and floats at will upon the surface. The work of scraping the bottoms of the monitors is very arduous.

The diver sits upon a spar, lashed athwart the bottom of the vessel, so arranged as to be moved as the work progresses, and with a scraper fixed to a long handle, works on both sides of himself as far as he can reach. The mass of oysters that becomes attached to the iron hulls of one of the monitors, even during one Summer here, is immense. By actual measurement it was estimated that 250 bushels of oysters, shells and sea weed were taken from the bottom of the Montauk alone. The captains of the monitors have sometimes indulged in the novelty of a mess of oysters raised on the hulls of their own vessels.

Besides cleaning the monitors, the divers perform other important services. They have ransacked the interior of the Keokuk, attached buoys to lost anchors, and made under-water examinations of the rebel obstructions.

Waters examined the sunken Weehawken and met an unusual danger for even his perilous calling. The sea was so violent that he was twice thrown from the deck of the monitor. Finally, getting hold of the iron ladder, he climbed to the top of the turret, when a heavy sea cast him inside the turret between the guns. Fearing that his air hose would become entangled, he made his way out with all possible speed, and was forced to give up his investigations until calmer weather offered a more favorable opportunity.

Revolution or Nullification.—The New York Daily News, the special organ of the Copperheads, has the following appeal to Governor Seymour to prevent the operation of the new draft in New York:—

We again appeal to Governor Seymour, and ask him, beseech him to redeem now, at this late day, his pledges of last summer to the people who trusted him. Let bygones be bygones. The people will forgive and forget the past, if Mr. Seymour will now faithfully and efficiently interpose as Governor of the sovereign State of New York, to protect them in this new emergency to which the late order of President Lincoln for another draft has given rise.—They have a right now to call upon him; and there is abundant time for relief, if the Governor will set about it in serious earnest. Heavens and earth! has it come to this, that the people of New York have no recourse but to revolution against oppression?

This extraordinary appeal shows the difference between a Democrat and a Copperhead, in a very strong light. Gov. Seymour, though sufficiently unfriendly to the present government of the United States, and especially fond of "conservatism" and "State rights," is not prepared to come out in open armed rebellion.

He has read that clause in the Constitution which says the Acts of Congress shall be the Supreme Law of the Land, any thing in the Constitution or Laws of any State to the contrary not withstanding.

He has committed many errors in his administration;—but he may not think it best to commit absolute suicide.

— Gov. Miller of Minnesota was inaugurated on the 14th ult., and in his inaugural address said: "No hostile savage now finds a resting place within hundreds of miles of the settlements.

☞ They had a queer case on trial before the Municipal Court in Portland on Thursday. Jacob Ayers was complained of for an assault on Hannah H. C——, both of Westbrook. This affair took place at the Methodist Church in Saccarappa last Sabbath. It seems that both parties claim a certain pew in that church; that previous to the afternoon services Mr. Ayers went into the church and seated himself in the pew; that Miss C—— entered immediately after, and that Mr. Ayers rose up to offer her a seat or prevent her entrance, and that she refused to pass him, or did not try to, but proceeded into the next pew and climbed over the back into the "disputed territory"; that she then proceeded to call Mr. Ayers the reverse of "pet names"; and that he finally seized her by the shoulder or collar with remarks more forcible than elegant, and told her to keep quiet: when hostilities ceased for the afternoon. During the trial, the counsel for the defence, noticing that her title was Miss, and that she had apparently attained that age when it is commonly, though perhaps erroneously, supposed that girlhood's sweetness changes into maidenly acidity, inquired her age, and she promptly and naively replied that if he were a widower, perhaps she would tell him. The judge remarked that the question was a delicate one and it was entirely optional with the lady as to whether she would answer it or not. The lady made no further reply. The counsel stated that he made the enquiry because, as far as his knowledge extended single ladies of mature years were apt to be spiteful and quarrelsome. The judge asked if he spoke from experience or observation. The counsel denied the experience—purely from observation. The judge in announcing his decision in the case said it was a disgraceful proceeding in the house of God on the Sabbath, and that both parties were to blame. But he should impose a nominal fine. He ordered defendant to pay a fine of one dollar and costs.

☞ At a recent interview between Mr. C. C. Fulton of Baltimore and, Mr. Ould, the Confederate Commissioner, on the subject of ameliorating the condition of the Union prisoners at Richmond, Mr. Ould professed an earnest desire to do all that he could to ameliorate the condition of prisoners on both sides, and said that with this object in view he had proposed to allow Federal surgeons to be sent to look after the welfare of the Union prisoners at Richmond, with leave to order through the lines whatever was needed for their comfort, on condition that the Confederates should be allowed a similar privilege in respect to their men in our hands. To this proposition he had not received any answer from our authorities. Mr. Ould declared that the reports of suffering among our prisoners at Richmond were wholly false, and that those at Belle Isle were better off than those in the tobacco warehouses.

— The pirate Alabama left Singapore Dec. 24, after coaling, and afterwards in the Straits of Malacca burnt the British ship Maulmain, and the American ships Sonora and Highlander.

— The Cape of Good Hope News says the murder of James Gray, mate of the bark Saxon, has been proved against Dougban, an officer of the U. S. steamer Vanderbilt.

— The Hayward Rubber Company's works at Colchester, Conn., were destroyed by fire on Wednesday morning, except the grinding and cutting room, which contained the greater part of the machinery. The loss will probably reach $75,000.

HUNNEWELL'S ECLECTIC PILLS—The true Type of Cathartic.—By the application of true Pharmaceutical Laws, both Character and Economy are combined in this valuable Pill. To prevent putting such quantities of indigestible drugs into the stomach, the griping pains so erroneously judged to be the evidence of thorough action, and to require from 4 to 6 Pills, to get a decent cathartic, was the study in this development. The dose seldom exceeding One, and never more than Two Pills, settles the question of economy, and character can be best known by confidence to test them in DYSPEPSIA, COSTIVENESS, BILIOUSNESS, LIVER COMPLAINT, all derangements of the stomach and Bowels, and as a Family Pill. spno

NEARER HOME.

One sweetly welcome thought
Comes to me o'er and o'er;
I'm nearer home to-day
Than I've ever been before.

Nearer my Father's house,
Where many mansions be;
Nearer the great white throne,
Nearer the jasper sea;

Nearer that bound of life
Where we lay our burdens down,
Nearer leaving the cross,
Nearer gaining the crown.

But lying dimly between,
Winding down through the night,
Lies the dark and unquiet stream
That leads us at length to the light.

Closer and closer my steps
Come to the dark abyss,
Closer Death to my lips
Presses the awful chrism;

Father, perfect my trust!
Strengthen my feeble faith!
Let me feel as I would when I stand
On the shores of the river of death—

Feel as I would were my feet
Even now slipping over the brink;
For it may be I'm nearer home,
Nearer now, than I think!

CHEESE AND CHEESE MAKING.—The Massachusetts Board of Agriculture has been holding a session in Springfield. Mr. Goodale, Secretary of the Maine State Agricultural Society, read a paper upon cheese making.

He said that a milch cow furnished the best method of getting human food.—[Doubted.] The feed necessary to make a pound of meat will make at least 25 pounds of milk. Eight and a half pounds of milk, on an average, make a pound of cheese. In Herkimer county, N. Y., the cows average 600 pounds of cheese a cow per annum. A cow that will make less than her dressed weight of cheese in Scotland is or should be sent to the butcher.—England is our great cheese market; for the English eat more cheese than Americans; 200,000 cows are kept in the single county of Cheese-shire, England. Herkimer county, N. Y., first taught the English to use American cheese, and now we ship there more than 40,000,000 pounds a year. Cheese factories are modern labor saving inventions. They require the milk of at least 500 cows to make one of them profitable, and five or six persons to do the work. There are more than thirty such factories in Oneida county, N. Y., and the cheese thus made commands a higher price than that made in families. Carrying milk from one to five miles improves it for cheese as much as it hurts it for butter. There is little difference between the labor for making a pound of cheese or a pound of butter, and the milk necessary for a pound of the latter will make two and a half pounds of the former. Cheese made from cows fed on hay is less valuable than that made from grass.

TRIAL AND FRIENDSHIP.—Herrick Allen's Gold Medal Saleratus has had a trial among three million families, and is pronounced the best Saleratus in the known world. RYE, N.H., Feb. 26, 1846. "I hereby certify that my daughter has had the salt rheum for a number of years—some of the time so badly as to prevent her labor, or even rest—as it affected her hands very much. A large sum had been expended to the most celebrated physicians, for Sarsaparilla Syrup, &c., &c., but she obtained no relief until I procured some ten or twelve bottles of DR. SWETT'S PANACEA, and several bottles of his HUMOR WASH, which have effected a cure. There can be no mistake, as this cure was effected more than three years ago. No other medicines can equal DR. SWETT'S remedies for various kinds of humors. I have sold it to a number of my acquaintances, who were afflicted, and witnessed many full cures effected by it since. I have acted as agent for the sale of it. JOSIAH JENNESS.

PORTSMOUTH, April 21st, 1862.

"I have for several years been afflicted with distress at my stomach, loss of appetite, and often vomited up all of my food immediately after eating it, and all medicine failed to give any relief until about a year ago, when I took one bottle of DR. S. SWETT'S PANACEA, which fully cured me, so that I have not had the least trouble from any of these complaints since, and I enjoy good health. M. LOWD.

BOSTON ELDER I. CHESLEY, Lee, May 31, 1841.

DR. SWETT: Permit me to testify, as I feel in duty bound to do, that my daughter was afflicted with scrofulous humor, and that previous to your visiting our house in the spring of 1840, she had been confined for a number of months, without her natural rest by day or night. She had applied to a number of physicians, but continued to grow weaker till she commenced using your PANACEA and HUMOR WASH. Since then, she has recovered her health so far as to rest quietly in bed, and labor for her living. I esteem your medicine one of the best that can be found for the disease above named. ISRAEL CHESLEY

☞ Any one returning the remainder of a bottle or box of Dr. Swett's medicines shall have pay for it, if it do not agree with his case, or if not worth the price. All orders directed to DR. S. SWETT, No. 2 High street, Portsmouth, N. H., promptly attended to. may26

DR. TEBBETTS' PHYSIOLOGICAL HAIR REGENERATOR AND UNIVERSAL HAIR RESTORER.

ITS MODUS OPERANDI.

Immediately beneath the scalp there are very small glands, or, more commonly Roots of the Hair. It is from these Glands that every hair of the head is formed and secreted. As long as the scalp is free from disease, these glands are healthy, and the hair keeps its natural appearance and color. But when humors and other diseases affect the scalp, these glands become involved in the same disease, and the hair gradually turns gray, dry and brittle. Sooner or later the hair begins to fall out, and in many cases, if not arrested, will produce a complete baldness of the scalp.

To remedy this pathological condition of the glands and create a new and healthy action, the Physiological Hair Regenerator has proved a perfect success—inasmuch as it is the only preparation yet known that can boast of such wonderful results.

Unlike thousands of other articles in the market, containing Silver, Lead, Lead, Litharge, Tannin, Sulphur, &c., and producing only a sort of yellow or dax color, it will, if properly applied restore the hair to its former appearance and beauty.

The Physiological Hair Regenerator is warranted in all cases to produce the following results:

1. It is not a Dye and will not stain a single particle. It contains no coloring matter whatever, and not the least injurious effect is its application.

2. It will certainly STORE the hair from a gray to a beautiful Black, Brown, Auburn, or whatever might have been its original color.

3. It will effectually prevent the hair from falling off, remove all Heat, Inflammation and Dandruff from the scalp, keeping the head clean and cool, and the hair soft, glossy and of a silky appearance.

4. It will PROMOTE a luxuriant growth of new hair on bald heads, cases of long standing of old age and where the glands have become disorganized.

5. It will cure the most inveterate itching and soreness of the scalp, and being highly perfumed, it affords a most delightful article for the toilet.

We have a great abundance of testimony to prove beyond a doubt, all that we claim for the Regenerator; and it is positively certain that in a very short time it will have a world wide reputation.

HOME TESTIMONY.

BEDFORD, N. H., Dec. 17, 1863.

Messrs. Tebbetts Brothers—The preparation you induced me to try on my hair, about six weeks ago, has had a wonderful effect. My hair was then almost white and now it is almost black. My daughter has also tried it on her hair, which was fast falling off on account of a severe attack of the diphtheria; it stopped it immediately on its application. My wife has also been trying it for baldness on top of her head, and finds that a new growth of hair is rapidly starting. We have only used one bottle, and I think could sell a fix our heads up in good shape. J. C. CUTLER.

MANCHESTER, Dec. 20, 1863.

Gents—Unless I am very much mistaken, your Hair Regenerator is destined, ere long, to work a complete revolution with all other Hair Preparations. It not only restores the hair to its natural color and keeps the head free from Dandruff, but it is the most beautiful dressing that can be procured. My hair, without any perceptible change, began to turn gray when about thirteen years of age, and had been gradually increasing for more than ten years, when about two months ago I began the use of your Regenerator, and it has completely astonished all my friends to see my hair brought back to its natural color, which is almost a complete black. It is the only thing, unless it was a regular Hair Dye, that I ever knew would produce such effect. It also keeps the head so clean and free from scurf, that it makes a very nice dressing. JACOB J. ABBOTT.

IMPORTANT TO THE AFFLICTED.

DR. DOW continues to be consulted at his office, Nos. 7 and 9 ENDICOTT STREET, Boston, on all diseases of a

PRIVATE OR DELICATE NATURE.

By a long course of study and practical experience of unlimited extent, Dr. Dow is now the qualification of presenting the unfortunate with remedies that have never, since he first introduced them, failed to cure the most obstinate cases of GONORRHEA AND SYPHILIS.

Beneath his treatment, all the horrors of venereal; and impure blood, Impotency, Scrofula, Gonorrhea, Ulcers, pain and distress in the region of procreation, Inflammation of the Bladder and Kidneys, Hydrocele, Abscesses, Humors, frightful Swellings and long train of painful symptoms attending this class of disease, are made to become as harmless as the simplest ailings of a child.

SEMINAL WEAKNESS.

Dr. D. devotes a great part of his time to the treatment of those cases caused by a secret and solitary habit, which ruins the body and mind, unfitting the unfortunate individual for business or society. Some of the sad and melancholy results produced by early habits of youth, are Weakness of the Back and limbs, Dizziness of the head, Dimness of sight, Palpitation of the heart, Dyspepsia, Nervousness, Derangement of the digestive functions, Symptoms of Consumption, &c. The fearful effects on the mind are much to be dreaded; loss of memory, confusion of ideas, depression of spirits, evil forebodings, aversion of society, self-distrust, timidity, &c., are among the evils produced. Such persons should, before contemplating matrimony, consult a physician of experience, and be at once restored to health and happiness.

Patients who wish to remain under Dr. Dow's treatment a few days or weeks, will be furnished with pleasant rooms, and charges for board moderate.

Medicines sent to all parts of the country, with full directions for use, on receiving description of your complaint. Dr. Dow has also for sale French Capotes, warranted the best preventive. Order by mail. Three for $1 and a red stamp.

Morning Chronicle.

☞ The New York Express says:

The Democrats in congress have been voting taxes, with a free hand—ay, with a hand far freer than the Republicans. Even such Democrats as Fernando Wood, worked into the House Tax Bill, a tax of 40 cents additional upon whiskey on hand, thus adding to the Revenue $8,000,000; the Republicans of the Senate have knocked the eight millions out.

To this another paper makes reply as follows:

Mr. Fernando Wood proposed and voted to tax whiskey already made; but, after the House had adopted his amendment, he voted against the bill. So did nearly all his party, including Mr. James Brooks, one of the editors and owners of the Express.

It is estimated that ship owners in this community have realized the snug sum of $6,110,500 for vessels sold in England since Oct. 1862.—Portland Press.

To the Hon. Judge of Probate for the County of Rockingham.

Respectfully represents THOMAS STACKPOLE, Administrator with will annexed of the Estate of THOMAS CURRIER, late of Portsmouth, in said County, deceased; that the Personal Estate of said deceased is not sufficient to pay the just demands against his estate and the legacies given by the will, by the sum of one hundred dollars; and the Administrator further represents that it will be for the interest of said estate to sell the Real Estate situated on Lafayette Road, and that the same is so situated that a part cannot be sold without injury to the persons interested in said Estate.

Wherefore he prays that he may be licensed to sell at public auction the whole of the Real Estate of said deceased situated on Lafayette Road for the payment of said demands and legacies.

SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,

Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, (see the Act of 1837.)

76 State street, opposite Kilby street,

BOSTON.

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to procure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms and dispatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of patents or inventions submitted thereto to appear rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting the Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The Testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber, and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that no other office of the kind at the charges for professional service so moderate.

The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to compile quite a full collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.

Hence, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him the best, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse."

CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and who can more capably or faithfully prepare applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.

Mr. H. B. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and the one excepted only unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure Patents, and I can pay be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges.

CHRIS TAGGART.

During eight months, the subscriber, in the course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents.

"Constitution Life Syrup,

COMPOSED OF

IODIDE POTASSIUM,

With the compound concentrated fluid extract of

VALUABLE MEDICINAL

ROOTS AND HERBS,

Prepared by WM. H. GREGG, M.D.,

Graduate College Physicians and Surgeons, N. Y. Former Associate Physician Blackwell's Island Hospitals, late Medical Inspector New York State Volunteer Depots, under Gov. Edwin D. Morgan.

Constitution Life Syrup

HAS PRODUCED

A REVOLUTION IN MEDICINE!

What may seem almost incredible, is, that many diseases hitherto considered hopelessly incurable are frequently cured in a few days or weeks, and we cheerfully invite the investigation of the liberal minded and scientific to cure which have no parallel at the present day.

Our medicine is peculiar, by it the seat of disease is directly reached, and the equilibrium restored. Those who have suffered long from painful and obstinate disease, those who have vainly sought relief from advertised medicines, those who cannot be cured by other physicians—are Invited to use Constitution Life Syrup.

During the past five years we have contended with obstacles and overcome opposition as herculean as ever encountered by any Reformer.

Rapidity of Cure.

Some say, "Your cures are too quick," while others say it is impossible, and think that diseases can only be cured by the "slow recuperative process of Nature." This is our reply:

The human body, when in a well-balanced state, is in a state of equilibrium. But when from any cause down goes one side of the scale, we have the disease, and what is requisite is, to restore the normal balance of the scale.

CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP,

A positive and specific remedy for all diseases originating from an IMPURE STATE OF THE BLOOD, and for all CHRONIC DISEASES transmitted from PARENT TO CHILD.

Paralysis.

Hemiplegia, Paresis, Paraplegia, Paralysis Agitans.

It is so universally admitted that Constitution Life Syrup is the only effective means of restoration to the vigorous powers of Paralysis, that we need not reiterate that it is emphatically the Great Life-Giving Power.

Dyspepsia.

Indigestion, Liver Complaint, Constipation, Wright at Stom'k, Dizziness, Want of Appetite, Flatulence, Bad Breath.

Scrotula.

Strumo, Glandular Swellings, Ulceration, King's Evil, Erysipelas, Salt Rheum.

This taint (hereditary or acquired), filling life with untold misery, is by all usual medical remedies incurable.

Rheumatism.

(Arthritis), Lumbago, Neuralgia, Gout, Sciatica, Tic Douloureux.

There is any disease in which the Constitution Life Syrup is a sovereign, it is in Rheumatism and its kindred affections. The most intense pains are almost instantly alleviated—enormous swellings are reduced, and permanent cures effected, in 20 or 30 years standing, have been cured by us.

Nervousness.

Nervous Debility, Confusion of Thoughts, Epilepsy, Loss of Power, Shattered Nerves, St. Vitus' Dance.

Thousands are now suffering from nervous troubles the day on which these lines. Particularly to weak, suffering woman will this medicine prove an inestimable blessing—directing their footsteps to a Balm of which fadile more than it promises.

Mercurial Diseases.

Salivation, Sodden of Mercurious, Rotting of Bones, Bad Complexion, Aches in Bones, Depressed Spirits.

Constitution Life Syrup purges the system entirely from all the evil effects of MERCURY, removing the poisonous taint and curing the Weak Joints and Rheumatic Pains which the use of Calomel is sure to produce. It hardens Spongy Gums and secures the teeth as firmly as ever.

Constitution Life Syrup

Eradicates, cures and removes all Eruptive Diseases of the Skin, like

ULCERS, PIMPLES, BLOTCHES.

And all other difficulties of this kind, which so much disfigure the outward appearance of both male and female, and making them a disgusting object to themselves and their friends.

CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP

Cures all Swellings of the Glands,

Either of the Face, Neck or Female Breast and should be taken as soon as the swelling is detected, thus preventing their breaking and producing troublesome Discharging Sores, which disfigure many of the younger portion of the community, from six to twenty years of age. Young children are subject to Glandular Swellings in the ears, which depends upon a Scrofulous constitution. These cases soon recover by taking a few doses of the Life Syrup.

All scrofulous persons suffering from Debility, Emaciation, Dyspepsia; Dropsy, of the limbs or abdomen; Dropsy of the Chest; Dropsy of the Ovaries and womb, generally accompanied with inflammation and ulceration of the uterus; are permanently cured by Constitution Life Syrup. If disease known as Goitre or Swelling of the Neck, the Life Syrup will remove entirely. The remedy should be taken for some time, the disease is exceedingly chronic and stubborn, and will not be removed without extra effort. Tumors of the Ovaries, Tumors of the Breast, and swelling of other glands of the body will be completely reduced without resorting to the knife or operations of any kind.

Epileptic Fits, Sympathetic or Organic Diseases of the Heart (as Palpitation, Disease of Valves-producing a grating or filing sound), Dropsy of the heart, Dropsy of the Pericardium, are of important organ, or persons suffering from any acute pain in the region of the heart, will be greatly relieved by Constitution Life Syrup.

Broken Down and Delicate Constitutions,

Suffering from Indisposition to Exertion, Loss of Sleep, Loss of Memory, Forebodings, Horror of Insanity, Fear of Disease, Dimness of Vision, Dry Hot Skin and Pimples upon the Face, Pain in the Back, Pale Haggard Countenance and Languid Eye, Marks the Secular System, all require the aid of the CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP.

For all forms of Ulcerative Disease, either of the Nose Throat, Tongue, Spine, Forehead or Scalp, no remedy ever proved its equal.

MOTH PATCHES upon the Face, depending upon a diseased action of the Liver, are very unpleasant to the young wife and mother. A few bottles of Constitution Life Syrup will correct the secretion, and remove the deposit which is directly under the skin.

In Dyspepsia, Costiveness, giving rise to languor, dizziness, indigestion, weak stomach, or an altered and or concerous condition of that organ, accompanied by a variety of other complaints symptoms, relief may be obtained by the use of CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP.

☞ As a general Blood-Purifying Agent, the Life Syrup stands unrivalled by any preparation in the world.

Diseases of the Spine, as usually developed in the young, Hip Disease, Scrofula, and all Chronic Diseases, and Ladies who are suffering from diseases for which they are at a loss to know what to do, we would advise the use of CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP. It will restore their pallid countenance, strengthen their weak back and side, give them new energy, new life and happiness.

THE RICH AND POOR are liable to the same diseases. Nature and Science have made the Constitution Life Syrup for the benefit of all.

PURE BLOOD produces healthy men and women, and if the constitution is neglected in youth, disease and early death are the results. Do not delay when the means are so near at hand, and within the reach of all.

TO THE YOUNG AND MARRIED LADIES. It is the safest and most effectual medicine ever discovered for purifying the system and relieving the difficulties incident to the sex. It invigorates both the mother and the child, prevents pain and disease, and increases and enriches the blood. Ladies who have used it think it indispensable. It is highly useful both before and after confinement, as it prevents disease attendant upon childbirth.

Constitution Life Syrup

Is the Poor Man's Friend and the Rich Man's Blessing!—Buy it, take it, and be cured.—It is Universal in its effects

LAST AND BEST.

THE MODEL COOK.

AN AIR-TIGHT STOVE,

WITH TWO OVENS,

And Five Boiling Places!

At the present high prices of fuel it is very desirable to lessen its consumption. This can be best accomplished by using a MODEL COOK STOVE. More cooking can be done in one with a single ton of coal, or cord of wood, than with double the quantity in any common stove or range—and in less time also.

The fire being placed in the centre of the stove, with an oven on either side (which may be thrown into one at pleasure), all the heat from the fuel is made available for cooking purposes.

The oven doors are lined with tin, and jackets are provided for the bottom and back of the stove, thus retaining much heat, ordinarily wasted. A check draft is applied, by means of which much fuel is saved, and a continuous fire may be kept as long as desirable.

A Water Tank and Hot Closet can be applied to either side, when needed.

In fact, no pains or expense have been spared to make this a PERFECT Stove, and we think it surpasses all others for Economy, Durability, Capacity, Convenience, Beauty of Design and Perfection of Finish.

It is equally well adapted for Coal or Wood; Summer or Winter; is excellent in a family where help is employed, and invaluable to the housewife who does her own work, lightening it at least one-half.

No family, large or small, where economy, convenience and cleanliness are desirable, should be without one.

We refer to some parties who have purchased the Model Cook—

E. A. STEVENS'S

NO. 46 MARKET STREET.

THE MAGEE COOKING STOVE.

The subscriber, having received his Fall stock of Stoves, would especially call the attention of the public to the

CELEBRATED AND UNEQUALLED

MAGEE COOK STOVE,

as the very best Stove yet made, and would invite those about purchasing or exchanging Stoves, to examine this, believing it to be far superior to any other Stove yet invented, the castings being heavier, and the oven larger than usual. The oven plates are covered with plaster, which renders it equal to the old-fashioned brick oven for perfection in baking.

There is a new style and very superior broiler and sad-iron heater combined, by which the odor of broiling meats are prevented from escaping into the room. With the extension top, there is a large copper Reservoir for hot water; also a large tin warming-closet attached, in which any article can be kept warm, while the other parts of the Stove are occupied for other purposes.

The arrangements for sifting the coal and cleaning the grate are far superior to those of any other Stove now in use, as no dust can possibly escape into the room, and the shovelfuls of the ashes is entirely dispensed with. The fire is regulated in the same manner as in the MAGEE PARLOR STOVE, and can be continued day and night for weeks together, thus saving the expense of re-kindling every day.

For economy, durability, ease of management, cleanliness and perfection in cooking, it cannot be surpassed by any other Stove, as hundreds in families in this city and vicinity, who are now using them, are willing to testify, and speak of them in the highest terms of praise.

"MAGEE'S PATENT"

VENTILATING & AIR-WARMING

FURNACES.

The subscriber, being the Sole Agent in this vicinity for the manufacture and use of this valuable Furnace, would ask those about remodelling or erecting buildings to examine this truly valuable invention.

For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, moist and agreeable;—and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pots is used for respiration, the tendency to produce headache so much complained of in other furnaces, is entirely obviated.

The objects aimed at by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.

To accomplish this many complicated and expensive heating arrangements have been constructed, some possessing but little improvement over former methods, while many have proved a total failure. The reason for this is obvious. The commonly used heat being lighter than the air, goes off into the pipe or chimney without being consumed. This objection, so common in other Furnaces, is obviated in the

MAGEE FURNACE.

The flue or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot descend, and are forced up by the combination of cold air through the fire-pot, which ignites them as they pass off from the coal, thus saving at least 50 per cent. of the properties of the heat in the fuel.

No heating apparatus with the smoke-pipe or flue on the top of the cone can be made to consume the gases of the coal, as they pass off with a large amount of the heat generated, making the chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.

This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.

These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.

For ease of management, economy and purity of air, these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire may be kept the entire season without once going out.

They give entire satisfaction wherever used. We have in store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world,—and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:

Samuel Cleaves, Esq., Albert R. Hatch, Esq.,
Aaron H. Hill, Charles H. Mendum,
Henry F. Wendell, John Shea, and others.

CALENDAR CLOCKS.

These Clocks are reliable Time Keepers and Calendars combined, and require the winding of the time movement only, to perform all the required changes of the Calendar at midnight; showing the day of the week, the month, and day of the month, including the 29th day of February of leap year, perpetually and with unfailing certainty.

Having taken the Agency for the sale of these Clocks, we would invite the public to call and examine them.

Any person desirous of purchasing a Clock will find it to their advantage to examine these before purchasing elsewhere, as we warrant them as good time-keepers as can be obtained for the same price without the Calendar Attachment and those not in want of a clock will find the Calendar alone worth more than the price of the clock. They will be set up in any part of the city, and regulated without extra charge.

ESTABLISHED 1852. PORTSMOUTH, N. H. MONDAY FEB. 15, 1864. VOL. 24. NO. 39.

The Chronicle.

"Boundto no party—to no sect confined:
The world our home; our brethren, all mankind.
Truth, do good, be just and fair with all:
Exalt the right, though every ism fall."

"Let me warn you in the most solemn manner against the baneful effects of the spirit of Party, generally. It is a spirit not to be encouraged—its common and continual mischief is sufficient to make it the interest and duty of a wise people to discourage and restrain it. In governments of No popular form, it is seen in its greatest rankness, and is truly their worst enemy."—Washington's Farewell Address

There are two kinds of Irish wit—the intentional and unintentional. Of this latter sort there is an unlimited supply, afforded by the redundancy of metaphor and illustration common to the national mind, and productive of absurdities and hyperboles delightful to study. Take the peroration, for instance, of a clergyman describing the joyful death of the Christian—"My brethren, he leaps into the very arms of death, and makes his hollow jaws ring with eternal hallelujahs!" And the destiny of the wicked, "When Death, with his quiver full of arrows, mows them down with the besom of destruction!" A Poor law guardian in the north of Ireland very lately surpassed these flowers of rhetoric when he addressed his audience: "Mr. chairman, and the gentlemen of the Board, the eyes of Europe are upon us—the apple of discord has been flung in our midst—and if it be not nipped immediately in the bud it will burst into a conflagration which will deluge the world!"

After all, the richness of Irish phraseology borders on the grotesque. An English squire would be amazed at the good wishes expressed to our knowledge to an Irish one: "Long life to your honor and long may you reign in splendor"—or a petition addressed to the writer's father, couched in these words: "As I am shortly going to make my exit from this Vale of Tears, I hope your honor will send me two-and-sixpence by return of post."

The queer ideas which enter the fertile brains of Hibernians, at all times are sufficiently astonishing. A school of poor children having read in their chapter in the Bible the denunciatory fulminations against hypocrites who "strain at a gnat and swallow a camel," were afterwards examined by the benevolent patroness, Lady F., as to their recollections of the chapter. "What, in particular, was the sin of the Pharisees, children?" said the lady. "Ating camels, my lady," was the prompt reply. An Irish nobleman having lived to a great age in a very feeble and imbecile condition, it occurred to one of his tenants to suggest to his son and heir, "Don't you think sir, may be the poor old lord has been forgotten up there (pointing to the sky) this while past? If your honor was to take him to the top of Slieve na More and show him a little, wouldn't it be a good chance."

TASTE.—At the opening of the new Free Church at Crathie, in Scotland, Dr. Guthrie said: "I highly approve of the resolution of our friends that led them to build such a house as this; because there is no greater mistake in the world than to fancy that while God is a God of holiness, a God of power, and of justice, He is not also a God of taste, just as much as He is God of anything else that is lovely and good. And how do I prove this? you may ask. I prove that by just asking you to go to the sea shore and find out for me a shell that is not pretty. I prove that by asking you to go to those meadows and find out a flower that is not pretty. Let me tell you that the flowers would have produced their kind according to the law, although they had never been planted. It is not necessary for the rose and the lily that the one should blush so beautiful a red, and the other bloom as white as snow. God has made a useful flower—a useful rose and a useful lily—and then painted them. It is as certain as that the Bible is true that He is a God of taste, as much as He is possessed of those other attributes. And therefore it is, I say, that I rejoice in the erection of such a building for God's service. Our old stupid notion was—we abhorred Popery so much that we recoiled to the other side—that God was never so well worshipped as in an ugly house. It is a great mistake—a mistake contrary to the Bible—contrary to reason and common sense."

Morning Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

MONDAY, FEBRUARY 15, 1864.

THE REBELLION.

An expedition left Port Royal on the 5th, under Gen. Seymour, consisting of three brigades and one light battery, and landed at Jacksonville, Fla., on the morning of the 8th, without any casualties. The expedition will push on to Tallahassee.—Gen. Gilmore and staff sailed from Port Royal on the 8th to join the expedition.—Admiral Dahlgren, with the Pawnee, Water Witch and Wachusett, has sailed for St. John's, Florida.

The Savannah Republican gives a gloomy account of rebel affairs. It is stated that only one month's supply of subsistence is in possession of the Commissary.

Capt. Majors, of the 1st Nebraska Cavalry, recently captured a complete uniform and outfit for General Price, sent from St. Louis.

A report has reached Memphis that the 11th Illinois regiment has captured several hundred rebels up Yazoo river.

Refugees from Savannah report that Beauregard has removed his headquarters there in anticipation of an attack on that place. The rebels had one hundred and fifty torpedoes to float down the river.—Eight thousand troops are quartered around the city. The Georgia regiments had mutinied on account of short rations. Two blockade runners are at Savannah awaiting an opportunity to run out. The N. Y. World's letter has a doubtful report that four thousand troops had landed at James Island, near Charleston, in the rear of the rebel batteries.

A party of rebels made a raid on the Baltimore and Ohio railroad, about 8 miles west of Harper's Ferry, on Thursday night, and robbed the passengers on a train which they stopped. After the raiders had accomplished their purpose, they ran the locomotive and tender off the track, causing some injury to the engine. They then left the train, which finally proceeded on its way. It is said that the aggregate amount taken from the passengers was not less than three hundred thousand dollars, while the value of the jewelry was also large.

The Richmond papers report that on the 8th, eighteen vessels, gunboats and transports, had arrived at Jackson, Miss. The Union troops, presumed to be in large force, had landed and were advancing.

Small pox prevails at Knoxville Tenn.

— A hunter in Ohio writes to the Cincinnati Commercial that the partridges in that State were nearly all frozen to death by the late extremely cold weather. Thousands of these birds, which had been killed by the cold, are gathered by men and boys and sent to market for sale.

— A blockade runner grounded during a fog on the 7th, and was destroyed by our fleet and batteries in Charleston harbor.—She had a cargo of iron plates and other metal for the construction of iron-clads, and carried four guns. The rebels have been unable to remove any of the cargo on account of the heavy fire from our guns.

— A Memphis dispatch states that the rebel Gen. Beauregard has paid, through his agent, his United States tax on property owned by him in that city. The tax was over $100. This clearly indicates that, even if he has faith in the establishment of a Southern Confederacy, he has no hope that Tennessee will constitute a portion of it.

— There is much speculation as to the destination of the new side-wheel steamer Neracomet, 2, (double-ender) Lieut Com. Jouett, which left New York hastily ten days ago, professedly on a trial trip. It is said that she has gone abroad on some very important mission. She is very fast and carries a heavy armament.

— The British war steamer Petrel, with dispatches for Mr. Benjamin, the rebel Secretary of War, arrived off Charleston Bar on the 5th, and requested permission to communicate with the British Consul at Savannah, which Admiral Dahlgren declined to grant, and the Petrel put to sea immediately.

— One Mary Creed, about 40 years old, has been brought before a Justice in Brooklyn, N. Y., on a complaint which reads that "Mary has been and is a common nuisance, to wit: a common scold; that she quarrels with, brawls with, chides, rates and rails with ill-humor upon and against divers persons, in a clamorous, rude and vulgar manner, to the disturbance of the public peace."

— Bangor is getting to be a very naughty place. Burglars and burning and barking are as common as you please. A man by the name of Whiton was assailed by three men on Wednesday evening, beaten badly, and an attempt was made to rob him, but his cries frightened them off. On the same night a man was picked up with a bad cut in his head, having been knocked down by somebody. On Tuesday night there were four burglarious entries of shops and dwellings, making quite a haul in one of them.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— The Christian name Ai is not very uncommon, but we find an advertisement in a Concord paper signed by a gentleman whose name is Oi.

—— It is rumored that Brig. Gen. Marston is to be transferred to Norfolk, and that Col. Potter of the 12th N. H., is to be made a Brigadier General and succeed him in command of the forces at Point Lookout.

—— The store and goods of Smith & Kinne, of Hanover Center, were totally consumed by fire on Thursday night, the 4th inst. The store and goods were valued at $2,800, on which there was an insurance of $2000. The origin of the fire is not known. This is the third store that has been burned upon the same spot.

—— The subscriptions in Concord for the enlargement of the permanent funds of Dartmouth College now amount to nearly $2000, with the promise of more. A gentleman in New York city has very recently given $5000 to the College. It is hoped that money enough will be obtained in Boston to endow two Professorships.

—— J. C. A. Wingate, Esq., (of Concord, formerly of Stratham,) his wife, and one of her four sisters (daughters of Wm. Green, Esq., of Bristol,) who sailed from New York in July last for China, to the port of Swatow, in which empire Mr. Wingate had been appointed U. S. Consul, reached their destination the latter part of November.

—— The Statesman's best story this week is of a lad, about 10 years old, who representing himself as a "Substitute Broker," a few days since presented at the General Recruiting Office, in Concord, three youngsters from Manchester, between the ages of eight and twelve years, whom he desired to "sell" for two hundred dollars apiece. Not being able to make a bargain with Col. Carr, he told his "boys" he should take them to Boston, where he could do better. The circumstance was so amusing that a photograph was procured of the four chaps—all in a row on one plate.

—— The genuineness of the Clarendon Hotel letter of Ex-Pres. Pierce to Jeff. Davis, written in the latter part of 1860, has never until now been denied by any responsible person. But the other day Mr. Cox, M. C. from Ohio, arose in his place in the House of Representatives, and said it is a forgery. The letter has been lithographed, and circulated in New Hampshire, where no person ever doubted that it is the production of the reputed author. There was never a motive to commit such a forgery as the denial of Cox implies, and any person who is familiar with the hand writing of Pres. Pierce could not doubt for a moment, even without the original, which Mr. Rollins has probably before now exhibited to the doubting Buckeye.—Statesman.

—— From the Washington correspondent of the Concord Statesman we take the following items:

Mr. C. B. Haynes, formerly sheriff in Concord, has been promoted to the position of General Superintendent of Repairs at Giesborough—the head quarters of the Cavalry Bureau operations, some two miles below Washington. Hundreds of acres have there been covered with stables and other buildings, for the care and training of horses. The operations are on a colossal scale.

Charles C. Jewell, of Franklin, has been appointed to a clerkship in the Pension Record Branch of the Bureau of Surgeon General, and any person desiring information within his knowledge, proper to be communicated, in regard to deceased or disabled soldiers, will receive courteous attention. The official record of the names of all proper cases of pension are made up in this office.

Most of the drafted men, substitutes and other recruits, with which our 2d, 5th, 10th, 12th and 13th regiments have been recently furnished, are excellent soldiers. But Abram Franks, a substitute enlisted at Portsmouth, is non compos mentis; don't know which end of his musket to carry upward. Put down as 17 years old; is only 13; a slender boy, weighing less than 90 pounds. Also three other boys under 14 years of age. These have been encumbrances to the 10th regiment. Thomas Stokes, sent to the 12th regiment from Hudson, with the asthma, in its worst type; has neither drawn a quiet breath nor done a day's manual labor in 15 years. There are several more boys, and two or three of the idiotic, at Point Lookout among the recruits.

THE FENIAN BROTHERHOOD.—The Fenian Brotherhood of Philadelphia have resented, through a public meeting, the recent attack of Bishop Wood (Roman Catholic) on their organization. They deny that the Brotherhood is a secret society; adding that "the society have no oaths, signs or grips. Their constitution and by-laws are free to inspection. Fifty thousand men have subscribed their names of membership in the United States, and in the British provinces and Ireland one hundred and fifty thousand men are enrolled. The Fenian Brotherhood has not yet established any line of conduct. It has not definitely declared that they must resort to force of arms in aid of Ireland. So far, they have but exerted their energies to unite the people, and form them to one sentiment."

SOLD.—Sala, the recently imported English correspondent, writes home that he has learned on very serious and trustworthy authority that keeping Christmas was never thought of in this country until Dickens' Christmas stories were circulated.

THE ENROLLMENT BILL was passed by the U. S. House of Representatives on Friday, by a vote of 93 yeas to 60 nays. The bill as amended provides that the quota of each town, etc., shall be as nearly possible in proportion to the number of men resident therein subject to the draft, taking into account those already in the U. S. military or naval service. Any person enrolled may furnish a substitute previous to the draft, and thereby be exempt from draft during the time for which the substitute is accepted. But no private, musician or commissioned officer, actually in the service, shall be accepted as a substitute.—The Boards of Enrollment are to enroll all those omitted in the former enrollment, all who have reached the age of 20 since the draft, all aliens who declare their intention to become citizens, all persons discharged from the military or naval service who have not served 2 years during the present war, and all persons who have been exempted under the provisions of the second section of the former act, but who are not exempted by the provisions of this act. The names of all who attain the age of 45 years before the draft are to be erased from the rolls.

Any person drafted may furnish a substitute. If the substitute is not liable to draft, the person furnishing him shall be exempt during the time for which such substitute is not liable, not exceeding the term for which he was drafted; but if such substitute is liable to draft, the person furnishing him shall be liable in filling future quotas. Any drafted person paying money for the procuration of a substitute shall be relieved from draft during the time for which he was drafted, unless the names placed in the box be sooner exhausted, in which case his name shall be returned to the wheel.

Persons who shall by oath or affirmation declare that they are conscientiously opposed to bearing arms, are when drafted, to be assigned to duty in the hospitals or to the care of Freedmen, or shall pay $300, to be applied to the benefit of sick and wounded soldiers. Seamen may, within 8 days after being drafted, enlist in the navy. Pilots, engineers, masters, acting masters, acting ensigns, or acting masters' mates, are not liable to military draft while actually in the naval service.

The following persons are exempted from enrollment and draft: those physically or mentally unfit for the service, those actually in the military or naval service at the time of draft, and all persons who have served in the military or naval service two years during the present war and have been honorably discharged. The two classes heretofore provided for enrollment are consolidated.

Colored persons, heretofore enlisted in the military service, or who may hereafter be recruited, are to enjoy the benefits of the provisions of this act, as regards the payment of bounties and compensation.—The bill also contains a section for enrolling all able-bodied males of African descent, &c., upon which a separate vote was taken before the bill was passed.

REMARKABLE HOLD ON LIFE.—Maj. George N. Lewis, of the 12th regiment, is in town, stopping at the U. S. Hotel. His remarkable wound promises to heal, and his life will be saved. Not one man in ten thousand would survive such a wound. It was a canister shot, weighing about four ounces, and made a hole clear through him, shattering his collar bone and his shoulder blade, and splintering his spine. It did not displace the vertebræ, which would probably have ended his life suddenly, but it has left a hole through him, and it is said that even now a stick can be passed through it. A number of pieces of bone have been taken out.—Hartford Times.

MILITARY FUNERAL.—The funeral of Lieut. Webster, of Dover, took place Saturday Feb. 6, with military honors. He was among the first to enlist in the three months' regiment, and afterwards served in the 7th as Orderly Sergeant, but was discharged on account of ill health. When the Heavy Artillery Company was formed for duty at Portsmouth, he was commissioned as 1st Lieut.; this Company were present to pay the last tribute of respect to their officer, as was also the Strafford Guards, attended by the Dover Band.—Dover Gaz.

☞ The Earl of Carlisle has written to Mr. Hackett, the actor, intimating that it would probably strengthen the kindly feeling which ought to exist between the two nations, speaking the English language, if America would join with England in the celebration of the three hundredth anniversary of the birthday of Shakespeare. The Century Club of New York, largely composed of artists and literary men, has appointed a committee to co-operate with others in carrying out the purpose, and eminent dramatic artists, such as Mr. Hackett, Mr. Edwin Booth, and others, have bestirred themselves in the same direction.

— The recent election of Gov. Carney as U. S. Senator from Kansas is regarded as premature and illegal by the friends of Senator Lane, and they propose to contest the election.

— A movement has been begun by a number of prominent citizens of New York, in favor of erecting an Academy of Science, after the pattern of those in the large cities of Europe.

CYNTHIANA, KY., Feb. 8.

Editors Chronicle:—I enclose for your paper the following well-deserved notice of the late Col. Cross, which I cut from a Cincinnati (Ohio) daily paper:—

Yours, D. G. W.

FITTING TRIBUTE TO A BRAVE MAN. Among the many valiant soldiers furnished by the State of New Hampshire to the war, there is none who left behind a brighter record than Colonel E. E. Cross. Among the first who hurried to the defence of the country against the rebellion, he remained ever with his command, was wounded twice, and at last fell in the bloody contest at Chancellorsville.

A letter received in Cincinnati a few days since, from his relatives in the East, states that his remains have reached his former home, and that it is proposed to erect over his grave a monument worthy of the soldier and the man.

Col. CROSS was for a number of years a resident of Cincinnati, and was well known as a journalist of no mean pretensions. He had a host of friends, bound to him by his genial disposition, and the admiration his talents could not fail to command. Among those it has been suggested that a fund be raised here as a contribution from his Cincinnati acquaintances toward the proposed monument. The object is a laudable one, and should be persisted in until a structure shall mark the grave of the valiant officer, indicative of the appreciation in which he was held by those who knew him well.—Cincinnati Daily Times, Feb. 6th.

☞ An exchange states that a few evenings since, Dr. H. A. Sheldon, a travelling dentist, administered what is known as laughing gas to several persons at a public exhibition at Swanton Falls, Vt. Among the number was a daughter of Mr. W. Bell, a young lady of about seventeen years of age. The next day Miss Bell was taken sick, and died on the 3d inst., from the effects of the gas. She was a strong, robust girl, and was in apparently good health when she inhaled the gas.

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY.

SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,

Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, (under the Act of 1837,)

76 State street, opposite Kilby street,

Boston.

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with dispatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of patents or inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The Testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IN THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional service so moderate.

The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.

These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full account of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and trustworthy practitioners, or a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.

Mr. R. H Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but ONE of which patents have been granted, and that is now pending. Such unmistakeable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges."
JOHN TAGGART.

During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made one note rejected applications SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents. R. H. EDDY.

HUNNEWELL'S Eclectic Pills—The true Type of Cathartic.—By the application of true Pharmaceutical Laws, both Character and Economy are combined in this valuable Pill. To prevent putting such quantities of indigestible drugs into the stomach, the griping pains so generously judged to be the evidence of thorough action, and to require from 4 to 6 Pills, to get a decent cathartic, was the study in this development. The dose seldom exceeding One, and never more than Two Pills, settles the question of economy, and character can be best known by evidence in test them in DYSPEPSIA, COSTIVENESS, BILIOUSNESS, LIVER COMPLAINT, all derangements of the stomach and Bowels, and as a family Pill.

RYE, N. H., Feb. 20, 1863. "I hereby certify that my daughter has had the salt rheum for a number of years—some of the time so badly as to prevent her labor, or even rest—as it affected her hands very much. A large sum had been expended to the most celebrated physicians, for Sarsaparilla Syrups, &c., but she obtained no relief until I procured some ten or twelve bottles of DR. SWETT'S PANACEA, and several bottles of his Humor Wash, which have effected a cure. There can be no mistake, as this cure was effected more than three years ago. No other medicines can equal Dr. Swett's in removing the various kinds of humors. I have sold it to a number of my acquaintances, who were afflicted, and witnessed many full cures effected by it since I have acted as agent for the sale of it. JOSIAH JENNESS.

PORTSMOUTH, April 21st, 1862.

I have for several years been afflicted with distress at my stomach, loss of appetite, and often vomited up all of my food immediately after eating it, and all medicine failed to give any relief until about a year ago, when I took one bottle of DR. S. SWETT'S PANACEA, which fully cured me, so that I have not had the least trouble from any of these complaints since, and I enjoy good health. M. LOWD.

From ELDER I CHESLEY, Lee, Mass 31, 1841

Dr. SWETT: Permit me to testify, as I feel in duty bound to do, that my daughter was afflicted with scrofulous humor, and that previous to your visiting our house in the spring of 1840, she had been confined for a number of months, without her natural rest by day or night. She had applied to a number of physicians, but continued to grow weaker till she commenced using your PANACEA and HUMOR WASH. Since then, she has recovered her health so far as to rest quietly by night, and labor by day. I esteem your medicine one of the best that can be found for the disease above named." ISRAEL CHESLEY

☞ Any one returning the remainder of a bottle or box of Dr. Swett's medicines shall have pay for it, if it do not agree with his case, or if not worth the price. All orders directed to DR. S. SWETT, No 7 High street, Portsmouth, N. H., promptly attended to. may26

DR. TEBBETTS' PHYSIOLOGICAL HAIR REGENERATOR —AND— UNIVERSAL HAIR RESTORER.

ITS MODUS OPERANDI.

Immediately beneath the scalp there are very small glands, or, more commonly Follicles of the Hair. It is from these Glands that every hair of the head is formed and secreted. As long as the scalp is free from disease, these bodies are healthy, and the hair keeps its natural appearance and color. But when humors and other diseases affect the scalp, these glands become involved in the same disease, and the hair then turns gray, dry and brittle. Sooner or later the hair begins to fall out, and in many cases, if not arrested, will produce a complete baldness of the scalp.

To remedy this pathological condition of the glands and create a new and healthy action, the Physiological Hair Regenerator has proved a perfect success—inasmuch as it is the only preparation ever known that can boast of such wonderful results.

Unlike thousands of other articles in the market, containing Silver, Lime, Lead, Litharge, Iodine, Sulphur, &c., and producing only a sort of yellow or fake color, it will, if properly applied restore the hair to its former appearance and beauty.

The Physiological Hair Regenerator is warranted in all cases to produce the following results:

1. It is not a Dye and will not stain a single particle. It contains no coloring matter whatever, and is not the least injurious in its application.

2. It will certainly RESTORE the hair from a gray to a beautiful Black, Brown, Auburn, or whatever might have been its original color.

3. It will effectually prevent the hair from falling off, remove all heat, inflammation and Dandruff from the scalp, keeping the head clean and cool, and the hair soft, glossy and of a healthy appearance

4. It will PROMOTE a luxuriant growth of new hair on bald heads, except in extreme cases of old age and where the glands have become disorganized.

5. It will cure the most inveterate itching and neuralgia of the scalp, and being highly perfumed, it affords a most delightful article for the toilet.

We have a great abundance of testimony to prove beyond a doubt all that we claim for the Regenerator; and it is positively certain that in a very short time it will have a world wide reputation.

HOME TESTIMONY.

BEDFORD, N. H. Dec. 17, 1863.

Messrs. Tebbetts Brothers—The preparation you induced me to try on my hair, about six weeks ago, has done a wonderful effect. My hair was then almost white and now it is almost black. My daughter has also tried it on her hair, which was fast falling off on account of a severe attack of the diphtheria; it stopped it immediately on its application. My wife has also been trying it for baldness on top of her head, and finds that a new growth of hair is rapidly starting. We have only used one bottle, and I think one more will fix our heads up in good shape. J. C. CUTLER.

MANCHESTER, Dec. 20, 1863.

Gents—Unless I am very much mistaken, your Hair Regenerator is destined, ere long, to work a complete revolution with all other Hair Preparations. It not only restores the hair to its natural color and keeps the head free from Dandruff, but it is the most beautiful dressing that can be prepared. My hair, without any apparent cause, began to turn gray when about thirteen years of age, and had been gradually increasing for more than ten years, when about two months ago I began the use of your Regenerator, and it has completely astonished all my friends to see my hair brought back to its natural color, which is almost a complete black. It is the only thing, unless it was a regular Hair Dye, that I ever knew would produce such effect. It also keeps the head so clean and free from scurf, that it makes a very nice dressing. JACOB J. ABBOTT.

SELECTMEN, BE CAREFUL!

As the time approaches for posting the Warrants for Town Meetings, and Check List Notices, the Selectmen of the different towns in the State should look well to their duties.

The correct and reasonable posting of these documents is one of the most important offices, inasmuch as the legality of elections depends almost entirely upon it.

If will be remembered that the careless performance of this duty, nullified the elections in several towns last year.

EX-PRESIDENT'S PIERCE'S LETTER.—There was a singular episode in the debate Friday on the Confiscation resolution. Mr. Rollins of New Hampshire interrupted Mr. Smith of Kentucky to read the following paragraph from Ex-President Pierce's reasonable letter:

"Without discussing the question of right — of abstract power to secede — I have never believed that actual disruption of the Union can occur without blood, and if through the madness of Northern abolitionism that dire calamity must come, the fighting will not be along Mason's and Dixon's line merely. It will be within our own borders, in our streets," etc. etc. The paragraph is familiar to New England people.

Mr. Rollins made the fool-point upon this letter that the rebellion was indeed by just such representations on the part of Northern democrats to the chiefs of the rebellion.

Mr. COX of Ohio denied that Mr. Pierce ever wrote such a letter, and declared it to be a forgery. This will be news to New Hampshire people. Mr. Pierce and the organs of the democratic party in New Hampshire have never denied that it is a genuine document, and the original document in Mr. Pierce's handwriting is now at Concord. It has been sent for, and the subject will be brought up again in the House.

MORE OF MARCY.—Last week, Mr. Grinnell, of Iowa, introduced the following Preamble and Resolution :—

Whereas, The war policy of the Government has brought into service, as soldiers and laborers, colored men and persons claiming to be held as slaves by rebels and who have rendered valuable service to the army; and whereas, the further employment of colored troops would relieve the demands for Northern labor, and prevent men of that section from being taking from their homes and industrial pursuits; therefore, be it

Resolved, That a more vigorous policy, in order to secure a larger number of recruits of African descent in the army, would meet the approbation of this House.

This very reasonable proposition tending to "relieve the demands for Northern labor," and "to prevent men of that section from being taken from their homes and industrial pursuits," passed by a vote of 80 yeas to 40 nays. But among the nays is recorded the name of Daniel Marcy of New Hampshire. He and his brother Copperheads are ready enough to croak about a draft, but they are opposed to any measure whereby men of "African descent" may relieve the white men of the North from the burdens of the war.

CLASSES IN THE NEW GYMNASTICS.—There is a new interest astir here in the very delightful system of Dr. Dio Lewis. It is a singular peculiarity of the New Gymnastics, that they are as well adapted to the strongest man, and in a favorable degree to the weakest woman, quickening the blood, nerves, heart, and mind, and arousing the dormant vital energies of the system to healthy action. It is also a social and laugh inspiring means of health, more valuable, as a preservative and restorer, than the services of all the physicians together — in many of the ills that [American] flesh is heir to." Dr. Lewis has done much for the life and health of American women, and deserves credit for the energy with which he has pursued the subject and spread his doctrines through hundreds of communities; but it remains for posterity to do him the greatest honor in handing down his name as one of the benefactors of mankind.

Miss Haskell, who is at present forming classes here, is one of Dr. Lewis' pupils, and is in herself a striking evidence of the beneficial effects of a persistent use of the New Gymnastics. By her close application to her duties as a school teacher, she had a year ago impaired her health, and was at the verge of consumption. Now she is a very Hebe of health, all for her practice of gymnastics. She has already one large class in Portsmouth; — and, as another is being formed, affords an opportunity to those who may wish to join a second class. The members of the first class are entering into the exercises with daily increasing interest.

PORTSMOUTH GYMNASIUM, is as flourishing as ever. The old and new styles of exercise are both in vogue here, and the company in attendance could not be better. It has happily met the favor of those who would most naturally interest themselves in such matters, and thus the proprietors have been enabled to make such additions to the apparatus as were evidently required from time to time, until they, and others friends to the gymnasium, have supplied every thing needful for such an institution.

Now, as the coldest weather of winter passes away, comes the time for "practice;" and the Company are desirous of filling their subscription list with a goodly array of young men — and young ladies also, if they will but take hold. The location upon the river bank is delightful; and by opening the room fresh air to any amount needed may be had. The keys may be had of the Treasurer, or of Mr. Joe H. Foster.

HOLDEN'S PREMIUM WRITING FLUID.—This ink flows very freely, is said not to mould, becomes a deep black, after having written with it, and is for sale ale by Mr. Wm. B. Loud.

The death of George Olcott, Esq., of Charlestown, N. H., is announced. Mr. Olcott was the son of Chief Justice Olcott of the old Superior Court, and afterwards chosen a Senator of the U. S., Mr. O. left the bar forty years ago, and has been Cashier of the Connecticut River Bank, at C. since.

ACCIDENT.—Owing to some miscalculation of time, a collision occurred, on Thursday morning, 4th inst., on the Portsmouth Road between the up freight and down passenger trains. It occurred just below the Auburn Station. The engines met with a crash, and the cars were somewhat damaged, but the passengers, including six carloads of soldiers of the Invalid Corps, on their way to Portland, were fortunately unhurt.

VALUABLE MEDICINAL
ROOTS AND HERBS,
Prepared by WM. H. GREGG, M.D.,
Graduate College Physicians and Surgeons, N.Y.
formerly Assistant Physician Blackwell's Island Hospital, Surgeon Hospital Department New York State Volunteer Depots, under Gov. Edwin D. Morgan.

Constitution Life Syrup
HAS PRODUCED
A REVOLUTION IN MEDICINE!

What may seem almost incredible, is, that many diseases hitherto considered hopelessly incurable are frequently cured in a few days or weeks, and we cheerfully invite the investigation of the liberal minded and scientific to cases which have no parallel at the present day.

Our medicine is peculiar, by it the seat of disease is directly reached, and the equilibrium restored. Those who have suffered long from painful and obstinate diseases, those who have vainly sought relief from advertised nostrums, those who cannot be cured by other physicians—are invited to use Constitution Life Syrup.

During the past five years we have contended with obstacles and overcome opposition so herculean as ever encountered by any reformers.

Rapidity of Cure.

Some say, "Your cures are too quick," while others doubt their permanence, and think that diseases should be cured by the "slow recuperative process of Nature." This is our reply:

In health, the body, like a well-balanced scale, is in a state of equilibrium. But if we turn from and cause in one side of the scale, we have the effects of disease. What is requisite is, to restore the normal balance of the scale.

CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP,

A powerful restorative remedy for all diseases originating from an IMPURE STATE OF THE BLOOD, and for all (hereditary) DISEASES transmitted from PARENT TO CHILD.

Paralysis.

Hemiplegia, Parent, Deciplegia, Paralysis Agitans.

It is so universally admitted that Constitution Life Syrup is the only effective means of restoration in the various forms of Paralysis, that we need not reiterate that it is emphatically the Great Life-Giving Power.

Dyspepsia.

Indigestion, Liver Complaint, Constipated, Weight Stitch, Sick Headache, Want of appetite, Flatulence, Bad Breath.

Scrotula.

Strume, Glandular Swellings, Ulcerations, King's Evil, Syphilis, Sore Throat, Sore Eyes.

This taint (hereditary or acquired), filling life with untold misery, is by all equal medical remedies incurable.

Rheumatism.

Arthritic, Neuralgic, Gout, Lumbago, Sciatica, The Dolorous.

If there is any disease in which the Constitution Life Syrup is a sovereign, it is in Rheumatism and its kindred affections. The most intense pains are almost instantly alleviated—enormous swellings are reduced. Cases, chronic or vicarious, of 20 or 30 years standing, have been cured by us.

Nervousness.

Nervous Debility, Confusion of Thought, Epilepsy, Loss of Power, Shattered Nerves, St. Vitus' Dance.

Thousands who have suffered for years will bless the day on which they read these lines. Particularly to those suffering from the effects of medicine prove an inestimable blessing—directing their footsteps to a Hope which fulfils more than it promises.

Mercurial Diseases.

Salivation, Fushing of Weariness, Rotting of Bones, Bad Complexion, Aches in Bones, Depressed Spirits.

Constitution Life Syrup purges the system entirely from all the evil effects of MERCURY, removing the Bad Breath, and curing the Weak Joints and Rheumatic Pains which the use of Calomel is sure to produce. It heals the Spongy Gums and secures the Teeth as firmly as ever.

Constitution Life Syrup
Eradicates, root and branch, all Eruptive Diseases of the Skin, such as

ULCERS, PIMPLES, BLOTCHES.

And all other difficulties of this kind, which so much disfigure the outward appearance of both males and females, often making them a disgusting object to themselves and their friends.

CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP
Cures all Swellings of the Glands,

Either of the Face, Neck or Female Breast, and should be taken as soon as swelling is detected, thus preventing their breaking and producing troublesome Discharging sores, which disfigure so many of the young ladies of our community, from six to twenty years of age. Young children are very subject to Discharges from the Ears, which often open upon a scrofulous condition. These cases seen recover by taking a few doses of the Life Syrup.

All females suffering from Debility, Emaciation, Dyspepsia, Dropsy, of the limbs or abdomen, and in the female Dropsy of the ovaries and womb, generally accompanied with inflammation and ulceration of the ovaries, are permanently cured by Constitution Life Syrup. The disease known as Goitre or Swelled Neck, the Life Syrup removes entirely. The ovaries should be taken for some time, as the disease is exceedingly chronic and stubborn, and will not be removed without persistence. Tumors of the Ovaries, Tumors of the Breast, and swelling of other glands of the body will be completely removed without resorting to the knife or operations of any kind.

Epileptic Fits, Sympathetic or Organic Diseases of the Heart (so Calpitation, Palpitation, Fluttering, producing a grating or filing sound), Dropsy of the Heart Case and all the affections of this important organ, or proceeding from any acute pain in the region of the heart, will be greatly relieved by Constitution Life Syrup.

Broken-Down and Delicate Constitutions, Suffering from Indisposition to Exercise, Pain in the Back, Loss of Appetite, Coated Tongue, Horror of Company, Fear of Disease, Dimness of Vision, Dry Hot Skin and Extremities, Want of Sleep, Restlessness, Pale Haggard Countenance, Nervous Weakness of the Muscular System, all require the aid of the CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP.

For all forms of Ulcerative Diseases, either of the Nasal Bones, Throat, Soft Palate, Tonsils or scalp, no remedy has ever proved its equal.

MOTH PATCHES upon the female face, depredate so many young ladies and ladies, to the very unpleasant of the young wife and mother. A few bottles of Constitution Life Syrup will correct the secretions and remove the deposit which is directly under the skin.

In Diseases of the Liver, giving rise to languor, dizziness, weak stomach, costiveness, or an inclination or cancerous condition of that organ, accompanied with burning or other unpleasant symptoms, great relief is obtained by the use of CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP.

☞ As a general Blood-Purifying Agent, the Life Syrup stands unrivalled by any preparation in the world.

Diseases of the Spine, so usually developed in the young, Hip Disease, Neuralgia, and all Nervous Diseases, and Ladies who are suffering from diseases for which they are at a loss to know what to do, we would advise the use of CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP. It will restore their pallid countenance, strengthen their weak back and side, give them new energy, new life and happiness.

THE RICH AND POOR are liable to the same diseases. Nature and Science have made the Constitution Life Syrup for the benefit of all.

FEMALE DELICACY induces many men and women; and if the constitution is neglected in youth, disease and early death are the results. Do not delay, but take the case as we hear at hand, and within the reach of all.

TO MOTHERS AND MARRIED LADIES.

It is the only safe and effectual medicine ever discovered for purifying the system and relieving the suffering attendant upon childbirth. It strengthens both the mother and the child, prevents early decay, and gives a healthy relishing the food—Those who have used it think it indispensable. It is highly useful both before and after confinement, as it prevents disease attendant upon childbirth.

LAST AND BEST.

THE MODEL COOK.

AN AIR-TIGHT STOVE,

WITH TWO OVENS,

And Five Boiling Places!

At the present high prices of fuel it is very desirable to lessen its consumption. This can be best accomplished by using a MODEL COOK STOVE. More cooking can be done in one with a single ton of coal, or cord of wood, than with double the quantity in any common stove or range—and in less time also

The fire being placed in the centre of the stove, with an oven on either side (which may be thrown into one at pleasure), all the heat from the fuel is made available for cooking purposes.

The oven doors are lined with tin, and jackets are provided for the bottom and back of the stove, thus retaining much heat, ordinarily wasted.

A check draft is applied, by means of which much fuel is saved, and a continuous fire may be kept as long as desirable.

A Water Tank and Hot Closet can be applied to either size, when needed.

In fact, no pains or expense have been spared to make this a PERFECT Stove, and we think it surpasses all others for Economy, Durability, Capacity, Convenience, Beauty of Design and Adaptedness of Finish.

It is equally well adapted for Coal or Wood; Summer or Winter use; excellent in a family where help is employed, and invaluable to the housewife who does her own work, lightening it at least one-half.

No family, large or small, where economy, convenience and dispatch are desirable, should be without one.

We refer to some parties who have purchased the Model Cook—

A Great Variety of Cheaper Stoves
FOR WOOD OR COAL,
E. A. STEVENS'S
House Furnishing Establishment,
NO. 46 MARKET STREET.

THE MAGEE
COOKING STOVE.

The subscriber, having received his Fall stock of Stoves, would especially call the attention of the public to the

CELEBRATED AND UNEQUALLED
MAGEE COOK STOVE,

as the very best Stove yet made, and would invite those about purchasing or exchanging Stoves, to examine this, believing it to be far superior to any other Stove yet invented, the casting being heavier, and the oven larger than usual. The oven plates are covered with plaster, which renders it equal to the old-fashioned brick oven for perfection in baking.

There is a new style and very superior broiler and sad iron heater combined, by which the odor of broiling meats are prevented from escaping into the room. With the extension top there is a large copper Reservoir for hot water; also a large tin warming-closet attached, in which any article can be kept warm, while the other parts of the Stove are occupied for other purposes.

The arrangements for sifting the coal and cleaning the grate are far superior to those of any other Stove now in use, as no dust can possibly escape into the room, and the shovelling up of the ashes is entirely dispensed with. The fire is regulated in the same manner as in the MAGEE PARLOR STOVE, and can be continued day and night for weeks together, thus saving the expense of kindling every day.

For economy, durability, ease of management, cleanliness and perfection in cooking, it cannot be surpassed by any other Stove, as hundreds of families in this city and vicinity, who are now using them, are willing to testify, and speak of them in the highest terms of praise.

We would refer to the following purchasers:

"MAGEE'S PATENT"
VENTILATING & AIR-WARMING
FURNACES.

The subscriber, being the Sole Agent in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of this valuable Furnace, would ask those about remodelling or erecting Buildings to examine this truly valuable invention.

For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, moist and agreeable—and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pots is used for respiration, the tendency to produce headache so much complained of in other Furnaces, is entirely obviated.

The objects aimed at by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given quantity of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.

To accomplish this many complicated and expensive heating arrangements have been constructed, some possessing but little improvement over former methods, while others have proved a total failure. The reason for this is obvious. The combustible gases being lighter than the air, pass off into the pipe or chimney without being consumed. This objection, so common in other Furnaces, is obviated in the

MAGEE FURNACE.

The flue or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot descend, and are burned up by the admission of cold air through the fire-pot, which ignites them as they pass off from the coal, heating the air to least 20 per cent. of the properties of the heat in the fuel.

No heating apparatus with the smoke-pipe or flue on the top of the cone can be made to consume the gases of the coal, as they pass off with a large amount of the heat generated, making the chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.

This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.

These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.

For ease of management, economy and purity of air, these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire may be kept in the entire season without once going out.

They give entire satisfaction wherever used.

We have in store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world, and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:

Samuel Cleaves, Esq., Albert H. Hatch, Esq.,
Aaron H. Hill, Charles H. Mendum,
Henry F. Wendell, John Sise, and others.

"Boundless as party—to no sect confined:
The world our home; our brethren, all mankind.
Love truth, do good, be just and fair with all;
Exalt the right, though every sun fall."

"Let me warn you in the most solemn manner against the baneful effects of the spirit of Party, generally. It is a spirit not to be encouraged—Its common and continual mischief is sufficient to make it the interest and duty of a wise people to discourage and restrain it. In governments of the popular form, it is seen in its greatest rankness, and is truly their worst enemy.'—Washington's Farewell Address — The Boston Advertiser (good authority) says: We don't think that anybody need fear that Capt. Sherrard Osborne, of the English Navy, has sold either himself or his fleet to the rebels.

— After the debate in the French Chamber on the 11th, MM. Thiers and Berryer, it is said, received on one day each about four thousand cards—a sign of the strong approval of their speeches.

Boston.
After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications and Bonds, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with dispatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of patents or inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching patents, or the rights of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.
The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions unsurpassed, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The Testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate.
The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.
These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full records of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.
All necessity of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.
TESTIMONIALS.
"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse."
CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.
"I have no hesitation in advising inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.
Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges."
JOHN TAGGART.
During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents.

TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 16, 1864.

THE REBELLION.

A letter from Newbern, N. C., Feb. 9, in the Hartford Press, denies the report that the rebels had returned and had again invested that place.

3000 Texans on the 5th inst. attacked on the Yazoo some gunboats of Sherman's and Porter's expedition, with artillery and musketry, but were driven off. A rebel lieutenant and two privates, who murdered a sick negro soldier, a straggler from his regiment, were captured, and, in retaliation, were blindfolded and caused to kneel on the dead body of the negro they had murdered, when they were shot.

Moseby has been skirmishing with and dashing upon our pickets near Manassas, but a cavalry force has gone out in pursuit of him. It is reported that two or three of our pickets were killed.

Fifty guerrillas were killed and sixty-three taken prisoners in the Tennessee counties bordering on Kentucky, last week.

Ten of the guerrilla party that stopped the train on the Baltimore and Ohio railroad and robbed the passengers, were overtaken and captured in a few hours. From the best information it does not seem that they numbered over 38. Our cavalry is still on the hunt. The guerrillas consisted of some of the chivalry and rebel-sympathizing Baltimoreans.

Government has no information of Cumberland Gap being cut off from communication with Knoxville, as reported. Were it so, the War Department would undoubtedly have been informed ere this.

The N. Y. Herald's Vicksburg correspondent reports Jackson and Yazoo City in the hands of Gen. Sherman, after a slight skirmish, attended with little loss to our forces. With this success we have obtained possession of a fine foraging country. Gens. Hurlburt and McPherson took possession of Jackson, while Yazoo City was occupied by Col. Coates, after a short fight at Sartalia, where the enemy made some show of resistance and killed a few of our men.

A Chattanooga dispatch of the 12th inst. says there was a great affray in Johnston's army on the 9th inst. The 2d Kentucky regiment refused en masse to be conscripted and were placed under guard of the 3d Alabama. Col. Woodward, Major Lewis and three captains of the 2d Kentucky, fired revolvers into the Alabama regiment, killing and wounding 42. Both regiments broke in disorder.

Jeff. Davis has issued a proclamation to the rebel soldiers, thanking them for re-enlisting, and anticipating success for them in the Spring campaign.

The N. Y. Herald's Washington dispatch says it is reported to military authorities in Washington that troops from Gen. Lee's army and Beauregard's army at Charleston are being sent to other points in the Confederacy, probably to Mobile, Atlanta, and Knoxville. It is said that positive information has been received that Gen. Lee has only 30,000 infantry on the Rapidan, though his cavalry is being reinforced.

The army at Chattanooga some days ago was under marching orders; Gen. Logan has left Huntsville, Ala., with the 15th army corps; and the cavalry expedition under Grierson and Smith, has crossed the country from Corinth, going southerly: it is thought that a grand flank movement on Johnston's army is intended.

Adm. Lee reports the destruction of four more blockade running steamers,—one by the Sassacus.

☞ We learn from the Boston Journal that it is proposed to hold the projected meeting of delegates from the various Agricultural societies of New England, who contemplate the formation of a New England Agricultural Society, at Worcester, Mass., on Wednesday, March 2, in connection with the Stock Breeder's Association, which meets at the same time and place.—This movement for a New England Society of Agriculturists originated with the Massachusetts State Board of Agriculture, but they did not intend to direct in any way the plan or organization of the society. They only urge upon the agriculturists of the several New England States the importance of lending their aid to an enterprise of such importance.

☞ The Hong Kong Trade Report of December 14, after giving some account of the trouble between Capt. Osborn and the Chinese authorities, in relation to the fleet of steamers sent out from England, says: "Captain Osborn consequently returned to Shanghae, registered the vessels as British at the consulate, dispatched them—part for England, and part for Bombay. They have all left ere this—and thus ends the singular act of officious unacceptable high reaching interference." A letter received in Boston from an American residing in China states that "the fleet has been sent back to England to be sold. Had it not been for the exertions of Mr. Burlingame it would have been disbanded and sold here at the risk of their being taken for pirates by the agents of the Confederates, of whom there are many China."

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— They manufacture scythes at Littleton at the rate of 50 dozen per week.

—— Some of the "medicine men" of the Contoocook Valley met at Peterboro' recently, and voted to strike for higher pay.

—— The order of Knights Templars are talking about a ball in Concord in the course of a few weeks.

—— Mrs. Sarah Blood, of Londonderry, aged 91, has made army drawers, the past winter, at the rate of 25 pairs per week.

—— Mr. Lemuel Chase, of Sandwich, lost four children by diptheria in one week, three of them being buried in one grave.

—— A little child fell upon a stove, in Manchester, one day last week, and was quite badly burned.

—— Cyrus Taft, of Richmond, was instantly killed on the 5th, while felling trees, a limb falling and striking him upon the head.

—— The Pleasant street Baptist Society of Concord, Rev. E. E. Cummings, have made improvements and repairs in their church edifice to the amount of $1700.

—— As a party of men were cutting down trees near Auburn, on Wednesday, a tree fell in such a manner as to strike two oxen—one of each pair, owned by Mr. Gilman Clough, of Manchester, injuring them so severely that it was necessary to kill them immediately.

—— The Wolfboro' News says: "We regret to say that the sloop "Franklin Pierce" has met with another mishap.—Sometime during the past week, while lying at the wharf, she took a very heavy southerly lurch and went to the bottom. She seemed bound to illustrate the destiny of her illustrious namesake."

—— Dr. William Perry, of Exeter, who is widely known as a Physician and Surgeon of rare attainments, invites his friends to meet him at his home in that town on Monday evening, Feb. 22d,—that being the 50th anniversary of the day on which he first offered his profesional services to the people of that town.

—— Two women, who stole some yarn, on spools, from a mill in Milton Mills, were detected, and returned the yarn nicely wound in balls. A store in the same town was entered while the proprietor was at supper, on Thursday evening, and robbed of about $30 in money, a small quantity of tobacco, &c. The guilty parties have owned up, but the Rochester Courier, to which we are indebted for these two items, states that the matter is still under investigation.

—— Invincible Hook and Ladder Co., No. 1, of Dover, Capt. Mark F. Nason, will give their Annual Ball at City Hall, on Washington's Birth-day Evening, Monday, Feb. 22nd. Savage's Vocal and Instrumental Band of Boston, has been engaged for the occasion, and nothing will be left undone by those having the management of the affair, to make this one of the most pleasant gatherings of this popular company. Success to the Invincibles.

THE SUNKEN IRON-CLADS.—Information has been received from Charleston in relation to raising the iron-clads Weehawken and Keokuk. The workmen had already made considerable efforts to get up the Keokuk, which were crowned with comparative success, when the weather became so unfavorable that the work had to be stopped. It is supposed that by this time the operations have recommenced. The Weehawken, it is feared, cannot be got up, too much time having elapsed before efforts were made to raise her. It is stated positively that the sinking of the Weehawken was owing, as stated originally, to the negligence of the executive officer, in leaving one of the forward hatches open. The Weehawken is valued at $450,000, and the Keokuk at about half that sum.

PATRIOTIC DEDICATION.—The new and beautiful and commodious Unitarian Church in San Francisco was, as our readers have learned, solemnly dedicated to the worship of God on the 10th ult. The following Sunday evening witnessed another and peculiar consecration of the spacious edifice. The pulpit was draped with an elegant Union flag; an address was delivered by the pastor, Rev. T. S. King, from the text: "Where the Spirit of the Lord is, there is Liberty;" an original hymn written by Whittier for the occasion, and which has already been printed in the Transcript, was sung to original music; Mrs. Howe's "Battle Hymn" was also a part of the service. The church was crammed with a loyal audience. Thus appropriately to demands of the hour, the building was offered to the country's cause, and pledged to the support of freedom and humanity. Thus, too, did the determined patriotism of the Golden city give one more manifestation of its indomitable resolution to sustain the republic undivided in its territory, and faithful to the democratic ideas in which it had its foundation. The religion of California rightly includes love of country as involved in obedience to the two great Commandments.—Boston Transcript.

— The immense 20-inch Rodman gun was cast at Pittsburg on the 11th inst. It will carry a solid shot of 1000 pounds, or a shell of 750 pounds. Report says it is to be mounted on one of the forts in New York harbor.

— A Detroit letter to the New York Herald says a great number of rebel deserters are flitting through the North as incendiaries; some are even to ship as crews of vessels and act as pirates at sea. The story is given for what it is worth.

— 109 Union officers have escaped from the Libby prison by digging a tunnel under the street. It is supposed that they had been at the work for at least a month.—They were missed at roll call, and forthwith troops were dispatched in various directions to capture them.

— At a meeting in St. Louis a few evenings since, Judge Tibbets of Arkansas, an original Union man, having been called upon for some remarks, said that every Union man in the South was an immediate emancipationist; that the slaveholders of the South had made up their minds for immediate emancipation, and that soon there would be more radicalism in the South than in the North.

☞ All the chief-engineers in the service have signed a memorial to Congress for an increase of pay, for the establishment of the grade of fleet-engineer, for a school for the education of engineers, and that first assistant-engineers may be admitted to mess in the ward-room. They can obtain much greater pay than the law now allows them at private machine shops, and unless their compensation is made more commensurate with their services they are of opinion that the Navy will lose some of its most valuable engineer officers.

— Walton's Journal says: Last week Bennington county, Vt., produced live grasshoppers and new sugar, and on January 28th, equally precocious Rutland blowed its horn on mosquitoes.

Local.

THE "NON COMPOS."—We quoted in Monday morning's Chronicle, a statement from the Washington correspondence of the Concord Statesman, that "Abram Franks, a substitute enlisted at Portsmouth, is non compos mentis," etc. We are informed that this man Franks came here from Portland, gave his age as 36, stated that he was born at Presnitz, Poland, and was a tailor by occupation; his general appearance was that of a person fully competent to become a soldier,—and his course of conduct in making arrangements to receive his bounty, &c., did not at all tend to convince those who saw him that he was non compos mentis. We feel assured that as much discrimination was exercised at the Provost Marshal's office in this city, in sending off men to the army, as at any other.

ADDITIONAL LYCEUM LECTURES.—There is a probability that two additional lectures will be given in the Citizens' Lyceum Course this witer. Mr. Gough, who closes up the course, cannot make it convenient to come to Portsmouth until the 1st of April. This will leave a wide gap in the Course, which, we understand, will be filled up by extra lectures. The Association are fortunate in having funds to give this extra entertainment. The ticket holders would more than get their money's worth at the close of the tenth lecture.

☞ We learn from the Lyceum committee that the engagements of Henry Ward Beecher and E. A. Chapin are such that it will be impossible for them to lecture in Portsmouth this winter.

☞ $3000 Portsmouth Sixes, 1874, were sold in Boston by J. L. Henshaw, on Saturday, at 100 1-4.

☞ We learn that the Messrs. Stimpsons, of Kittery, have purchased the Rice estate of that town and have quite a large gang of wood cutters employed in clearing the land and bringing the wood to market. They have already cut 1000 cords of pine wood and have sold and delivered $6000 worth of timber at the Portsmouth Navy Yard.

☞ The National Guard talk of celebrating the 22d of February by a parade during some portion of the day and a Ball in the evening.

☞ A cargo of wood (75 cords) was shipped from Kittery to Boston, on Monday morning, per Schooner Ella.

Messrs. Editors:—Please to allow me to state an instance of triumph in optics.—Miss E. C., now eighteen years old, was born blind, and when an infant was operated on for cataract in both eyes, in one of which the operation destroyed the eye: in the other the operation was partially successful, making an opening through the cataract permanently about the size of a pin's head, enabling her to see sufficiently well to get about town, but not to read or to recognise her friends. Her mother and other friends had talked of getting her into the Asylum for the Blind for years, but the mother was very poor and the girl never went.

I saw her and told her and her mother that she could see to read if she had the right kind of glasses. She had tried numerous spectacles, including cataract glasses, but failed to get any that were of any service to her until an optician, by the name of C. C. Babbett, came into town, saw her, and fitted her with glasses so that she is able to see the finest print. She has learned to read and write quite well, having never read a word or letter before.

But the process by which he fitted her with glasses is the singular part of it. He first tried the highest number of cataract glasses on and she could only see inch type distinctly with them; then he put over them the next highest number of cataract glasses and then she could see distinctly half-inch type. He then put the next highest number of cataract glasses on over the other two pairs, and then she could see distinctly the smallest type; and then by calculating the power of the three glasses he found them to amount to two of the highest number.—He therefore had these two high numbers set in the same bows, one in front of the other, like a telescope: and with these high powered double cataract glasses she is enabled to read perfectly, which is a great triumph of optical skill rarely seen.

Without this circumstance of a skillful optician being taken to the house of this poor girl, and this peculiar trial made with glasses for her, she probably never would have seen to read: partly because she was very poor and unable to see to earn anything, and her friends had no faith in any farther trial with glasses for her, and partly because most opticians would have tried different glasses only separately, and failing to suit her eyes in that way (and fail they would,) they would have given it up as a hopeless case. This case is related so that if any person is similarly afflicted and hears of this, they may know what steps to take to select glasses to fit them. F.

☞ James's Panorama of the War is to be exhibited at the Temple this evening.

☞ We are informed that Mr. John F. Shephard, late Second Clerk at the Provost Marshal's office in this city, has received an appointment in the office of Quartermaster John S. Godfrey, at Point Lookout, Va., and will soon leave for his new post of duty.

☞ Prof. E. M. Dunbar, of Baltimore, Md., is announced to speak in this city for the Union Republicans, on Wednesday, Feb. 17.

☞ Grandma Young, M. D., has returned, and will remain at the City Hotel until Saturday, Feb. 27. Rooms Nos. 3 and 4, second floor. She has just received a fresh supply of roots and herbs. Consultations free. Do not forget her book,—price $1. Every family should have one. Sold by herself only. D51*

☞ Lieut. Col. Freemantle, who passed a few days in Charleston, S. C., in his book entitled "Three months in the Southern States," says that Beauregard's hair was getting very gray; the romantic attributed it to the anxiety of the last two years; but the real reason is that the strictness of the blockade deprives him of dye.

☞ Orders solicited and filled with dispatch.

☞ Is it possible that any soldier can be so foolish as to leave the city without a supply of Holloway's Ointment and Pills!—Whoever does so will deeply regret it. These medicines are the only certain cure for bowel complaints, fevers, sores and scurvy. Only 30 cents per box or pot. 223

TRIAL AND FRIENDSHIP.—Herrick Allen's Gold Medal Saleratus has had a trial among three million families, and is pronounced the best Saleratus in the known world. Its use always brings a smile to the household; it keeps them in health; it helps make the weak strong, and saves hundreds from that dreadful disease, dyspepsia. As you value health, use it. Most of the Grocers sell it. Depot 112 Liberty Street, New York.

☞ See you fair maiden in another column, picking Sambuci Grapes for Speer's Wine. It is an admirable article, used in hospitals, and by the first class families in Paris, London and New York, in preference to old Port wine. It is worth a trial, as it gives great satisfaction. 1y.

RYE, N. H., Feb. 26, 1846. "I hereby certify that my daughter has had the salt rheum for a number of years—some of the time so badly as to prevent her labor, or even rest—as it affected her hands very much. A large sum had been expended for the most celebrated physicians, for Sarsaparilla Syrup, &c., &c., but she obtained no relief until I procured a few bottles of Dr. SWETT'S PANACEA, and several bottles of his Humor Wash, which have effected a cure. There can be no mistake, as the cure was effected more than three years ago. No other medicines can equal Dr. Swett's in removing the various kinds of humors. I have sold it to a number of my acquaintances, who were afflicted, and witnessed many full cures effected by it since I have acted as agent for the sale of it. JOSIAH JENNESS.

PORTSMOUTH, April 21st, 1863.

I have for several years been afflicted with dizziness at my stomach, loss of appetite, and often vomited up all of my food immediately after eating, and all medicine failed to give any relief until about a year ago, when I took one bottle of DR. S. SWETT'S PANACEA, which fully cured me, so that I have not had the least trouble from any of those complaints since, and I enjoy good health. M. LOWD.

Provost ELDER I. CHESLEY, Lee, May 31, 1841.

DR. SWETT: Permit me to testify, as I feel in duty bound to do, that my daughter was afflicted with scrofulous humor, and that previous to your visiting our house in the spring of 1840, she had been confined for a number of months, without her natural rest by day or night. She had applied to numerous physicians, but continued to grow weaker till she commenced using your PANACEA and HUMOR WASH. Since then, she has recovered her health so far as to rest quietly by night, and labor by day. I esteem your medicine one of the best that can be found for the disease above named." ISRAEL CHESLEY

☞ Any one returning the remainder of a bottle or box of Dr. Swett's medicines shall have pay forit, if it do not agree with his case, or if not worth the price. All orders directed to DR. S. SWETT, No. 7 High street, Portsmouth, N. H., promptly attended to. mav26

DR. TEBBETTS'
PHYSIOLOGICAL
HAIR REGENERATOR
—AND—
UNIVERSAL HAIR RESTORER.

ITS MODUS OPERANDI.

Immediately beneath the scalp there are very small Glands, or, more commonly Roots of the hair. It is from these Glands that every hair of the head is formed and secreted. As long as the scalp is free from disease, these bodies also remain healthy, and the hair keeps its natural appearance and color. But when humors and other diseases affect the scalp, these glands become involved in the same disease, and the hair gradually turns gray, dry and brittle. Sooner or later the hair begins to fall off, and in many cases, if not arrested, will produce a complete baldness of the scalp.

To remedy this pathological condition of the glands and create a new and healthy action, the Physiological Hair Regenerator has proved a perfect success—inasmuch as it is the only preparation yet known that can boast of such wonderful results.

Unlike thousands of other articles in the market, containing Silver, Lime, Lead, Litharge, Tannin, Sulphur, &c., and producing only a sort of yellow or flax color, it will, if properly applied restore the hair to its former appearance and beauty.

The Physiological Hair Regenerator is warranted in all cases to produce the following results:

1. It is not a Dye and will not stain a single particle. It contains no coloring matter whatever, and is not the least injurious in its application.
2. It will certainly RESTORE the hair from a gray to a beautiful Black, Brown, Auburn, or whatever might have been its original color.
3. It will effectually prevent the hair from falling off, remove all heat, inflammation and Dandruff from the scalp, keeping the head clean and cool, and the hair soft, glossy and of a silky appearance
4. It will PROMOTE a luxuriant growth of new hair on bald heads, except in extreme cases of old age and where the glands have become disorganized.
5. It will cure the most inveterate itching and neuralgia of the scalp, and being highly perfumed, it affords a most delightful article for the toilet.

We have a great abundance of testimony to prove beyond a doubt all that we claim for the Regenerator; and it is positively certain that in a very short time it will have a world wide reputation.

HOME TESTIMONY.

BEDFORD, N. H., Dec. 17, 1863.

Messrs. Tebbetts Brothers—The preparation you induced me to try on my hair, about six weeks ago, has had a wonderful effect. My hair was so thin, almost white and now it is almost black. My daughter has also tried it on her hair, which was fast falling off on account of a severe attack of the diptheria; it stopped it immediately on its application. My wife has also been trying it for baldness on top of her head, and finds that a new growth of hair is rapidly starting. We have only used one bottle, and I think one more will fix our heads up in good shape. J. C. CUTLER.

MANCHESTER, Dec. 20, 1863.

Gents—Unless I am very much mistaken, your Hair Regenerator is destined, ere long, to work a complete revolution with all other Hair Preparations. It not only restores the hair to its natural color and keeps the head free from Dandruff, but it is the most beautiful dressing that can be prepared. My hair, without any apparent cause, began to turn gray when about thirteen years of age, and had been gradually increasing for more than ten years, when at out two months ago I began the use of your Regenerator, and it has completely astonished all my friends to see my hair brought back to its natural color, which is almost a complete black. It is the only thing, unless it was a regular Hair Dye, that I ever knew would produce such effect. It also keeps the head so clean and free from scurf, that it makes a very nice dressing. JACOB J. ABBOTT.

GRANT ON THE WAR PATH.—Hon. E. B. Washburn, in a recent speech, thus vividly describes the Cæsar-like simplicity and energy with which Gen. Grant entered upon his great campaign for the possession of Vicksburg:—

"When he left his headquarters at Smith's plantation, below Vicksburg, to enter on that great campaign, he did not take with him the trappings and paraphernalia so common to many military men. As all depended on quickness of movement, and as it was important to be encumbered with as little baggage as possible, he set an example to all under him. He took with him neither a horse, nor an orderly, nor a servant, a camp chest, an overcoat, nor blanket, nor even a clean shirt. His entire baggage for six days—I was with him at that time—was a tooth brush. He fared like the commonest soldier in his command, partaking of his rations and sleeping upon the ground, with no covering excepting the canopy of heaven. How could such a soldier fail to inspire confidence in an army, and to lead it to victory and to glory?"

"Has your son Timothy failed?" inquired Gulbene of Stubbens, the other day. "Oh, not at all; he has only signed over his property, and fallen back to take a better position," was the reply.

The high bonnets of the ladies at the opera are a source of annoyance to a New Yorker, who exclaims, "what would be said by the ladies of us men, were we to persist in wearing our high crowned hats at the opera, or the play? Shouldn't we hear of it, and roundly, too?"

— A furrier, wishing to inform the public that he would make up furs in a fashionable manner, out of old furs which ladies have at home, appended the following to his advertisement: "N. B. Capes, victorinas, &c., made up for ladies in fashionable style, out of their own skins."

— Rev. John Milton Holmes, of Jersey City, was waylaid a few nights since by some young men of his congregation, who put a gold watch into his pocket.

— The Maryland Senate has appointed a special committee in relation to the purchase of a portion of the Antietam battle ground, and the erection of a monument to the memory of those from that State who fell there.

— A celebrated Oxford scholar was once asked what he thought of an orchestra which had been performing a grand overture; he replied that he was impressed "by the wonderful coincidences of the fiddlers' elbows."

— The London Grocer, which ought to know, says that the consumption of coffee in England, is at the rate of one pound and eighteen hundredths per head, while in Switzerland it amounts to twelve pounds per head.

— We learn from the Maine papers that Hon. F. O. J. Smith of Westbrook has offered to the State a farm of ninety acres in Gorham, valued at $30,000, if the same shall be occupied for the purposes of an Agricultural College.

Constitution Life Syrup,

VALUABLE MEDICINAL

ROOTS AND HERBS,

Prepared by WM. H. GREGG, M. D.,

Graduate College Physicians and Surgeons N. Y. formerly Assistant Physician Blackwell's Island Hospitals, late Medical Inspector New York State Volunteer Depots, under Gov. Edwin D. Morgan.

Constitution Life Syrup

HAS PRODUCED

A REVOLUTION IN MEDICINE!

What may seem almost incredible, is, that many diseases hitherto considered hopelessly incurable are frequently cured in a few days or weeks, and we cheerfully invite the investigations of the liberal minded and scientific to cases which have no parallel at the present day.

Our medicine is peculiar, by it the seat of disease is directly reached, and the equilibrium restored. Those who have suffered long from painful and obstinate diseases, those who have vainly sought relief from advertised medicines, those who cannot be cured by other physicians—are Invited to use Constitution Life Syrup.

During the past three years we have contended with obstacles and overcome opposition as herculean as ever encountered by any Reformers.

Rapidity of Cure.

Some say, "Your cures are too quick," while others say that intemperance, and think that diseases can only be cured by the "slow recuperative process of Nature." This is our reply:

In health, the body, like a well-balanced scale, is in a state of equilibrium. But when from any cause down goes one side of the scale, we have the effects of disease, and the requisite is, to restore the normal balance of the scale.

CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP,

A positive and specific remedy for all diseases originating from an IMPURE STATE OF THE BLOOD, and the (HITHERTO) INCURABLE DISEASES transmitted from PARENT TO CHILD.

Paralysis.

Hemiplegia, Paresis, Paraplegia, Paralysis Agitans.

It is so universally admitted that Constitution Life Syrup is the only effective means of restoration to the various forms of Paralysis, that we need not reiterate that it is emphatically the Great Life-Giving Power.

Dyspepsia.

Indigestion, Wright at Stomach, Flatulence, Liver Complaint, Costiveness, Want of appetite, Bad Breath.

Scrofula.

Strumous, Glandular Swellings, King's Evil, Erysipelas, Ulceration, Salt Rheum.

This taint (hereditary of acquired), filling life with untold misery, is by all usual medical remedies incurable.

Rheumatism.

Arthritic, Neuralgia, Gout, Lumbago, Sciatica, Tic Doloureux.

If there is any disease in which the Constitution Life Syrup is a specific, it is in Rheumatism and its kindred affections. The most intense pains are almost instantly alleviated—enormous swellings are reduced, Gouty concretions, of 20 or 30 years standing, have been cured by us.

Nervousness.

Nervous Debility, Confusion of Thoughts, Epilepsy, Loss of Power, Shattered Nerves, St. Vitus' Dance.

Thousands who have suffered for years will bless the day on which they read these lines. Particularly to weak, suffering woman will this medicine prove an inestimable blessing—directing their footsteps to a Hope which fulfils more than it promises.

Mercurial Diseases.

Salivation, Feeling of Weariness, Rotting of Bones, Bad Complexion, Aches in Bones, Blotches and Spots.

Constitution Life Syrup purges the system entirely from all the evil effects of MERCURY, removing the Bad Breath, and curing the Weak Joints and Aches in the Bones from which the use of Calomel is sure to produce. It hardens Spongy Gums and secures the Teeth as firmly as ever.

Constitution Life Syrup

Eradicates, root and branch, all Scrofulous Diseases of the Skin, like

ULCERS, PIMPLES, BLOTCHES.

And all other difficulties of this kind, which so much disfigure the outward appearance of both males and females, often making them a disgusting object to themselves and their friends.

CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP

Cures all Swellings of the Glands,

Either of the Face, Neck or Female Breast and should be taken as soon as the swelling is detected, thus preventing their breaking and producing troublesome Discharging sores, which disfigure so many of the younger portion of the community, from six to twenty years of age. Young children are very subject to Discharging ears and Eyes, which depends upon a Scrofulous constitution. These cases soon recover by taking a few doses of Life Syrup.

All scrofulous persons suffering from Debility, Emaciation, Dyspepsia; Dropsy, of the limbs or abdomen, and in the Chest, Dropsy of the cavities and womb, generally accompanied with inflammation and ulceration of the uterus; are permanently cured by Constitution Life Syrup. The disease first yields to the Life Syrup, and then the Life Syrup will remove entirely. The remedy should be taken for some time, as the disease is exceedingly deep seated and stubborn, and will not be removed without extra effort. Tumors of the Ovaries, Tumors of the Breast, and swelling of other glands of the body will be completely reduced without resorting to the knife or operations of any kind.

Sympathetic Fever, sympathetic or Organic Diseases of the Heart in palpitation, Disease of Valves—producing a grating or filing sound), Dropsy of the Heart, Cure and all the affections of this important organ, or persons suffering from any acute pain in the region of the heart, will be greatly relieved by Constitution Life Syrup.

Broken Down and Delicate Constitutions, Suffering from Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Pain in the Side, Loss of Memory, Forebodings, Horror of insanity, Fear of Disease, Dizziness of Vision, Dry Hot Skin and Prostration, Want of Sleep, Restlessness, Pale Haggard Countenance and Sunken Eyes and other Spectres, all require the aid of the CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP.

Nervous all forms of Reparative Diseases, children of the Nose Throat, Tongue, Spine, Forehead or scalp, no remedy has ever proved its equal.

FEMALES. Whether single or married, depending upon a diseased action of the Liver, are very unpleasant to the young wife and mother. A few bottles of Constitution Life Syrup will correct the secretion, and remove the deposit which is directly under the skin.

In Diseases of the Liver, giving rise to languor, dizziness, indigestion, weak stomach, or an ulcerated or cancerous condition of that organ, accompanied with burning or other unpleasant symptoms, no remedy has ever obtained by the use of CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP.

☞ As a general Blood-Purifying Agent, the Life Syrup stands unrivaled by any preparation in the world.

Diseases of the Spine, as usually developed in the young, Hip Disease, Neuralgia, and all Nervous Diseases of Ladies who are suffering from diseases for which they are at a loss to know what to do, we would advise the use of CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP. It will restore their pallid countenance, strengthen their weak back and side, give them new energy, new life and happiness.

THE RICH AND POOR are liable to the same diseases. Nature and Science have made the Constitution Life Syrup for the benefit of all.

PURE BLOOD produces healthy men and women, and if the constitution is neglected in youth, disease and early death are the results. Do not delay when the means are so near at hand, and within the reach of all.

YOUNG MEN AND MARRIED LADIES.

It is the safest and most efficacious medicine ever discovered for purifying the system and relieving the suffering attendant upon childbirth. It strengthens the mother and child, and effectually prevents pain and disease, and increases and enriches the food—Those who have used it think it indispensable. It is highly useful in the latter part of confinement, as it prevents disease attendant upon childbirth.

LAST AND BEST.

THE MODEL COOK.

AN AIR-TIGHT STOVE,

WITH TWO OVENS,

And Five Boiling Places!

At the present high prices of fuel it is very desirable to lessen its consumption. This can be best accomplished by using a MODEL COOK STOVE. More cooking can be done in one with a single ton of coal, or cord of wood, than with double the quantity in any common stove or range—and in less time also.

The fire being placed in the centre of the stove, with an oven on either side (which may be thrown into one at pleasure), all the heat from the fuel is made available for cooking purposes.

The oven doors are lined with tin, and jackets are provided for the bottom and back of the stove, thus retaining much heat, ordinarily wasted. A check draft is applied, by means of which much fuel is saved, and a continuous fire may be kept as long as desirable.

A Water Tank and Hot Closet can be applied to either size, when needed.

In fact, no pains or expense have been spared to make this a PERFECT Stove, and we think it surpasses all others for Economy, Durability, Capacity, Convenience, Beauty of Design and Perfection of finish.

It is equally well adapted for Coal or Wood; Summer or Winter use, excellent in a family where help is employed, and invaluable to the housewife who does her own work, lightening it at least one-half.

No family, large or small, where economy, convenience and dispatch are desirable, should be without one.

We refer to some parties who have purchased the Model Cook—

E. A. STEVENS'S

House Furnishing Establishment,

NO. 46 MARKET STREET.

THE MAGEE COOKING STOVE.

The subscriber, having received his Fall stock of Stoves, would especially call the attention of the public to the

CELEBRATED AND UNEQUALLED

MAGEE COOK STOVE,

as the very best Stove yet made, and would invite those about purchasing or exchanging Stoves, to examine this, believing it to be far superior to any other Stove yet invented, the castings being heavier, and the oven larger than usual. The oven plates are covered with plaster, which renders it equal to the old-fashioned brick oven for perfection in baking.

There is a new style and very superior broiler and sad iron heater combined, by which the odor of broiling meats are prevented from escaping into the room. With the extension top, there is a large copper Reservoir for hot water; also a large tin warming-closet attached, in which any article can be kept warm, while the other parts of the Stove are occupied for other purposes.

The arrangements for sifting the coal and cleaning the grate are far superior to those of any other Stove now in use, as no dust can possibly escape into the room, and the shovelling out of the ashes is entirely dispensed with. The fire is regulated in the same manner as in the MAGEE PARLOR STOVE, and can be continued day and night for weeks together, thus saving the expense of re-kindling every day.

For economy, durability, ease of management, cleanliness and perfection in cooking, it cannot be surpassed by any other Stove. Hundreds of families in this city and vicinity, who are now using them, are willing to testify, and speak of them in the highest terms of praise.

We would refer to the following purchasers:

"MAGEE'S PATENT"

VENTILATING & AIR WARMING

FURNACES.

The subscriber, being the Sole Agent in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of this valuable furnace, would ask those about remodelling or erecting buildings to examine this truly valuable invention.

For economy, purity of the air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, moist and agreeable;—and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pot is used for respiration, the tendency to produce headache so much complained of in other furnaces, is entirely obviated.

The objects aimed at by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.

To accomplish this many complicated and expensive heating arrangements have been constructed, some promising but little improvement over former methods, while many have proved a total failure. The reason for this is obvious. The combustible gases will rather take the line of least resistance, and pass off into the pipe or chimney without being consumed. This objection, so common in other furnaces, is obviated in the

MAGEE FURNACE.

The fire or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot escape without being burned up by the admission of cold air through the fire-pot, which ignites them as they pass off from the coal, thus saving at least 20 per cent. of the properties of the best in the fuel.

No heating apparatus with the smoke-pipe or flue on the top of the cone can be made to consume the gases of the coal, as they pass off with a large portion of the best generated heat, making the chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.

This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.

Those Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.

For ease of management, economy and purity of air, these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire may be kept the entire season without once going out.

They give entire satisfaction wherever used. We have in store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world,—and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:

Samuel Cleaves, Esq., Aaron H. Hill, Henry F. Wendell, Albert R. Hatch, Esq., Charles H. Meadum, John Sise, and others.

The Chronicle.

"Boundto no party—to no sect confined;
The world our home; our brethren, all mankind.
Love truth, do good, be just and fair with all;
Exalt the right, though every lam fall."

"Let me warn you in the most solemn manner against the baneful effects of the spirit of Party, generally. It is a spirit not to be encouraged.—Its common and continual mischief is sufficient to make it the interest and duty of a wise people to discourage and restrain it. In governments of the popular form, it is seen in its greatest rankness, and is truly their worst enemy!"—Washington's Farewell Address.

A GRATIFYING PROCLAMATION.—The N. H. Statesman says a multitude of proclamations have been issued since the beginning of the war: some calling for more men; some giving notice of the quotas of towns; some for thanksgiving for national successes; others for the usual autumnal festival known as the Thanksgiving. There have been proclamations, also, for days of fasting and prayer, and proclamations offering bounties for men to fill up quotas; but the most satisfactory document of the kind is that making proclamation that the quota of New Hampshire is full upon all requisitions yet made. The proclamation is very timely. It comes upon the heels of an immense amount of Democratic whining and denunciation, displayed in the columns of all their papers,—about the expected draft.

ILLEGAL MARRIAGES.—There have been between two and three hundred illegal marriages in certain counties in West Virginia since the war broke out, owing to the fact that the officers authorized to grant licenses had abandoned their positions.—The young folks could not wait, and in some instances they obtained military permits to marry. A bill is about to be introduced into the Legislature to legalize all these marriages.

SUDDEN DEATH.—Mr. Prescott Spaulding died at his residence in Newburyport Friday night, aged about 84 years. He was the oldest merchant in town, and kept a dry goods store on State street till some twenty years ago, when he retired. He was a gentleman of the old school, highly respected for his integrity and honorable character. He had been out of health for some years, but was able to be out as usual on Friday, and retired at night with no anticipation of his approaching end. He had suffered during the day from a pain in his stomach, but declined to have a physician called, and took a little camphor tea on going to bed, saying that he should be better in the morning; but when they would call him on Saturday morning, he was found dead in his bed. Silently and quietly he had passed away.—Herald.

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with dispatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of patents or inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The Testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional service so moderate.

The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.

These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All accosts of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.

Mr. R. H Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but ONE of which patents have been granted, and that is now pending. Such unmistakeble proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, be they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges."
JOHN TAGGART.

During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made on twelve rejected applications SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents.
R. H. EDDY.

WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 17, 1864.

THE REBELLION.

Gen. Sherman's headquarters are reported to have been at Jackson on the 7th, but he has since been heard of at Brandon. The entire line of the Memphis and Charleston Railroad was evacuated by our forces on the 13th, it having been held for the past six months merely to aid Gen. Smith's cavalry expedition to get a good start. Gen. Sherman does not favor guarding railroads unless they are of vital importance.

Gen. Butler confirms the report that over 100 Union officers have escaped from prison in Richmond, and states that Colonel Streight, with 17 others, is certainly safe.

Col. Phillips, commanding the expedition in the Indian Territory, has driven the enemy entirely out of that region, and in several skirmishes has killed nearly 100 rebels and captured a captain and 25 men.

Gen. Meade returned on Monday to the command of the Army of the Potomac.

Richmond papers of the 12th instant state that Jeff. Davis threatens to resign unless the opposition to him ceases.

It is stated that there is in the neighborhood of Pendleton county, Va., an organized band of armed citizens, termed by the rebels "Swamp Dragons," who not only resist conscription, but attack rebel scouting parties whenever and wherever they can get an opportunity to do so. In several late encounters the rebels got the worst of it.

A dispatch to the Chicago Times, dated Knoxville, Feb. 2, says our cavalry skirmishes at the front, which is now only 12 miles out, amount to nothing. We drive the enemy one mile and then fall back two; exchange twelve of our men for a dozen of the rebels, and so it goes. If the estimate our authorities have of Longstreet's forces be correct, no fears need be entertained for the safety of Knoxville. Gen. Foster has started North, and passed through Cincinnati on Monday. For some time past his old wound has been very afflicting. Surgeons say it will be necessary to amputate the limb, and it is feared the operation will prove fatal unless performed very soon.

SINGULAR ADVENTURES OF A YOUNG WOMAN IN THE SOUTH.—Some five months ago a young lady, a native of Illinois, passed through the lines for the purpose of relieving a brother who was a prisoner at Richmond. She succeeded, and furnishes the following interesting narrative to the Chicago Post:

Finding it impossible to do anything in Richmond immediately, I went to work systematically and leisurely. I took board with a poor but respectable family; insisted that I was a native of Virginia, and an ardent secessionist, and made all the acquaintances I could. I visited meetings for the relief of the confederate soldiers; prepared lint and bandages; canvassed the city and solicited contributions for a soldiers's relief fund, and frequented the hospitals. By and by my money began to run out. As my funds were diminishing rapidly, I found it would be necessary for me to go to work and earn something. I commenced to take sewing, thinking I could make a living that way, but I soon found that I could not. The condition of my affairs was growing more and more gloomy. I hardly knew what to do. At last a thought struck me that I shall never be able to account for. I never have seen such a penchant for amusements as there is in Richmond.

A dozen entertainment halls of various grades are crowded nightly, and a performer of any merit at all can command a good salary. I concluded to make my debut on the stage! I was always considered a tolerably good singer, and I learned to dance years ago. I thought I might turn these accomplishments to some use. I applied to the manager of a second-class theatre, where everything is produced, from a sensational play down to the last popular dance or patriotic song. It seemed that the manager was eager to engage female performers, and he very readily consented to pay me $300 a week—enough in confederate scrip to pay a month's board. Mistrusting that I would make a failure if I attempted to dance the first night, I was announced to sing only, and for the occasion I composed a song brimfull of southern patriotism. I blundered through it, and was encored five times! Every time I was called before the curtain, I came forth with renewed courage.

On the third evening of my engagement I danced and wore short skirts. That was another tribulation that is too painful to think of. The second week I received seven hundred dollars, and after that nine hundred dollars per week. I had almost abandoned all hope of being able to do anything for my brother, and was working more for money to take me home than anything else. But there was luck ahead that I had not anticipated. Major B——n—— of the 21st South Carolina Infantry, whom I had often seen in a private box, was seized with a ferocious attachment to me.—He sent me presents and all sorts of handsome compliments. I became acquainted with him, and learned that he was of the Libby prison guard. I made myself agreeable in every way consistent with propriety. In fact he was so much charmed that my brother and a cousin and two intimate friends effected an escape one fine night.—I tried to procure the escape of others, but the major was too discreet to risk a repetition of his act of kindness. I had an interview with my brother, gave him money and told him to leave Richmond as soon as possible, and I could find my own way home.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— A new directory of names, places of business and residences of the city of Concord proper has just been published.

—— Col. Taylor, of East Tennessee, will address the people of New Hampshire at various place, before the State election, on the duties of true patriots in the present crisis.

—— Col. Andrew Jackson Butler, a native of Deerfield, and only brother of Maj. Gen. Butler, died in New York last Thursday night, of consumption, aged 49 years. The deceased was the oldest son of Capt. John Butler, who served at New Orleans under Gen. Jackson.

—— The N. H. battalion of cavalry is expected home in a few days, to recruit its ranks. The two companies of sharpshooters which have been home enjoying their furlough the past month, reported in Concord on Friday, and will soon leave for their old place in the Army of the Potomac.

—— A New York correspondent of the Boston Herald says:—

The State of New Hampshire has several commissioners in New York en route to the different armies to encourage re-enlistments. Col. S. G. Griffin, of the 6th N. H., and Lyman B. Stevens, Esq., of Concord, left a day or two since with Gen. Butler, to look after the New Hampshire troops in his department. Col. Aaron F. Stevens, of Nashua, of the 13th regiment, and Geo. W. Benn, Esq., of Dover, will sail in the Fulton for Port Royal on Tuesday. Maj. E. T. Rowell, of the Second Sharpshooters, and J. F. Briggs, Esq., of Hillsborough, are awaiting the sailing of a steamer for New Orleans. New Hampshire has filled all her quotas, but Gov. Gilmore is going to keep up the recruiting business and be prepared beforehand if possible for the next call.

NAVAL.—In accordance with the act of Congress, providing that where an armed vessel of the U. S. Navy destroys an enemy's vessel of the same force, the crew of the former vessel are entitled to $100 per head for each person on board of the enemy's ship, Capt. John L. Worden, of ironclad Montauk, has sent in a list of the crew of that vessel and laid his claim to the bounty or head money due to them for the destruction of the Nashville. At the time of her destruction the Nashville had on board one 80-pounder Whitworth rifle, four 32-pounders and one 24-pounder brass howitzer; and as the Nashville is entitled to a crew of the same number as the James Adger and vessels of her class which carry 150 men, the Montauk would be entitled to $18,000, which divided among her crew would give each a snug sum.

Screw steamer Kearsage, 9, was blockading the Florida at Brest on the 17th ult. Captain Winslow had been informed from several sources that the Georgia, Florida and Rappahannock had combined, and were to meet at a certain point to attack the Kearsage. The Kearsage was the only United States man-of-war on the lookout for the pirates; but she had kept them in port and prevented all burning operations in the channel.

☞ Two maiden ladies, Misses Beulah N. E. and Sarah E. Hemmenway, in Cambridge, Mass., had a narrow escape from being suffocated by coal gas on Friday night. They built a coal fire in a grate which had not been used for the past ten years, in their bed-chamber, and supposing all was right, one of them lay down upon a lounge and the other upon the bed. On Saturday forenoon, a woman went to call them to breakfast, and receiving no answer, the door to the chamber was broken open, and the ladies found in an insensible state. One had fallen off the lounge on to the floor, and the other was partially off the bed. They could not speak and appeared lifeless. Dr. Wellington was called, and after some time restored them to their senses so that they were able to converse, but they have remained in a critical condition since Saturday. The flue attached, not having been used for so long a time, had become filled up with dirt so that there was no draft, and the coal gas escaped into the chamber.

☞ The case of Vallandigham, ex parte, was decided in the U. S. Supreme Court on Monday, the writ of certiorari being denied. Judge Wayne delivered the opinion of the Court, refusing the writ on the ground that even if the arrest, trial and punishment were illegal, there was still no authority in the Court to grant relief in this mode, and there is no law by which any appeal or proceedings in the nature of an appeal from a Military Commission to the Supreme Court can be taken.

☞ The New York Herald sticks very well to its latest progressive idea, albeit it is one which would have been indignantly repudiated six weeks ago. It takes for granted that "the time for the formal abolition of slavery has come," and advises the Democratic party to "place themselves upon the platform of the abolition of slavery by a constitutional amendment."

☞ Capt. Rufus Preble having sold the yacht Sybil, which has done such good service in our river the past twenty years, has purchased a new and commodious yacht in New York, which will soon arrive at this harbor and run as usual to the Shoals during the Summer season.

WASHINGTON'S BIRTHDAY.—Last year Washington's birthday came on Sunday,—but on the two years previous the day was very generally observed, in this city and elsewhere as a holiday. We trust that it will be so observed this year, and that our storekeepers will, as is due them, close their stores.

☞ Valentine's Day was not forgotten by the young folks. The usual quantity of these tender epistles were sold in our city, many of them being sent to soldiers in the army.

☞ Hon. Thomas B. Laighton, of the Shoals, is recovering from his late severe attack of palsy.

☞ Among the many panoramas of the War which have been unrolled in this city during the past two years, perhaps no one has presented more attractive features than James's, now on exhibition at the Temple. The paintings are well executed, the scenes very life-like, and the exhibition as a whole gives, perhaps, as true a representation of the principal battle-fields as could well be given by this means. An exhibition is to be given this afternoon for the benefit of the schools.

A correspondent who neglects to give his name, but assures us that he is "a reliable gentleman," informs us that during the exhibition on Monday evening, one of the views presented was McClellan's farewell to the Army of the Potomac. A soldier proposed three cheers for "Little Mac," and the audience, composed of soldiers and sailors, rang them out cheerily.

Last evening Gen. Grant was evidently the favorite, his name at each mention being greeted with cheers, while "Little Mac" elicited no more enthusiasm than any other do-nothing. Political inferences would, doubtless, be as wise in one case as in the other.

THE NEW GYMNASTICS.—A new class for Juveniles, will be organized at RECHAB HALL, Market Street, this (Wednesday) afternoon, at 3 o'clock. The Children who wish to join, and parents and others interested, are invited on this occasion. It

☞ The New Class for ladies and gentlemen also takes the first lesson this evening, at the same hall.

☞ We learn that Prof. Dunbar, of Baltimore, will not speak in this city to-night, as the Temple could not be engaged, and other arrangements have been made.

☞ Grandma Young, M. D., has returned, and will remain at the City Hotel until Saturday, Feb. 27. Rooms Nos. 3 and 4, second floor. She has just received a fresh supply of roots and herbs. Consultations free. Do not forget her book,—price $1. Every family should have one. Sold by herself only. D6t*

☞ The Boston Transcript states that a Doctor of Divinity in that vicinity, who has become somewhat noted for his adhesion to Ecclesiastical forms of late, recently dated several friendly notes to a brother clergyman, whose tendencies are in an opposite direction, on Saints' Days. Upon receiving a note dated St. Thomas's Day, the recipient made a reply on Monday, and dated his epistle "Washing Day."

☞ The extensive Steam Cracker Bakery of the Messrs. Bond, in Wilmington, Mass., with all its machinery and 450 barrels of flour, was entirely consumed by fire on Tuesday evening. The loss is at least $10,000, which is partially covered by insurance. The Congregational Church was also consumed, with its contents. The loss to the society is $10,000; no insurance.

☞ The statement that Albert J. Tirrell is in an insane asylum at Washington is denied. He is not insane, and is now in Boston, having been honorably discharged from the army, in which he served till his health broke down.

S. J., COURT, Exeter.—The case of Bartlett v Kimball was argued on Monday, and given to the jury at 5 o'clock P. M.

No. 125—Wm. O. Smith v Jasper H. Rundlett, an action for deceit in the sale of a horse, (the animal being represented as sound and safe for women to ride, whereas he was blind, &c.,) was commenced on Monday evening. Bell and Leavitt for plf. Small for deft. This case was still on trial Tuesday afternoon.

In Bartlett v Kimball, the jury returned a verdict for plf. in the sum of $32.50.

TRASK'S TEMPERANCE TRACTS.—True in their facts and Philosophy; strong in their structure as arguments; keen and racy in their wit; heartsome in the humanity which glows through them: solemn in their appeal to the conscience and in the startling issues they set before the mind. We most earnestly commend them and their able, indefatigable author to the attention and aid of the entire community. This is our word—read and inwardly digest the tracts and support the one-man-power which has created them. E. D.

☞ Putnam will issue early next week what promises to be the popular edition of Gen. McClellan's long expected and anxiously looked-for report. It will be comprised in one monthly part of the Rebellion Record, and, unincumbered with impedimenta such as swell out governmental and "official" publications. The handy size and clear type of this edition must make it welcome.

DR. TEBBETTS'
PHYSIOLOGICAL
HAIR REGENERATOR
—AND—
UNIVERSAL HAIR RESTORER.

ITS MODUS OPERANDI.

Immediately beneath the scalp there are very small Glands, or, more commonly Roots of the Hair. It is from these Glands that every hair of the head is formed and secreted. As long as the scalp is free from disease, these bodies also remain healthy, and the hair keeps its natural appearance and color. But when humors and other diseases affect the scalp, these glands become involved in the same disease, and the hair gradually turns gray, dry and brittle. Sooner or later the hair begins to fall off, and in many cases, if not arrested, will produce a complete baldness of the scalp.

To remedy this pathological condition of the glands and create a new and healthy action, the Physiological Hair Regenerator has proved a perfect success—insomuch as it is the only preparation yet known that can boast of such wonderful results.

Unlike thousands of other articles in the market, containing Silver, Lime, Lead, Litharge, Jaunin, Sulphur, &c., and producing only a sort of yellow or dirty color, it will, if properly applied, restore the hair to its former appearance and beauty.

The Physiological Hair Regenerator is warranted in all cases to produce the following results:

1. It is not a Dye and will not stain a single particle. It contains no coloring matter whatever, and is not the least injurious in its application.

2. It will certainly RESTORE the hair from a gray to a beautiful Black, Brown, Auburn, or whatever might have been its original color.

3. It will effectually prevent the hair from falling off, remove all heat, inflammation and Dandruff from the scalp, keeping the head clean and cool, and the hair soft, glossy and of a silky appearance.

4. It will PROMOTE a luxuriant growth of new hair on bald heads, except in extreme cases of old age and where the glands have become disorganized.

5. It will cure the most inveterate Itching and neuralgia of the scalp, and being highly perfumed, it affords a most delightful article for the toilet.

We have a great abundance of testimony to prove beyond a doubt all that we claim for the Regenerator; and it is positively certain that in a very short time it will have a world wide reputation.

HOME TESTIMONY.

BEDFORD, N. H., Dec. 17, 1863.

Messrs. Tebbetts Brothers—The preparation you induced me to try on my hair, about two weeks ago, has had a wonderful effect. My hair was then almost white and now it is almost black. My daughter has also used it on her hair, which was fast falling off on account of a severe attack of the diptheria; it stopped it immediately on its application. My wife has also been trying it for baldness on top of her head, and finds that a new growth of hair is rapidly starting. We have only used one bottle, and I think one more will fix our heads up in good shape. J. C. CUTLER.

MANCHESTER, Dec. 20, 1863.

Gents—Unless I am very much mistaken, your Hair Regenerator is destined, ere long, to work a complete revolution with all other Hair Preparations. It not only restores the hair to its natural color and keeps the head free from Dandruff, but it is the most beautiful dressing that can be prepared. My hair, without any apparent cause, began to turn gray when about thirteen years of age, and had been gradually increasing for more than ten years, when about two months ago I began the use of your Regenerator, and it has completely astonished all my friends to see my hair brought back to its natural color, which is almost a complete black. It is the only thing, unless it was a regular Hair Dye, that I ever knew would produce such effect. It also keeps the head so clean and free from scurf, that it makes a very nice dressing. JACOB J. ABBOTT.

CHEROKEE REMEDY
—AND—
CHEROKEE INJECTION,
Compounded from Roots, Barks & Leaves.

CHEROKEE REMEDY, the great Indian Diuretic, cures all diseases of the urinary organs, such as Incontinence of the Urine, Inflammation of the Bladder, Inflammation of the Kidneys, Stone in the Bladder, Stricture, Gravel, Gleet, Gonorrhœa, and is especially recommended in these cases of Fluor Albus (or Whites in female) where all the old nauseous medicines have failed.

It is prepared in a highly concentrated form, the dose only being from one to two tablespoonfuls three times per day.

It is diuretic and alterative in its action; purifying and cleansing the blood, causing it to flow in all of its original purity and vigor; thus removing from the system all pernicious causes which have produced disease.

CHEROKEE INJECTION is intended as an ally or assistant to the CHEROKEE REMEDY, and should be used in conjunction with it at meal times. In all cases of Gonorrhœa, Gleet, Fluor Albus or Whites, its effect are healing, soothing and demulcent; removing all scalding, heat, chordee and pain. Instead of the burning and lancinating agonable pain that is experienced, with nearly all the cheap quack injections.

☞ By the use of the CHEROKEE REMEDY and CHEROKEE INJECTION—the two medicines at the same time—all improper discharges are removed, and the weakened organs are speedily restored to full vigor and strength.

For full particulars get our pamphlet from any drug store in the country, or write us and we will mail free, to any address, a full treatise.

Price—CHEROKEE REMEDY, $2 per bottle or three bottles for $5.

Morning Chronicle.

☞ In the city of London, at the time when, in the midst of the great commercial panic, (the S. American mines having gone through, taking with them the coal and tin mines of England) all confidence seemed to be gone—there was no value for anything. A gentleman offered a bet that you could not sell gold on the street for its weight in silver. "Done!"—"Done!"—And the experiment was tried. A ragged fellow was put upon London bridge with an old hat full of newly coined sovereigns, which he offered for half a crown apiece, declaring aloud as they ran through his fingers into the hat, so as to dazzle and astonish the bystanders, that they were warranted pure gold, right out of the mint! Men stopped, handled them, looked knowing, laughed, winked and passed on; and it was said that only four were sold, and those for whist counters, or pocket pieces, to a man who got handsomely jeered for his folly, since they told him he could buy the same for sixpence apiece at any of the fancy-dealers.

The superintendent of Harmony Grove cemetery opened the door of one of the tombs to air. Some time in the course of the day an "ould countryman," with more bricks than he could conveniently carry, finding the door open, went in, and fell asleep. About dark Mr. Creesy locked the door and went away. The next forenoon, some ladies passing by heard a noise in the tomb, and becoming frightened, ran to Mr. Creesy to tell him the circumstance. He laughed at the thought they expressed, that a living person was in there, but went and unlocked the door, when the poor fellow was found half dead with fright. He had struck a match, and finding himself in a tomb, had fancied that he was dead, and had commenced on the first stage of purgatory.

— The New York Herald says it was acquainted with the democratic party for forty years, and knows it to be dead. "There is an organization of contract brokers that oscillates between Tammany Hall and Mozart Hall, and buys and sells votes, that calls itself the democratic party; but there is no democratic party."

Constitution Life Syrup

HAS PRODUCED

A REVOLUTION IN MEDICINE!

What may seem almost incredible, is, that many diseases hitherto considered hopelessly incurable are frequently cured in a few days or weeks, and we cheerfully invite the investigations of the liberal minded and scientific to cures which have no parallel at the present day.

Our medicine is peculiar, by it the seat of disease is directly reached, and the equilibrium restored. I have who have suffered long from painful and obstinate diseases, those who have vainly sought relief from so called specifics, those who cannot be cured by other physicians—are Invited to use Constitution Life Syrup.

During the past five years we have contended with obstacles and overcome opposition as barefaced as ever encountered any reformers.

Rapidity of Cure.

Some say, "Your cures are too quick," while others doubt their permanence, and think that disease can only be cured by the "now-to-come-by-and-by" Nature." This is our reply:

In health, the body, like a well-balanced scale, is in a state of equilibrium. But when from any cause, down goes one side of the scale, and we have the effects of disease. What is requisite is, to restore the normal balance of the scale.

CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP,

A positive and specific remedy for all diseases arising from a VITIATED NATURE OR LOW BLOOD, and for all (hereditary) DISEASES transmitted from PARENT TO CHILD.

Paralysis.

Hemiplegia, Paralysis, Paraplegia, Paralysis Agitans.

It is so universally admitted that Constitution Life syrup is the only effective means of restoration in the various forms of Paralysis, that we need not reiterate that it is emphatically the Great Life-Giving Power.

Dyspepsia.

Indigestion, Liver Complaint, Constipation, Weight at Stomach, Biliousness, Want of Appetite, Flatulence, Sick Headache.

Scrofula.

Struma, Glandular Swellings, Ulceration, "King's Evil," Erysipelas, Salt Rheum.

This taint (hereditary or acquired), filling life with untold misery, is by all usual medical remedies incurable.

Rheumatism.

(Arthritis), Neuralgia, Gout, Lumbago, Sciatica, Tic Doloureux.

If there is any disease in which the Constitution Life Syrup is a sovereign, it is in Rheumatism and its kindred affections. The most intense pains are almost instantly alleviated—the swollen and inflamed joints are reduced. Cases, chronic or vicarious, of 20 or 30 years standing, have been cured by us.

Nervousness.

Nervous Debility, Tremor, Paralysis, Epilepsy, Loss of Power, Shattered Nerves, St. Vitus' Dance.

Thousands who have suffered for years will bless the day on which they read these lines. Particularly to those who have tried everything and medicine prove an inestimable blessing—directing their footsteps to a Hope which fulfils more than it promises.

Mercurial Diseases.

Salivation, Feeling of Weariness, Rotting of Bones, Red Complexion, Aches in Bones, Depressed Spirits.

Constitution Life Syrup purges the system entirely from all the evil effects of Mercury, removing the Bad Breath, and curing the Weak Joints and Rheumatic Pains which the use of Calomel is sure to produce. Ulcerated Spongy Gums and secrete the bone as firmly as ever.

Constitution Life Syrup

Eradicates, root and branch, all Eruptive Diseases of the Skin, like

ULCERS, PIMPLES, BLOTCHES.

And all other difficulties of this kind, which so much disfigure the outward appearance of both males and females, often making them a disgusting object to themselves and their friends.

CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP

Cures all Swellings of the Glands,

Either of the Face, Neck or Female Breast, and should be taken as soon as the swelling is detected, thus preventing their breaking and producing troublesome Discharging Sores, which disfigure so many of the younger portion of the community, from one to twenty years of age. Young children are very subject to Discharges from the ears, which depends upon a Scrofulous constitution. These children recover by taking a few doses of the Life Syrup.

All scrofulous persons suffering from Debility, Emaciation, Cough, Pain in any of the limbs or abdomen, and in the female, Dropsy of the ovaries and womb, generally accompanied with inflammation and ulceration of the womb, are permanently cured by Constitution Life Syrup. The disease known as Goitre or Swelled Neck, the Life Syrup will remove entirely. The remedy should be taken for some time as the disease is exceedingly chronic and stubborn, and will not be removed without extra effort. Tumors of the Ovaries, Tumors in the Breast, and swelling of other glands of the body will be completely reduced without resorting to the knife or operations of any kind.

Epileptic Fits, Sympathetic or Organic Diseases of the Heart (as Palpitation, Disease of Valves—produced from a diseased Liver), Jaundice, Dropsy, the Heart Case and all the affections of this important organ, or persons suffering from any acute pain in the Side, Back or Limbs, will be greatly relieved by Constitution Life Syrup.

Broken Down and Delicate Constitutions, Suffering from Indigestion to Exercise, Pain in the Back, Loss of Memory, Forebodings, Horror of Consumption, Cold Feet, Nervous Chills, Flushes of Skin and Extremities, Want of Sleep, Restlessness, Pale Haggard Countenance and Languor of the Muscular System, will find relief at the end of the CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP.

For all forms of Ulcerative Diseases, either of the Nose Throat, Tongue, spine, Forehead or Scalp, the remedy has ever proved a specific.

MOTH PATCHES upon the female face, depending upon a diseased action of the Liver, are very unpleasant to the lady, and hard to remove. A few bottles of Constitution Life Syrup will correct the secretion, and remove the deposit which is directly under the skin.

In Diseases of the Liver, giving rise to languor, dizziness, indigestion, weak stomach, or an uneasy sensation in the region of that organ, accompanied with burning or other unpleasant symptoms, relief may be obtained by the use of CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP.

☞ As a general Blood-Purifying Agent, the Life Syrup stands unrivalled by any preparation in the world.

Diseases of the Spine, so usually developed in the young, Hip Disease, Neuralgia, and all Nervous Diseases, and Ladies who are suffering from diseases for which they are at a loss to know what to do, we would advise a trial of CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP. It will restore their pallid countenance, strengthen their weak back and side, give them new energy, new life and happiness.

THE RICH AND POOR are liable to the same diseases. Nature and Science have made the Constitution Life Syrup for the benefit of all.

PURE BLOOD produces healthy men and women; and if the constitution is neglected in youth, disease and early death are the results. Do not delay when the means are so near at hand, and within the reach of all.

TO MOTHERS AND MARRIED LADIES.

It is the safest and most effectual medicine ever discovered for purifying the system and relieving the suffering attendant upon childbirth. It strengthens both the mother and the child, prevents pain and disease, and increases and enriches the lacteal secretion to the extent of a little impossible. It is highly useful both before and after confinement, as it prevents disease attendant upon childbirth.

Constitution Life Syrup

Is the Poor Man's Friend and the Rich Man's Blessing!—Buy it, take it, and be cured.—It is Universal in its effects

LAST AND BEST.

THE MODEL COOK.

AN AIR-TIGHT STOVE,

WITH TWO OVENS,

And Five Boiling Places!

At the present high prices of fuel it is very desirable to keep its consumption down. This can be best accomplished by using a MODEL COOK STOVE. More cooking can be done in one with a single ton of coal, or cord of wood, than with double the quantity in any common stove or range—and in less time also.

The fire being placed in the centre of the stove, with an oven on either side (which may be thrown into one at pleasure), all the heat from the fuel is made available for cooking purposes.

The oven doors are lined with tin, and jackets are provided for the bottom and back of the stove, thus retaining much heat, ordinarily wasted. A check draft is applied, by means of which much fuel is saved, and a continuous fire may be kept as long as desirable.

A Water Tank and Hot Closet can be applied to either size, when needed.

In fact, no pains or expense have been spared to make this a PERFECT Stove, and we think it surpasses all others for Economy, Durability, Capacity, Convenience, Beauty of Design and Perfection of Finish.

It is equally well adapted for Coal or Wood; Summer or Winter use; excellent in a family where help is employed, and invaluable to the housewife who does her own work, lightening it at least one-half.

No family, large or small, where economy, convenience and dispatch are desirable, should be without one.

We refer to some parties who have purchased the Model Cook—

THE MAGEE COOKING STOVE.

The subscriber, having received his Fall stock of Stoves, would especially call the attention of the public to the

CELEBRATED AND UNEQUALLED

MAGEE COOK STOVE,

as the very best Stove yet made, and would invite those about purchasing or exchanging Stoves, to examine this, believing it to be far superior to any other Stove yet invented, the castings being heavier, and the oven larger than usual. The oven plates are covered with plaster, which renders it equal to the old-fashioned brick oven for perfection in baking.

There is a new style and very superior broiler and sad-iron heater combined, by which the odor of broiling meats is prevented from escaping into the room. With the extension top there is a large copper Reservoir for hot water; also a large tin water-pipe attached, by which any article can be kept warm, while the other parts of the Stove are occupied for other purposes.

The arrangements for sifting the coal and cleaning the grate are far superior to those of any other Stove now in use, as no dust can possibly escape into the room, and the shovelling up of the ashes is entirely dispensed with. The fire is regulated in the same manner as in the MAGEE PARLOR STOVE, and can be continued day and night for weeks together, thus saving the expense of re-kindling every day.

For economy, durability, ease of management, cleanliness and perfection in cooking, it cannot be surpassed by any other Stove, as hundreds of families in this city and vicinity, who are now using them, are willing to testify, and speak of them in the highest terms of praise.

We would refer to the following purchasers:

"MAGEE'S PATENT"

VENTILATING & AIR-WARMING

FURNACES.

The subscriber, being the Sole Agent in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of this valuable Furnace, would ask those about remodelling or erecting buildings to examine this truly valuable invention.

For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, moist and agreeable;—and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire is used for respiration, the tendency to produce headache so much complained of in other Furnaces, is entirely obviated.

The objections aimed at by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.

To accomplish this many complicated and expensive heating arrangements have been constructed, some possessing but little improvement over former methods, while many have proved a total failure. The reason for this is obvious. The combustible gases being lighter than the air, pass off into the pipe or chimney without being consumed. This objection, so common in other Furnaces, is obviated in this.

MAGEE FURNACE.

The flue or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot descend, and are burned up by the admission of cold air through the fire-pot, which ignites them as they pass off from the coal, thus saving at least 20 per cent. of the properties of the heat in the fuel.

No heating apparatus with the smoke-pipe or flue on the top of the cone can be made to consume the gases of the coal, and consequently a large amount of the heat generated, making the chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.

This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.

These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 20 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.

For ease of management, economy and purity of air, these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire may be kept the entire season without once going out.

They give entire satisfaction wherever used. We have in store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world,—and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:

Samuel Cleaves, Esq., Albert R. Hatch, Esq.,
Aaron H. Hill, Charles H. Mendum,
Henry F. Wendell, John Sise, and others.

DR. DOW continues to be consulted at his office, Nos. 7 and 9 ENDICOTT STREET, Boston, on all diseases of a

PELVIC AND DELICATE NATURE.

By a long course of study and practical experience of unlimited extent, Dr. D. has now the gratification of presenting the unfortunate with remedies that have never failed to give relief to them, failed to cure the most alarming cases of

GONORRHŒA AND SYPHILIS.

Beneath his treatment all the horrors of venereal, and impure blood, Impotency, Scrotal Gonorrhœa, Ulcers, pain and distress in the region of procreation, inflammation of the Bladder and Kidneys, Hydrocele, Abscesses, Humors, Rheumatic Swellings, and the long train of horrible symptoms that have never, since the first appearance of this disease, are made to become as harmless as the simpering siblings of a child.

SEMINAL WEAKNESS.

Dr D. devotes a great part of his time to the treatment of those cases caused by a secret and solitary habit, which ruins the body and mind, unfitting the unfortunate individual for business or society. Some of the sad and melancholy effects produced by early habits of youth, are Weakness of the Back and limbs, Dizziness of the head, Dimness of sight, Palpitation of the heart, Dyspepsia, Nervousness, Derangement of the digestive functions, Symptoms of Consumption, &c. The fearful effects on the mind are to be dreaded; loss of memory, confusion of ideas, depression of spirits, evil forebodings, aversion to society, self distrust, love of solitude, are only some of the evils produced. Such persons should, before contemplating matrimony, consult a physician of experience, and be at once restored to health and happiness.

Patients who wish to remain under Dr. Dow's treatment for a few weeks, will be furnished with pleasant rooms, and charged for board moderate.

Medicines sent to all parts of the country, with full directions for use, on receipt of the money by your cases. Dr. Dow has also for sale the Frenchcapotes, warranted the best preventive. Ordered by mail. Three for $1 and a red stamp.

Highly Important!

To Females in Delicate Health.

DR. DOW, Physician and Surgeon, No 7 & 9 Endicott Street, Boston, is consulted daily for those diseases incident to the female system. Prolapsus Uteri, or falling of the Womb, Fluor Albus, Suppression, and other menstrual derangements, so all treated upon new pathological principles, and speedy relief guaranteed in a few days. So infallibly certain is the new mode of treatment, the most obstinate complaints yield under it, and the afflicted person soon rejoices in perfect health.

Dr. Dow has no doubt had greater experience in the cure of diseases of women and children than any other physician in Boston.

Boarding accommodations for patients who may wish to stay in Boston a few days under treatment.

Dr. Dow, since 1845, having confined his whole attention to an office practice, for the cure of Private Diseases and Female Complaints, acknowledges no superior in the United States.

☞ Beware of all letters must contain four red stamps, or they will not be regarded.

Office Hours from 8 A. M. to 9 P. M.

CERTAIN CURE

in all cases, or No Charges Made.

Dr. Dow is consulted daily, from 8 A. M. to 9 P. M. as above, upon all difficult and chronic diseases of every name and nature, having by his unwearied attention and extraordinary success gained a reputation which calls patients from all parts of the country to obtain advice.

Among the physicians in Boston, none stand higher in the profession than the celebrated Dr. DOW, No. 7 Endicott street, Boston. Those wishing the services of an experienced physician and surgeon should give him a call.

☞ S—Dr. Dow imports and has for sale a valuable article, called the FRENCH SECRET. Order enclosing two for $1 and a red stamp.

"Bound to no party—to no sect confined:
The world our home; our brethren, all mankind.
Love truth, do good; be just and fair with all:
Exalt the right, though every item fall."

"Let me warn you in the most solemn manner against the baneful effects of the spirit of Party generally. It is a spirit not to be encouraged.—Its common and continual mischief is sufficient to make it the interest and duty of a wise people to discourage and restrain it. In governments of the popular form, it is seen in its greatest rankness, and is truly their worst enemy."—Washington's Farewell Address

TOPOGRAPHICAL RHETORIC.—Hon. Edward Everett presided at the meeting in Faneuil Hall on Wednesday afternoon, to hear an address from the eloquent East Tennesseean, Col. Taylor. In his opening remarks Mr. Everett gave the subjoined description of the Tennessee river, of which the Transcript says:

The exquisite word-painting was a lesson in geography, photographed on the memory through the vitalizing fervor of the imagination. The pictorial passage was singularly felicitous as a metaphorical argument and an apt illustration. But it was hardly less valuable as a clear and brilliant outline of a portion of the continent, picturesque in its scenery, abounding in the treasures of a rich soil, and destined hereafter to be full of historic interest.

The following is the passage referred to:

That river, fellow-citizens, is in some respects one of the most remarkable on the continent. Its northern affluents rise in the State of Virginia, but, as if to read a lesson of Union in the very face of the soil,—as if to prop the fabric of the Union by the eternal buttresses of the hills, instead of flowing to the Atlantic like the other rivers of Virginia, it gathers up the waters of its tributary streams, and connecting Virginia and the Carolinas with East Tennessee, flows south-ward down the northeastern corner of Georgia.

There, after kissing the feet of the glorious hills of Chattanooga, instead of flowing to the gulf, its seeming natural direction, it coquets with Northern Alabama, breaks into the Muscle Shoals, plants, Decatur at their head, and Florence at their feet, and then sweeping back to its native North, traverses the entire width of Tennessee a second time, seemly running up hill, for while it is flowing northward, the Mississippi parallel to it, and at no great distance, is rolling its floods southward,—enters the State of Kentucky, and empties at last into the Ohio, fifty miles above its junction with the Mississippi, thus binding seven States in its silver circuit, and connecting them all with the great central basin of the continent.

The soil of Eastern Tennessee is rich, the mountains are filled with coal and almost every variety of ore; their slopes bubble with mineral springs; the climate is temperate and healthful; the territory mainly divided into farms of a moderate size, for the most part tilled by frugal, industrious men, who own the soil, which yields them its well-earned abundance. In no part of the State are there so few slaves; in none is there a more substantial population; in no part of the South is the slave interest so feeble. East Tennessee greatly resembles the lower ranges and fertile valleys of Switzerland, and it has been often called the American Switzerland. It is divided into thirty counties, and its population does not, I believe, fall short of 300,000 souls. My friend, Col. Taylor, nods assent.

But this grand valley, with the hills that enclose it, possesses an interest for us far beyond that which attaches to their geographical features, merely as such. It is one of the most important links in that chain of valley and mountain which traverses the entire North American continent, from northeast to southwest, separating the streams which flow into the Atlantic from those which seek the St. Lawrence, the Ohio and the Mississippi. Forcing its way down into the heart of the region, whose alluvial plains are devoted to the culture of tobacco, cotton, rice and sugar by slave labor, this ridge of highlands with the valleys enclosed in them, from the time you leave the State of Pennsylvania, begins to assume the highest political importance, in reference to the present stupendous struggle.—Extending to the Southwest as far as Northern Alabama, this noble mountain tract and the valleys enclosed in its parallel and transverse ridges, is, by the character of its climate, soil, and natural productions, the natural ally of the North. Here, if nowhere else, we may truly say with the German poet—

On the mountains is Freedom; the breath of the vales
Blows not up to the pure mountain gales.

The Bishop of Carlisle is credited with a joke. It is said that a young clergyman, not far from Penrith, being on the eve of marriage, and not wishing to trouble any of his brethren, wrote to the bishop, inquiring, as he had already published the banns from his own pulpit, could he marry himself? His lordship made no long appeal to laws ecclesiastical, but at once capped the querry with another, "Could you bury yourself?"

THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 18, 1864.

THE REBELLION.

Gen. Sherman did not occupy Jackson, Miss., on the 5th, as telegraphed. Gen. McPherson's corps crossed the Big Black River, 15 miles east of Vicksburg, on the 7th. Gen. Hurlbut took a parallel route from Vicksburg and crossed 5 miles above McPherson's pontoons. Each column was 14 miles long. The force sent up the Yazoo was to prevent a flank movement to cut off our track. The iron-clads would try to reach Granada to co-operate with Smith's cavalry and drive Forrest's rebel command towards Canton, where Bishop Polk's conscripts are said to be fortified with cotton bales.

A letter received from Knoxville, dated the 6th, says that Longstreet's forces in that vicinity have been over-estimated and can be taken care of.

The N. Y. World's Nashville letter of the 12th says the army at Chattanooga is preparing for immediate operations. Chattanooga is now a base well stored with provisions and munitions of war. The roads in Georgia are in better condition than was expected.

Advices from New Mexico to Jan. 31st state that Col. Kit Carson has pursued the Navajo Indians through Dp Chelle, killing 23 and taking 150 prisoners.

Twenty-six more of the Union officers who escaped from the Libby prison in Richmond on the 10th, arrived at Fortress Monroe on the 16th.

A recently captured letter says there are secret Union associations in Virginia that are known to have over 1000 members, some of these being wealthy and influential citizens. The letter says Jeff. Davis knows this and has ordered several suspected persons to be arrested, and that secret agents are now on the hunt for all suspected traitors.

The Herald's Washington dispatch states that the policy of extending the President's Amnesty to the colonels is much talked of. Rebel prisoners and refugees state that this would cause whole regiments to give themselves up. An instance is rumored where a whole brigade were prepared to come over in a body, but was prevented by the exclusion of colonels from the Amnesty.

The rebel steamer Cumberland from Havana for Mobile, with ammunition, arms, &c., has been captured by the De Soto.

—The New Hampshire Sharpshooters started on their return to duty on Saturday. On reaching New York they received intelligence of the extension of their furlough for thirty days, and accordingly returned again to Concord, Monday.

—A tenement house belonging to the Great Falls Manufacturing Company, was burned on Wednesday morning. Loss $8000. All the fire engines but one were frozen up, but by the strenuous exertions of the firemen and citizens, a serious conflagration was prevented.

—Mr. Alonzo Poor was killed on the Cochseco road last Saturday. He was acting as brakeman, and was passing from one part of the train to another, over the top of the cars, when his head came in contact with a bridge, killing him instantly. He was a son of Mr. Eri Poor, of Hooksett, and was 22 years of age, and leaves a wife and two children. A few weeks since another son of Mr. Poor, was badly injured on the Eastern road, but is likely to recover. Still another son has been taken prisoner at Gettysburg, and has been confined in Richmond since July.

TOM THUMB RIVALLED.—The Rochester Democrat, mentioning a visit of Joseph Leffel, of Springfield, Ohio, says:—"He is the smallest business man in the world, and indeed quite an atom as compared with General Tom Thumb, Mr. Leffel being only forty-four inches in height, and weighing but fifty-five pounds! Mr. Leffel is now thirty-two years of age. He is an intelligent, able-bodied, handsome-featured man, and sports a moustache that would really do credit to the Scotch giant. He has filled the office of Supervisor in Springfield, and is regarded as one of the most public spirited citizens of that place." He is about to marry Miss Sarah E. Ballton, who is smaller than Mrs. Thumb, and was formerly Dolly Dutton's maid of honor.

—The House of Representatives have insisted on their amendments to the Enrollment bill, and committees of conference have been appointed. These committees have agreed that $300 shall exempt under a single draft,—practically, for a year.

—A woman was ejected in New York, on Saturday evening, by her landlord, to whom she was four days in arrears for rent. She took refuge in an old stable near by, and was there on Tuesday delivered of a child. A charitable tenant of the house from which she was ejected took her and properly cared for her.

Many a man thinks it is virtue that keeps him from turning a rascal, when it is only a full stomach. One should be careful and not mistake potatoes for principles.

BOSTON CORRESPONDENCE.

[From our Regular Correspondent.]

BOSTON, Feb. 15th, 1864.

Editors Chronicle:—Last Friday forenoon the Grand Jury of Middlesex county reported an indictment against Edward W. Green for the murder of Frank E. Converse! Green will be tried at the next term of the Supreme Judicial Court, which commences at Lowell the third Tuesday in April. The Malden murder is the principal topic of conversation, and yesterday was the subject of most of the sermons in this city and vicinity. The opinion is gaining ground that Green was not of perfectly sound mind when he committed the deed, and more sympathy is now expressed for the criminal than was the case at first. Every day some item of news is published to gratify the general curiosity, and everything connected with Green's past and present history is duly chronicled by the indefatigable reporters.

Thursday morning in the Superior Court, before Judge Russell, the case of George Jones, or the Count Joannes, was disposed of for the present by the court ordering the indictment to be placed on file, equivalent to a suspension of sentence, which action had been decided on on strong assurances by the Count of future good behavior, with the certainty that should he again transgress the "little Judge" will convince him that the way of the transgressor is hard.

Recruiting in this city is not as lively as was expected would be the case when the old regiments came home to recruit. A captain of the 19th told me last week they were not allowed to recruit men, but were compelled to take their recruits to some regular recruiting officer, and the old officers were not inclined to run round much after recruits to allow these recruiting officers to make from $40 to $50 on a man.—So by the prescribed routine of red tape we are deprived of the best possible opportunities to fill our quotas. 125 recruits were obtained week before last, and 102 last week. Wards 6 and 11 have filled their quotas under the 300,000 call, and are working hard to fill their quota under the last call and will probably succeed.—In ward 11 a company of sharpshooters is to be raised, by special authority from the War Department, to be attached to the 57th Veterans. The new battalion of the 1st Mass. cavalry will leave Readville to morrow, and proceed to Washington expecting to be sent to Newbern. Two battalions of the 4th cavalry will leave soon, it is expected for the Dept. of the South. It was at first proposed to join the unattached battalion of the 1st cavalry at Port Royal to this regiment, but they met with such good success that a field officer will remain here to recruit a third battalion to fill this regiment. It is commanded by Colonel A. A. Rand, formerly a Captain in the 1st and afterwards Lieut. Colonel of that regiment.

Two cases of arrest for illegal enlistments have occurred in the city, this week. On Tuesday, the chairman of the Selectmen of the town of Yarmouth was brought before the Police Court and held in $1200 for trial at the March term of the Superior Court, for illegally enlisting one or more men in the city of Boston to fill the quota of said town. John Dempsey pleaded guilty of taking a man from Middlesex county to enlist in Concord, N. H., and on Thursday was sentenced to six months in the House of Correction. A bill was introduced in the House, Wednesday, so altering the law in regard to enlistments as to allow agents to recruit in any town or city for any district in the State, but continuing the penalties for recruiting for other States. The law was introduced by friends of the gentleman from Yarmouth and was intended to cover his case.

Addison Gage, Esq., of West Cambridge, has just returned from Washington, where he was summoned to testify before the joint committee on the conduct of the war. Mr. Gage is one of our largest ice dealers, cutting most of the ice from Spy Pond and large quantities in New Hampshire. He was asked by Senator Wade of Ohio, for how much he would have contracted to furnish ice for the government this season.—He replied $75,000. "What is this government coming to," ejaculated Senator Wade, "to be swindled in this way? $500,000 was paid for that contract!"

A large and enthusiastic meeting was held in Faneuil Hall last Wednesday to listen to Col. Taylor of Tennessee, who in an eloquent manner portrayed the sufferings and privations of the Union men of East Tennessee. The galleries were crowded with ladies, and the hall was filled with the prominent citizens of Boston. In the evening, Collector Goodrich gave a complimentary levee at the United States Hotel: about 1000 persons were present, Hon. Edward Everett being one of the guests, he having introduced Col. Taylor to the assembly in the afternoon. His geographical description of East Tennessee was a splendid specimen of word painting, which no pen could describe and which must be heard to be appreciated. Mr. George Thompson, the celebrated English abolitionist, was present in the evening and made a speech which was warmly applauded. About 25 years ago Mr. Thompson, with Wm. Lloyd Garrison, was mobbed in this city for expressing anti slavery sentiments, and Wednesday evening he was the honored guest, second only to Col. Taylor.

A case of wholesale swindling occurred in this city last week. An individual whose name is supposed to be H. P. Livingston, with several aliases, in the early part of the week by various pretences secured about $15,000 worth of wool from one of our prominent wool firms, George W. Ryley & Co., 104 Federal street, shipped it to Rockville, Ct., and gave his check on the Rockville Bank, which check was dishonored.—Messrs. Ryley & Co. caused an attachment to be made of the wool, and the bank did the same, being creditors of Livingston on some previous transactions. Livingston purchased a watch of Messrs. Bigelow Brothers & Kennard, giving a check on the same bank. Delays in paying the check aroused their suspicions, but the amount was finally forwarded with an explanation that a large amount had recently been deposited, and that Livingston was good for many times the amount of the check. On Saturday Livingston called on Messrs. Bigelow Bros. & Kennard again and ordered a diamond ring to be made to order, with certain initials in diamonds, valued at $300. At one time while in their store Livingston signed his name as H. Pease, and when mentioned by Mr. Bigelow, to whom he had been introduced by a reputable party as Mr. Livingston, he stated that he had power of attorney to sign that name. But as he had signed as principal their suspicions were aroused and they followed his movements sharply. Livingston was arrested Saturday afternoon at the Tremont House, and the ring returned to the firm. Papers were found in Livingston's possession, indicating that he was connected with business men in rebeldom, and this afternoon he is reported to have been recognized as the person who swindled parties in Richmond, Va., about a year ago, out of $150,000. Altogether this is one of the most extensive and peculiar swindling operations we have had here for some time. To day Livingston, in default of bail, was committed to jail, and his case will be examined next Wednesday.

Mr. Samuel Mason, of Manchester, N. H., for a long time connected with the Boston Herald, and at one time its correspondent from Port Royal, left this city last week for Hilton Head, with the intention of editing and publishing a paper in the Dept. of the South. Success to him.

Mrs. L. R. Shewell, (Rose Skerrett,) so long a favorite actress at the Museum, again appears in Boston at the Tremont Theatre. Mr. R. M. Field is the new manager of the Museum, the position held by Mr. Keach, lately deceased.

The New Hampshire companies of the 2d U. S. S. S. (furloughed veterans,) were to leave Concord for the army of the Potomac on Saturday. There are about 100 volunteers and 20 drafted men and substitutes in camp at Concord. MANNING.

— New Orleans papers say the spring business of that city, by way of the West, promises to be large and active.

— Gov. Seymour of New York has signed a bill submitting to the people the question of amending the constitution so as to allow soldiers to vote.

— Trailing arbutus, the buds just ready to burst into blossom, has been found in some sunny nook at Chicopee, Mass., and it is the middle of February!

— The Wisconsin Legislature is seeking some constitutional mode of punishing those who have run away to Canada to escape the draft.

— A case concerning a patent for making hat bodies, is being argued now in the U. S. Supreme Court. The costs thus far have reached the sum of three hundred thousand dollars.

— During the recent destruction of blockade runners off Wilmington, the Union fleet were under the fire of batteries on shore. Side-wheel steamer Sassacus had her wheel-house splintered and two men slightly wounded. Side-wheel steamer Florida had a shot put through her stack, wounding one man with a rivet. Several were slightly hurt on board screw steamer Cambridge.

— Horace F. Walworth, of the parish of West Baton Rouge, La., has bequeathed $250,000 for the purpose of establishing a printing office for the publication of a weekly paper for the use of the blind; to be printed with raised letters, or in the most approved method for their use, and gratuitously distributed among such blind persons of the South as are unable to pay for it. Deceased became blind some years previous to his death.

☞ A few weeks before his death, while at the Saturday dinner of Punch contributors, Thackeray was challenged to give an illustration of his dexterity with the pen.—He produced a four-penny piece, and having marked the circle of the coin with a pen on a piece of paper, he drew in the centre a crown, and filled up the remaining space with the Lord's Prayer, which he transcribed without a single contraction except in the case of the word "which," spelling it "wh." The pen used was an ordinary goose-quill which happened to be in the room.

Local.

☞ There was quite a heavy sea on the river Wednesday. Many of the workmen in endeavoring to cross to the Navy Yard had their boats filled with water, and were obliged to put back to Portsmouth. Many workmen failed to arrive at the Yard, and few came back in their boats, preferring to walk round rather than to return across the river,—wet coats not being agreeable in a high wind, with the thermometer 4 degrees or more below zero.

It was almost impossible to face the wind in some parts of the city, and we noticed a poor old man blown flat to the ground while attempting to breast its fury at the corner of State and Pleasant streets. Posterboards were blown down, old blinds and gates blown open, and quite a stir generally made among ricketty buildings.

☞ Miss. E. W. Baarnhielm of this city, has been awarded a prize of $50 by a Committee in Cleveland, "for the best Tract on Profane Swearing, to be published by the American Reform Tract and Book Society."

☞ A horse and sleigh, driven by contraband soldiers, was capsized on Water street, Wednesday. The sleigh was somewhat damaged, and the soldiers bruised.

☞ The crew of the U. S. steamer Colorado, at the Portsmouth Navy Yard, were paid off on Wednesday and discharged.

☞ We are under obligations to Hon. Daniel Clark for a valuable public document—the Department of Agriculture Report for 1862.

☞ Grandma Young, M. D., has returned, and will remain at the City Hotel until Saturday, Feb. 27. Rooms Nos. 3 and 4, second floor. She has just received a fresh supply of roots and herbs. Consultations free. Do not forget her book,—price $1. Every family should have one. Sold by herself only. 15t*

THE SASSACUS.—The Navy Department has received a despatch from Admiral Lee, in which he reports the circumstances attending the capture and destruction off Wilmington, of the blockade runners, Wild Dayrell, Nutfield, Dee, Emily, and the Fannie and Jennie. The Wild Dayrell, and the Nutfield were destroyed by the U. S. steamer Sassacus, which was built at the Portsmouth Navy Yard.

The Admiral says: "Upon the reporting of the Sassacus, Lieut. Commander Rowe, she was assigned to the duty as an outside cruiser to cruise on the line bearing between New Inlet and Bermuda, not further eastward than the meridian of 70 degrees west longitude astern, where her reputation for speed would be severely tested, and one in which a very fast cruiser would prove a great stumbling block to blockade runners. The result has equalled my expectations, and the destruction of the steamers Wild Dayrell and Nutfield by the Sassacus, both new and fast vessels—the latter on her first voyage—are added to the long list of disasters to the blockade runners. Lieut. Com'r Rowe estimates the value of the Wild Dayrell with her cargo at about $200,000. The Nutfield's cargo consisted of munitions of war, arms, a battery of 8 Whitworth guns, and pig lead. The guns and lead were thrown overboard during the chase. Some 700 rifles and a quantity of cavalry sabres, together with other articles, were rescued from her before she was burnt. Lieut. Commander Rowe reports that the Sassacus attained a speed of 13 1-2 knots and gained rapidly on one of the fastest steamers yet sent out to run the blockade.

It is estimated by the Congressional committee that one hundred million gallons of whiskey alone are manufactured in this country annually. We should think the wine, brandy, gin, rum, beer, porter, &c., manufactured and imported, must be equal to the whiskey. If this is so, we have 200,000,000 gallons. Now our population is the loyal States to consume this is about twenty millions, of which one-fifth, or five millions, are adult males; and supposing there are as many females who drink as there are males who do not, and we have fifty gallons per annum to each consumer. Of course this is not all drunk, but suppose one-half of it is, and then we have two quarts to each consumer for every week in the year. How is this? Are we drinking at this rate, or is there a mistake in the in the returns of the Congressional committee? Whether so or not, it is evident that there is a wide market for alcoholic drinks and malt liquors.—Newburyport Herald.

LONGEVITY AND TEA.—Many have tried to master the secret of longevity.—We believe it was an English judge who thought he had found it in early rising, after questioning all the old men who came before him for many years. But many have lived to a great age who have not been early risers, and getting an abundance of sleep is certainly more important to health than getting up early. A correspondent of the Albany Journal, who visited a man that was supposed to be one hundred and seven years old, says he was naturally anxious to know what food had brought him thus very far on life's journey. He accordingly asked the wife of the venerable patriarch. Her answer was terse and suggestive, though slightly ungrammatical: He don't have no victuals if he don't have tea! Here is an interesting fact for drinkers, whose favorite beverage has been remorselessly abused by dietetic reformers. Boston Journal.

It is said that the Greek fire has failed in consequence of the shells not being properly fused. If there is any defect in the fuses, why are they not re-fused?

☞ The Lewiston, Me., people have instituted evening schools for young operatives of the mills, and it works well. The teachers had to turn away scores of scholars, having been unable to accommodate them. One night the doors were actually besieged by an anxious crowd of boys and girls—all eager to learn something. As many as could be accommodated were taken. Reluctantly the rest were told that there was no more room.

☞ The Northern Monthly is the title of a new magazine to be published in Portland in March. Its editor is E. P. Weston, who will have a large corps of contributors, all Maine writers. The Magazine will contain 72 pages, and will take the place of the Maine Teacher. It is to be a literary and military journal. Price, $2 per year.

☞ Peterson's Magazine for March is ahead of all the other Monthlies, being already published. It is low in price, yet good in quality.

—In London, recently, a girl aged 19 was so frightened by a friend who played the ghost on her, that she died in a few weeks. The fright caused the girl to bleed freely at the nose; she also lost her appetite and mind, and finally died of "obscure disease of the brain and hysteria."

☞ Measles are prostrating the volunteers by hundreds, the hospitals are crowded with them. Soldiers, be warned in time. Holloway's Pills are positively infallible in the cure of this disease; occasional doses of them will preserve the health even under the greatest exposures. Only 30 cts. per box. 22t

FACTS CANNOT LIE.—It would be easy to fill a column of this newspaper with testimonials in favor of Grace's celebrated Salve, but its merits are so universally known that press-publicity is almost needless. The proprietor feels happy to know that his Salve is now in almost every home, not only in New England, but in the Middle and Western States. It is THE remedy for cuts, bruises, burns, scalds, boils, piles, salt rheum, and all eruptions of the skin. The fact of its having cured all these and other inflammatory diseases of the cuticle cannot be disputed.

☞ It is supposed by some that the Prince of Wales visited this country in part to obtain a package of Herrick Allen's Gold Medal Saleratus. Whether he did or not, it would do honor to the Queen's table to have as nice light Biscuit as that article always makes. If any one has any doubts on the subject, go to your Grocer and get a paper immediately, and find of a truth that there is nothing like it. Everybody sells it.

DR. TEBBETTS' PHYSIOLOGICAL HAIR REGENERATOR
—AND—
UNIVERSAL HAIR RESTORER.

ITS MODUS OPERANDI.

Immediately beneath the scalp there are very small islands, or, more commonly Roots of the Hair. It is from these Glands that every hair of the head is formed and nourished. As long as the scalp is free from disease, these bodies also remain healthy, and the hair keeps its natural appearance and color. But when humors and other diseases affect the scalp, these glands become involved in the same disease, and the hair gradually turns gray, dry and brittle. Sooner or later the hair begins to fall off, and in many cases, it not arrested, will produce a complete baldness of the scalp.

To remedy this pathological condition of the glands and create a new and healthy action, the Physiological Hair Regenerator has proved a perfect success—inasmuch as it is the only preparation yet known that can boast of such wonderful results.

Unlike thousands of other articles in the market, containing Silver, Lime, Lead, Litharge, Tannin, Sulphur, &c., and producing only a sort of yellow or drab color, it will, if properly applied restore the hair to its former appearance and beauty.

The Physiological Hair Regenerator is warranted in all cases to produce the following results:

1. It is not a Dye and will not stain a single particle. It contains no coloring matter whatever, and is not the least injurious in its application.

2. It will certainly RESTORE the hair from a gray to a beautiful Black, Brown, Auburn, or whatever might have been its original color.

3. It will effectually prevent the hair from falling off, remove all heat, inflammation and Dandruff from the scalp, keeping the head clean and cool, and the hair soft, glossy and of a silky appearance.

4. It will PROMOTE a luxuriant growth of new hair on bald heads, except in extreme cases of old age and where the glands have become disorganized.

5. It will cure the most inveterate itching and neuralgia of the scalp, and being highly perfumed, it affords a most delightful article for the toilet.

We have a great abundance of testimony to prove beyond a doubt all that we claim for the Regenerator; and it is probably the only article that in a very short time it will have a world wide reputation.

HOME TESTIMONY.

BEDFORD, N. H., Dec. 17, 1863.

Messrs. Tebbetts Brothers—The preparation you induced me to try on my hair about six weeks ago, has had a wonderful effect. My hair was then almost white and now it is almost black. My daughter also tried it on her hair, which was fast falling off on account of a severe attack of the diphtheria; it stopped it immediately on its application. My wife has also been trying it for baldness on top of her head, and finds that a new growth of hair is rapidly starting. We have only used one bottle, and I think one more will fix our heads up in good shape. J. C. CUTLER.

MANCHESTER, Dec. 20, 1863.

Gents—Unless I am very much mistaken, your Hair Regenerator is destined, ere long, to work a complete revolution with all other Hair Preparations. It not only restores the hair to its natural color and keeps the head free from Dandruff, but it is the most beautiful dressing that can be prepared. My hair, without any apparent cause, began to turn gray when about thirty-six years of age, and had been gradually increasing for more than ten years, when about two months ago I began the use of your Regenerator, and it has completely astonished all my friends to see my hair brought back to its natural color, which is almost a complete black. It is the only thing, unless it was a regular Hair Dye, that I ever knew would produce such effect. It also keeps the head so clean and free from scurf, that it makes a very nice dressing. JACOB J. ABBOTT.

CHEROKEE REMEDY
—AND—
CHEROKEE INJECTION,

Compounded from Roots, Barks & Leaves.

CHEROKEE REMEDY, the great Indian Diuretic, cures all diseases of the urinary organs, such as Incontinence of the Urine, Inflammation of the Bladder, Inflammation of the Kidneys, Stone in the Bladder, Stricture, Gravel, Gleet, Gonorrhœa, and is especially recommended in those cases of Fluor Albus (or Whites, in the female) where all the old nauseous medicines have failed.

It is prepared in a highly concentrated form, the dose only being from one to two tablespoonfuls three times per day.

It is diuretic and alterative in its action; purifying and cleansing the blood, causing it to flow in all of its original purity and vigor; thus removing from the system all peculiar causes which have induced disease.

CHEROKEE INJECTION is intended as an ally or assistant to the CHEROKEE REMEDY, and should be used in conjunction with it; as medicine in all cases of Gonorrhœa, Gleet, Fluor Albus or Whites, its effects are healing, soothing and demulcent; removing all scalding, heat, chordee and pain, instead of the burning and almost unendurable pain that is experienced with nearly all the cheap quack injections.

☞ By the use of the CHEROKEE REMEDY and CHEROKEE INJECTION—the two medicines at the same time—all impure disorders are removed, and the weakened organs are speedily restored to full vigor and strength.

☞ For full particulars get our pamphlet from any drug store in the country, or write us and we will mail free, to any address, a full treatise.

Morning Chronicle.

☞ The February number of the Cornhill Magazine, of which Thackeray was editor, contains a beautiful tribute to his memory as a writer and a man, by Dickens, "his old comrade and brother-in-arms." A tone of the kindliest feeling and warmest admiration pervades the whole, but we have room to quote from it only the two following paragraphs:

I saw him first nearly twenty-eight years ago, when he proposed to become the illustrator of my earliest book. I saw him last shortly before Christmas, at the Athenæum Club. * * * * The long interval between those two periods is marked in my remembrance of him by many occasions when he was supremely humorous, when he was irresistibly extravagant, when he was serious and serious, when he was charming with children. But, by none do I recall him more tenderly than by two or three that stare out of the crowd, when he unexpectedly presented himself in my room, announcing how much a passage in a certain book had made him cry yesterday, and how that he had come to dinner, 'because he couldn't help it,' and must talk some passage over. No one can ever have seen him more genial, natural, cordial, fresh and honestly impulsive, than I have seen him at those times. No one can be surer than I, of the greatness and the goodness of the heart that then disclosed itself.

He had a particular delight in boys and an excellent way with them. I remember his once asking me with fantastic gravity, when he had been to Eton, where my eldest boy then was, whether I felt as he did in regard of never seeing a boy without wanting instantly to give him a sovereign. I thought of this when I looked down into his grave, after he was laid there, for I looked down into it over the shoulder of a boy to whom he had been kind.

☞ One of the Democratic Selectmen of the town of Durham, Me., has gone and done it, for having, according to the Lewiston Journal, relieved the town of the trouble of taking care of its money, and a family of the trouble of taking care of a daughter. The particulars, as taken from the current story, are as follows:—

The Selectman referred to took his team and went to Portland, sold his team, hired another and returned to Durham in the night and took away the young lady, who threw all her clothing out of the window. The two immediately drove for Portland, and the last seen of them they were on the Boston train at Lawrence. It is supposed that they left New York on Wednesday for Liverpool.

Of the defalcation little seems to be known but much conjectured. It is stated that the gentleman in question has had full charge of raising money to pay town bounties, and that he has raised the money, and given out that the quota of the town was full when it actually lacked seven of being full. It is also said that he has paid a number of volunteers in scrip. The financial affairs of the town have been for some years chiefly in his charge, and if any deficit exists, no one knows how large it may be.

ROSES A LUXURY OF THE ANCIENTS. To enjoy the scent of roses, at meals, an abundance of rose leaves were shaken on the table, so that the dishes were completely surrounded. By an artificial contrivance, roses, during meals, descended on the guests from above. Heliogabalus, in his folly, caused roses to be showered down upon guests in such quantities that a number of them, being unable to extricate themselves, were suffocated in flowers. During meal times, they reclined upon cushions stuffed with rose leaves, or made a couch of the leaves themselves. The floor, too, was strewn with roses, and in this custom great luxury was displayed. Cleopatra, at an enormous expense, procured roses for a feast which she gave to Antony, had them last two cubits thick on the floor of the banquet room, and then caused nets to be spread over the flowers, in order to render the footing elastic. Heliogabalus caused not only the banquet rooms, but also the colonades that led to them, to be covered with roses, interspersed with lilies, violets, hyacinths and narcissi, and walked about upon the flowery platform.

TIRED OF WAITING.—A Chicago girl, tired of waiting for the young man who don't propose"—probably on account of the expense—takes advantage of the season and speaks out boldly over her own name in the "Wants" column of the Chicago Tribune, as follows:

This is leap year. I'll wait no longer.—So have I too, twenty-one years, healthy, prepossessing, medium size, full chest, educated, prudent, large sparkling eyes, long black flowing hair, and as full of fun as a chestnut is full of meat, born to make some man happy, and want a home. Does anybody want me?

— At a recent ball in Vienna, a captain who was of plebeian birth asked a lady of high rank to dance with him and was haughtily refused. The emperor Joseph overheard the refusal and said to the snubbed officer "Captain, my mother wishes to dance with you"—and the arch duchess did so, much to the mortification of aristocracy.

— A lady was with her husband visiting the camp of the Michigan Sharpshooters at Camp Douglas. "What does M. S. S. on the men's caps mean?" said she. Her spouse said, knowing no better, that it meant manuscripts. The lady, suspecting a shave on the part of her lord, indignantly replied: "Well, it's better to be a manuscript than a conscript, ain't it?"

Constitution Life Syrup,

COMPOSED OF

IODIDE POTASSIUM,

With the compound concentrated fluid extract of

VALUABLE MEDICINAL

ROOTS AND HERBS,

Prepared by WM. H. GREGG, M. D., Graduate of College of Physicians and Surgeons, N. Y., formerly Assistant Physician Blackwell's Island Hospitals, late Medical Inspector New York State Lunatic Asylum, under Gov. Edwin D. Morgan.

Constitution Life Syrup

HAS PRODUCED

A REVOLUTION IN MEDICINE!

What may seem almost incredible, in 1 at many diseases hitherto deemed incurable, liquidated are frequently cured in a few days or weeks, and we cheerfully invite the investigations of the liberal minded and scientific to some which have stood the test of time. What is required is, to restore the normal balance of the scale.

CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP,

A positive and specific remedy for all disease originating from an IMPURE STATE OF THE BLOOD, and most particularly DISEASES transmitted from PARENT TO CHILD.

Paralysis.

Hemiplegia, Paralysis, Paraplegia, Paralysis Agitans.

It is so universally admitted that Constitution Life Syrup is the only effective means of restoration in the various forms of Paralysis, that we need not reiterate that it is emphatically the Great Life-Giving Power.

Dyspepsia.

Indigestion, Liver Complaint, Constipation, Weight at Stom'h, Biliousness, Want of Appetite, Flatulence, Bad Breath.

Scrofula.

Strama, Glandular Swellings, Ulcerations, King's Evil, Erysipelas, Salt Rheum.

This taint (hereditary or acquired) filling his with noted misery, is by all usual methods considered incurable.

Rheumatism.

(Arthritic), Neuralgia, Gout, Lumbago, Sciatica, The Dolourous.

If there is any disease in which the Constitution Life Syrup is a sovereign, it is in Rheumatism and its kindred affections. The most intense pains are almost instantly alleviated, and cases of long standing are redeemed, chronic or vicarious, of 10 or 20 years standing, have been cured by us.

Nervousness.

Nervous Debility, Confusion of Thought, Spleen, Loss of Power, Sleeplessness, Nervous Irritation.

Thousands who have suffered for years will bless the day on which they read these lines. Particularly to weak, suffering women will this medicine prove invaluable, smoothing the rugged their footsteps to a Hope which fulfils more than is promised.

ULCERS, PIMPLES, BLOTCHES.

And all other difficulties of this kind, which so much disgure the outward appearance of both manhood and female, often making them a disgusting object to themselves and their friends.

CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP

Cures all Swellings of the Glands,

Either of the Face, Neck or Female Breast, and should be taken as soon as the swelling is detected, thus preventing the breaking out of those unsightly and Discharging Sores, which disgure so many of the younger portion of the community, from six to twenty years of age. Young children have from childhood a discharge from the Ears, which depends upon a Scrofulous constitution. These cases soon recover by taking a few doses of the Life Syrup.

All scrofulous persons suffering from Debility, Emaciation, Dyspepsia, Dropsy, of the limbs or abdomen, and in fact, all those whose vitality is low and womb, generally accompanied with inflammation and ulceration of the uterus; are permanently cured by Constitution Life Syrup. The disease known as Goitre or Swelled Neck, the Life Syrup will remove entirely. The remedy should be taken for some time, as the disease is exceedingly chronic and stubborn, and will not be removed without extra effort. Tumors of the Ovaries, Tumors of the Breast, and swelling of other glands of the body will be removed by the use of Constitution Life Syrup, without resorting to the knife or operations of any kind.

Spasmodic Affections, Sympathetic or Organic Diseases of the Heart (as palpitation, Disease of Valves—producing a grating or filing sound), Dropsy of the Heart (the symptoms of which are, pain in the portmit organ, or persons suffering from any acute pain in the region of the heart, will be greatly relieved by Constitution Life Syrup.

Broken Down and Delicate Constitutions, Suffering from Secret Habits, Loss of Sleep, Pain in the Back, Loss of Memory, Forebodings, Horror of Company, Fear of Disease, Dimness of Vision, Dry Hot Skin and Emaciation, Pain in the Head, Dizziness, Pale Flagged Countenance and Languor of the Muscular System, all require the aid of the CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP.

For the Effects of Ulcerative Diseases, either of the Nose Throat, Tongue, Spine, Forehead or Scalp, no remedy has ever proved its equal.

MOTHERS AND MARRIED LADIES, depending upon a diseased action of the Liver, are very unpleasant to the young wife and mother. A few bottles of Constitution Life Syrup will correct the secretion, and remove the deposit which is directly under the skin.

In Dyspepsia, Costiveness, giving rise to languor, dizziness, indigestion, weak stomach, or an ulcerated or cancerous condition of that organ, accompanied with burning or pain, or uneasiness of stomach, relief may be obtained by the use of Constitution Life Syrup.

☞ As a general Blood-Purifying Agent, the Life Syrup stands unrivalled by any preparation in the world.

Diseases of the Spine, as usually developed in the young, Hip Disease, Neuralgia, and all Nervous Diseases, and Ladies who are suffering from diseases for which they are at a loss to know what to do, we would advise the use of CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP. It will restore their pallid countenance, strengthen their weak back and side, give them new energy, new life and happiness.

THE RICH AND POOR are liable to the same diseases. Nature and Science have made the Constitution Life Syrup for the benefit of all.

PURE BLOOD produces healthy men and women; and if the constitution is neglected in youth, disease and early death are the results. Do not delay when the means are so near at hand, and within the reach of all.

TO MOTHERS AND MARRIED LADIES. It is the safest and most efficient medicine ever discovered for purifying the system and relieving the suffering attendant upon childbirth. It strengthens the mother and child, prevents pain and disease, and increases and enriches the food—These who have used it think it indispensable. It is highly esteemed both before and after confinement, as it prevents disease attendant upon childbirth.

Is the Poor Man's Friend and the Rich Man's Blessing!—Buy it, take it, and be cured.—It is Universal in its effects

LAST AND BEST.

THE MODEL COOK,

AN AIR-TIGHT STOVE,

WITH TWO OVENS,

And Five Boiling Places!

At the present high prices of fuel it is very desirable to lessen its consumption. This can be now accomplished by using a MODEL COOK STOVE. More cooking can be done in one with a single ton of coal, or cord of wood, than with double the quantity in any common stove or range—and in less time also.

The fire being placed in the centre of the stove, with an oven on either side (which may be thrown into one at pleasure), all the heat from the fuel is made available for cooking purposes.

The oven doors are lined with tin, and jackets are provided for the bottom and back of the stove, thus retaining much heat, ordinarily wasted. A check draft is applied, by means of which much fuel is saved, and a continuous fire may be kept as long as desirable.

A Water Tank and Hot Closet can be applied to either side when needed.

In fact, no pains or expense have been spared to make this a PERFECT Stove, and we think it surpasses all others for Economy, Durability, Capacity, Convenience, Beauty of Design and Perfection of Finish.

It is equally well adapted for Coal or Wood; Summer or Winter use; excellent in a family where help is employed, and invaluable to the housewife who does her own work, lightening it at least one-half.

No family, large or small, where economy, convenience and dispatch are desirable, should be without one.

We refer to some parties who have purchased the Model Cook—

A Great Variety of Cheaper Stoves

FOR WOOD OR COAL.

E. A. STEVENS'S

House Furnishing Establishment,

NO. 46 MARKET STREET.

THE MAGEE COOKING STOVE.

The subscriber, having received his Fall stock of Stoves, would especially call the attention of the public to the

CELEBRATED AND UNEQUALLED

MAGEE COOK STOVE,

as the very best Stove yet made, and would invite those about purchasing or exchanging Stoves, to examine this, believing it to be far superior to any other Stove yet invented, the castings being heavier, and the oven larger than usual. The oven plates are covered with zinc, which renders it equal to the old-fashioned brick oven for perfection in baking.

There is a new style and very superior broiler and iron heater combined, by which the odor of broiling meats are prevented from escaping into the room. With the extension top there is a large copper Reservoir for hot water; also a large tin waring closet attached, in which any article can be kept warm, while the other parts of the Stove are occupied for other purposes.

The arrangements for sifting the coal and cleaning the grate are far superior to those of any other stove, as no dust can escape, or smoke escape into the room, and the shoveling up of the ashes is entirely dispensed with. The fire is regulated in the same manner as in the MAGEE PARLOR STOVE, and can be continued day and night for weeks together, thus saving the expense of re-kindling every day.

For economy, durability, ease of management, cleanliness and perfection in cooking, it cannot be surpassed by any other Stove, as hundreds of families in this city and vicinity, who are now using them, are willing to testify, and speak of them in the highest terms of praise.

We would refer to the following purchasers:

"MAGEE'S PATENT"

VENTILATING & AIR-WARMING

FURNACES.

The subscriber, being the Sole Agent in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of the valuable Furnace, would ask those about remodelling or erecting buildings to examine this extremely valuable invention.

For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, moist and agreeable—and as none of the air which has passed through the fire-pot is used for respiration, the tendency to produce headache so much complained of in other Furnaces, is entirely obviated.

The objects aimed at by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from the fuel used, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.

To accomplish this many complicated and expensive heating arrangements have been constructed, some possessing but little improvement over former methods, while many have proved a total failure. The objection to these is, that the combustible gases being lighter than the air, pass off into the pipe or chimney without being consumed, a fault especially common in other Furnaces, illustrated in the

MAGEE FURNACE.

The flue or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot descend, and are burned up by the admission of cold air through the fire-pot, which ignites them as they pass from the same, and yields at least 20 per cent. of the properties of the heat in the fuel.

No heating apparatus with the smoke-pipe or flue on the top of the cone can be made to consume the gases of the coal, as they pass off with a large amount of the heat generated, making the chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.

This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.

This Furnace consumes all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 20 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.

For ease of management, economy and purity of air, these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire may be kept the entire season without once going out.

They give entire satisfaction wherever used. We have in store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world, and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:

Samuel Cleaves, Esq., Aaron H. Hill, Esq., Henry F. Wendell, Albert R. Hatch, Esq., Charles H. Mendum, John Sise, and others.

IMPORTANT TO THE AFFLICTED.

DR. DOW continues to be consulted at his office, Nos 7 and 9 ENDICOTT STREET, Boston, on all diseases of a

PRIVATE OR DELICATE NATURE.

By a long course of study and practical experience of unusual extent, Dr. D. has now the gratification of presenting the unfortunate with remedies that have never, since he first introduced them, failed to cure the most alarming cases of

GONORRHŒA AND SYPHILIS.

Beneath his treatment, all the horrors of venereal, such as Strictures, Impotency, Scrotum, Gonorrhœa, Ulcers, pain and distress in the regions of procreation, inflammation of the Bladder and Kidneys, Affections of the bones, Blotches, Bright's Swelling, and the long train of horrible symptoms attending this class of disease, are made to become as harmless as the simplest ailings of a child.

SEMINAL WEAKNESS.

Dr D. devotes a great part of his time to the treatment of those cases caused by secret and solitary habit, which ruins the body and mind, unfitting the unfortunate individual for business or society. Some of the sad and lonely effects produced by early habits of youth, are Weakness of the Back and limbs, Dizziness of the head, Dimness of sight, Palpitation of the heart, Dyspepsia, Nervousness, Debility, Pain in the digestive functions, Symptoms of Consumption, &c. The fearful effects on the mind are much to be dreaded, such as Loss of memory, Confusion, Depression of spirits, evil forebodings, aversion of society, self-distrust, timidity, &c., are among the evils produced. Such persons are unfitted for contemplating matrimony, consult a physician of experience, and be at once restored to health and happiness.

Patients who wish to remain under Dr. Dow's treatment a few days or weeks, will be furnished with pleasant rooms, and charges for board moderate.

Medicines sent to all parts of the country, with full directions for use, on receiving description of your case. Dr. Dow also makes for sale the French Capotes, warranted the best preventive. Order by mail. Three for $1 and a red stamp.

Highly Important!

To Females in Delicate Health.

DR. DOW, Physician and Surgeon, No 7 & 9 ENDICOTT STREET, Boston, is consulted daily for all diseases incident to the female system. Prolapsus Uteri, or falling of the Womb, Fluor Albus, Suppression, and other menstrual derangements, are all treated upon new pathological principles, and speedy relief guaranteed in a few days. So invariably certain is the new mode of treatment, that most obstinate complaints yield under it, and the afflicted person soon rejoices in perfect health.

Dr. Dow has no doubt had greater experience in the cure of diseases of women and children, than any other physician in Boston.

Boarding accommodations for patients who may wish to stay in Boston a few days under his treatment.

Dr. Dow, since 1845, having confined his whole attention to an office practice, for the cure of Private Diseases and Female Complaints, acknowledges no superior in the United States.

N. B.—All letters must contain four red stamps, or they will not be answered.

Office Hours from 8 A. M. to 9 P. M.

CERTAIN CURE

In all cases, or No Charges Made.

Dr. Dow is consulted daily, from 8 A. M. to 9 P. M. as above, upon all diseases of a private and delicate nature, of every name and nature, having by his unwearied attention and extraordinary success gained a reputation which calls patients from all parts of the country to obtain advice.

Among the physicians in Boston, none stands higher in the profession than the celebrated DR. DOW, No. 7 Endicott street, Boston. Those who need the services of an experienced physician and surgeon should give him a call.

P. S.—Dr. Dow imports and has for sale a new article, called the FRENCH SECRET. Order by mail. Two for $1 and a red stamp.

FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 19, 1864.

THE REBELLION.

Advices from Col. Phillips's expedition in the Indian Territory, state that he has penetrated further into rebel territory than has been ever before reached, and is still marching on to Texas with Kansas troops and a loyal Indian Brigade.

About 70 men of the 7th Indiana regiment entered the town of Bolivar, Tenn., last week, and supposing it was occupied by our forces, took no precaution to throw out scouts, but moved along leisurely until they suddenly found themselves confronted by a force of Mississippians. After some skirmishing the force charged on the enemy, routing and scattering them, with a loss of 20 or 30 killed, wounded and prisoners. Our loss was one killed and three wounded.

The N. Y. Herald's Washington dispatch says that it is rumored that on Feb. 22d President Lincoln will issue a proclamation of universal emancipation, including the border States.

The Times' dispatch says the committee on the conduct of the war will soon examine into the causes of the inactivity of the iron-clad fleet off Charleston.

Gen. Grant is not preparing for active operations.—The Mobile papers think Gen. Sherman's plan is to penetrate to central Alabama and thus compel the evacuation of Mobile.

☞ A fire broke out in Gloucester, Mass., about half-past 3 o'clock, Thursday morning, and swept through the business portion of the town, burning up very many of the stores beside a large number of dwelling houses. But a very small portion of the contents of the buildings were saved. Most of the buildings were wood and the wind blowing very strong the fire spread with fearful rapidity. Quite a number of buildings were blown up, but the fire would leap over the ruins and communicate with those beyond and thus spread the work of destruction. At quarter of 12 o'clock the fire was nearly subdued, but at that time fifty stores, the Bank of Cape Ann, the Advertiser office, town clerk's, magnetic telegraph and three lawyers' offices, Freemason's Lodge and fifteen dwellings had been burned, and forty families rendered houseless. The contents of the bank were saved. The loss cannot fall short of $400,000. Owing to the absence of vessels the loss of this class of property is trifling.—One of the engines, which was at work on a wharf, was cut off, from escape and the firemen were obliged to abandon it to the flames. Nearly all the hand-engines were frozen up, and the arrival of a steam fire engine from Salem was most opportune.

SHOCKING IMMORALITY.—The Palladium states that an individual who formerly held a respectable position in Worcester was indicted by the Grand Jury, at their late session, for keeping a nuisance in that city, and was brought into Court Wednesday, the 29th ult., and pleaded guilty. He was allowed to go on his recognizance upon condition that he would be in Court next day and take sentence. Not appearing, an officer was sent on Friday to bring him up for sentence, who returned with a physician who made affidavit that the defendant was too sick to respond. Four days afterwards he died of delirium tremens.

At the same term an indictment was found against an individual who was employed in the same drinking-house, for acts of gross immorality with two young girls in one of the rooms of the establishment. He was convicted and sentenced to the House of Correction. The oldest of the girls—15 years of age—was brought into court from prison, where she was under sentence imposed by the police court for an offence of like character. She testified, without shame, of the immoral life she had led for more than a year. The other girl, 14 years of age, was allowed to go upon the promise of friends that she would be placed where she would be properly cared for in future.

FROM JAPAN.—The Tycoon's Palace at Yeddo, Japan, was burned on Christmas. The next day the Custom House was closed, the officials declaring themselves so grieved at the Tycoon's misfortune that they were wholly unable to transact business.—It is reported that the fire originated in a gunpowder plot to blow up the palace for the purpose of killing the Tycoon. Yeddo was again ravished by fire on New Year's day. Eleven large streets in a wealthy business quarter, besides numerous adjoining back streets and alleys, were destroyed. It is estimated that 500 houses of the better class were destroyed. News had reached Kanagawa that on the 31st of October nearly all of Hakodadi was burned by incendiary fires.

☞ A business letter, received by a San Francisco firm, from Kanagawa, Jan. 7, says:—"The privateer Alabama is in dock at Amoy, China, and the Wyoming, Capt. McDougal, is standing sentry over her.—We may hope her career is ended. The Jamestown is also there before this. The news comes by the brig Mary Capen, five days from Shanghai, and is authentic."

LETTER FROM ILLINOIS.

HILLSGROVE, McDonough Co., Ill., Feb. 8th, 1864.

Messrs. Editors:—We are having a strange winter out in Illinois. It puzzled us to understand it for a while, and even now it may show us some rare tricks. The mean temperature must have been thus far, at least, above the average of years past, but including the severest cold and the longest remembered here. The thermometer does not tell the whole story. A temperature of —30° will do pretty well, with still air and bright sun. A month or two of that is pleasant weather when fuel for man and food for beast are plenty. But add to this a furious wind loaded with snow, and living man can scarcely face it. Swine perished with cold to an amazing extent here where they run so near wild. I have one, an old hero, that I suppose has been fed but once since hazel-nuts began to ripen, and seems now in good condition but rather wild.

Our December seemed like early Autumn, and our February is like early Spring. They are making sugar about here, and some were talking of plowing in January. Fodder is very scarce and the farmer's eye gladdens at the few blades of young grass that are peeping up. Winter is not generally such an affair here as with you. We did not use to make much hay here. The point I mean is just 30 miles east of where the line between Missouri and Iowa strikes the Mississippi.

A suggestion made by me in your paper, before it occurred perhaps to any one else, has been verified. The armory at Rock Island is a reality. When, on Nov. 30, 1859, the suggestion appeared in your columns, it appeared much more like what ought to be than what would be. I will now tell you of another thing that ought to be. There must be a navy yard on the Lakes. It must be on Lake Michigan, for that alone is not on our frontier. It cannot be at Chicago, for the harbor accommodations are insufficient for its commerce, nor is there water front to spare.

Fifty miles north of Chicago is Kenosha, a beautiful, high-and-dry city, with a harbor as suitable for this purpose as that of Chicago would be were it vacated by commerce. Milwaukee and Chicago will never permit Waukegan, Kenosha and Racine to become commercial ports, but a more pleasant place for residence I know not on all Lake Michigan than Kenosha. Larger places will bid higher for the navy yard, but a larger place than this ought not to have it.

When the Kenosha & Rock Island R. R. is completed, Kenosha will be the nearest point to Rock Island of any on the lake. This road, like Kenosha harbor, can accommodate the national demands without interfering with those of trade. Apart from corrupt influences, which are as irresistible in a legislature as miasma in a pen, and most irresistible when least perceptible, I have not the least idea that the beautiful Kenosha would have a competitor in the selection of a place for the Navy Yard of the Great Lakes.

I have watched the railroad interests of Portsmouth with great sympathy. It cannot be that Boston influences at Concord can suppress that piece of road from Portsmouth to Dover. I am strong in the faith that it will yet be built and will one day carry a traffic far exceeding what the C. & P. road has ever yet done—a business that shall extend even into Vermont.

And now that I am in a speculative mood I will make one suggestion more. It regards to the numbering of the days of the year. It would be a great convenience to postmasters and railway agents in stamping letters and tickets. It would save much labor in computing interest on notes.—Knowing the Dominical remainder, you could readily tell the day of the week by dividing the number of the day by 7. And the age of the moon could be readily told, to within a few days, by dividing by 30 and knowing the lunar remainder. For instance to-day is the 39th of 1864, or say 1864, 39. The Dominical remainder for all 1864 (after bissextile as well as before) is 3. Divide 39 by 7 and you have a remainder of 4: so to-day is Monday.—Again, calling 9 the lunar remainder for 1864, you see that this is about the time of new moon. But the use of 4 for lunar remainder would make a rude approximation for the time of new moon for the whole year, making the moon now 5 days to an error of 4 days. In this way we could head off the Quakers: and then "7 mo., 4th" and our "4th of July" would slide together into "the glorious 184th." But the months need not be wholly overlooked.—By arranging the days in twelve columns the numbers in the first column would indicate the day of the month for all the numbers opposite it. A single column added to our ordinary almanacs would be all that would be needed. Yours, L. F. D.

—— A Calvinistic Baptist Society has recently been organized at Suncook. On the evening of the 11th inst. a levee was held at which $100 was raised for sustaining preaching. The pastor is Rev. David Gage.

—— The Dover Enquirer states that the fire in Great Falls on Wednesday morning was occasioned by the burning of a chimney. Four large brick factory boarding houses were burnt.

—— A Union League Public Mass Convention is to be held at Smyth's Hall, Manchester, on Wednesday, Feb. 24, at 7 1-2 P. M. Extra trains will run from this city, Concord, Nashua and Lawrence, returning after the Convention. All citizens are invited. Hon. Green Clay Smith, of Kentucky, and others, are expected to address the Convention.

—— The Board of Health of Dover, in accordance with a vote of the City Council, have requested all persons in that city who have not been vaccinated within seven years, or have not had the small pox, to call on Dr. Jefferson Smith, or Dr. A. G. Fenner, who will vaccinate them free of charge. Scholars in the public schools who do not comply with this request, will not be admitted hereafter.

—— The Concord Independent Democrat is a smart paper, but once in a while gets ahead of common people. Does this week's issue it says:—

Dr. William Perry, of Exeter, has been in practice of medicine in that town for fifty years. On Monday last he received his numerous friends with whom he has been associated so long. The meeting is described as a very pleasant one.

All very good—only the meeting is to take place next Monday.

—— The Amoskeag Veterans, of Manchester, will, as has been their custom in years past, observe the anniversary of the birthday of Washington, on Monday next, the 22d instant. The exercises will be of the customary description, and will consist of a parade, dinner and levee. The dinner will be had in the new (Music) Hall, and the levee in Smyth's Hall, the usual place. Hall's Boston Quadrille Band will furnish music for the evening.

☞ The iron-clad gunboat Galena has been rebuilt at the Philadelphia Navy Yard, and will be again put in commission this week. Her armor has been stripped, the shot holes she received from the guns of Fort Darling plugged up, and she is now to all appearances a new boat. She measures 950 tons. With her armor on, she made 11 knots per hour on her trial trip; since her renewal she has performed so admirably that it is confidently expected she will make 15 knots per hour.

— Maryland slave owners are encouraging their slaves to enlist. The loyal owners receive three hundred dollars and the slaves thus emancipated one hundred dollars.

— Three new carriages, upon a platform car attached to the freight train upon the Newburyport and Georgetown Railroad, on Wednesday morning, bound to Boston, were blown from the car by violence of the wind, in passing through the Highfield pasture, and utterly demolished.

— The Halifax Colonist says that the steamer Chesapeake is now discharging her cargo at Cunard's wharf, where it is received by the customhouse officers, and stored in a bonded warehouse. There is not much of her cargo missing—not nearly so much having been disposed of after her capture as was generally supposed.

— The Republican State Convention which met at Hartford, Conn., on Wednesday, nominated Gov. Buckingham for re-election, appointed delegates to the National Convention, and passed resolutions endorsing President Lincoln, and requesting their delegates to support him in the Convention.

— A bag containing $5000 in gold was stolen from the New York Custom House on Tuesday afternoon. It was taken almost from under the elbow of a clerk who had just taken in three bags, containing $5000 each, to pay duties. The office was very much crowded at the time by parties paying duties. No trace of the missing bag has yet been obtained.

☞ It is well known that the largest halls in the country have been wholly inadequate to accommodate those who have been desirous of seeing Mr. Barnum, and listening to his interesting lecture. In Providence, the street in front of Howard Hall was densely packed before six o'clock, although the lecture did not commence until eight, and it was estimated that more than five thousand persons were unable to obtain even standing room. The large hall of the Cooper Institute, New York, one of the largest halls in the country, was crowded to excess long before the hour of the lecture, thousands having been turned away. At Albany, N. HUNNEWELL'S UNIVERSAL COUGH REMEDY.—The basis of this truly wonderful preparation, now of world-wide and deserved celebrity, is a medium from every component calculated to debilitate, and by such to allow the greatest freedom of use, day or night, as the only true theory by which HEADS and LUNG COMPLAINTS can be effectually cured. GYMNASTICS.—One of the encouraging aspects of our time, is the growing interest in physical culture. Even staid old Portsmouth is becoming awakened. Miss Haskell has two large classes formed, and a third is being organized. Why will not all our people avail themselves of the advantages of this most perfect system of physical training? It would contribute greatly to their health, strength, and happiness,—perhaps add years to their life.

One of the advantages of this system is, that it brings into play every bone, joint, and muscle in our bodies, thereby developing sympathy of form, and ease and grace of motion. Another is, that there is not the slightest danger of injury, even to the weakest child or woman. It is adapted alike to the feeble and the strong, the young and the old. Another,—and we regard it as by no means the least among its merits,—is, that it renders the hour of exercise a pleasant pastime. No one can engage in it without enjoying it. Moving to music and in perfect time, it is fully equal in interest to the dance,—while as a promoter of health it must be by far its superior. If all will interest themselves in this matter, they may materially diminish the business of doctors and undertakers.

☞ A day or two since, Mr. Albert Preble of York, Me., a carpenter employed on Portsmouth Bridge, met with a severe accident in the following manner. He was returning home with a lot of sharp tools upon his shoulder, when he stumbled and fell to the ground, striking upon the edge of an adze, nearly severing his arm at the elbow. The next day he was seized with the erysipelas which, together with the severe cut, threatens the loss of his arm, and it is feared, his life.

☞ The crew of the Colorado, now lying at the Navy Yard, were paid off on Wednesday and Thursday, and a large portion of them have left the city. Some of them had but three or four dollars due them, having drawn and squandered nearly all their funds. Others have nothing with which to reach home, having entrusted their money to those who make it their business to rob poor Jack of his hard earnings.—Groggeries and houses of ill-fame in this city and vicinity have seized the proceeds of the labors of a large part of this crew.

PORTSMOUTH, Feb. 18, 1864.

Messrs. Editors:—Will you please insert the following in your paper. One evening last week, while walking through Congress street, with a young lady, I was grossly insulted by some men who were standing at a corner. We still walked on, when one of the men made a step forward to take hold of the lady. Happening at the time to have a pistol, which was not loaded, I aimed it at the man, who, when he saw it, immediately ran away, followed by his friends. It is time these things were put a stop to,—if not by words, then by force of arms. Cannot some of our police be placed where they are most wanted? A. L.

BEAUTIES OF A COLD DAY.—The severe cold weather has filled the river with ice. The view of the water on Thursday was very beautiful. Ice islands, ranging from ten to one hundred feet in length, dotted the surface as far as the eye could reach, while overhead wheeled flocks of sea fowl seeking for food from the drifting ice cakes. Stillness reigned along the frozen shores: no boat skimmed over the waters, no sound of axe or hammer fell on the ear. Solitude and cold reigned supreme over the Piscataqua. I.

☞ We are informed that during the gale on Wednesday night the large ship house at the Portsmouth Navy Yard, from which the New Hampshire was recently launched, was moved a distance of three feet by the wind. One end of the ship house was open. On Thursday ropes were used to fasten the building, and prevented its being blown down.

☞ The thermometer ranged from 8 to 12 degrees below zero in different parts of our city on Thursday morning;—from 12 to 14 below between 1 and 3 o'clock A. M. The sale of ice-creams was not large during the day.

☞ It will be seen by the advertisement that Mr. P. T. Barnum, the far-famed originator of so many enterprises, is to lecture at the Temple in this city on the evening of March 3d. The interest of the subject, second only to that excited by the speaker himself, will doubtless, draw a full house here, as has been the case wherever he has lectured.

POLICE COURT, Thursday.—Patrick Conolly, for being drunk, was fined $3 and costs $4.80, and failing to pay was committed to the House of Correction.

SKIFF'S MINSTREL TROUPE.—This company, whose advertisement appears in another column, come well recommended by the press in places where they have performed, and offer an original programme. They appear at the Temple next Tuesday.

THE BRIGADIER.

A NURSERY RHYME.

Twinkle, twinkle single star,
How I wonder that you are
On my shoulder-strap, and I,
By friends at court, have got so high!

When my glorious staff is set
Round, with glass of dew, to wet
My commission, show your light
Twinkle, twinkle, all the night!

On the sky-blue velvet keep,
Though envious colonels at you peep—
But mind you unveil not your eye
Till the stalls have left the sky.

Lieutenant.

☞ Rev. Parsons Cooke, a distinguished clergyman of Lynn, died last week. He was for many years the editor of the Boston Recorder, and was an able theologian and controversialist, of the old school of orthodoxy in New England, strongly opposing "Bushism and Bushnellism, Parkism and Parkerism," as he styled the several heresies of Andover and Roxbury, New York and Hartford. Mr. Cooke was for a short time the minister of Pleasant street Church in Portsmouth.

☞ Mr. J. H. Foster has the 20th Part of Chambers' Book of Days, re-printed by J. B. Lippincott & Co., Philadelphia. The record of the Days is brought down to the middle of October, in this number. We have frequently referred to the excellent character of this publication, and we find this number fully equal to those which have preceded it.

-- An officer in Grant's army states that the signatures to the oath of allegiance at Chattanooga already amount to over 8000.

☞ Measles are prostrating the volunteers by hundreds, the hospitals are crowded with them. Soldiers, be warned in time. Holloway's Pills are positively infallible in the cure of this disease; occasional doses of them will preserve the health even under the greatest exposures. Only 30 cts. per box. 224

It is supposed by some that the Prince of Wales visited this country in part to obtain a package of Herrick Allen's Gold Medal Seleratus. Whether he did or not, it would do honor to the Queen's table to have as nice light Biscuit as that article always makes. If any one has any doubts on the subject, go to your Grocer and get a paper immediately, and find of a truth that there is nothing like it. Everybody sells it.

PHYSIOLOGICAL

HAIR REGENERATOR

—AND—

UNIVERSAL HAIR RESTORER.

ITS MODUS OPERANDI.

Immediately beneath the scalp there are very small Glands, or, more commonly Roots of the Hair. It is from these Glands that every hair of the head is formed and secreted. As long as the scalp is free from disease, these bodies also remain healthy, and the hair keeps its natural appearance and color. But when humors and other diseases affect the scalp, these glands become involved in the same disease, and the hair gradually turns gray, dry and brittle. Sooner or later the hair begins to fall off, and in many cases, if not arrested, will produce a complete baldness of the scalp.

To remedy this pathological condition of the glands and create a new and healthy action, the Physiological Hair Regenerator has proved a perfect success—inasmuch as it is the only preparation yet known that can boast of such wonderful results.

Unlike thousands of other articles in the market, containing Silver, Lime, Lead, Litharge, Tannin, Sulphur, &c., and producing only a sort of yellow or flax color, it will properly applied restore the hair to its former beauty and beauty.

The Physiological Hair Regenerator is warranted in all cases to produce the following results:

1. It is not a Dye and will not stain a single particle. It contains no coloring matter whatever, and is not the least injurious in its application.

2. It will certainly restore the hair from a gray to a beautiful black, brown, auburn, or whatever might have been its original color.

3. It will effectually prevent the hair from falling off, remove all heat, inflammation and Dandruff from the scalp, keeping the head clean and cool, and the hair soft, glossy and of a silky appearance.

4. It will PROMOTE a luxuriant growth of new hair on bald heads, except in extreme cases of old age and where the glands have become disorganized.

5. It will cure the most inveterate itching and neuralgia of the scalp, and being highly perfumed, is almost a delightful article for the toilet.

We have a great abundance of testimony to prove beyond a doubt all that we claim for the Regenerator; and it is positively certain that in a very short time it will have a world wide reputation.

HOME TESTIMONY.

BEDFORD, N. H., Dec. 17, 1863.

Messrs. Tebbetts Brothers—The preparation you induced me to try about two weeks, six weeks ago, has had a wonderful effect. My hair was then almost white and now it is almost black. My daughter has also tried it on her hair, which was fast falling off on account of a severe attack of the diptheria; it stopped it immediately on its application. My wife has also been trying it for baldness on top of her head, and finds that a new growth of hair is rapidly starting. We have only used one bottle, and I think one more will fix our heads right in good shape. J. C. CUTLER.

MANCHESTER, Dec. 20, 1863.

Gents—Unless I am very much mistaken, your Hair Regenerator is destined, ere long, to work a complete revolution with all other Hair Preparations. It not only restores the hair to its natural color and keeps the head free from Dandruff, but it is the most beautiful dressing that can be prepared. My hair, without any apparent cause, began to turn gray when about thirteen years of age, and had been gradually increasing for more than ten years, when about two months ago I began the use of your Regenerator, and it has completely astonished all my friends to see my hair brought back to its natural color, which is almost a complete black. It is the only thing, unless it was a regular Hair Dye, that I ever knew would produce such effect. It also keeps the head so clean and free from scurf, that it makes a very nice dressing. JACOB J. ABBOTT.

CHEROKEE REMEDY

—AND—

CHEROKEE INJECTION,

Compounded from Roots, Barks & Leaves.

CHEROKEE REMEDY, the great Indian Diuretic, cures all diseases of the urinary organs, such as Incontinence of the Urine, Inflammation of the Bladder, Inflammation of the Kidneys, Stone in the Bladder, Stricture, Gravel, Gleet, Gonorrhœa, and is especially recommended in those cases of Fluor Albus (or Whites) from which most of the old nauseous medicines have failed.

It is prepared in a highly concentrated form, the dose only being from one to two tablespoonfuls three times per day.

It is diuretic and alterative in its action; purifying and cleansing the blood, causing it to flow in all of its original purity and vigor; thus removing from the system all pernicious causes which have induced disease.

CHEROKEE INJECTION is intended as an ally or assistant to the CHEROKEE REMEDY, and should be used in conjunction with that medicine in all cases of Gonorrhœa, Gleet, Fluor Albus or Whites. Its effects are healing, soothing and demulcent; removing all scalding, heat, chordee and pain, instead of the burning and almost unendurable pain that is experienced with nearly all the cheap quack Injections.

☞ By the use of the CHEROKEE REMEDY and CHEROKEE INJECTION—the two medicines at the same time—all improper discharges are removed, and the weakened organs are speedily restored to full vigor and strength.

For full particulars get our pamphlet from any drug store in the country, or write us and we will mail free, to any address, a full treatise.

Price—CHEROKEE REMEDY, $2 per bottle, or three bottles for $5.

THE QUOTA OF NEW HAMPSHIRE.

The Copperhead press of this State would fain have the people believe that Governor Gilmore is either a knave or a fool; either that his proclamation stating that our quota is full is false in intent, or that he knows nothing relative to the subject he professes to inform the people concerning. The cause of the great tribulation among the Copperheads is manifest. When the call for 500,000 men appeared they were jubilant; they thought they saw a prospect to make political capital out of the necessities of their country, and now, when it is found that the necessities of the country are less than was at first supposed, instead of rejoicing they are sad. Loyal men can hardly conceive of such a spirit, but it has been manifested on too many occasions to doubt its existence—rejoicing when our armies are defeated, and when they are victorious. But now, like drowning men catching at straws, they declare that the draft will come, and that the Governor is attempting to fool the people; and, mis stating the facts and confusing the figures they hope to make some believe it. A plain statement of the facts in the case will make it manifest that New Hampshire has more than answered every call made upon her for men.

The first of June last New Hampshire was deficient 388 men. Last summer a draft was ordered, intended to raise three hundred thousand men, but no particular number was specified; the order was substantially to draft three out of every ten names enrolled in the first class. That draft was made in the loyal States, but from various causes it operated very differently in different States; some furnished more men, some less; our State furnished 3012 men. October 17th, 1863, the President called for three hundred thousand volunteers, our proportion of that call was 3,768; under that call we have furnished 3,768 men; so that we are chargeable with no deficiency here. February 1st, 1864, the President calls for 500,000 volunteers, and if not furnished by the 10th of March, then a draft is to be made in each State for the deficiency; but this call is not in addition to the draft and the call of October 17th, but is instead of, and a substitute for those calls. The State that has furnished its full quota under the call of October 17th, as New Hampshire has done, has only to furnish its due proportion of two hundred thousand more. If our quota of 300,000 is 3,768, then our proportion of 200,000 is just two-thirds of that, or 2,512. When the call was first made, and before it was fully explained, it would naturally be thought that we must furnish that number; the time was short, and therefore promptly the Governor issued his first proclamation, informing the people of the fact, and exhorting them to fill up the ranks. Having done this, he next enquires what about the men furnished under the draft, and the department at once answers the draft is to be ignored, i. e.: No State is to be charged as called upon to furnish any number under the draft of last summer, but each State is to be credited with the men obtained by it within her bounds. In other and simpler words, New Hampshire has been and is now called upon to furnish her proportionate number of 500,000 men since the first of June last, and to make up her deficiency at that time.—This proportionate number is 6,280. Number deficient first of June, 388; whole number of men New Hampshire must have furnished from June 1st, 1863, to March 10th, 1864, in order to avoid a draft, 6,668. Now how many has she furnished?

Men furnished under the draft, 3,012; volunteers under call of October 17, 3,768; re-enlistments from old regiments not reckoned as part of our quota under call of Oct. 17, but with which we are to be credited, 387; amounting in all to 7,167. The subtraction 6,668 from the last number is a sum we should think any copperhead could work out, and the result will show him conclusively that New Hampshire is out of the draft.

We have had the pleasure of meeting here at Florence at our hotel—"the Hotel di New York"—a young Louisiana gentleman, who is a blating secessionist. (I do not like that participial adjective, but no other expresses it.) The youth is sporting a mustache of no great dimensions, that has never been either "shaven or shorn;" still with loud words of assumed wisdom he praises Mr. Calhoun, and declares to an English lady sitting opposite to him at the dinner table, that he "would rather be born in England than go back into the American Union." (I quote verbatim, and the young man must bear the responsibility of his own grammar.) Whereupon the English lady and her daughters—although for the most part very intelligent and excellent ladies—look complacent, and the young gentleman from Louisiana feels encouraged. He is too small to make it worth while to fire at him; and so we let him talk without interrupting.—Dr. Fairfield.

"Sambo, where is your master?" "Gone out." "Has he left off drinking, yet?" "Oh, yes, sure! he leave off two, tree time dis morning."

Heaven is in us, and not in the skies. We must, therefore, make our heaven here, and take it with us to heaven.

Constitution Life Syrup,

COMPOSED OF

IODIDE POTASSIUM,

With the compound concentrated fluid extract of

VALUABLE MEDICINAL

ROOTS AND HERBS,

Prepared by WM. H. GREGG, M. D.,

Graduate College Physicians and Surgeons, N. Y. formerly Assistant Physician and Blockwell's Island Hospitals, late Medical Inspector New York State Volunteer Depots, under Gov. Edwin D. Morgan.

Constitution Life Syrup

HAS PRODUCED

A REVOLUTION IN MEDICINE!

What may seem almost incredible, is, that many diseases hitherto considered hopelessly incurable are frequently cured in few days or weeks, and we cheerfully invite the investigations of the liberal minded and scientific to cures which have no parallel at the present day.

Our medicine is peculiar, by it the seat of disease is directly reached, and the equilibrium restored. Those who have suffered long from painful and obstinate diseases, those who have vainly sought relief from advertised medicines, those who cannot be cured by other physicians—are Invited to use Constitution Life Syrup.

During the past five years we have contended with obstinate and severe opposition as heroism as ever encountered by any Reformers.

Rapidity of Cure.

Some say, "Your cures are too quick," while others say, "Prove your permanence, and think that diseases can only be cured by the "slow recuperative process of Nature." This is our reply:

In health, the body, like a well-balanced scale, is in a state of equilibrium. But when from any cause down goes one side of the scale, we have the effects of disease. What is requisite is, to remove the normal balance of the scale.

CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP,

A positive and specific remedy for all diseases originating from an IMPURE STATE OF THE BLOOD, and for all hereditary DISEASES transmitted from PARENT TO CHILD.

Paralysis.

Hemiplegia, Paresis, Paraplegia, Paralysis Agitans.

It is so universally admitted that Constitution Life Syrup is the only effective means of restoration in the various forms of Paralysis, that we need not reiterate that it is emphatically the Great Life-Giving Power.

Dyspepsia.

Indigestion, Costiveness, Constipation, Weight at Stom'h, Biliousness, Want of Appetite, Flatulence, Bad Breath.

Scrofula.

Struma, "Glandular" Swellings, Ulceration, King's Evil, Erysipelas, Salt Rheum.

This taint (hereditary or acquired), filling life with untold misery, is by all usual medical remedies incurable.

Rheumatism.

[Arthritis], Neuralgia, Gout, Lumbago, Sciatica, Tic Doloureux.

If there is any disease in which the Constitution Life Syrup is a specific, it is in the Rheumatism and its kindred affections. The most intense pains are almost instantly alleviated—enormous swellings are reduced, and permanent cures effected, of 20 or 30 years standing, have been cured by us.

Nervousness.

Nervous Debility, Confusion of Thoughts, Epilepsy, Loss of Power, Shattered Nerves, St. Vitus' Dance.

Thousands who have suffered for years will bless the day they first read these lines, that, unfortunately to weak, suffering woman will this medicine prove an inestimable blessing—directing their footsteps to a Hope which fulfils more than it promises.

Mercurial Diseases.

Salivation, Feeling of Weariness, Rotting of Bones, Bad Complexion, Aches in Bones, Depressed System.

Constitution Life Syrup purges the system entirely from all the evil effects of MERCURY, removing the Bad Breath, and curing the Weak Joints and Rheumatic Pains which the use of Calomel is sure to produce. It hardens Spongy Gums and secures the Teeth as firmly as ever.

Constitution Life Syrup

Eradicates, root and branch, all Eruptive Diseases of the Skin, like

ULCERS, PIMPLES, BLOTCHES.

And all other difficulties of this kind, which so much disfigure the outward appearance of both males and females, often making them a disgusting object to themselves and their friends.

CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP

Cures all Swellings of the Glands,

Either of the Face, Neck or Female Breast, and should be taken as soon as the swelling is detected, thus preventing their breaking and producing troublesome Discharges Sores, which disfigure so many of the younger portion of the community, from six to twenty years of age. Young children are very subject to Discharges from the ears, which depend upon a Scrofulous condition. These cases soon recover by taking a few doses of the Life Syrup.

All females who are suffering from Debility, Emaciation, Dyspepsia, Dropsy, of the limbs or abdomen, and in the female Dropsy of the ovaries, which generally is accompanied with inflammation and ulceration of the uterus; are permanently cured by Constitution Life Syrup. The pains, which shoot down the back of the neck, the Life Syrup will remove entirely. The remedy should be taken for some time, as the disease is exceedingly obstinate and stubborn, and will not be removed without extra effort. Tumors of the Ovaries, Tumors of the Breast, and swelling of other glands of the body will be completely reduced without resorting to the knife or operations of any kind.

Epileptic Fits, Sympathetic or Organic Diseases of the Heart, Palpitation, Dyspnea, Dry Cough, producing a grating or filing sound), Dropsy of the Heart Case and all the affections of this important organ, Inflammation of the Heart, and acute pain in the region of the heart, will be greatly relieved by Constitution Life Syrup.

Broken Down and Delicate Constitutions, Suffering from Indisposition to Exercise, Pain in the Back, Dimness of Sight, Nervous Irritability, Insanity, Fear of Disease, Dimness of Vision, Dry Hot Skin and Extremities, Want of Sleep, Restlessness, Pale Sickly Complexion, Loss of Memory, &c.—Our Solar System, all require the aid of the CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP.

For all forms of Venereal Diseases, either of a Sore Throat, Tongue, Spine, Forehead or Scalp, no remedy has ever proved its equal.

MOTH PATCHES upon the female face, depending upon a disordered state of the system, are very unpleasant to the young wife and mother. A few bottles of Constitution Life Syrup will correct the derangement of the system, and remove the deposit which is directly under the skin.

In Diseases of the Liver, giving rise to languor, dizziness, dimness, or yellowness of the eyes, accompanied by pain in the side, and sometimes a dull heavy sensation in the back part of the body, the use of CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP.

☞ As a general Blood-Purifying Agent, the Life Syrup stands unrivalled by any preparation in the world.

Diseases of the Spine, as usually developed in the young, Hip Disease, Neuralgia, and all Nervous and Lateral Curvature are suffering from diseases for which they are at a loss to know what to do, we would advise the use of CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP. It will restore their pallid countenances, strengthen their weak backs and give them new energy, new life and happiness.

THE RICH AND POOR are liable to the same diseases. Nature and Science have made the Constitution Life Syrup for the benefit of all.

PURE BLOOD produces healthy men and women; and if the constitution is neglected in youth, disease and early death are the results. Do not delay when the means are so near at hand, and within the reach of all.

TO MOTHERS AND MARRIED LADIES. It is the safest and most efficacious medicine ever discovered for purifying the system and relieving the suffering attendant upon childbirth. It strengthens both the mother and the child, prevents many sad diseases, and increases abundance of the food—Those who have used it think it indispensable. It is highly useful both before and after confinement, as it prevents disease attendant upon childbirth.

Is the Poor Man's Friend and the Rich Man's Blessing!—Buy it, take it, and be cured.—It is Universal in its effects

THE MODEL COOK.

AN AIR-TIGHT STOVE,

WITH TWO OVENS,

And Five Boiling Places!

At the present high prices of fuel it is very desirable to lessen its consumption. This can be best accomplished by using a MODEL COOK STOVE. More cooking can be done in one with a single ton of coal, or cord of wood, than with double the quantity in any common stove or range—and in less time also.

The fire being placed in the centre of the stove, with an oven on either side (which may be thrown into one at pleasure), all the heat from the fuel is made available for cooking purposes.

The oven doors are lined with tin, and jackets are provided for the bottom and back of the stove, thus retaining much heat, ordinarily wasted. A check draft is applied, by means of which much fuel is saved, and a continuous fire may be kept as long as desirable.

A Water Tank and Hot Closet can be applied to either side, when needed.

In fuel, no pains or expense have been spared to make this a PERFECT Stove, and we think it surpasses all others for Economy, Durability, Capacity, Convenience, Beauty of Design and Perfection of Finish.

It is equally well adapted for Coal or Wood; Summer or Winter use; excellent in a family where help is employed, and invaluable to the housewife who does her own work, lightening it at least one-half.

No family, large or small, where economy, convenience and dispatch are desirable, should be without one.

We refer to some parties who have purchased the Model Cook—

A Great Variety of Cheaper Stoves

FOR WOOD OR COAL.

E. A. STEVENS'S

House Furnishing Establishment,

NO. 46 MARKET STREET.

THE MAGEE COOKING STOVE.

The subscriber, having received his Fall stock of Stoves, would especially call the attention of the public to the

CELEBRATED AND UNEQUALLED

MAGEE COOK STOVE,

as the very best Stove yet made, and would invite those about purchasing or exchanging Stoves, to examine this, believing it to be far superior to any other Stove yet invented, the castings being heavier, and the oven larger than usual. The oven plates are covered with plaster, which renders it equal to the old-fashioned brick oven for perfection in baking.

There is a new style and very superior broiler and sad-iron heater combined, by which the odor of broiling meats are prevented from escaping into the room. With the extension top there is a large copper Reservoir for hot water; also a large tin warming-closet attached, in which any article can be kept warm, while the other parts of the Stove are occupied for other purposes.

The arrangements for sifting the coal and cleaning the grate are far superior to those of any other Stove now in use, as no dust can possibly escape into the room, and the shoveling up of the ashes is entirely dispensed with. The fire is regulated in the same manner as in the MAGEE PARLOR STOVE, and can be continued day and night for weeks together, thus saving the expense of re-kindling every day.

For economy, durability, ease of management, cleanliness and perfection in cooking, it cannot be surpassed by any other Stove. We refer to families in this city and vicinity, who are now using them, are willing to testify, and speak of them in the highest terms of praise.

We would refer to the following purchasers:

"MAGEE'S PATENT"

VENTILATING & AIR-WARMING

FURNACES.

The subscriber, being the Sole Agent in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of this valuable Furnace, would ask those about purchasing or erecting buildings to examine this truly valuable invention.

For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, moist and agreeable—and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pot is used for respiration, the tendency to produce headache so much complained of in other Furnaces, is entirely obviated.

The objects aimed at by the constructors of heating Furnaces have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.

To accomplish this many complicated and expensive heating arrangements have been constructed, some possessing but little improvement over former methods, while others have proved a total failure. The reason for this is obvious. The combustible gases being lighter than the air, pass off into the smoke pipe or chimney without being consumed. This objection, so common in other Furnaces, is obviated in the

MAGEE FURNACE.

The flue or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot descend, and are burned up by the admission of the proper quantity of atmospheric oxygen thus as they pass off from the coal, thus saving at least 20 per cent. of the properties of the heat in the fuel.

No heating apparatus with the smoke-pipe or flue on the top of the cone can be made to consume the gases of the coal, as they pass off with a large amount of the heat generated, making the chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.

This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.

These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.

For ease of management, economy and purity of air, these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire may be kept the entire season without once going out.

They give entire satisfaction wherever used. We have in store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world,—and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:

Samuel Cleaves, Esq.,	Albert K. Hatch, Esq.,
Aaron H. Hill,	Charles H. Mendum,
Henry F. Wendell,	John Sise, and others.

GONORRHŒA AND SYPHILIS.

Beneath his treatment, all the horrors of venereal, and impure blood, Impotency, Secondary Gonorrhœa, Ulcers, pain and distress in the regions of procreation, Inflammation of the Bladder and Kidneys, Hydrocele, Abscesses, Bubonic Capital Swellings, and the long train of horrible symptoms attending this class of disease, are made to become as harmless as the simplest ailings of a child.

SEMINAL WEAKNESS.

Dr D. devotes a great part of his time to the treatment of those constitutional ailments and solitary habit, which ruins the body and mind, unfitting the unfortunate individual for business or society. Some of the end and alarming effects produced by early habits of youth, are Weakness of the Back and limbs, Dizziness at the head, Dimness of Sight, Palpitation of the heart, Dyspepsia, Nervousness, Derangement of the digestive functions, Symptoms of Consumption, &c. The fearful consequences of these are much to be dreaded; loss of memory, confusion of ideas, depression of spirits, evil forebodings, aversion of society, self-distrust, timidity, &c., are among the evils produced. Such persons should consult contemplating matrimony, consult a physician of experience, and be at once restored to health and happiness.

Patients who wish to remain under Dr. Dow's treatment a few days or weeks, will be furnished with pleasant rooms, and charges for board moderate.

Medicines sent to all parts of the country, with full directions for use, on receiving description of your case. Dr. Dow has also for sale the French Capotes, warranted the best preventive. Order by mail. Three for $1 and a red stamp.

So invariably certain is the new mode of treatment, that most obstinate complaints yield under it, and the afflicted person soon rejoices in perfect health.

Dr. Dow has no doubt had greater experience in the cure of diseases of women and children, than any other physician in Boston.

Boarding accommodations for patients who may wish to stay in Boston a few days under his treatment.

"Roundto no party—to no sect confined;
The world our home; our brethren, all mankind.
Love truth; do good, be just and fair with all;
Exalt the right, though every law fall."

"Let me warn you in the most solemn manner against the baneful effects of the spirit of Party, generally. It is a spirit not to be encouraged.—Its common and continual mischief is sufficient to make it the interest and duty of a wise people to discourage and restrain it. In governments of the popular form, it is seen in its greatest rankness, and is truly their worst enemy."—Washington's Farewell Address.

THE END OF THE PLAY.

The play is done; the curtain drops,
Slow falling to the prompter's bell;
A moment yet the actor stops,
And looks around, to say farewell!
It is an irksome work and task;
And, when he's laughed and said his say,
He shows, as he removes his mask,
A face that's anything but gay....

Who knows the inscrutable design?
Blessed be He who took and gave!
Why should your mother, Charles, not mine,
Be weeping at her darling's grave?
We bow to Heaven, that willed it so,
That darkly rules the fate of all,
That sends the sunshine and the blow,
That's free to give or to recall....

So each shall mourn, in life's advance,
Dear hopes, dear friends, untimely killed;
Shall grieve for many a forlorn chance,
And long-indulged desire unfulfilled.
Amen! whatever fate be said,
Pray God the heart may kindly glow,
Although the head with care be bald,
And whitened with the winter snow.

Come wealth or want, come good or ill,
Let young and old accept their part,
And bow before the Awful Will,
And bear it with an honest heart.
Who misses, or who wins the prize?
Go, lose or conquer as you can:
But if you fall, or if you rise,
Be each, pray God, a gentleman.
—(W. M. Thackeray.

SPONGE.—The sponge business is largely pursued at the Bahama Islands. The exports of this article amount annually to about $200,000. It is almost entirely the growth of the last twenty years. During that period, the article has almost quadrupled in value, and has been applied to a great variety of new purposes, especially in France.

This sponge is compressed in powerful presses, and sacked like cotton. It is assorted and graded, samples being fastened on each package to show its fibre. It is fished or raked or grappled up from the clear sandy bottom, at the depth of twenty, forty or sixty feet, and often far from the shore. The water is so transparent that the growing sponge is visible on the bottom.

The sponge is the covering, the habitation of the lowest order of animal nature. Indeed organization can hardly be detected in the animal. When first taken from the water, the sponge is black, and at once becomes offensive to the smell; it will almost cause the flesh it touches to blister. The first process is to bury it in the sand, where it remains for two or three weeks, when the gelatinous animal matter seems to be absorbed and destroyed, or eaten by the insects that swarm in the sand. The boatmen who obtain it, are paid in shares by the owners of the boats.

PREPARATION OF MEAT FOR FOOD.—In an article in the Journal of the Dublin Royal Society, Dr. E. P. Mapother contends that with the present mode of dressing meat, we lose very much of the nutritious part of the animal—its blood.

He thinks that animals that are killed for eating should be allowed to stiffen before dressing, to prevent any blood being lost.—In that way the blood is retained, as is the case with fishes, and all wild game. The constituents of the blood and flesh are nearly the same, chemically. And in a large ox there is about sixty pounds of blood; at twenty cents a pound it would amount to twelve dollars, which, according to this writer's views, is a total loss. Blood puddings are very great favorites with a class of persons. Most persons like the dish gravy, that is, the cooked blood that drips from the rare-cooked beef, as it is being carved. Meat full of blood would make soup much the richer. Twice as much beef-tea could be made from the same sized piece of beef if dressed with the blood in. Much of the iron, so essential to make blood, is lost by the present mode of dressing meat.

Kreatine, that invigorating principle of meat, and other flavoring matters are doubtless abstracted from the meat by the last flowing blood. Doubtless blood taken away is just as good, to say the least, as that left in, and which we eat in the form of dish gravy. Then why not leave all the blood in the flesh, as is done in the case of venison, &c., &c.

One of the modes of killing, so as not to lose the blood, is to blow wind into the chest or into the veins, or thrust a knife in between the head and first bone of the neck.

A young lady down East advertised for a young man who "embraced an opportunity," and says, that if he will come over to their town he can do better.

SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 20, 1864.

THE REBELLION.

On the 11th inst., Admiral Farragut and the greater part of his fleet had left New Orleans. There was nothing of interest from Texas, not even a skirmish being reported.

Gen. Gilmore and staff returned to Port Royal on the 16th inst. The expedition to Florida was a complete success. Several points had been captured in addition to Jacksonville, and the forces were pushing through the State of Florida. No part of the expedition had returned.

Dispatches from Cincinnati strengthen the report that John Morgan is contemplating another raid.

The position of Gen. Johnston's forces does not appear to be understood at Chattanooga. It is in doubt whether his whole force is at Dalton, or whether a portion of it has gone to join Longstreet.

The recently escaped Union officers say there is a wide-spread Union feeling in Richmond, and that there are 18 persons in Castle Thunder, charged with attempting to assassinate Jeff. Davis. So says a Washington dispatch.

☞ In the U. S. Senate, on Thursday, joint resolutions were adopted—providing for the transfer of such soldiers as may desire it, to the naval service; providing for the enlistment by the Provost Marshal General of persons for the naval service, and also providing that there shall be paid to each able or ordinary seaman hereafter enlisted, an advance of three months' pay as a bounty, to be refunded to the Treasury from any prize money to which such enlisted seaman may be entitled. It was explained that these joint resolutions give discretionary power to the President to transfer seamen enlisted in the army to the navy, and to make up crews for ships of war to be sent to the Pacific coast. The Navy Department was ready to send ships to the Pacific coast for its protection, but by reason of the great bounties paid to soldiers, the Department could not get sailors.

THE ESCAPES FROM RICHMOND.—John Morgan taught a lesson to the Union officers who were caged in the Richmond prison, which every true man will rejoice to see they have studied, copied and enlarged upon. The escape of our men is equal to the achievement of a victory. Most sincerely will every patriot rejoice in the safe return to the Federal lines of the brave Col. Streight, the commander of the bold, though perhaps imprudent raid into Georgia, who has been a special object of rebel vengeance. The escape is the most pleasant occurrence which we have had to record for several weeks.

SHALL SOLDIERS VOTE.—Harper's Weekly condenses in a small space the argument which sustains the right of soldiers to vote. It says: "The Union soldiers are merely citizens of the United States fighting for their country and its Government: shall their patriotism and self-sacrifice disfranchise them? Shall every loyal man who volunteers and marches to battle understand that his going has practically strengthened the friends of the enemy behind him?" This is a common sense way of putting the argument, which cannot fail to work conviction.

☞ The N. Y. Times' Paris letter states that two "ironsided" frigates are being built in France for the "Chinese government," and the rebels may get hold of them. The American Minister has protested against the recruiting of a crew for the pirate Florida in the French port of Brest, which is actually being done. Also against allowing 140 cases from England to go aboard the pirate Rappahannock, alleged by her Captain to contain articles for the repair of her machinery.

☞ There has been something of a sensation in the Senate, occasioned by the statement of Mr. Conness relative to the imperative necessity of sending a fleet of war steamers to the Pacific coast without delay. The authorities have positive information that rebel steamers left Asia for that coast, and it is feared San Francisco will be menaced before the navy can afford the requisite protection.

☞ Assistant Sec. Fox says that, judging from data at the Navy Department, he is not disposed to believe that the Alabama could have reached Amoy as reported, although it might be barely possible. There is information at the State Department from the American Minister to Japan that the Jamestown had left there for Amoy, hoping to meet the Alabama there.

☞ The steamer Orient struck a snag 20 miles above Cairo on Tuesday, and went down in ten minutes. Twenty-five or thirty lives are supposed to be lost, including the wife of Capt. Norton, and Custom House officers. The boat was laden with stores, including 80 horses, all but three of which were lost.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

— It was 21 degrees below 0 in Concord on Friday at 7 o'clock A. M., and 28 below in Bath, N. H., at the same hour.

—— The 1st Battalion N. H. Cavalry, from the Rappahannock—160 men—under Captain F. Allen, arrived in New York on Thursday, on their way home, and reached Concord on Friday, where they were received by the City Government, and a collation furnished them.

—— The following resolution, complimentary to our cavalry, was passed by the R. I. Legislature, and copies of the same were forwarded to Governor Gilmore by the Governor of Rhode Island:—

Whereas, The State of Rhode Island is at all times ready to acknowledge her sister states, and to express her gratitude for their co-operation in any loyal and patriotic duty; and,

Whereas, When the First Regiment of Rhode Island Cavalry was formed, the State of New Hampshire generously contributed a Battalion to swell its ranks, and complete its organization, and,

Whereas, This Battalion is now to be disconnected from its old companions in arms for the purpose of re-enlisting and increasing its numbers to a full regiment: therefore,

Resolved, That the people of Rhode Island, through their representatives in General Assembly convened, would hereby express their high and grateful appreciation of the gallantry, courage and fidelity of the New Hampshire Battalion of the First Rhode Island Cavalry.

The State of Rhode Island honors the services of the living and cherishes the memory of the dead, with as complete and tender an esteem as she feels for her own sons, and indulges the hope that this community of danger, conflict, victory and bereavement, will strengthen the ties that bind together the people of the two States in their endeavors to maintain the integrity of the Union.

Resolved, That His Excellency the Governor be directed to communicate a copy of the above Preamble and Resolution to the Governor of New Hampshire.

☞ A short time ago a lady, dressed in the height of the fashions and attired in the most expensive materials, entered one of the most extensive shops in the Rue de la Paix, in Paris. She looked over article after article, and found nothing to suit her, so she left the shop without purchasing anything. She had not been gone long when the jeweller missed a valuable brooch. Nobody had entered the shop but this fine lady, and she was certainly the thief. In a moment the shop-keeper was in full chase, soon overtook her, and rudely enough told her what had occurred—adding that she must go with him to the police station. The lady trembled violently in every limb, became as pale as death, and stood silent and white, and motionless as a marble statue. The shopman became ruder. A gentleman of the lady's acquaintance passed by; seeing the distress she was in, he inquired what the matter was. He angrily turned to the shopman with a "Do you know who this lady is?"—but before he could add another word, the shopman joyfully exclaimed: "There it is! there it is!" and he proceeded to disentangle from the meshes of lace, with which the lady's talma was trimmed, the valuable brooch. "Do you know who this lady is?" angrily repeated the gentleman,—"She is the Baroness de Rothschild." It was now the shopman's turn to tremble and turn pale and be speechless, white and motionless as a marble stone.—So looked he as the lady and gentleman walked off, the lady vowing that neither she nor any of her family would ever put foot again in that jeweller's shop.

☞ The foreign news, which is to the 4th, is important. An engagement, lasting six hours, had taken place at Missorde, and though the Danish outposts were driven in, they repelled the assaults by the allies on the place, with a loss of from 150 to 200. The Prussians, it is said, used 74 guns and their loss was from 200 to 300. On the afternoon of the 3d, the Austrians attacked the position of Bistone, near Schleswig, and there was sharp fighting until after dark, but the Danes, though they lost one field-piece, held their ground. Another attack was expected on the next day.

TWO-YEAR FIVE PER CENT. NOTES.—The new loan which the Government is at present negotiating is but little understood. The notes with the above title are just the thing for the investments of people who may have money on hand, perhaps in the bank, drawing no interest, which they expect to use on some future day; and yet they do not dare to invest it in bonds or shares for fear they may be called upon suddenly for their payments. Now by investing in these notes, five per cent can be earned on the money, if the notes are held six months; but even if the owner is obliged to use them as a tender, he can use them at par—while, without doubt, he can obtain the accrued interest from the person to whom he makes the tender. For a temporary investment they offer the best loan in the market. They are payable in two years, and can be obtained at any National Bank.—Portland Press.

☞ The following resolution was adopted by the City Government two years ago:

Resolved, That the citizens be requested to recognize the 22d of February as one of our national holidays.

Justice to the memory of the Father of our Country demands of the American people the recognition of the return of the birthday of Washington, and we hope all citizens will observe the day dear to the hearts of all Americans.

GRAND RALLY FOR THE UNION.—Hon. Lewis Barker of Maine, an old line Democrat, will address the citizens of Portsmouth and vicinity at the Temple, on Monday evening, Feb. 22, at 7 1-2 o'clock. Music by the Portsmouth Glee Club.

☞ We learn that arrangements are being made, which it is hoped will be successful, for Miss Susannah Evans, the youthful Welsh orator on Temperance, to lecture in this city at an early day.

☞ When will Portsmouth have a steam fire engine? Probably after we have had such a fire as the one in Gloucester; such seems to be the nature of mankind. B.

☞ Calvin S. Hayes, of Kittery, has been appointed Adjutant of the 32d Maine regiment, Col. Mark F. Wentworth.

☞ Mr. Wendell sells a piano forte, furniture, dry goods, &c., at auction to-day.

☞ "Perley," in a letter to the Boston Journal, from Washington, says:

An appropriation of $25,000 to erect a naval hospital at Portsmouth, New Hampshire, has been so amended by the Senate that the hospital is to be built "at Kittery, Maine." The Department is thus free to build it in the present Navy Yard there, which some think is the best location, or on Seavey's Island, about which we have had the usual annual debate. As Senator Hale states the case, Congress appropriated fourteen thousand and some odd dollars for buying a piece of land on Seavey's Island. The State of Maine, by special act, ceded jurisdiction over the land, but upon the suggestion of Admiral Smith, the purchase was postponed a year and submitted to Congress; Congress reaffirmed the action they had had heretofore; and after all this the Secretary of the Navy says that on a reference of the matter to Admiral Smith, to whom the question properly belonged, he deemed it inexpedient to execute the law. In other words (said Mr. Hale) you may pass an act of Congress, but it appropriately belongs to Admiral Smith to say whether the act shall be executed or not.

— At a dancing match at Chicago recently, a buxom Dutch girl danced nine hours constantly when her partner acknowledged himself fairly beaten and very tired. The damsel then took six glasses of lager and quietly went to breakfast.

☞ Grandma Young, M. D. will remain at the City Hotel to-day, Saturday, Feb. 27. Rooms Nos. 3 and 4, second floor. She has just received a fresh supply of roots and herbs. Consultations free. Do not forget her book,—price $1. Every family should have one. Sold by herself only.

☞ Measles are prostrating the volunteers by hundreds, the hospitals are crowded with them. Soldiers, be warned in time. It is supposed by some that the Prince of Wales visited this country in part to obtain a package of Herrick Allen's Gold Medal Saleratus. Whether he did or not, it would do honor to the Queen's table to have a nice light Biscuit as that article always makes. ☞ It is well known that the largest halls in the country have been wholly inadequate to accommodate those who have been desirous of seeing Mr. Barnum, and listening to his intensely interesting lecture. In Providence, the street in front of Howard Hall was densely packed before six o'clock, although the lecture did not commence until eight, and it was estimated that more than five thousand persons were unable to obtain even standing room. The large hall of the Cooper Institute, New York, one of the largest halls in the country, was crowded to excess long before the hour of the lecture, thousands having been turned away. At Albany, N. Y., and at Springfield, Mass., every seat was sold days before the lecture.

That all may have an equal chance to obtain a good seat on the evening of the lecture here, the Doors will be open at 6 1-2 o'clock, although the lecture will not commence until 8. To save confusion and avoid the crowd at the door, it is advisable that as many as possible should purchase their tickets at the Bookstores before the evening of the lecture. F19

DR. HALL'S REPORT.

In accordance with the provisions of Circular Order No. 90, War Department, the Surgeon of the Board of Enrollment of the 1st Congressional District of New Hampshire has prepared and submitted a report, embracing many items interesting not only to the Department and to scientific men, but we think to the public generally. Dr. Hall has yielded to our solicitations and has kindly given his consent to our publishing his report. The statistics thus furnished are interesting and valuable, and the cause of science, we feel assured, would be greatly advanced, should the Government by-and-bye, "when this cruel war is over," appoint a commission of suitable persons to prepare for publication full abstracts of the reports submitted by the various surgeons who have been employed throughout the country in making the examinations of volunteers and drafted men during the present war. The different results which place of residence, occupation, habits of life, etc., have upon the individual members of the American people; the general physical development of our people in different parts of the country; the unusual prevalence or absence of certain diseases in certain localities, and many other statistics of interest and value might be obtained, perhaps, by this means more readily than by any other, while the expense consequent upon a faithful examination of the various reports would be an insignificant item in comparison with the good results which might be derived therefrom. But for Dr. Hall's Report, which is as follows:

The examinations of drafted men in this District was commenced August 24, and was nearly completed on the 6th of November. The statistical statements will be found arranged in tabular form as follows:

When we take into consideration how many of our strong men have gone to the war since the commencement of the Rebellion, and the fact that the lame, the blind and the sick all were subject to the draft, the percentage of exemptions for physical disability must still necessarily appear large. The examinations were made (under the regulations) with a patriotic desire to obtain efficient men for the army, thereby strengthening the Government for the overthrow of its enemies everywhere, while the rights of drafted men (under the law and regulations) have been observed and guarded with scrupulous care; and it is believed that equal justice has been done to both. In all cases the drafted man has had the benefit of serious doubts.

Of the eleven hundred and fourteen men, who, after careful examinations, were held for personal service, commutation or to furnish a substitute, only one man appealed from the decision of the Surgeon; and, after proper investigation by the War Department, the decision of the Board was sustained.

It has been well said that "drafted men would simulate disease," while substitutes would carefully "conceal those disqualifying defects" which they hoped would cause their discharge soon after obtaining the liberal bounties paid. The utmost pains has been taken to guard against all attempts at imposition, and it is believed that but very few have been successful.

The careful and faithful examination of so large a number of men has been a laborious task. To settle the question for the conscript,—conscious of some and complaining of many ills, and well-fortified with a pocket-full of certificates from "the family physician" and sympathizing neighbors,—whether he shall be exempt or held to render service to his country in the hour of her greatest need, has been a position often of painful anxiety.

The conscripts, with a very few exceptions, have submitted to the examinations with commendable cheerfulness. When refused exemption, but held for service, they have often insisted that they were not "able-bodied." Yet when told that their ailments were not sufficient under the regulations to entitle them to exemption, they have acquiesced with praiseworthy patriotism.

In my judgment the causes for exemption for physical disabilities, as given in the regulations, are very nearly correct; and exemptions made under those regulations, with proper care, skill and judgment, will result in few errors or wrongs.

By reference to the statistics of exemption it will be seen that the number of exemptions for general debility is large. The fact furnishes a sad commentary on the habits of too many of our young men; for too often the cause is found in their own or their parents' vices. The use of those vile compounds drank at the present day for alcoholic beverages makes fearful havoc of the health of the young men, by destroying the healthful functions of the brain and nervous system. That men will so destroy their health, happiness and usefulness, is strange indeed. The use of tobacco is almost universal among our young men. Its influence, in the impairment of health, on men who take regular and full meals, and are much in the open air, is not soon apparent; but in men of feeble constitutions and sedentary habits, and, almost as a matter of course, with indifferent appetites for food, its effects are most fearful upon the brain and heart.

So far as the drafted men's health and strength were influenced by vocation, I found the strongest men were fishermen and farm laborers; and the men most feeble and unfit for military service were shoemakers. It is by no means difficult to see that locality has much to do with physical developement and strength. Those having the highest standard of physical qualification in this District were from the seaboard towns or those mountainous towns of the northern section of the District.

The men accepted as substitutes for drafted men were generally superior in physical strength and powers of endurance necessary to a soldier's life. And it is quite safe also to conclude they were superior to the drafted men in obliquities and moral disabilities.

I desire to express my sense of obligation for the personal kindness and efficient aid rendered me by my assistants, Drs. N. L. Folsom and A. B. Bennett, in the difficult and delicate duties intrusted to my care.

JEREMIAH F. HALL, Surgeon,
Board of Enrollment, 1st Cong. Dist., N. H.

☞ At a meeting of the Court street Christian Society of this city, held on Wednesday evening last, it was unanimously voted to relieve the pastor, Rev. Mr. Waterhouse, from the morning preaching service until the first Sabbath in April, in order that he may the more readily recover his health, which has been such that for a number of weeks he has been unable to attend to his pastoral duties.

During the time, the morning service hour will be devoted to a prayer and conference meeting, to which all who desire to attend will be cordially welcomed. The above order will be introduced to-morrow.

☞ A musical friend has given us a look at a curious old music book, without title page or date,—but printed, as we suppose, in Boston or Cambridge, Mass., between 1684 and 1723. It has a Recommendatory preface signed by Increase Mather and Cotton Mather, with thirteen other dignitaries of their day. The book is half the size of our modern School Song Books, and contains 23 pages of "Brief and very plain instructions for singing by Note." Also, 16 pages of Psalm Tunes, engraved on Copper, and as many more of Tunes in manuscript. Every Tune has the word "Tune" over it, thus—York Tune, Portsmouth Tune, Canterbury Tune, &c. A considerable number of the tunes are now in use, and will so remain, being of substantial value.

CURES FROM ONE TO THREE DAYS

CHEROKEE REMEDY
—AND—
CHEROKEE INJECTION,
Compounded from Roots, Barks & Leaves.

CHEROKEE REMEDY, the great Indian Diuretic, cures all diseases of the urinary organs, such as inflammation of the Urine, Inflammation of the Bladder, Inflammation of the Kidneys, Stone in the Bladder, Strictures, Gravel, Gleet, Gonorrhœa, and is especially recommended in these cases of Fluor Albus (or Whites in females) where all the old nauseous medicines have failed.

It is prepared in a highly concentrated form, the dose only being from one to two tablespoonfuls three times per day.

It is diuretic and alterative in its action; purifying and cleansing the blood, causing it to flow in all of its original purity and vigor; thus removing from the system all pernicious causes which have induced disease.

CHEROKEE INJECTION is intended as an ally or assistant to the CHEROKEE REMEDY, and should be used in conjunction with that medicine in all cases of Gonorrhœa, Gleet, Fluor Albus or Whites. Its effects are healing, soothing and demulcent; removing all scalding, heat, chordee and pain, instead of the burning and almost insufferable pain that is experienced with nearly all the cheap quack injections.

☞ By the use of the CHEROKEE REMEDY and CHEROKEE INJECTION—the two medicines at the same time—all improper discharges are removed, and the weakened organs are speedily restored to full vigor and strength.

For full particulars get our pamphlet from any drug store in the country, or write us and we will mail free, to any address, a full treatise.

Price—CHEROKEE REMEDY, $2 per bottle or three bottles for $5.

— A Belgian artist, Stroens, said to be the best skater in Europe, has been invited to skate with the Empress Eugenie.

— It is highly probable that Congress will pass a law reforming the manner of procuring supplies for the Navy Department.

— A justice of the Peace in Hoboken, recently one of the Common Pleas Judges of Hudson county, is on trial for alleged extortion. It is charged that in the case of an arrest and commitment to jail, he charged more fees than allowed by law.

A gentleman was surprised during the late frosty weather, to see his little daughter bring home from the Sunday School library a grave treatise on "Backsliding." "My child," said he, "this is too old for you; you can't make anything of it." "I know it, papa," was the reply, "but I thought I could when I took it. I thought it would teach me how to slide backwards."

Please Look at This.

EYE, N. H., Feb. 26, 1862. "I hereby certify that my daughter has had the salt rheum for a number of years—some of the time so badly as to prevent her labor, or even most—as it affected her hands very much. A large sum had been expended by the most celebrated physicians, for Sarsaparilla Syrup, &c., &c., but she obtained no relief until I procured a few bottles of the Dr. SWETT'S PANACEA, and several bottles of his Humor Wash, which have effected a cure. There can be no mistake, as the cure was effected years than three years ago. No other medicines can equal Dr. Swett's in removing the various kinds of humors. I have sold it to a number of my acquaintances, who were afflicted, and witnessed many full cures effected by it since I have acted as agent for the sale of it. JONAH JENNESS.

PORTSMOUTH, April 21st, 1861.

I have for several years been afflicted with distress at my stomach, loss of appetite, and often vomited up all of my food immediately after eating it, and all medicine failed to give any relief until about a year ago, when I took one bottle of DR. S. SWETT'S PANACEA, which fully cured me, so that I have not had the least trouble from any of these complaints since, and I enjoy good health. M. LOWD.

Press ELIJAH I. CHESLEY, Lee, May 31, 1861.

DR. SWETT: Permit me to testify, as I feel in duty bound to do, that my daughter was afflicted with scrofulous humor, and that previous to your visiting our house in the spring of 1860, she had been confined for a number of months, without her natural rest by day or night. She had applied to a number of physicians, but continued to grow weaker till she commenced using your PANACEA and HUMOR WASH. Since then, she has recovered her health so far as to rest quietly by night, and labor by day. I esteem your medicine one of the best that can be found for the disease above named." ISRAEL CHESLEY

☞ Any one returning the remainder of a bottle or box of Dr. Swett's medicines shall have pay for it, if it do not agree with his case, or if not worth the price. All orders directed to DR. S. SWETT, No 7 High street, Portsmouth, N. H., promptly attended to. may28

Constitution Life Syrup,

COMPOSED OF

IODIDE POTASSIUM,

With the compound concentrated fluid extract of

VALUABLE MEDICINAL

ROOTS AND HERBS,

Prepared by WM. H. GREGG, M. D., Graduate College Physicians and Surgeons, N. Y. formerly Associate Physician Blackwell's Island Hospitals, late Medical Inspector New York State Volunteer Depots, under Gov. Edwin D. Morgan.

Constitution Life Syrup

HAS PRODUCED

A REVOLUTION IN MEDICINE!

What may seem almost incredible, is, that many diseases hitherto considered hopelessly incurable are frequently cured in a few days or weeks, and we cheerfully invite the investigations of the liberal minded and scientific to cases which have no parallel at the present day.

Our medicine is peculiar, by it the seat of disease is directly reached, and the equilibrium restored. Those who have suffered long from painful and obstinate diseases, those who have vainly sought relief from advertised medicines, those who cannot be cured by other physicians—are Invited to use Constitution Life Syrup.

During the past five years we have contended with obstacles and overcome opposition so herculean as ever encountered by any Reformers.

Rapidity of Cure.

Some say, "Your cures are too quick," while others doubt their permanence, and think that diseases can only be cured by the slow recuperative process of Nature." This is our reply:

In health, the body, like a well-balanced scale, is in a state of equilibrium. But when any cause down upon one side of the scale, we have the effects of disease. What is requisite is to restore the normal equilibrium, and health follows.

CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP,

A positive and specific remedy for all diseases originating from an IMPURE STATE OF THE BLOOD, and for all (hereditary) DISEASES transmitted from FATHER TO CHILD.

Paralysis.

Hemiplegia, Paresis, Paraplegia, Paralysis Agitans.

It is so universally admitted that Constitution Life Syrup is the only effective means of restoration to the normal condition, that we need not reiterate that it is emphatically the Great Life-Giving Power.

Dyspepsia.

Indigestion, Flatulence, Dyspepsia, Constipation, Weight at Stomach, Biliousness, Headache, Bad Breath, Want of Appetite,

Scrofula.

Tumors, Obstinate Swellings, Ulcerations, King's Evil, Erysipelas, Salt Rheum.

This taint (hereditary or acquired), filling life with untold misery, is by all usual medical treatment incurable.

Rheumatism.

[Arthritis], Neuralgia, Gout, Lumbago, Sciatica, Tic Doloureux.

If there is any disease in which the Constitution Life Syrup is a specific, it is in Rheumatism and its kindred affections. The most intense pains are almost instantly alleviated—enormous swellings are reduced. Cases, chronic or vicious, of 20 or 30 years standing, have been cured by us.

Nervousness

Nervous Debility, Confusion of Thoughts, Epilepsy, Loss of Power, Shattered Nerves, St. Vitus' Dance.

Thousands who have suffered for years will bless the day on which they read these lines. Particularly to weak, suffering woman will this medicine prove an inestimable blessing—directing their footsteps to a Hope which fulfils more than it promises.

Mercurial Diseases.

Salivation, Feeling of Weariness, Rotting of Bones, Red Complexion, Aches in Bones, Depressed Spirits.

Constitution Life Syrup purges the system entirely from all the evil effects of MERCURY, removing the Bad Breath, and curing the Weak Joints and Rheumatic Pains which the use of Calomel is sure to produce. It hardens Spongy Gums and secures the Teeth as firmly as ever.

Constitution Life Syrup

Eradicates, root and branch, all Eruptive Diseases of the Skin, like

ULCERS, PIMPLES, BLOTCHES,

And all other difficulties of this kind, which so much disfigure the outward appearance of both males and females, often making them a disgusting object to themselves and their friends.

CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP

Cures all Swellings of the Glands,

Either of the Face, Neck or Female Breast, and should be taken as soon as the swelling is detected, thus preventing their breaking and producing troublesome Discharging Sores, which disfigure so many of the younger portion of the community, from six to twenty years of age. Young children are very subject to Discharges from the Ears, which cause Deafness, if not completely cured in time. These cases soon recover by taking a few doses of the Life Syrup.

All strumous persons suffering from Debility, Emaciation, Dyspepsia, Dropsy, of the limbs or abdomen, and in the female Dropsy of the ovaries and uterus, generally accompanied with inflammation and ulceration of the uterus; are permanently cured by Constitution Life Syrup. The disease known as Goitre or Swelled Neck, the Life Syrup will remove steadily. Tumors should be taken for some time, as the disease is exceedingly chronic and stubborn, and will not be removed without extra effort. Tumors of the Ovaries, Tumors of the Breast, and swelling of other glands of the body will be completely removed without resorting to the knife or operations of any kind.

Leprosy, Fits, Sympathetic or Organic Diseases at the Heart, Alpha, Vertigo, Diseases of Liver, producing a grating or filing sound, Dropsy of the Heart Case and all the affections of this important organ, or persons suffering from any severe pain in the region of the heart, will be greatly relieved by Constitution Life Syrup.

Broken Down and Delicate Constitutions, Suffering from Indisposition to Exercise, Pain in the Back, Loss of Memory, Forebodings, Horror of Consumption, Dyspepsia, Palpitation of the Heart, Cold Sweats and Extremities, Want of Sleep, Restlessness, Pale Haggard Countenance and Languor of the Muscular System, Pain in the Head and the CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP.

For all forms of Secretive Diseases, either or the sexes, whether of long or short standing or scalp, no remedy has ever proved its equal.

MOTH PATCHES upon the female face, depending upon a disordered liver, Life Liver, are very unpleasant to the young wife and married lady. A few bottles of Constitution Life Syrup will correct the secretions, and remove the deposit which is directly under the skin.

In Diseases of the Liver, giving rise to languor, dizziness, indigestion, weak stomach, or an ulcerated or hardened liver, accompanied with pain, accompanied with burning or other unpleasant symptoms, relief may be obtained by the use of CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP.

☞ As a general Blood-Purifying Agent, the Life Syrup stands unrivalled by any preparation in the world.

Diseases of the Spine, as usually developed in the young, Hip Disease, Neuralgia, and all Nervous Diseases, and Ladies who are suffering from disease for which they know not the cause or how what to do, we would advise the use of CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP. It will restore their pallid countenance, strengthen their weak back and soon give them the vigor, energy, life and happiness.

THE RICH AND POOR are liable to the same diseases. Nature and Science have given the Constitution Life Syrup for the benefit of all.

PURE BLOOD produces healthy men and women, and if the constitution is neglected in youth, disease and early death are the results. Do not delay when the means are so near at hand, and within the reach of all.

TO MOTHERS AND MARRIED LADIES.

It is the safest and most effectual medicine ever discovered for purifying the system and relieving the suffering attendant upon childbirth. It strengthens both the mother and the child, prevents pain and disease, and increases and enriches the food—Those who have used it think it indispensable. It is highly useful both before and after confinement, as it prevents disease attendant upon childbirth.

Constitution Life Syrup

In the Poor Man's Friend and the Rich Man's Blessing!—Buy it, take it, and be cured.—It is Universal in its effects

LAST AND BEST.

THE MODEL COOK,

AN AIR-TIGHT STOVE,

WITH TWO OVENS,

And Five Boiling Places!

At the present high prices of fuel it is very desirable to lessen its consumption. This can be best accomplished by using a MODEL COOK STOVE. More cooking can be done in one with a single ton of coal, or cord of wood, than with double the quantity in any common stove or range—and in less time also.

The fire being placed in the centre of the stove, with an oven on either side (which may be thrown into one at pleasure), all the heat from the fuel is made available for cooking purposes.

The oven doors are lined with tin, and jackets are provided for the bottom and back of the stove, thus retaining much heat, ordinarily wasted.

A check draft is applied, by means of which much fuel is saved, and a continuous fire may be kept as long as desirable.

A Water Tank and Hot Closet can be applied to either size, when needed.

In fact, no pains or expense have been spared to make this a PERFECT Stove, and we think it surpasses all others for Economy, Durability, Capacity, Convenience, Beauty of Design and Perfection of Finish.

It is equally well adapted for Coal or Wood; Summer or Winter use; excellent in a family where help is employed, and invaluable to the housewife who does her own work, lightening it at least one-half.

No family, large or small, where economy, convenience and dispatch are desirable, should be without one.

We refer to some parties who have purchased the Model Cook—

A Great Variety of Cheaper Stoves

FOR WOOD OR COAL.

E. A. STEVENS'S

House Furnishing Establishment,

NO. 46 MARKET STREET.

THE MAGEE COOKING STOVE.

The subscriber, having received his Fall stock of Stoves, would especially call the attention of the public to the

CELEBRATED AND UNEQUALLED MAGEE COOK STOVE,

as the very best Stove yet made, and would invite those about purchasing or exchanging Stoves, to examine this, believing it to be far superior to any other Stove yet invented, the castings being heavier, and the oven larger than usual. The oven plates are covered with plaster, which renders it equal to the old-fashioned brick oven for persuasion in baking.

There is a new style and very superior heating and sad-iron heater combined, by which the odor of broiling meats are prevented from escaping into the room. With the extension top there is a large copper Reservoir for hot water; also a large tin warming-closet attached, in which any article can be kept warm, while the other parts of the Stove are cooking, or baking for purposes.

The arrangements for sifting the coal and cleaning the grate are far superior to those of any other Stove now in use, as no dust can possibly escape into the room, and the shovelling up of the ashes is entirely dispensed with. The fire is regulated in the same manner as in the MAGEE PARLOR STOVE, and can be continued day and night for weeks together, thus saving the expense of re-kindling every day.

For economy, durability, ease of management, cleanliness and perfection in cooking, it cannot be surpassed. Many other Stoves, are in hundreds in families in this city and vicinity, who are now using them, are willing to testify, and speak of them in the highest terms of praise.

We would refer to the following purchasers:

"MAGEE'S PATENT"

VENTILATING & AIR-WARMING FURNACES.

The subscriber, being the Sole Agent in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of this valuable furnace, would ask those about remodelling or erecting buildings to examine this truly valuable invention.

For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, moist and agreeable—and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pot is used for respiration, the tendency to produce headache so much complained of in other Furnaces, is entirely obviated.

The objects aimed at by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.

To accomplish this many complicated and expensive heating arrangements have been constructed, some possessing but little improvement over former methods, while many have proved a total failure. The reason for this is obvious. The combustible gases being lighter than the air, pass off into the pipe or chimney without being consumed. This objection is so common in other Furnaces, is obviated in the

MAGEE FURNACE.

The flue or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot descend, and are burned up by the admission of cold air through the fire-pot, which ignites them as they pass off into the flue, thus saving at least 20 per cent. of the properties of the heat in the fuel.

No heating apparatus with the smokepipe or flue on the top of the stove can be made to consume the gases of the coal, as they pass off with a large amount of the heat generated, making the chimney the better part of your dwelling.

This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.

These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.

For ease of management, economy and purity of air, these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire may be kept the entire season without once going out.

They give entire satisfaction wherever used. We have in store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world,—and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:

Samuel Cleaves, Esq., Aaron H. Hill, Henry F. Wendell, Albert R. Hatch, Esq., Charles H. Mendum, John Sise, and others.

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY,

SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,

Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, (under the Act of 1837.)

76 State street, opposite Kilby street,

Boston.

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Also, Reissues, Specifications, Goods Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with dispatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of patents or inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters relating thereto. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions unsurpassed by it and immeasurably superior to any which can be offered them elsewhere The Testimonials below given prove that this one is MORE SUCCESSFUL in THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional service so moderate.

The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.

These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

Having occasion to make a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse."

CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.

Mr. R. H Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, in all but one of which patents have been granted, and that is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges."

JOHN TAGGART.

During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of whom was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents.

Love truth, do good, be just and fair with all;
Exalt the right, though every ism fall."

"Let me warn you in the most solemn manner against the baneful effects of the spirit of Party, generally. It is a spirit not to be encouraged.—Its common and continual mischief is sufficient to make it the interest and duty of a wise people to discourage and restrain it. In governments of a popular form, it is seen in its greatest rankness, and is truly their worst enemy."—Washington's Farewell Address

It is told by a general correspondent who is probably "reliable," that Mr. Lincoln was walking up Pennsylvania avenue the other day, relating "a little story" to Secretary Seward, when the latter called his attention to a new sign bearing the name of "T. R. Strong." "Ha!" says Old Abe, his countenance lighting up with a peculiar smile, "T. R. Strong, but coffee are stronger." Seward smiled, but made no reply. We don't see how he could reply after so atrocious a thing as that.

In Icetown, opposite St. Louis, which was built on the frozen river, during the "cold spell" a bar-keeper built a fire in his tent and sat before it on a three-legged stool, warming his shins, when the fire thawed a hole in the ice, and the man fell in and has not yet re-appeared. His assistant, a verdant Irish boy, was asked where the proprietor was, and replied, "Faith, he's gone into the cellar."

Like plays best with like: when the crane attempted to dance with the horse, she got broken legs.

Dispatch is the soul of business, and method is the soul of dispatch.

He who spares vices wrongs virtue.

RYE, N. H., Feb. 26, 1846. "I hereby certify that my daughter has had the salt rheum for a number of years—some of the time so badly as to prevent her labor, or even rest—as it affected her hands very much. A large sum had been expended by the most celebrated physicians, for Sarsaparilla Syrup, &c., &c., but she obtained no relief until I procured some ten or five bottles of Dr. SWETT'S PANACEA, and several bottles of his Humor Wash, which have effected a cure. There can be no mistake, as this cure was effected more than three years ago. No other medicines can equal Dr. Swett's in removing the various kinds of humors. I have sold it to a number of my acquaintances, who were afflicted, and witnessed many full cures effected by it since I have acted as agent for the sale of it. JOSIAH JENNESS.
PORTSMOUTH, April 21st, 1862.
I have for several years been afflicted with distress at my stomach, loss of appetite, and often vomited up all of my food immediately after eating it, and all medicine failed to give any relief until about a year ago, when I took one bottle of DR. S. SWETT'S PANACEA, which fully cured me, so that I have not had the least trouble from any of these complaints since, and I enjoy good health. M. LOWD.
From ELDER I CHESLEY, Lee, May 31, 1941.
DR. SWETT: Permit me to testify, as I feel in duty bound to do, that my daughter was afflicted with scrofulous humor, and that previous to your visiting our home in the spring of 1840, she had been confined for a number of months, without her natural rest by day or night. She had applied to a number of physicians, but could not grow weaker till she commenced using your PANACEA and HUMOR WASH. Since then, she has recovered her health so far as to rest quietly by night, and labor by day. I esteem your medicine one of the best that can be found for the disease above named." ISRAEL CHESLEY
☞ Any one returning the remainder of a bottle or box of Dr. Swett's medicines shall have pay for it, if it do not agree with his case, or if not worth the price. All orders directed to DR. S. SWETT, No. 7 High street, Portsmouth, N. H., promptly attended to. may26

THE REBELLION.

The Missourians are approbensive of another guerrilla war.

Longstreet is reported to be in retreat beyond the French Broad to avoid a movement of our greatly superior forces; and it is now stated that Gen. Johnston has concentrated his rebel forces at Dalton and advanced his picket line to Ringgold. He is also fearful of an attack and cannot spare reenforcements for Polk. The Mobile News says that Polk has been shamefully outgeneralled by Gen. Sherman, who had advanced beyond Meridian, between the Bishop and Montgomery and Marietta. Another rebel paper has news of a hard fight in Mississippi on the 13th, but gives no particulars.

A special dispatch from Louisa, Ky., reports the surprise of a rebel command in Wayne Co., Va., and the capture of 60 prisoners, eighty stand of arms, a large number of stolen horses and all the rebel supplies of ammunition, forage and subsistence. The dispatch adds that 1600 Union prisoners were released.

Gen. Gilmore officially reports the success of the Florida expedition. Our troops had penetrated, beyond Jacksonville, to Baldwin. At their approach the rebels abscouded, having sunk the steamer St. Mary's and burned 270 bales of cotton a few miles above Jacksonville. We have taken without the loss of a man about 100 prisoners, 8 pieces of artillery, in serviceable condition and well supplied with ammunition, and other valuable property to a large amount.

Later reports from Florida state that Beauregard was marching in force to Tallahassee, and Lake City was being guarded by Georgia troops. The steamer St. Mary was to be raised, being uninjured. Our forces have captured and caused to be destroyed over a million and a half of dollars' worth of property. Gen. Gilmore has issued a call to the Floridians to return to their allegiance, and prohibiting the destruction or pillage of property by our soldiers under the severest penalties. There are estimated to be 2,000,000 cattle in Florida, though small and poor.

Hilton Head accounts report a reconnoissance to John's Island by Gen. Terry, and the capture of a rebel battery of field pieces with their caissons, ammunition and all the gunners. Our loss was five killed and wounded.

A member of Gen. Banks's staff, just arrived at New York from New Orleans, reports that the rebels are making great preparations for defence at Mobile. They have four gunboats, one a formidable iron-clad, with which they propose to attack our fleet.

3000 rebel troops have twice attacked our troops stationed opposite Natchez, and twice been repulsed, with considerable loss.

☞ We have three days later news from Europe. There had been no additional fighting in Schleswig. A snow storm on the 5th inst, prevented anything but skirmishing. A Hamburg dispatch of the morning of the 6th says there was no news from the theatre of war. It was believed that the Prussians prevented its transmission. A severe fight was supposed to be going on as number of wounded were being constantly brought into Rendsburg. Another dispatch, dated Hamburg, 6th, P. M, reports the town of Schleswig evacuated by the Danes, and occupied by the allies. Nothing is known of the capture of Missunde.

☞ It has been cold and breezy down in Portland. Witness the following from the Advertiser of that city:—

They are having gay times with the fast nags on the canal. One gent went so fast yesterday that his hair blew off and left his head barefooted. The wig was recovered.

It was so cold yesterday morning that a friend of ours his teeth frozen stiff. He had left them in the wash-bowl.

Does that friend usually leave them there? We ask merely for information.

THE LAST RESORT.—Howell Cobb is making speeches through Georgia, endeavoring to revive the waning spirits of the people, to whom he says:

Should all other means fail to win our independence—should the men refuse longer to fight our battles—I will, as a last resort, assemble the women of our land and march them forth to do duty in the field.

Cobb isn't wise. He ought to know that such a course would cause the men of the North unanimously to rush to arms.

— The Enrollment Bill, as agreed upon by the Committee of Conference, was passed by both Houses of Congress on Friday. The Ways and Means Committee of the House reported adversely to the bill for the sale of surplus gold in the treasury.

— Several hundred copies of the President's amnesty proclamation have been sent into Lee's army the past week. Their effect is already perceptible in the increased numbers of deserters. The proclamation will be systematically sent through the rebel lines.

WASHINGTON'S BIRTH occurred Feb. 22, 1732; of course this is the 132d anniversary of that event.

His farewell address has often been republished: and we have thought it fit for to-day, to re-print his letter to Congress, Sept. 17, 1787, in which he offers the Constitution for adoption.

IN CONVENTION, Sept. 17, 1787.

Sir:—We have now the honor to submit to the consideration of the United States, in Congress assembled, that Constitution which has appeared to us most advisable.

The friends of our country have long seen and desired that the power of making war, peace, and treaties, that of levying money, and regulating commerce, and the correspondent executive and judicial authorities, should be fully and effectually vested in the general government of the Union: but the impropriety of delegating such extensive trust to one body of men, is evident. Hence results the necessity of a different organization.

It is obviously impracticable, in the Federal Government of these States, to secure all the rights of independent sovereignty to each, and yet provide for the interest and safety of all. Individuals entering into society must give up a share of liberty to preserve the rest. The magnitude of the sacrifice must depend as well on situation and circumstance, as on the object to be obtained. It is at all times difficult to draw with precision the line between those rights which must be surrendered, and those which may be reserved; and on the present occasion, this difficulty was increased by a difference among the several States, as to their situation, extent, habits, and particular interests.

In all our deliberations on this subject, we kept steadily in our view that which appears to us the greatest interest of every true American, the consolidation of our Union, in which is involved our prosperity, felicity, safety, perhaps our national existence. This important consideration, seriously and deeply impressed on our minds, led each State in the Convention to be less rigid on points of inferior magnitude, than might have been otherwise expected; and thus the Constitution, which we now present, is the result of a spirit of amity, and of that mutual deference and concession, which the peculiarity of our political situation rendered indispensable.

That it will meet the full and entire approbation of every State is not, perhaps, to be expected; but each will doubtless consider, that, had her interest alone been consulted, the consequences might have been particularly disagreeable or injurious to others; that it is liable to as few exceptions as could reasonably have been expected, we hope and believe; that it may promote the lasting welfare of that country so dear to us all, and secure her freedom and happiness, is our most ardent wish.

With great respect, we have the honor to be, Sir, Your Excellency's most obedient and humble servants.

GEORGE WASHINGTON, President.

By the unanimous order of the Convention,
His Excellency the President of Congress.

"THE CONSTITUTION AS IT IS."—The Constitution, and the laws of the United States which shall be made in pursuance thereof, and all treaties made, or which shall be made, under the authority of the United States, shall be the supreme law of the land; and the judges in every State shall be bound thereby, anything in the Constitution or laws of any State to the contrary notwithstanding.

The Senators and Representatives before mentioned, and the members of the several State Legislatures, and all executive and judicial officers, both of the United States and of the several States, shall be bound by oath or affirmation, to support this Constitution.

— By the latest news from Europe the privateer Alabama is reported in the Bay of Bengal on the 5th of January, about 50 miles south of Rangoon. If this report is correct, the rumor of her being at Amoy cannot be true. It is improbable, also, for other reasons.

From our Regular Correspondent.

LETTER FROM NEW YORK.

NEW YORK, Feb. 17.

Dear Chronicle:—

I noticed in the office of one our largest houses, last week, a very handsome shipping card, advertising the "New A. 1 Portsmouth built clipper ship Daniel Marcy, Ross, Master," as "up" for California, and loading rapidly. The "Portsmouth" was very appropriately printed in gold, and read as a very special commendation, and the splendid craft does not in the least belie the deserved popularity of dear old Strawberry Bank as the birth place of the staunchest clippers that float o'er the "dark blue sea," as I found during an accidental stroll past her pier one morning.

As one familiar with the original owner of her name would suppose, she isn't exactly a "Ship of State," but a very stately ship. And I am just reminded of a day last year when the ships Piscataqua, Portsmouth and New Hampshire all lay on the East River, and nearly side by side.

Valentine's day seems to be fast becoming a part of that which belongs to Auld Lang Syne. Even the remnant of its observance was like everything else affected by the war, and combative caricatures were abundant.

All the children are busied over tidies, vase-mats, pin cushions and the like, for the Sanitary Commission Fair, which commences week after next.

The Merrimack Co. have decided not to commence running their looms at present. Their prints would cost about 26 cents.

A merchant from the rural districts being asked at what hotel he was stopping, said he "believed it was Mr. S. T. Nicholas' tavern!"

Thompson Bros., brokers, detected a counterfeit $50 treasury note, raised from 2s, yesterday.

Mr. Dudley, of Messrs. A. T. Stewart & Co.'s cloth department, sold $75,000 worth cloths in Boston last week.

The "Henry Clay" ball last night was, as usual, a grand success. A beautiful galaxy of elegantly attired terpsichoreans continued the merriment until the daylight was old enough to guide their nimble footsteps home.

A man was knocked down by a loaded dray on Broadway two days since, the wheel went over his head, and he died very suddenly.

The small pox is still prevalent in Washington, and there are unofficial rumors of President Lincoln's intended removal to New York till the epidemic is over.

The issue of the fractional currency has been regularly resumed—on single paper instead of double.

Dan Bryant says he'd rather have greenbacks than gold, because when you get them into your pocket you double them, and when you take them out they're (in)creased.

☞ Our friend Tenney, of the Brunswick Telegraph, states that one winter, in fitting out a sleigh, he thought he would have a string of bells so large and loud that everybody meeting him would hear them, and be sure not to run him down. The result was, he could only hear his own bells, and being sometimes careless, he came near running his neighbors down: so quietly a lighter string was substituted. The moral which he draws from this pathetic story is obvious.

☞ Shrove Tuesday, formerly so brilliant a day in the calendar of New Orleans, was without incident worthy of notice in that city this year, if we except the reported hanging of a man from the yard-arm of a French war steamer in that port, which turned out to be the stuffed effigy of the traitor Judas, which, by a religious custom among French sailors, is sent aloft head foremost on Mardi Gras.

☞ The Army and Navy Journal, of New York, has added Gen. McClellan's Report to the list of official reports which have already appeared in that paper. The Report is published entire in supplementary sheets, uniform with the Journal, in a form convenient for preservation, and accompanied by an index. The two double-numbers containing the report are for sale by newsdealers, at 20 cents each; or will be sent by mail by the publisher, W. C. Church, 192 Broadway, on receipt of price, forty cents for the two numbers.

☞ Rev. Charles Packard, pastor of the Second Congregational Church of Biddeford, Maine, died suddenly on Wednesday evening. He was walking home, but before reaching there felt strangely and called at the house of a friend; after stating how he felt, he reclined upon the lounge and almost instantly expired. He was a strong, robust man, and apparently enjoyed perfect health. The Biddeford Journal states that by his death the people have experienced a great loss, and he was universally beloved and respected.

☞ The old copper mines at Bristol, Connecticut, have been reopened, with prospects much improved. Lead is being worked in Massachusetts, at Southampton. Discoveries of tin, said to be valuable, are announced in New Hampshire. In Rhode Island mines of copper, coal and iron are all receiving more attention. The iron is not as rich as some other deposits.

DR. TEBBETTS'
PHYSIOLOGICAL
HAIR REGENERATOR
—AND—
UNIVERSAL HAIR RESTORER.

ITS MODUS OPERANDI.

Immediately beneath the scalp there are very small glands, or, more commonly Roots of the Hair. It is from these Glands that every hair of the head is formed and secreted. As long as the scalp is free from disease, these bodies also remain healthy, and the hair keeps its natural appearance and color. But when humors and other diseases affect the scalp, these glands become involved in the same disease, and the hair gradually turns gray, dry and brittle. Sooner or later the hair begins to fall off, and in many cases, if not arrested, will produce a complete baldness of the scalp.

To remedy this pathological condition of the glands and create a new and healthy action, the Physiological Hair Regenerator has proved a perfect success—inasmuch as it is the only preparation yet known that can boast of such wonderful results.

Unlike thousands of other articles in the market, containing Silver, Lime, Lead, Litharge, Tannin, Sulphur, &c., and producing only a sort of yellow or flax color, it will, if properly applied restore the hair to its former appearance and beauty.

The Physiological Hair Regenerator is warranted in all cases to produce the following results:

1. It is not a Dye and will not stain a single particle. It contains no coloring matter whatever, and is not the least injurious in its application.
2. It will certainly RESTORE the hair from a gray to a beautiful Black, Brown, Auburn, or whatever might have been its original color.
3. It will effectually prevent the hair from falling off, remove all Heat, Inflammation and Dandruff from the scalp, keeping the head clean and cool, and the hair soft, glossy and of a silky appearance.
4. It will PROMOTE a luxuriant growth of new hair on bald heads, except in the cases of old age and where the glands have become disorganized.
5. It will cure the most inveterate itching and neuralgia of the scalp, and being highly perfumed, it affords a most delightful article for the toilet.

We have a great abundance of testimony to prove beyond a doubt all that we claim for the Regenerator; and it is positively certain that in a very short time it will have a world wide reputation.

HOME TESTIMONY.

BEDFORD, N. H., Dec. 17, 1863.

Messrs. Tebbetts Brothers—The preparation you induced me to try on my hair, about three weeks ago, has had a wonderful effect. My hair was then almost white and now it is almost black. My daughter has also tried it on her hair, which was fast falling off on account of a severe attack of the diphtheria; it stopped it immediately on its application. My wife has also been trying it for baldness on top of her head, and finds that a new growth of hair is rapidly starting. We have only used one bottle, and I think one more will fix our heads up in good shape. J. C. CUTLER.

MANCHESTER, Dec. 20, 1863.

Gents—Unless I am very much mistaken, your Hair Regenerator is destined, ere long, to work a complete revolution with all other Hair Preparations. It not only restores the hair to its natural color and keeps the head free from Dandruff, but it is the most beautiful dressing that can be prepared. My hair, without any apparent cause, began to turn gray when about thirteen years of age, and had been gradually increasing for more than ten years, when at out two months ago I began the use of your Regenerator, and it has completely astonished all my friends to see my hair brought back to its natural color, which is almost a complete black. It is the only thing, unless it was a regular Hair Dye, that I ever knew would produce such effect. It also keeps the head so clean and free from scurf, that it makes a very nice dressing. JACOB J. ABBOTT.

☞ It is well known that the largest halls in the country have been wholly inadequate to accommodate those who have been desirous of seeing Mr. Barnum, and listening to his intensely interesting lecture. In Providence, the street in front of Howard Hall was densely packed before six o'clock, although the lecture did not commence until eight, and it was estimated that more than five thousand persons were unable to obtain even standing room. The large hall of the Cooper Institute, New York, one of the largest halls in the country, was crowded to excess long before the hour of the lecture, thousands having been turned away. At Albany, N. Y., and at Springfield, Mass., every seat was sold days before the lecture.

That all may have an equal chance to obtain a good seat on the evening of the lecture here, the Doors will be open at 6 1-2 o'clock, although the lecture will not commence until 8. To save confusion and avoid the crowd at the door, it is advisable that as many as possible should purchase their tickets at the Bookstores before the evening of the lecture. F19

One of Hunnewell's Great Remedies.

HUNNEWELL'S UNIVERSAL COUGH REMEDY.—The basis of this truly wonderful preparation, now of such well-earned celebrity, is a freedom from every compound calculated to debilitate, and by such to allow the greatest freedom of use, day or night, as the only true theory by which THROAT and LUNG COMPLAINTS can be effectually cured. To prevent asking attention to long stories of great cures, when local causes make almost all such complaints different in effect, I would ask confidence which will be sacred, in COLDS, COUGHS, HOARSENESS, SORE THROAT, BRONCHIAL and ASTHMATIC COMPLAINTS, WHOOPING COUGH, all THROAT and LUNG COMPLAINTS, which, when neglected, end in CONSUMPTION. Testimonials from Physicians of the highest respectability, and from invalids, can be seen at my office by all interested.

Local.

WASHINGTON'S BIRTHDAY.—The Committee appointed by the Board of Aldermen to take the matter in charge, have determined to have the city bells rung one hour to-day, commencing at 12 o'clock.—The Mayor has also desired us to request the merchants of our city to close their places of business at noon for the remainder of the day.

There is a desire on the part of many of our merchants to observe the day, and several, we understand, have already agreed to close their stores. This is both commendable and patriotic; and, we doubt not, will be generally followed. Of late years the public have been more and more inclined to set apart the day as a holiday. In Massachusetts it is a legal holiday, and its recurrence has been marked by various celebrations, the more particularly by military organizations. Let us hope that today our city will present the gratifying aspect of a general holiday.

We have altogether too much regard for the memory of Washington, and respect for our City Fathers' recommendation to labor to-day, and we shall, therefore, issue no Chronicle on Tuesday morning.

LOOK OUT FOR FIRE.—The Boston Traveller well says that those who are employed upon Government work cannot be too vigilant in guarding their premises against fire, for we have too much reason to apprehend that the rebels have agents throughout the North to apply the torch whenever they have an opportunity. Canada, as has been stated in the public prints, and as we are assured through private sources, contains numbers of strangers, rebel sympathizers, who pass frequently and freely to Portland, Boston and New York, and as freely return. There is little doubt that the fire which destroyed Colt's factory was the work of an incendiary, and the attempt afterward to fire the Springfield armory leads us to infer that the rebels are still on the lookout to burn.

At our Navy Yard, we doubt not, every precaution is taken to guard against danger. Certainly every avenue ought to be watched carefully and constantly. And the water-works and fire engines should be inspected frequently by faithful and experienced men, to see that they are all ready for use at a moment's notice. Such watchfulness may not seem absolutely necessary, yet it may result in preventing untold injury to ourselves and the Government; and should any evil results be occasioned by our own carelessness in this respect, it would be difficult for even ourselves to palliate our offence.

☞ A personal friend of ours has rendered himself excessively disagreeable for two days past, by persisting in talking about ship-houses, and insisting that the words "swayed" and "moved" are not synonymous. But to keep him quiet in future, and to explain the matter satisfactorily to others, we will state that the story of the moving of one of the ship-houses at the Navy Yard by the gale on Wednesday night, originated from a report that the end of the building swayed in and out nearly three feet; from this, "still the wonder grew," until the story was nearly as large as the building itself, and about as empty.

☞ Mr. Charles A. Tucker, of Eliot, Me., was severely injured at the Portsmouth Navy Yard on Saturday, by the fall of a temporary addition of one of the ship houses. No bones were broken, but he received internal injuries of a severe character. He was conveyed to the Hospital, and from thence to his boarding place at Kittery Foreside.

POLICE COURT, Saturday, Feb. 20—Odell, J.—Otis Hewin and Henry Ham, charged with highway robbery of Wm. H. McCormick, were bound over in $300 each for trial. Gave bonds. McCormick is a sailor from U. S. S. Colorado, and the evidence was that the couple of worthies named were two of five who knocked the Jack tar down, near the Rockingham Mills, at midnight Friday, and relieved him of $115 in greenbacks.

Joseph Ware, for assault on James B. Chase, of Greenland, in this city on Saturday, paid fine of $7 and costs $5.45.

☞ The Washington correspondent of the N. Y. Herald writes as follows, in relation to Gen. H. W. Benham, who was a few months since detached for special service in this city:—

Gen. Benham having on Aug. 7, 1862, been reduced from his rank of brigadier general of volunteers, through a conception that he had broken positive orders at James's Island in attacking the rebel works at Secessionville, but no charges having been preferred against him, the President ordered his case to be investigated by Judge Advocate Holt, who decided that he had not broken any orders, but had instead obeyed them to the best of his ability. He was, therefore, restored to his rank, and placed in command of the engineer brigade of the Army of the Potomac. In justice to Gen. Benham the President has recently ordered Judge Holt's opinion to be published; in order to correct the impression that Gen. Benham had not been restored to his position.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— About 25 men have enlisted for the Navy at the U. S. recruiting office in Dover.

—— Rev. E. L. Whitcome, of Nashua, has accepted a call from Grace Church, Yantic, Conn., and will at once enter upon his duties.

—— On Thursday night last, seven counterfeit tens on the Bay State Bank, Lawrence, were put in circulation in Nashua. At the same time parties were engaged in Manchester in passing the same counterfeits.

—— The New Orleans Picayune states that Joe Collins and John Williams, of the 1st N. H. Cavalry, were tried in the Provost Court, Feb. 10th, for entering a house with intent to steal. They were caught in the house and arrested before they had an opportunity of carrying out their amiable intentions, but the object of their visit was so obviously felonious that they were sentenced to one year at hard labor on that dry watering place yclept Tortugas. We do not know whether these two men were enlisted in this State or not.

—— All but three of the officers now with the 13th regiment have signed an address "to the Voters of the State of New Hampshire," appealing to them to sustain at the polls the soldiers in the field, and explaining the evil results of dissensions at the North. The address closes as follows:—

Fellow Citizens: We are deprived of the right of suffrage, and is it presumption on our part to ask you to sustain us by your votes? Sustain those brave soldiers who have gone forth from the old Granite State, from the farm, from the workshop, and the desk, determined to do or die; men who have sealed their devotion to their country's cause on many a bloody field. Will you not, at the approaching election, cast your votes for the party which, without any ifs or buts, comes out boldly in sustaining the war, until the rebellion shall be crushed out, root and branch? Do this, strengthen the arm of the man who has done honor to his position while he has held the office of Governor of New Hampshire, and the plaudits of thousands of our soldiers, scattered throughout the South, will be wafted upon every breeze, back to the ice-clad hills of New Hampshire, showing "well done, well done, worthy descendants of Revolutionary Sires!"

A RECRUITING AGENT CAUGHT NAPPING.—The Boston Traveller tells a good story of one of the recruiting agents who have been engaged in running men into New Hampshire to enlist. He was a stout and lazy fellow, somewhat greener than most of the runners are, and unable to read or write. He took a recruit up to Concord, and sold him for the usual price, as a substitute. After his man had signed an enlistment paper, the recruiting officer asked the agent to sign his name as a witness, and then accompany him to a surgeon. He made his mark upon a document which was placed before him, and the two were escorted by a guard to the surgeon. After the other man had been examined and passed, the surgeon told him to strip. He objected to this, and said he was only a recruiting agent, but the surgeon informed him that his name appeared on the document as a volunteer, and that he must be examined like others. He was too much surprised to remonstrate, and after a careful examination was passed and sent into camp.

☞ Those who enjoy negro concerts,—and everybody knows that there are enough such in our city to fill the Temple,—will remember that Skiff's Minstrels appear here to-morrow night. They give one concert.

GRAND RALLY FOR THE UNION.—Hon. Lewis Barker of Maine, an old line Democrat, will address the citizens of Portsmouth and vicinity at the Temple, this (Monday) evening, Feb. 22, at 7 1-2 o'clock. Music by the Portsmouth Glee Club.

☞ Measles are prostrating the volunteers by hundreds, the hospitals are crowded with them. Soldiers, be warned in time. Holloway's Pills are positively infallible in the cure of this disease; occasional doses of them will preserve the health even under the greatest exposures. Only 30 cts. per box. 22i

CHEROKEE REMEDY

—AND—

CHEROKEE INJECTION,

Compounded from Roots, Barks & Leaves.

CHEROKEE REMEDY, the great Indian Diuretic, cures all diseases of the urinary organs, such as Incontinence of the Urine, Inflammation of the Bladder, Inflammation of the Kidneys, Stone in the Bladder, Stricture, Gravel, Gleet, Gonorrhœa, and is especially recommended in these cases of Fluor Albus (or Whites in female) where all the old nauseous medicines have failed.

It is prepared in a highly concentrated form, the dose only being from one to two tablespoonfuls three times per day.

It is diuretic and alterative in its action; purifying and cleansing the blood, causing it to flow in all of its original purity and vigor; thus removing from the system all pernicious causes which have induced disease.

CHEROKEE INJECTION is intended as an ally or assistant to the CHEROKEE REMEDY, and should be used in conjunction with that medicine in all cases of Gonorrhœa, Gleet, Fluor Albus or Whites. Its effects are healing, soothing and demulcent; removing all scalding, heat, chordee and pain, instead of the burning and almost unendurable pain that is experienced with nearly all the cheap quack injections.

☞ By the use of the CHEROKEE REMEDY and CHEROKEE INJECTION—the two medicines at the same time—all improper secretions are removed, and the weakened organs are speedily restored to full vigor and strength.

For full particulars get our pamphlet from any drug store in the country, or write us and we will mail free, to any address, a full treatise.

Price—CHEROKEE REMEDY, $2 per bottle or three bottles for $5.

Gov. Benning Wentworth begins his administration, 1741.

Governor Wentworth had been engaged in trade, and became eminent as a merchant. He contracted with an agent of the Spanish government to supply them with a large quantity of the best oak timber, to the amount of 50 or 60,000 dollars, and he borrowed the money in London to enable him to fulfil the contract. The timber was delivered, but the Spanish Court refused payment. On his homeward voyage his ship foundered, and he with his crew, saved their lives by taking to the boat. After another ineffectual attempt to obtain payment from Spain, he represented his case to the British Court, and solicited their aid to obtain redress. Negociations were commenced, but did not succeed: the war between the two nations destroyed his expectations of receiving his pay. Mr. Wentworth then, through the assistance of his friend Mr. Thomlinson, applied for the government of New Hampshire, which was granted him. Having received his commission, he embarked for this country, and landed at Boston, and from thence proceeded to Portsmouth where he arrived on the 12th of December, 1741, amidst the acclamations of a large concourse of people, who had assembled to welcome his return.

In 1742, the General Assembly granted a salary to Governor Wentworth, of two hundred and fifty pounds, to be paid out of the money arising from the imposts: and having issued twenty-five thousand pounds in bills, on a loan for ten years, they granted him two hundred and fifty pounds more, out of the money accruing from the interest of that loan, and made him annual grants for his house-rent.

Dunbar had retained his office of Surveyor of the woods till 1743; but Thomlinson, desirous of obtaining the office for Governor Wentworth, prevailed upon him to resign, upon paying him two thousand pounds sterling. He then applied to government, and procured the appointment for Wentworth. The salary was eight hundred pounds sterling; out of which, he was to support four deputies. He was obliged to relinquish his claim upon the Spanish Court.

The ship of war, the Astrea, in Piscataqua Harbor, accidentally took fire on the 17th day of January, 1744, and was entirely consumed.—The Astrea was a twenty-gun ship, which had been taken from the Spaniards at Porto Bello during that war, was riding at anchor in the Pool, and taking in a cargo of naval stores, destined for the use of the British fleet at Jamaica. The morning when the accident took place, was severely cold, and her distance from the town, rendered it impossible for assistance to reach her in season. The Pool is a broad sheet of deep still water, situated between the upper end of Great Island and the town, on the southerly side of the river, with good anchoring ground. The largest ships can lie there in safety, and the most ships were usually stationed there, to take in their cargoes.

France joined with Spain in the war against Great Britain; and their colonies were consequently involved in it. The French took the Island of Canseau from the British, destroyed their fishery, burned their houses, and made prisoners of the garrison and inhabitants. The Indians assisted them in this attack. As soon as the news reached Boston, the government of Massachusetts declared war against the Indians, and offered a bounty for prisoners and scalps. The prisoners taken at Canseau, were in the first place carried to Louisburg, and afterwards sent to Boston. Governor Shirley obtained such information from them, respecting the state of the garrison there, and their means of defence, that he formed the idea of taking it from the French. Shirley communicated his project to Wentworth, which met with his hearty concurrence. He represented to the British ministry, the great importance of the Island of Cape Breton, the danger of an attack on Nova Scotia, if the French retained possession of it, and the possibility of wresting it from them. He requested that a naval force might be sent to guard their coast, and protect their trade and fishery; and Commodore Warren was ordered to proceed to the northward with sufficient force to answer this purpose. He and Governor Wentworth were to consult with each other as to the plan of operation.

William Vaughan, a son of Lieutenant Governor Vaughan, claimed the merit of first suggesting this attack upon Cape Breton. He engaged warmly in the undertaking, and being of a bold intrepid disposition, was not easily discouraged by any unfavorable circumstances, that intervened.—He proposed to Governor Shirley to take the place by surprise, which met with Shirley's approbation, and he exerted himself to forward the expedition.

A new Assembly was summoned to meet on the 24th of January, 1745, and precepts were issued to five towns, which had never sent representatives before. Nathaniel Rogers, Eleazer Russell, and Henry Sherburne, jr. represented this town. Sherburne was chosen Clerk of the House, and Rogers, Speaker, but the representatives from the five towns were not allowed to vote. The Governor declined approving or disapproving of the speaker, until he was informed what right the House had, to prohibit any members, called in by the King's writ, from voting. The House determined that no towns (not before privileged) ought to have a writ sent to them without a vote of the House, or act of the General Assembly. An altercation took place between the Governor and House on the subject, which continued nearly a week. But the Governor at last informed the House that, "in the present situation of affairs in respect to the war, he thinks it for his Majesty's immediate service not to enter further into the dispute, and therefore submits it till his Majesty's pleasure shall be known, and that no further delay in the public affairs may happen, he approves of the choice of Nathaniel Rogers, Esq., for their Speaker."

IODIDE POTASSIUM,

With the compound concentrated fluid extract of

VALUABLE MEDICINAL

ROOTS AND HERBS,

Prepared by WM. H. GREGG, M. D., Graduate College of Physicians and Surgeons, N. Y. formerly Assistant Physician Blackwell's Island Hospitals, late Medical Inspector New York state volunteer Regiments, under Gov. Edwin D. Morgan.

Constitution Life Syrup

HAS PRODUCED

A REVOLUTION IN MEDICINE!

What may seem almost incredible, is, it is at many diseases, hitherto considered hopelessly incurable are frequently cured in a few days or weeks, and we cheerfully invite the investigations of the liberal minded and scientific to cures which have no parallel in the history of medicine.

Our medicine is peculiar, by it the seat of disease is directly reached, and the equilibrium restored. Those who have suffered long from painful and obstinate diseases, those who have vainly sought relief from advertised medicines, those who could not be cured by other physicians—are invited to use Constitution Life Syrup.

During the past five years we have contended with obstacles and overcome opposition as herculean as ever encountered by any Reformers.

Rapidity of Cure.

Some say, "Your cures are too quick," while others doubt their permanency, and think that diseases can only be cured by the "slow recuperative process of Nature." This is our reply:

Its health, is not like a well-balanced scale, is in a state of equilibrium. But when from any cause down goes one side of the scale, we have the effects of disease. What is requisite is, to restore the normal balance of the scale.

CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP,

A positive and specific remedy for all diseases originating from an IMPURE STATE OF THE BLOOD, and from hereditary DISEASES transmitted from PARENT TO CHILD.

Dyspepsia.

Indigestion, Liver Complaint, Constipation, Weight at Stom'h, Biliousness, Want of Appetite, Flatulence, Bad Breath.

Scrofula.

Struma, Glandular Swellings, Ulceration, King's Evil, Erysipelas, Salt Rheum.

This taint (hereditary or acquired), filling life with untold misery, is by all usual medical remedies incurable.

Rheumatism.

(Arthritis), Lumbago, Neuralgia, Sciatica, Gout, Tic Doloureux.

If there is any disease in which the Constitution Life Syrup is a charm, it is in Rheumatism and its kindred affections. In several days pains are almost instantly alleviated—enormous swellings are reduced—in less, chronic or vicarious, of 20 or 30 years standing, have been cured by us.

Nervousness.

Nervous Debility, Confusion of Thought, Epilepsy, Loss of Power, Shattered Nerves, St. Vitus' Dance.

Thousands who have suffered for years will bless the day on which they read these lines. Particularly to weak, suffering males the Constitution Life Syrup is a inestimable blessing—directing their footsteps to a Hope which fulfils more than it promises.

Mercurial Diseases.

Salivation, Feeling of Weariness, Rotting of Bones, Bad Complexion, Aches in Bones, Depressed Spirits.

Constitution Life Syrup purges the system entirely from all the evil effects of MERCURY, removing the Bad Breath, and curing the Weak Joints and Rheumatic Pains which the use of Calomel is sure to produce. It hardens Spongy Gums and secures the Teeth as firmly as ever.

Constitution Life Syrup

Eradicates, root and branch, all Eruptive Diseases of the Skin, like

ULCERS, PIMPLES, BLOTCHES.

And all other difficulties of this kind, which so much disfigure the outward appearance of both males and females, often making them a disgusting object to themselves and their friends.

CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP

Cures all Swellings of the Glands,

Either of the Face, Neck or Female Breast, and should be taken as soon as the swelling is detected, thus preventing their breaking and producing troublesome Discharging Sores, which disfigure so many of the younger portion of the community; from six to twenty years of age, children are very subject to Discharges from the Ears, which depends upon a Scrofulous constitution. These cases soon recover by taking a few doses of the Life Syrup.

All scrofulous persons suffering from Debility, Emaciation, Dyspepsia, Costiveness, Pain in the abdomen, and in the female Dropsy of the ovaries and womb, generally accompanied with Inflammation and Ulceration of the stomach, are permanently cured by Constitution Life Syrup.

Disease known as Goitre or Swelled Neck, the Life Syrup will remove entirely. The remedy should be taken for some time, as this disease is exceedingly chronic and stubborn, and will not be removed without extra effort. Tumors of the Ovaries, Tumors of the Breast, and swelling of other glands of the body will be completely reduced without recorting to the knife or operations of any kind.

Epileptic Fits, Sympathetic or Organic Diseases of the Heart (as Palpitation, Disease of Valves—producing a Disagreeable Sound), Dropsy of the Heart Case and all the affections of this important organ, or persons suffering from any severe pain in the region of the heart, will be greatly relieved by Constitution Life Syrup.

Broken Down and Delicate Constitutions, Suffering from Indigestion to Exercise, Pain in the Back, Loss of Memory, Forebodings, Horror of Calamity, Fear of Disease, Dimness of Vision, Dry Hot Skin and Extremities, Weak Nervous Dyspepsia, Pale Haggard Countenance and Lassitude of the Muscular System, all require the aid of the CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP.

For all forms of Ulcerative Diseases, either of the Nose Throat, Tongue, Spine, Forehead or Scalp, no remedy has yet been found to equal.

MOTH PATCHES upon the female face, depending upon a diseased action of the Liver, are very unpleasant to the lady who is and mother. A few bottles of Constitution Life Syrup will correct the secretion, and remove the deposit which is directly under the skin.

In Dyspepsia the liver, giving rise to languor, dizziness, indigestion, weak stomach, or an ulcerated or cancerous condition of that organ, accompanied with Costiveness, Pain in the Shoulder, symptoms, either may be obviated by the use of CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP.

☞ It is a general Blood-Purifying Agent, the Life Syrup stands unrivaled by any preparation in the world.

Diseases of the Spine, as usually developed in the young, Spinal Irritation, Lumbago, and all Nervous Diseases, and Ladies who are suffering from diseases for which they are at a loss to know what to do, we would advise the use of CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP. It will restore the pallid countenance, strengthen their weak back and side, give them new energy, new life and happiness.

THE RICH AND POOR are liable to the same diseases. Nature and Science have made the Constitution Life Syrup for the benefit of all.

PURE BLOOD produces healthy men and women; and if the constitution is neglected in youth, disease and death are the results. Do not delay when the means are so near at hand, and within the reach of all.

TO MOTHERS OF MARRIED LADIES. It is the safest and most efficacious medicine ever discovered for purifying the system and relieving the suffering incident upon childbirth. It strengthens both the mother and child, prevents pain and disease, and increases and enriches the food.—Those who have used it think it indispensable. It is highly valuable both before and after confinement, as it prevents disease attendant upon childbirth.

Constitution Life Syrup

Is the Poor Man's Friend and the Rich Man's Blessing!—Buy it, take it, and be cured.—It is Universal in its effects

THE MODEL COOK.

AN AIR-TIGHT STOVE,

WITH TWO OVENS,

And Five Boiling Places!

At the present high prices of fuel it is very desirable to lessen its consumption. This can be best accomplished by using a MODEL COOK STOVE. More cooking can be done in one with a single load of coal, or cord of wood, than with double the quantity in any common stove or range—and in less time also.

The fire being placed in the centre of the stove, with an oven on either side (which may be thrown into one at pleasure), all the heat from the fuel is made available for cooking purposes.

The oven doors are lined with tin, and jackets are provided for the bottom and back of the stove, thus retaining much heat, ordinarily wasted. A check draft is applied, by means of which much fuel is saved, and a continuous fire may be kept as long as desirable.

A Water Tank and Hot Closet can be applied to either size, when needed.

In fact, no pains or expense have been spared to make this a PERFECT Stove, and we think it surpasses all others for Economy, Durability, Capacity, Conveniences, Beauty of Design and Perfection of Finish.

It is equally well adapted for Coal or Wood; Summer or Winter use; excellent in a family where help is employed, and invaluable to the housewife who does her own work, lightening it at least one-half.

No family, large or small, where economy, convenience and dispatch are desirable, should be without one.

We refer to some parties who have purchased the Model Cook—

A Great Variety of Cheaper Stoves FOR WOOD OR COAL.

E. A. STEVENS'S House Furnishing Establishment, NO. 46 MARKET STREET.

THE MAGEE COOKING STOVE.

The subscriber, having received his Fall stock of Stoves, would especially call the attention of the public to the

CELEBRATED AND UNEQUALLED

MAGEE COOK STOVE,

as the very best Stove yet made, and would invite those about purchasing or exchanging Stoves, to examine this, believing it to be far superior to any other Stove yet invented, the castings being heavier, and the oven larger than usual. The oven plates are covered with plaster, which renders it equal to the old-fashioned brick oven for perfection in baking.

There is a new style and very superior broiler and and iron heater combined, by which the odor of broiling meats are prevented from escaping into the room. With the extension top there is a large copper Reservoir for hot water; also a large tin warming-closet attached, in which an article can be kept warm, while the other parts of the Stove are occupied for other purposes.

The arrangements for sifting the coal and cleaning the grate are far superior to those of any other Stove now in use, as no dust can possibly escape into the room, and the shovelling up of the ashes is entirely dispensed with. The fire is regulated in the same manner as in the MATCH PARLOR STOVE, and can be continued day and night for weeks together, thus saving the expense of re-kindling every day.

For economy, durability, ease of management, cleanliness and perfection in cooking, it cannot be surpassed by any other Stove, as hundreds of families in the city and vicinity, who are now using them, are willing to testify, and speak of them in the highest terms of praise.

We would refer to the following purchasers:

"MAGEE'S PATENT"

VENTILATING & AIR-WARMING

FURNACES.

The subscriber, being the Sole Agent in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of this valuable Furnace, would ask those about remodelling or erecting buildings to examine this truly valuable invention.

For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, moist and agreeable;—and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pot is used for respiration, the tendency to produce headache so much complained of in other furnaces, is entirely obviated.

The objects aimed at by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.

To accomplish this many complicated and expensive heating arrangements have been constructed but little improvement has been made over former methods, while many have proved a total failure. The reason for this is obvious. The combustible gases being lighter than the air, pass off into the pipe or chimney without being consumed. This objection, so common in other furnaces, is obviated in the

MAGEE FURNACE.

The flue or pipe in this furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot descend, and are burned up by the admission of fresh air through the fire-pot, which ignites them as they pass off from the coal, thus saving at least 20 per cent. of the properties of the heat in the fuel.

No heating apparatus with the smoke-pipe or flue on the top of the cone can be made to consume the gases of the coal, as they pass off with a large amount of heat generated, making the chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.

This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.

These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.

For ease of management, economy and purity of air, these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire may be kept the entire season without once going out.

They give entire satisfaction wherever used. We have in store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world,—and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:

Samuel Cleaves, Esq., Albert E. Hatch, Esq., Aaron H. Hill, Charles H. Mendum, Henry F. Wendell, John Sise, and others.

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY,

SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,

Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, (under the Act of 1837.)

76 State street, opposite Kilby street,

Boston.

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with dispatch. Research made into unpatented or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of patents or inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The Testimonials below given prove that there is MORE SUCCESS IN AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional service so moderate.

The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.

These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessary expense of money to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse."

CHARLES MASON,

Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."

EDMUND BURKE,

Late Commissioner of Patents.

Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that is not pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges."

JOHN TAGGART.

During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents.

The Chronicle.

"Roundto no party—to no sect confined;
The world our home; our brethren, all mankind.
Love truth, do good, be just and fair with all:
Exalt the right, though every ism fall."

"Let me warn you in the most solemn manner against the baneful effects of the spirit of Party, generally. It is a spirit not to be encouraged.—Its common and continual mischief is sufficient to make it the interest and duty of a wise people to discourage and restrain it. In government, as of the popular form, it is seen in its greatest rankness, and is truly their worst enemy."—Washington's Farewell Address.

☞ Mr. Lyman Howe, of Worcester, Mass., has invented a snow-fender, for the very useful purpose of preventing snow-slides from the roofs of buildings. It is said to be simple in its construction; can be applied to a building with a slate or metal roof with ease and in a short time; and, if desired, it can be removed from the building, with little labor, at the close of winter, and stored away until again needed. It is so made as to be strong and durable; and roofs can not be injured by its application or use.

☞ The Nashville Dispatch tells of an occurrence which took place at Gen. Granger's quarters last week. A negro had been waiting in the Provost's office for some time without making known his desires, when one of the clerks asked his business, to which the negro replied that he had the small-pox, and wanted a pass to go to the hospital. We need not say how promptly that darkey was attended to, and "no further questions axed."

Which was the property? was a question very neatly settled the other day by Daniel Drew, the great steamboat proprietor, of Gotham. Daniel, although a man of immense wealth, is an old fashioned Methodist, and dresses very plainly at all times, and sometimes rather shabbily. Being on one of his own steamers, not long since, he was accosted by a passenger, who took him for one of the crew, with the interrogatory, "Do you belong to this boat?" "No," said Daniel, quietly, "the boat belongs to me!"

"Hallo there!" said an old farmer to an Irishman, busily engaged at one of his cherry trees, "by what right do you take those cherries?" "Faith, my friend," replied Pat, "by my right hand, sure."

IMPORTANT TO THE AFFLICTED.

DR. DOW continues to be consulted at his office, Nos. 7 and 9 ENDICOTT STREET, Boston, on all diseases of a

PRIVATE OR DELICATE NATURE.

By a long course of study and practical experience of unlimited extent, Dr. D. has now the gratification of presenting the unfortunate with remedies that have never, since he first introduced them, failed to cure the most alarming cases of

GONORRHŒA AND SYPHILIS.

Beneath his treatment, all the horrors of venereal and impure blood, Impotency, Scrotula, Gonorrhœa, Ulcers, pains and distress in the regions of procreation, inflammation of the Bladder and Kidneys, Hydrocele, Abscesses, Humors, frightful Swellings, and the long train of horrible symptoms attending these dreadful diseases, are made to become as harmless as the simplest ailings of a child.

SEMINAL WEAKNESS.

Dr D. devotes a great part of his time to the treatment of those cases caused by a secret and solitary habit, which ruins the body and mind, unfitting the unfortunate individual for business or society. Some of the sad and melancholy effects produced by early habits of youth, are Weakness of the Back and limbs, Dizziness of the head, Dimness of sight, Palpitation of the heart, Dyspepsia, Nervousness, Derangement of the digestive functions, Symptoms of Consumption, &c. The fearful effects on the mind are much to be dreaded; loss of memory, confusion of ideas, depression of spirits, evil forebodings, aversion to society, self-distrust, timidity, &c., are among the evils produced. Such persons should, before contemplating matrimony, consult a physician of experience, and be at once restored to health and happiness.

Patients who wish to remain under Dr. Dow's treatment a few days or weeks, will be furnished with pleasant rooms, and charges for board moderate.

Medicines sent to all parts of the country, with full directions for use, on receiving description of your cases. Dr. Dow has also for sale the French Capotes, warranted the best procurable. Order by mail. Three for $1 and a red stamp.

Highly Important!

To Females in Delicate Health.

DR. DOW, Physician and Surgeon, No 7 & 9 Endicott Street, Boston, is consulted daily for all diseases incident to the female system. Prolapsus Uteri, or falling of the Womb, Fluor Albus, Suppression, and other menstrual derangements, are all treated upon new pathological principles, and speedy relief guaranteed in a few days. So invariably certain is the new mode of treatment, that most obstinate complaints yield under it, and the afflicted person soon rejoices in perfect health.

Dr. Dow has no doubt had greater experience in the cure of diseases of women and children, than any other physician in Boston.

Boarding accommodations for patients who may wish to stay in Boston a few days under his treatment.

Dr. Dow, since 1845, having confined his whole attention to an office practice, for the cure of Private Diseases and Female Complaints, acknowledges no superior in the United States.

N. B.—All letters must contain four red stamps, or they will not be answered.

Office Hours from 8 A. M. to 9 P. M.

CERTAIN CURE

in all cases, or No Charges Made.

Dr. Dow is consulted daily, from 8 A. M. to 9 P. M. as above, upon all difficult and chronic diseases of every name and nature, having by his unwearied attention and extraordinary success gained a reputation which calls patients from all parts of the country to obtain advice.

Among the physicians in Boston, none stands higher in the profession than the celebrated DR. DOW, No. 7 Endicott street, Boston. Those who need the services of an experienced physician and surgeon should give him a call.

☞ 3—Dr. Dow imports and has for sale a new article, called the FRENCH SECRET. Order by mail. Two for $1 and a red stamp.

WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 24, 1864.

THE REBELLION.

The N. Y. Times' Newbern letter of the 13th, reports the final retreat of the rebel force.

A Pass Cavallo (Texas) letter states that deserters report Magruder's army to be 30,000 strong. Canary Creek is occupied by 5000 men with several guns, and 20,000 men can be concentrated there in two days. The rebels have two picket posts eight and fifteen miles in advance to give them time for preparation in case of our advancing.

Official information from Gen. Dodge, received at Gen. Logan's headquarters states that the Rebels, supposed to be Rody's command, attempted to cross the Tennessee River at three different ferries, but were driven back by Gen. Dodge's troops. Our loss was very slight.

It was rumored at Huntsville, Ala., 20th, that Gen. Sherman had had a fight with Gen. Polk near Brandon, whipped him, and taken 12,000 prisoners.

Dispatches from rebel sources intimate that Adm. Farragut had begun operations, co-operative with Sherman's advance, at Grant's pass. This is a narrow channel, in the rear of Fort Morgan, which guards the main entrance to Mobile Bay.

An official dispatch to the rebel War Department of the 18th inst. announces Gen. Sherman at Quitman, on the Mobile and Ohio railroad, without opposition. This advance, says the rebel dispatch, was, without comparison, the boldest movement of the war. Gen. Sherman has from 25,000 to 30,000 men. They tear up the railroad and bridges in their rear as they advance. He meditates no step backwards. On the 16th Gov. Watts issued a proclamation to the citizens of Mobile, that the city is about to be attacked, and exhorting non-combatants to leave.

☞ The bells were rung in this city at noon on Monday, Washington's birth day, and salutes were fired at the Navy Yard and Sullivan's Island.

☞ The British authorities at Cape Town, C. G. H., have seized the rebel pirate Tuscaloosa, as an uncondemned prize, brought into an English port, in violation of her majesty's orders for the maintenance of neutrality.

☞ The steamship Bohemian, Capt. Borland, from Liverpool for Portland, struck on Alden's rock, four miles outside of Cape Elizabeth, about 9 o'clock Monday evening, keeled over, and sunk in about an hour and a half, in four fathoms of water. The number of passengers was 218, and that of the crew, it is supposed, 29. It is estimated that there were saved in all the boats 238, leaving 19 to be accounted for. The crew were nearly all saved.

— The National Republican Committee locate the National Convention at Baltimore on the 7th of June.

— Mr. Pruyn, our Minister to Japan, writes from Kanagawa, Jan. 19, to the State Department, that the U. S. steamer Wyoming was then watching the Alabama at Amoy.

A Frenchman writing a letter in English to a friend, and looking in the dictionary for the word preserve, and finding it meant pickle, wrote as follows: "May you and your family be pickled to all eternity."

A drunken fellow, sitting on the steps of Park street church, the cold wind blowing chillingly round the corner.—"If heaven (hic) tempers the wind to the (hic) shorn lamb, I wish the lamb (hic) was on this corner.

The most striking illustration of the saying that the pith of a lady's letter is the postscript, was that of a young lady who, having gone out to Indiana, and writing home to her friends, concluded with the following words: "You will see by my signature that I am married."

Garrick, in order to cover up his own stinginess, is said to have spoken of his partner Lacy's love of money; and Murphy asked, "Why on earth don't Garrick take the beam out of his own eye before attacking the mote in other people's?" "He is not sure," replied Foot, "of selling the timber."

Some kindly spirit asserts: "So long as a woman inspires love, she is not old. But what is it to be old? It does not depend on the fact that we have existed during a certain mysterious number of years which have been allotted to each of us. To be old, is to have no longer a beauty of charm. If a woman preserves the attractions of youth until she reaches the age of one hundred, she will be younger than the woman of twenty who has lost them."

Lady Wortly Montague, the famous wit and beauty, made the most sarcastic observation that was ever published about her own sex. "It goes far," said my lady, "to reconcile me to being a woman, when I reflect that I am thus in no danger of ever marrying one!" What if a man had said that? But see how another lady, the unhappy Countess of Landefelt, inverted the sentiment and turned the satire into the most delicate and generous of compliments. "I never beheld a beautiful woman," said Lola Montez in one of her lectures, "but I fall in love with her myself, and wish I were a man that I might marry her!"

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— Thirteen thousand yards of flannel are made every week at Townsend's Mill, Rochester.

—— Rev. E. W. Clark, of Newton, Mass. will be installed pastor of the Congregational Church in Claremont on Thursday, the 25th inst.

—— Dr. N. J. Moore, of Nashua, has been appointed Assistant Surgeon in the U. S. Army. He will be stationed at Fortress Monroe for the present.

—— Each of the four religious societies in Newport have held a festival this winter, and the aggregate of their profits amounts to over $800.

—— Col. Calib Stark died at his residence in Dunbarton, on the 1st inst., aged 59. He was a grandson of General John Stark, and a son of Major Caleb Stark—a patriotic son of Revolutionary sires. He was a graduate of Dartmouth College, and a gentleman of literary tastes and abilities. He wrote a Memoir of General John Stark and published it about three years ago, together with his official correspondence.

The Atlantic Monthly, for March, contains articles and poems by O. W. Holmes, Whittier, Bayard Taylor, Mrs. Stowe, Ik. Marvel, and other popular writers.

Godey's Lady's Book, for March, contains illustrations of the fashions for the coming Spring, there being seventy-two engravings, especially for ladies, either to amuse or instruct. Godey has eight of Adams's power-presses engaged night and day upon the Lady's Book, and they cannot keep up with the demand. The circulation this year will amount to 150,000 copies.

The Ladies' Friend, for March, is the third number of the new candidate for the popular favor. It contains a handsome double Fashion Plate,—such as the public are not accustomed to expect in a two-dollar magazine, and its excellencies are by no means confined to this. Published by Deacon & Peterson, Philadelphia.

Messrs. T. B. Leggett & Co., of New York, publish on the 16th of each month, the Portrait Monthly, giving wood-cuts of the principal men engaged in the present war. Price $1 per year.

A. Williams & Co., of Boston, have just published a pamphlet of 16 pages entitled, "A few facts pertaining to currency and banking, adapted to the present position of our finances," by George L. Stearns. Sold in Portsmouth by J. H. Foster.

☞ The Albany Evening Journal makes the following official announcement of the principle upon which credits are to be given upon the quotas based upon the call for five hundred thousand men:—

Major Townsend has received a communication from Col. Fry, which settles the question. The several districts are to be credited—

1. With all the men enlisted from the 7th of July, 1863, to March 9, 1864.

2. With all the drafted men who have responded in person.

3. With all the substitutes furnished by drafted men; and

4. With all the drafted men who have paid the $300 commutation fee.

Col. Fry has already credited each district with all of these several classes up to the first day of February, and has arranged for the credits to be carried forward to the day of the draft—March 10.

With the principle of credits thus clearly settled it will be a very easy matter for each district to approximate its present indebtedness.

☞ The following table gives the speed of our new steam sloops of about 1367 tons, and with the very light average draft of about fourteen feet of water:

	Tons.	Knots per hour.
Sacramento	1367	12 5
Adirondack	1367	12
Shenandoah	1367	12 25
Iroonderoga	1366	12 5

The above speeds were made at sea, and, as their officers say, 'under the usual conditions of cruising ships.' We can all see that at the measured mile trial (after the, manner our English friends have of getting the maximum speeds) a much higher rate could be obtained.

☞ A singular incident was connected with the launching of the iron-clad Dictator at New York. The plank which held the vessel was cut, the ship started slowly down the ways, moving about 6 feet, and then apparently stopped. But on examination it was found that the vessel was moving toward the water at the snail-pace of half an inch in ten minutes. The constructor, fearing that the tide would fall before she reached the end of the ways, applied hydraulic rams having a power of many tons, but this immense force did not accelerate the speed of the vessel in the least degree. It was then thought advisable to stop her, and the rams were applied to the other end of the ship, but they failed to check her. This mighty mass of iron still silently, resistlessly moved on, apparently defying the power of man. As a last resort, the heaviest chain cables that could be found at the yard were passed around the bows of the vessel, and this leviathan of the deep was at last chained securely to terra firma.

"Matinee musicale." Baby crying at five o'clock in the morning.

☞ The Des Moines (Iowa) State Register of the 16th inst., contains a proclamation from Gov. Stone, putting the State under martial law; forbidding any citizen from leaving the State without first having obtained a pass from the Provost Marshal of the district in which he resides; and declaring that passes will be granted to those only who make satisfactory proof that they are going out of the State for temporary purposes simply, and will return and be in the State on the 10th of March. Military commanders along the Missouri River are requested to place sufficient guards of soldiers at all crossings between Leavenworth and Sioux City to enforce the execution of these orders. The proclamation is based on the preparations being made by large numbers of persons to emigrate to the western Territories. The Governor argues that the fact of their getting in readiness to start at an unusually early period is evidence of a desire to avoid the draft. Large numbers had been making preparations to go from Des Moines city and county.

☞ Messrs. Shaw & Brothers, of Detroit, and H. Poor & Son, of Boston, have purchased 17,000 acres of land, embracing nearly the whole town of Winn, Me., (near Mattawamkeag,) and are about to establish the largest steam tannery in the State, if not in the country. There is plenty of bark down that way.

Superior Criminal Court.—The jury in the case of Edward W. Wallaston (formerly a Captain in the 20th Mass. regiment,) tried for running a recruit out of Massachusetts to New Hampshire and enlisting him in that State, were unable to agree.—Traveller.

California and the "Sanitary."—A private letter informs us that San Francisco will give this year $200,000 to the Sanitary Commission, and that the residue of the Golden State will add at least another $100,000. The Rev. T. S. King was about to visit the County centres of the interior to ensure the latter subscription.—Boston Transcript.

"I'll commit you; you're a nuisance!" said Mr. Justice to a noisy fellow in court. "You can't, sir, you say I'm a nuisance, and nobody has a right to commit a nuisance—so I defy you!"

It is the most momentous question a woman is ever called on to decide, whether the faults of the man she loves will drag her down, or whether she is competent to be his earthly redeemer.

A Paragraph has been going the rounds, of an old lady who has a moustache on her lip. It is not uncommon for young ladies to have moustaches on their lip.

A couple announce in the Providence Post their marriage, and add to their notice, "No cards—nor any money to get them with."

— The Iowa Senate has passed a bill to prohibit the circulation of foreign bank notes in that State.

— The first case of garroter flogging under a new act of Parliament has just occurred in England.

— A statue of Melanchthon is being cast at Berlin and is to be galvanically gilt, so as to look like pure gold. Its destination is Wittenberg.

— A Washington despatch reports the capture of eleven blockade runners on the lower Potomac with a large amount of valuable goods and a large rebel mail.

— In a recent Mobile, mortuary report the names of two colored women occur, one free and the other a slave, who died at the respectable ages of 125 and 115.

— An auctioneer in Columbia, S. C., advertises for sale a powerful and active ox, of four mules' power and good under the saddle. Sold for no fault and only five years old.

— The New York Herald in arguing in in favor of raffles and against the clerical protest, says that after the death of our Saviour his "followers" cast lots for his garments.

— A gentleman in New Orleans, whose whole stock of pullets was feloniously abstracted from his coop, calls upon the thief to restore the hens, or come again and get the rooster, which he left behind on the first occasion.

— Some surprise was occasioned the other day at a very brilliant wedding reception at Troy, N. Y., when the driver of a hearse drove along and backed up to the sidewalk with doors invitingly open. The driver was soon made to understand that he had mistaken the place.

It will be seen that the combination above given results in an Entirely New Class of Amusements, such as has never before been attempted, and which entails such an expenditure of money that only the most liberal patronage can render it remunerative. The manager will therefore be pardoned for directing attention to the fact that this Magnificent Phalanx of Exhibitions not only combines an infinitely greater degree of Novelty, Variety and Effect, within itself, than can be found in any other place of amusement, but also a nearer approach to perfection in every detail. The company includes by far the most talented array of performers ever brought together.

In regard to the features peculiar to this entertainment, of course there is no room for comparison, and it can only be said that they will be found as pleasing and satisfactory as they are new and attractive.

☞ It is well known that the largest halls in the country have been wholly inadequate to accommodate those who have been desirous of seeing Mr. Barnum, and listening to his intensely interesting lecture. In Providence, the street in front of Howard Hall was densely packed before six o'clock, although the lecture did not commence until eight, and it was estimated that more than five thousand persons were unable to obtain even standing room. The large hall of the Cooper Institute, New York, one of the largest halls in the country, was crowded to excess long before the hour of the lecture, thousands having been turned away. At Albany, N. Y., and at Springfield, Mass., every seat was sold days before the lecture.

That all may have an equal chance to obtain a good seat on the evening of the lecture here, the Doors will be open at 6 1-2 o'clock, although the lecture will not commence until 8. To save confusion and avoid the crowd at the door, it is advisable that as many as possible should purchase their tickets at the Bookstores before the evening of the lecture. F19

Valuable Real Estate,
ON RICHARDS AVENUE.

Under a license from the Hon. Judge of Probate, I shall sell at public auction, on the premises,

On SATURDAY, the 26th day of March next, at 12 o'clock, noon,

The Real Estate of the late JOSEPH GREEN, situate on the westerly side of Richards Avenue, (formerly Auburn street,) being the homestead occupied by the deceased in his lifetime. The lot has a frontage of thirty feet on the Avenue, and a depth of eighty feet, extending back as far as the estate of Dr. Wm. R. Preston. It has upon it a convenient house, two stories high, and large woodshed. The garden has many excellent fruit trees in good bearing order. The fine situation of this estate, with its extensive prospect, the excellence of the neighborhood, and its accessible location, render this a rare opportunity for purchase, either for investment or occupancy.

Local.

☞ Maj. Gen. Burnside passed through this city on Monday morning, on his way to Portland. Although very brief and imperfect announcement of his expected coming was given, a large crowd thronged the depot, and by their spontaneous and hearty cheers expressed to him their appreciation of him as a patriot and their regard for him as a man. The presence, even for so brief a period, of one who has been so conspicuous during the war, who has done so much for the Union cause, and who has in so large a measure the confidence and esteem of our soldiers, was very pleasing to our citizens, and we doubt not that their expression of good-will was as pleasing to him. He returned his thanks to them for their kindly greeting in a few feeling and apt remarks.

☞ Although Lewis Barker, Esq., of Maine, the speaker announced for the Union meeting at the Temple on Monday evening, was not present, the time was not lost, and the large audience in attendance listened to addresses from Messrs. W. H. Y. Hackett, J. P. Morse, Robert Shillaber and G. J. Prescott. All the speeches were apt and well received; Mr. Shillaber, a returned Veteran of the N. H. Cavalry, in particular was earnest and patriotic in his remarks, and was repeatedly cheered by his hearers. It was confidently expected that Mr. Barker would be present, at last during the latter portion of the evening,—his absense was occasioned, we understand, by a misunderstanding on the part of those who were making arrangements for a Union meeting in another portion of the State.

☞ The new Futtock saw mill, which the contractors have been building at the Portsmouth Navy Yard the past three months at a cost of $9000, was completed and accepted by the Government last week. The mill is driven by a steam engine, and is a great saving of time and labor.

☞ The 1st Maine Battery, Capt. Albert W. Bradbury, and the 14th Maine Regiment, Col. Porter, passed through this city in a special train on Sunday afternoon, on their way home from the Gulf Department, having re-enlisted.

☞ We are gratified to learn that Mr. Charles A. Tucker, who was injured at the Navy Yard on Saturday last, as already reported, was not so seriously hurt as was at first supposed. He will probably be out in a week or two.

P. T. BARNUM.—As this famous man is to lecture in this city Thursday evening, March 3, those who are acquainted with his past history are naturally on "tip-toe of expectation" to see and hear this Yankee est of all the representatives of Yankee enterprise and shrewdness. Mr. Barnum is known almost the world over as the greatest showman of this or any other age, and as the most indefatigable laborer in collecting curiosities for the people to look at. As a consequence, he has often been called a great humbug, but time has proved that he is as far removed from a humbug as enterprising industry is removed from listless idleness. He has never boasted of having curiosities that were not there, or of wonders that he could not display. These traits of his character being known, as a natural result, when the people learn that Barnum will speak to them of that well directed energy which has made his name a household word, and of that art of money making which a Yankee audience ever applauds, no halls are large enough to accommodate all who wish to hear him.

COMING.—Shay's Great Quincuplexal and Celestial Troupe will give one of their truely astonishing entertainments at the Temple, to-morrow (Thursday) evening.—Our exchanges speak in the highest terms of their performances. They include in their number a troupe of real Chinese jugglers and sorcerers: their first appearance in this country. Their immense Chinese pictorials are displayed on two large bulletin boards, one at the City Hotel, and the other on the end of Avery's News Depot. All we can say is this, that if all is done that their immense pictorials and descriptive sheets portray, they are wonderful indeed. See programme in another column.

☞ The city presented a gala appearance on Monday. From many flag-staffs the stars and stripes floated to the breeze. Flags were displayed from stores on Market and Pleasant streets. Messrs. Deering & Yeaton decorated their rigging loft with a dozen signals,—pennants and flags streaming in a line from an elevated staff. The Receiving Ship Vandalia was decked out with an extra quantity of bunting. Large American Flags were flying from every mast, and at her stern and bows waved the Union Jack. Liberty Bridge and other portions of Water street displayed the old flag of liberty, as did every ship yard and the Navy Yard. From forts and from storm bound coasters in the lower and upper harbors, our country's starry banner waved out on the sky.

Wise distrust is the parent of security.

STEAM FIRE ENGINES.—Strange that our city does not make a move to procure such an important improvement to the Fire Department. It has been talked of long enough, and it is now time to do it, instead of making all the objections possible without trying to overcome them. One objection often made is that they are not suited to salt water. A year or two ago the writer inquired of one of the men who worked on them at Manchester, and he said that they made them for both salt and fresh water,—but as the salt rusted them most they made them of thicker iron, [as the boiler is small why not use copper?] when salt water is most used. It is evident enough that they are used at Salem, Mass., a city as nearly like ours as one would be likely to be, as to size and situation. If their aqueduct is equal to ours, it must have been introduced of late years.

It has also been said that we have not fresh water enough, and that seems to be offered as a positive objection. Well, hand engines could not throw more than all the water, and would be a great while about it. If one has common sense, it would seem to say that the quicker you throw what water you have on to a fire the better—if it is only a tub full. Another objection offered is, that the "City is head over heels in debt, and can't afford it." The Mayor of Manchester informed the writer that since they introduced the steam fire engines, the expense of their fire department was just about one-half what it used to be when they used hand engines.

It does not seem to be the way to get out of debt to let any of our expenses be double what they need be. We hope to hear no more objections, but let a good steam fire engine be purchased, which is all-important in cold weather, and at any other time worth three common ones. B.

☞ By the election notices on our fourth page, it will be seen that there will be an increase of Representatives from Portsmouth this year—one each from wards 1 and 2.

☞ Although the audience at the Temple on Monday evening were disappointed in not hearing Hon. Mr. Barker, they were agreeably entertained by several good and appropriate songs, sung by the "National Quartette," under the direction of Mr. Chas. D. Perry, of this city, who has just returned from a successful Concert Tour through the New England States. We learn that the Quartette (consisting of Messrs. C. P. Perry, W. G. Joy, A. Perry, jr., and another gentleman whose name we have not learned,) propose giving a concert at Rechab Hall, Thursday evening, Mar. 3d. We bespeak for them a full house, as their really fine singing certainly deserves. G.

CHEROKEE REMEDY
—AND—
CHEROKEE INJECTION,

CHEROKEE REMEDY, the great Indian Diuretic, cures all diseases of the urinary organs, such as Incontinence of the Urine, Inflammation of the Bladder, Inflammation of the Kidneys, Stone in the Bladder, Stricture, Gravel, Gleet, Gonorrhœa, and is especially recommended in those cases of Fluor Albus (or Whites in females) where all the old nauseous medicines have failed.

It is prepared in a highly concentrated form, the dose only being from one to two tablespoonfuls three times per day.

It is diuretic and alterative in its action; purifying and cleansing the blood, causing it to flow in all or its original purity and vigor; thus removing from the system all pernicious causes which have induced disease.

CHEROKEE INJECTION is intended as an ally or assistant to the CHEROKEE REMEDY, and should be used in conjunction with that medicine in all cases of Gonorrhœa, Gleet, Fluor Albus or Whites. Its effects are healing, soothing and demulcent; removing all scalding, heat, chordee and pain, fastened of the burning and almost unendurable pain that is experienced with nearly all the cheap quack Injections.

NEW GYMNASTICS.—Miss Haskell's new class in these very popular exercises meets at Richable Hall next Wednesday evening. Those who have thus far attended her course say there is nothing equal to it, no less as a combination of thorough and graceful exercise and amusement, than as a novelty, increasing in interest each evening. It opens a well-spring of enjoyment for every social circle, and therefore should be practiced and fully appreciated by every one, old or young, who is willing to enjoy to the full measure the blessings that sweeten our lives. It is truly astonishing that so much amusement can be worked out from such a light and simple apparatus. Miss H. has an afternoon class for juveniles. She may be found at No. 2 Pinkallow street.

SAN FRANCISCO POSTMASTER.—This office has been held for some years by SAMUEL H. PARKER, Esq. a native of New Hampshire. When he was recently suspended by another person by some favoritism at Washington, a dispatch from the capital obtained currency which implied that Mr. P. had been removed for some malfeasance or neglect of duty. It seems but just, therefore, to state that all the leading San Francisco journals announce the removal with regret, and affirm the eminent efficiency and integrity of his administration as Postmaster. It is not necessary to inquire into the reasons for his removal, since it seems certain that they do not affect his good name.

Constitution Life Syrup,
COMPOSED OF
IODIDE POTASSIUM,
With the compound concentrated fluid extract of
VALUABLE MEDICINAL
ROOTS AND HERBS,
Prepared by WM. H. GREGG, M.D.,
Graduate College Physicians and Surgeons, N. Y.
formerly Assistant Physician Blackwell's Island Hospitals, late Medical Inspector New York State Volunteer Militia, under Gov. Edwin D. Morgan.

Constitution Life Syrup
HAS PRODUCED
A REVOLUTION IN MEDICINE!

What may seem almost incredible, is, it is at many diseases hitherto considered hopelessly incurable are frequently cured in a few days or weeks, and we cheerfully invite the investigations of the liberal minded and scientific to cures which have no parallel at the present day.

Our medicine is peculiar, by it the seat of disease is directly reached, and the equilibrium restored. Thousands who have suffered long from painful and obstinate diseases, those who have vainly sought relief from silverlined medicines, those who cannot be cured by other physicians—are Invited to use Constitution Life Syrup.

During the past five years we have contended with obstacles and overcome opposition as hereinafter as ever encountered by any Reformers.

Rapidity of Cure.

Some may say "Your cures are too quick," while others doubt their permanency, and think that disease can only be cured by the "slow recuperative process of Nature." This is our reply.

In health we body, like a well-balanced scale, is in a state of equilibrium. But when from any cause down goes one side of the scale, we have the effects of disease. What is requisite is, to restore the normal balance of the scale.

CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP,

A positive and specific remedy for all diseases originating from an IMPURE STATE OF THE BLOOD, and the SECONDARY DISEASES transmitted from PARENT TO CHILD.

Paralysis.

Hemiplegia, Paresis, Paraplegia, Paralysis Agitans.

It is so universally admitted that Constitution Life Syrup is the only effective means of restoration in the various forms of Paralysis, that we need not reiterate that it is emphatically the Great Life-Giving Power.

Dyspepsia.

Indigestion, Inter Complaint, Constipation, Weight at Stom'h, Biliousness, Want of Appetite, Flatulence, Bad Breath.

Strume, Glandular Swellings, Ulceration, King's Evil, Dyspepsia, Salt Rheum.

This taint (hereditary or acquired), filling life with untold misery, is by all usual medical remedies incurable.

Rheumatism.

Arthritis, Neuralgia, Gout, Lumbago, Sciatica, Tic Doloureux.

If there is any disease in which the Constitution Life Syrup is a sovereign, it is in Rheumatism and its kindred affections. The most intense pains are almost instantly alleviated—enormous swellings are reduced, and in the most chronic instances, of 20 or 30 years standing, have been cured by us.

Nervousness.

Nervous Debility, Confusion of Thoughts, Epilepsy, Loss of Power, Shattered Nerves, St. Vitus' Dance.

Thousands who have suffered for years will bless the day on which they read these lines. Particularly to weak, suffering woman will this medicine prove an inestimable blessing—directing their footsteps to a Hope which fulfils more than it promises.

Mercurial Diseases.

Salivation, Poisoning of Weariness, Rotting of Bones, Bad Complexion, Aches in Bones, Depressed Spirits.

Constitution Life Syrup purges the system entirely from all the evil effects of MERCURY, removing the Bad Breath, and curing the Weak Joints and Rheumatic Pains which the mercurial Calomel is sure to produce. It hardens Spongy Gums and secures the Teeth as firmly as ever.

Constitution Life Syrup
Eradicates, root and branch, all Eruptive Diseases of the Skin, like

ULCERS, PIMPLES, BLOTCHES.

And all other difficulties of this kind, which so much disfigure the outward appearance of both males and females, thus making them a disgusting object to themselves and their friends.

CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP
Cures all Swellings of the Glands,

Either of the Face, Neck or Female Breast, and should be taken as soon as the swelling is detected, thus preventing their breaking and producing troublesome Discharging Sores, which disfigure so many of the younger portion of the community, from six to twenty years of age. Young children are sometimes afflicted with Discharging Ears, which depend upon a Scrofulous constitution. These cases often recover by taking a few doses of Life Syrup.

All scrofulous persons suffering from Debility, Emaciation, Dyspepsia, Dropsy of the limbs or abdomen, and those with a Dropsy of the ovaries and womb, generally accompanied with inflammation and ulceration of the uterus; are permanently cured by Constitution Life Syrup. The disease known as Leucorrhœa or Whites, Life Syrup will remove entirely. The remedy should be taken for some time, as the disease is exceedingly obstinate. Tumors of the Breast, Tumors of the Ovaries, Tumors of the Bladder, and swelling of other glands of the body, will be completely reduced without resorting to the knife or operations of any kind.

Epileptic Fits, sympathetic or Organic Diseases of the heart (as palpitation, Disease of Valves, producing a grating or filing sound), Dropsy of the lungs, Consumption, and affections of this important organ, or serious solicitude, or excruciate pain in the region of the heart, will be greatly relieved by Constitution Life Syrup.

Broken Down and Delicate Constitutions,

Suffering from Indiscretion, Exposure, Exercise, Pain in the Side, Loss of Memory, Irritability, Want of Energy, Melancholy, Fear of Dyspepsia, Diseases of Vision, Dry Hot Skin, Nervous Irritability, Want of Sleep, Restlessness, Pale Haggard Disease and Nervous Debility, Constitution Life Syrup, all require the aid of the CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP.

For all forms of Leucorrhœa Diseases, either of the Nose Throat, Tongue, Spine, Forehead or scalp, no remedy has ever proved its equal.

MOTH PATCHES, Pimples, Blotches, Yellow Spots, depending upon a diseased action of the Liver, are very unpleasant to the young wife and mother. Life Syrup will cure them, and improve the Secretion, and remove the deposit which is directly under the skin.

In Diseases of the Liver, giving rise to languor, dizziness, indigestion, weak stomach, or an aggravated or cancerous condition of that organ, accompanied with burning or other unpleasant sensations, Life Syrup is recommended by the use of CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP.

☞ Is a general Blood-Purifying Agent, the Life Syrup stands unrivalled by any preparation in the world.

Diseases of the Spine, so usually developed in the young, like Disease, Neuralgia, and all Nervous Diseases, Ladies who are suffering from diseases for which they are at a loss to know what to do, we would advise the use of CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP. It will restore their pallid countenance, strengthen their weak back and side, give them new energy, new life and happiness.

THE RICH AND POOR are liable to the same diseases. Nature and Science have made the Constitution Life Syrup for the benefit of all.

PURE BLOOD produces healthy men and women; and if the constitution is neglected in youth, disease and early death are the results. Do not delay when the means are so near at hand, and within the reach of all.

TO MOTHERS AND MARRIED LADIES.—It is the natural and safest medicine ever discovered for purifying the system and relieving the suffering attendant upon childbirth. It strengthens the mother and the child, prevents pain and disease, and increases and enriches the food.—Those who have used it think it indispensable to their comfort both before and after confinement, as it prevents disease attendant upon childbirth.

☞ Constitution Life Syrup
Is the Poor Man's Friend and the Rich Man's Blessing!—Buy it, take it, and be cured.—It is Universal in its effects

LAST AND BEST.

THE MODEL COOK,

AN AIR-TIGHT STOVE,

WITH TWO OVENS,

And Five Boiling Places!

At the present high prices of fuel it is very desirable to lessen its consumption. This can be accomplished by using a MODEL COOK STOVE. More cooking can be done in one with a single ton of coal, or cord of wood, than with double the quantity in any common stove or range—and in less time.

The fire being placed in the centre of the stove, with an oven on either side (which may be thrown into one at pleasure), all the heat from the fuel is made available for cooking purposes.

The oven doors are lined with tin, and jackets are provided for the bottom and back of the stove, thus retaining much heat, ordinarily wasted. A check draft is applied, by means of which much fuel is saved, and a continuous fire may be kept as long as desirable.

A Water Tank and Hot Closet can be applied to either side, when needed.

In cost, no pains or expense have been spared to make this a PERFECT Stove, and we think it surpasses all others for Economy, Durability, Capacity, Convenience, Beauty of Design and Perfection of Finish.

It is equally well adapted for Coal or Wood; Summer or Winter use; excellent in a family where help is employed, and invaluable to the housewife who does her own work, lightening it at least one half.

No family, large or small, where economy, convenience and comfort are desirable, should be without one.

We refer to some parties who have purchased the Model Cook—

A Great Variety of Cheaper Stoves
FOR WOOD OR COAL.
E. A. STEVENS'S
House Furnishing Establishment,
NO. 46 MARKET STREET.

THE MAGEE
COOKING STOVE.

The subscriber, having received his Fall stock of Stoves, would especially call the attention of the public to the

CELEBRATED AND UNEQUALLED
MAGEE COOK STOVE,

as the very best Stove yet made, and would invite those about purchasing or exchanging Stoves, to examine this, believing it to be far superior to any other Stove yet invented, the castings being heavier, and the ovens larger than usual. The oven plates are covered with plaster, which renders it equal to the old-fashioned brick oven for perfection in baking.

There is a new style and very superior broiler and sad iron heater combined, by which the odor of broiling meats are prevented from escaping into the room, and by the extension top there is a large copper Reservoir for hot water; also a large tin warming-closet attached, in which any article can be kept warm, while the other parts of the Stove are occupied for other purposes.

The arrangements for sifting the coal and cleaning the grate are far superior to those of any other Stove now in use, as no dust can possibly escape into the room, and the shovelling up of the ashes is entirely dispensed with, the fire is regulated in the same manner as in the MAGEE PARLOR STOVE, and can be continued day and night for weeks together, thus saving the expense of re-kindling every day.

For economy, durability, ease of management, cleanliness and perfection in cooking, it cannot be surpassed by any other Stove. Hundreds of families in this city and vicinity, who are now using them, are willing to testify, and speak of them in the highest terms of praise.

We would refer to the following purchasers:

"MAGEE'S PATENT"
VENTILATING & AIR-WARMING
FURNACES.

The subscriber, being the Sole Agent in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of this valuable Furnace, would ask those about remodelling or erecting buildings to examine this truly valuable invention.

For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no competitor; it supplies a current of warm air, moist and agreeable,—and at none of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pot is used for respiration, the tendency to produce headaches is much complicated of in other furnaces, is entirely obviated.

The objects aimed at by the constructors of heating apparatus should be economy of fuel, or at amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.

To accomplish this many complicated and expensive heating arrangements have been constructed. Science has made little improvement over former methods, while many have proved a total failure. The reason for this is obvious. The combustible gases being lighter than the air, pass off into the flue or chimney without being consumed. This objection, so common in other Furnaces, is obviated in the

MAGEE FURNACE.

The flue or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot descend, and are burned up by the admission of atmospheric air through fire-pot, which ignites them as they pass off from the pot, thus saving at least 30 per cent. of the properties of the heat in the fuel.

No heating apparatus with the smoke-pipe or flue on the top of the cone can be made to consume the gases of the coal, as they pass off with a large amount of the heat generated, joining the chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.

This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.

These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they burn from 20 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.

For ease of management, economy and purity of air, these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire may be kept the entire season without once going out.

They give entire satisfaction wherever used. We have in store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world,—and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:

Samuel Cleaves, Esq., Aaron H. Hill, Henry F. Wendell, Albert R. Hatch, Esq., Charles H. Mendum, John Sise, and others.

CALENDAR CLOCKS.

These Clocks are reliable Time Keepers and Calendars combined, and require the winding of the time movement only, to secure all the required changes of the Calendar, at midnight, showing the day of the week, the month, and day of the month, including the 29th day of February of leap year, perpetually and with unfailing certainty.

Having taken the Agency for the sale of these Clocks, we would invite the public to call and examine them.

Any person desirous of purchasing a Clock will find it to their advantage to examine these before purchasing elsewhere, as we warrant them as good time-keepers as can be obtained for the same price without the Calendar Attachment and those not in want of a clock will find the Calendar alone worth more than the price of the clock. They will be set up in any part of the city, and regulated without extra charge.

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY,
SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,
Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, (under the Act of 1837.)

76 State street, opposite Kilby street,
BOSTON.

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with dispatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of patents or inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in matters touching the patent laws. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing letters, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The Testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as all CASES IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that scarcely other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate.

The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a valuable collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.

These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, give him facilities to procure patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse."

CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.

Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me FIFTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges."

JOHN TAGGART.

During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents. R. H. EDDY.

"Bound to no party—to no sect confined;
The world our home; our brethren, all mankind.
Truth, too, do good, be just and fair with all;

"Let me warn you in the most solemn manner against the baneful effects of the spirit of Party, generally. It is a spirit not to be encouraged.—Its common and continual mischief is sufficient to make it the interest and duty of a wise people to discourage and restrain it. In governments of the popular form, it is seen in its greatest rankness, and is truly their worst enemy."—Washington's Farewell Address

AN ENTERPRISING WOMAN.—A married lady, residing in the neighborhood of Boston, whose husband holds a position in the Boston Custom House, has been of the largest contractors in the State for furnishing supplies to the army. Her contracts during the last year for clothing are said to have amounted to half a million dollars, and, it is reported, though we are inclined to believe this must be an exaggeration, that the total amount of all her contracts since the commencement of the war, aggregate nearly two millions of dollars. On one of her contracts she lost some money, but on the others has realized handsome profits.

The business of this lady having led her to visit Beaufort, N. C., several months since, she saw neglected opportunities for speculation, which she has improved to even more advantage than her government contracts. She established two wholesale and retail stores at or near Beaufort and Morehead City, then came back to Boston, and contracted for the materials and machinery of a steam saw mill, the erection of which was carried on under her direction or superintendence, and the mill is now nearly if not quite ready to saw the logs which two hundred contrabands have been cutting for her in the pine forests of North Carolina.

A vessel is now lying in port ready for sea, laden with supplies for the regiment of laborers in her employ.

The enterprise and success of this lady afford evidence that women need not be the helpless and dependent beings which too many of them are under our system of education, by which vast numbers of them, capable of a higher life, become not much better than wax or porcelain dolls, to be dressed and used as mere household toys. It is not so in England, or on the continent of Europe; there women are frequently the successful rivals of men in the most complicated and laborious pursuits of toil and business, and they are more healthful and happy for the exercise of mind and body which they enjoy.

The lady to whom we refer is well educated, moves in the best circles of society and joins with her admirable self-reliance a sound judgment. In a few years we shall doubtless find her retiring from business with an ample fortune and settled down among the millionaires of Beacon street or perchance in the expected Back Bay paradise of the Boston aristocracy of exclusives and fashionables.—Traveller.

☞ The Boston Post says Theodore Parker was an example of hard labor. He had no golden helps to learning, yet he was a learned man. He filled all the intervals to manual toil with books, and read everything that lay within his reach which contributed to the gratification of his taste. Before he was twenty-one we find him teaching school in Boston six hours a day, teaching Latin, Greek, French and Spanish, the Mathematics, and all sorts of philosophy; and also taking ten or twelve hours a day to carry on his private studies out of school; then he paid eleven dollars a month to a hired man on his father's farm to take his place. But this is only an indication of the work this boy did in his efforts to grasp all knowledge. Over twenty languages were mastered by him, besides the critical reading of all philosophies and theologies that came within his reach.

Why is a young lady forsaken by her lover like a deadly weapon? Because she is a cutlass.

DR. TEBBETTS'
PHYSIOLOGICAL
HAIR REGENERATOR
—AND—
UNIVERSAL HAIR RESTORER.
ITS MODUS OPERANDI.
Immediately beneath the scalp there are very small Glands, or, more commonly Roots of the Hair. It is from these Glands that every hair of the head is formed and secreted. So long as the scalp is free from disease, these bodies also remain healthy, and the hair keeps its natural appearance and color. But when tumors and other diseases affect the scalp, these glands become involved in the same disease, and the hair gradually turns gray, dry and brittle. Sooner or later the hair begins to fall off, and in many cases, if not arrested, will produce a complete baldness of the scalp.
To remedy this pathological condition of the glands and create a new and healthy action, the Physiological Hair Regenerator has proved a perfect success—inasmuch as it is the only preparation yet known that can boast of such wonderful results.
Unlike those thousands of other articles in the market, containing Silver, Lime, Lead, Litharge, Tannin, Sulphur, &c., and producing only a sort of yellow or flax color, it will, if properly applied restore the hair to its former appearance and beauty.
The Physiological Hair Regenerator is warranted in all cases to produce the following results:
1. It is not a Dye and will not stain a single particle. It contains no coloring matter whatever, and is not the least injurious in its application.
2. It will certainly RESTORE the hair from a gray to a beautiful Black, Brown, Auburn, or whatever might have been its original color.
3. It will effectually prevent the hair from falling and remove all Heat, Inflammation and Dandruff from the scalp, keeping the head clean and cool, and the hair soft, glossy and of a silky appearance
4. It will PROMOTE a luxuriant growth of new hair on bald heads, except in extreme cases of old age and where the glands have become disorganized.
5. It will cure the most inveterate itching and neuralgia of the scalp, and being highly perfumed, it affords a most delightful article for the toilet.
We have a great abundance of testimony to prove beyond a doubt all that we claim for the Regenerator; and it is positively certain that in a very short time it will have a world wide reputation.
HOME TESTIMONY.
BEDFORD, N. H., Dec. 17, 1863.
Messrs. Tebbetts Brothers—The preparation you induced me to try on my hair, about six weeks ago, has had a wonderful effect. My hair was then almost white and now it is almost black. My daughter has also tried it on her hair, which was fast falling off on account of a severe attack of the diptheria, it stopped it immediately on its application. My wife has also been trying it for baldness on top of her head, and finds that a new growth of hair is rapidly starting. We have only used one bottle, and I think one more will fix our heads up in good shape. J. G. CUTLER.
MANCHESTER, Dec. 20, 1863.
Gents—Unless I am very much mistaken, your Hair Regenerator is destined, ere long, to work a complete revolution with all other Hair Preparations. It not only restores the hair to its natural color and keeps the head free from Dandruff, but it is the most beautiful dressing that can be prepared. My hair, without any apparent cause, began to turn gray when about thirteen years of age, and had been gradually increasing for more than ten years, when at out two months ago I began the use of your Regenerator, and it has completely astonished all my friends to see my hair brought back to its natural color, which it now has a complete black. It is the only thing, unless it was a regular Hair Dye, that I ever knew would produce such effect. It also keeps the head so clean and free from scurf, that it makes a very nice dressing. JACOB J. ABBOTT

Portsmouth, N. H.

THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 25, 1864.

THE REBELLION.

Perley telegraphs that it was positively stated in Washington on Tuesday night that the Potomac army is to be immediately re-organized into three grand divisions.—Gen. Sedgwick is to command the right, Gen. Pleasanton the centre and Gen. Hancock the left. Gen. Kilpatrick is to have command of the cavalry corps. Radical changes are to be made in the brigade and division commanders.

150 of the 2d Mass. cavalry, while on a scouting expedition on Monday near Drainesville, Va., were attacked by 200 or 300 guerrillas, supposed to be under Mosby, and 8 killed, 7 wounded, and 27 or 30 taken prisoners. Capt. J. S. Reed, of Dorchester, Mass., the commander of the detachment, was shot through the left lung and died in a few minutes.

It is thought at Chattanooga that Longstreet, having failed to accumulate a force sufficient for prompt and energetic operations on our communications, has grown fearful of concentrations against him or Johnston, and is now endeavoring to form a junction with the latter at Dalton, Ga., before the spring campaign can open. Provost Marshal General Parkhurst reports that for January and half of February a total of 3276 deserters have come in from Johnston's army alone.

Gen. Smith's cavalry force is still marching on.

Gen. Palmer's forces occupied Ringgold, Ga., on Monday afternoon. Our mounted infantry in advance drove out the small rebel patrols found at Colorado, about two miles distant, but did not pursue. The town is quiet. But seven families are now in the place, which formerly had 3000 inhabitants.

The New York Herald's Washington dispatch says the city is full of rumors of movement of the Army of the Potomac. It is reported that tents were to be struck Monday morning, and a serious effort made to dislodge Lee from his position on the South bank of the Rapidan.

There is reason to believe also that Gen. Grant is in motion from Chattanooga.

The Tribune's dispatch says Gen. Sigel has been appointed to an important command by the President.

Rumor says the Niagara and Vanderbilt will go to Europe to relieve the Tuscarora and Kearsarge. It is also rumored that seven sloops-of war of the Ticonderoga class will go instead of the above named.

Richmond papers of the 20th state that the rebel War department received 17th inst. an official dispatch that the Federals made a demonstration with gunboats and a land force at Grand Pass, thirty five miles from Mobile. There is no doubt that the approach is from Banks' lines. Sherman's column is approaching by the Mobile and Ohio Railroad. A third column from Pensacola is also advancing from Pollard, forty miles distant. The situation of Mobile is critical.

Another dispatch announces the repulse of the Federals with great loss at Grand Pass.

$300 NOW OR AFTER THE DRAFT.—Judge Russell, in a speech in Boston on Monday evening, very clearly illustrated the difference between paying $300 now in the shape of bounty, or paying it as commutation money. He called upon one of the "solid men" of the Ward, and asked him for a contribution, which was declined, and the reason given was that in the approaching draft one of his clerks might be drafted, and then he would want to pay $300 to get him off. Now, said the Judge, if that man would pay the Recruiting Committee the $300, in twenty-four hours it would put three good recruits into the Union army, while if he uses it as he proposes he keeps one man out of the army.

☞ Wendell Phillips, in a speech in New York City last week, told the following story:

A friend of mine at Nashville saw a white man, clothed in rags from head to feet, which were bare, come to the Provost Marshal's table and ask rations and transportation a hundred miles down the river, home. The Marshal's reply was, "I have as many names on my list as I dare." "Well, I am hungry and I want to get home," said the man. "Can't help it; I can't take your name." The Secretary of the Marshal, a Northern-bred man, looked up and said, "You have only to get on board the boat and handle a little wood at the waiting stations, and you may make double your passage, and rations beside." Rags looked down at him a moment, and said, "I never did work an hour, and I guess I shan't begin now." The Northerner suggested that it had come to a question between starving and working. Rags replied, "I will starve a week before I will work an hour."

— Some ladies just arrived at Washington from Richmond report that within the last month the rebel authorities at Richmond have made several raids upon the city markets, and seized all the meats, which they forwarded for the relief of Gen. Longstreet's army.

BOSTON CORRESPONDENCE.

(From our Regular Correspondent.)

BOSTON, Feb. 22d, 1864.

Editor Chronicle:—Greatly to the disappointment of the skating public, to-day is warm and rainy, spoiling the fine skating we have had since last Wednesday. We have a skating park on the "Neck," and a better one at Roxbury, lighted with gas, and a good house attached, in which to put on the skates and leave extra clothing.—These parks would, doubtless, have been crowded, had the day been pleasant, as it is a general holiday.

Last Thursday morning, the coldest of the winter, we received the news that a great fire was raging in the town of Gloucester. Extra trains were run, and many of our merchants and other interested parties visited that enterprising town. I am informed by a former resident that a wooden house, on one side of which the great fire of 1830 stopped, and on the other side of which the fire of last Thursday commenced, still stands a monument to its own good fortune. Subscription papers have been started in this city for the benefit of some of the sufferers, and a liberal amount has already been subscribed.

The 25th Mass. regiment arrived here on Friday, and received the usual reception. This regiment was raised in Worcester county, and had an enthusiastic reception in Worcester on Saturday. The 24th regiment, 400 strong, arrived on Saturday, and were welcomed at Faneuil Hall by Gov. Andrew—it being his first appearance in public for about a fortnight. Last Wednesday the 32d regiment left Boston for the Army of the Potomac; this was the first re enlisting regiment that arrived here, and every man reported for duty before the regiment left. Recruiting was not very lively last week, although rallying meetings were held in every ward. In ward six, $6000 were raised last week to aid in recruiting. Judge Russell is the favorite speaker, some evenings speaking at two or three meetings. No committee seems to be filled unless he is a member, and still he finds time for all.

Letters from the 3d N. H. say the newly appointed officers were mustered Feb. 3d. Capt. Houghton, of Manchester, is an Aid on Gen. Terry's staff; Lieut. Woodbury, of Manchester, Post Commissary; Lieuts. Head, of Exeter, and Merrill, of Manchester, Signal Officers; and Lieut. Butler, of the Provost Guard, Boarding Master. The regiment was never in better health: it is still on Morris Island. The following is a roster of Co. D, raised in Hampton, Portsmouth and Newmarket: Captain, W. H. Maxwell; Lieuts., J. H. Edgerly and C. S. Hazen; 1st Sergt., David W. Perkins; Sergts., G. Perkins, W. E. Lane, J. S. James, and G. T. Crane, all of Hampton; Corpls., T. Entwistle, J. W. Plaisted, W. W. W. Littlefield, C. Rowe, L. M. Dow, C. W. Smith, J. T. Blaisdell, and G. W. Goss—the first two from Portsmouth. Lt. Tredick expected to be attached to Co. E. Corporals Rowe, Plaisted, Goss and Blaisdell, and Privates Brown, Clay, Eaton, Hobbs, Knowles, Long, Marks, Moore, Perkins and Simpson had re-enlisted. Richard Thomas, of Dover, clerk with Col. Jackson, and an occasional correspondent of a Dover paper, has also gone in for the war. Up to the 13th inst. but about 75 men had re-enlisted in the 3d, but on that day the proclamation of Governor Gilmore was received, and before night the number had increased to 136, and the next day (14th) to about 175. It was expected that at least 300 would re-enlist, and that the regiment would be in N. H. about the middle of March. The Colonel, Surgeon Buzzell, of Dover, and Chaplain Hill, of Manchester, expected to return with the regiment. New Hampshire news from a Massachusetts correspondent may need some apology, but your correspondent's belief that the above facts will be more interesting to your readers than the news of the past dull week, must be his apology. MANNING.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— Perley telegraphs that the sentence of dismissal against Capt. Converse G. Morgan, of the 11th N. H. regiment, has been confirmed. He was reported for neglect of duty while on picket, after having previously been reprimanded for the same offence.

—— The U. S. Senate, on Tuesday, confirmed the nomination of Joseph C. A. Wingate, of Concord, formerly of Stratham, as U. S. Consul at Swatow. The Senate also confirmed the nomination for Assistant Surgeons in the Navy of C. H. Page and James H. Flint, both of this State.

Business is the salt of life.

— They make fish-hooks in New Haven. The machine "elbows up" steel wire into all sizes of hooks, and spits them out fast and perfect.

— A horrible affair took place in Boston the other day. A little girl, whose music master was supposed to be giving her a lesson was heard to utter the most doleful cries. On her mamma entering the room suddenly, the professor was found trying to hammer a tune into the child's head. The mother's feelings may be imagined.

☞ Advices from New Zealand announce the defeat of the natives by Gen. Cameron, in which the English lost 41 killed and 91 wounded. Nearly 200 prisoners were taken.

☞ Perley telegraphs from Washington, Feb. 24:—

The New Hampshire Copperheads have undertaken to declare town warrents for the ensuing election illegal, unless they bear revenue stamps but one of Commissioner Boutwell's decisions exempts all such documents from the stamp tax.

☞ From information in possession of the Navy Department it appears that the rebels have almost entirely suspended work upon their iron-clads. Three are completed at Charleston and two are in process of construction there. The scarcity of material, however, will delay their completion several months.

☞ At St. John, N. B. Feb. 24, the Police Magistrate delivered judgement in the Chesapeake case, ordering the prisoners to be committed to jail for murder, and await the action of the U. S. authorities. A letter of marque could find no justification for the capture of the Chesapeake. It was piracy, robbery and murder; and not an act of war.

☞ Skiff & Co.'s Minstrel Troupe gave a capital Concert at the Temple, Tuesday evening. Good singing, fine playing, first-rate dancing, (and an elegant Greek costume for it—the most beautiful and graceful we ever saw anywhere) jokes that were jokes, and fun, any quantity of it—and not one objectionable feature. Good enough, and we hope to hear 'em again.

— Gold opened in New York Wednesday morning at 157 5-8. At 1 o'clock it was at 157 3-8.

No part of the oil proposed for and to be embraced in the contracts under this advertisement will be accepted, received, or paid for, until it shall have been proved to the entire satisfaction of the person or persons charged with its examination, test and inspection, to be of the best quality pure winter strained or bagged oil, and free from mixture with other or inferior oils and adulterations.

The usual means for determining the character and quality of the oil will be employed, viz: specific gravity, burning the amount of residuum, and any other proper tests to arrive at correct conclusions that may be deemed necessary.

The casks must be gauged, under the direction and personal supervision of the inspecting officer, by a custom-house or other legally authorized and sworn gauger, according to the United States standard, and must be marked and accepted before they are removed from the cellar or warehouse of the contractor. The temperature of the oil will be accurately noted, and the measurements reduced to the standard temperature of 60° Fahrenheit by tables prepared for the purpose

Proposals will be received and considered for each lot separately, or for all of the lots, at the option of the bidder; but no bid will be considered for a less quantity than that specified as one lot, to be delivered at one time and place. Each bid must state explicitly the rate per gallon, in writing, the number of the lot or lots bid for, and the time and place of delivery, conforming to this advertisement.

Bids submitted by different members of the same firm or copartnership will not be considered.

The Light-house Board, under the authority of the Department, reserves the right to reject any bid, although it may be the lowest, for other considerations than the price.

No bid will be considered for any other kinds or descriptions of oils than those specifically called for in this advertisement.

A bond, with security to the satisfaction of the Department, in a penalty equal to one-fourth of the amount of each contract made under these proposals, will be required of each contractor, conditioned for the faithful performance of the contract, to be executed within ten days after the acceptance of the bid.

Every offer must be accompanied by a written guarantee, signed by one or more responsible persons, well known to the Department as such, or certified by a United States district judge, attorney, navy agent, or collector of the customs, to the effect that, if the bid or bids be accepted, the bidder or bidders will duly execute a contract in good faith, according to the provisions and to meet the intent of this advertisement, within ten days after acceptance; and that in case the said party or parties offering shall fail to enter into the contract as aforesaid, he or they guaranty to make good the difference between the offer of the said party or parties and the next lowest bidder.

All bids must be sealed and endorsed "Proposals for oil for light-house," and then placed in another envelope, and directed, prepaid, to the Secretary of the Light-house Board, Washington City.

All bids will be opened, publicly, at the hour and on the day specified.

Payments will be made for the several lots of oil within thirty days after they shall have been received by the United States.

Notice.

It will be seen that the combination above given results in an Entirely New Class of Amusements, such as has never before been attempted, and which entails such an expenditure of money that only the most liberal patronage can render it remunerative. The manager will therefore be pardoned for directing attention to the fact that this Magnificent Phalanx of Exhibitions not only combines an infinitely greater degree of Novelty, Variety and Effect, within itself, than can be found in any other place of amusement, but also a nearer approach to perfection in every detail. The company includes by far the most talented array of performers ever brought together.

In regard to the features peculiar to this entertainment, of course there is no room for comparison, and it can only be said that they will be found as pleasing and satisfactory as they are new and attractive.

Local.

SUDDEN DEATH.—On Wednesday morning about 10 o'clock, a citizen who lives in State street observed a woman, cleanly and plainly dressed, passing down street from Pleasant street; tottering as if from intoxication, and muttering as she went. He mentioned the circumstance to Marshal Dresser, that he might take proper care of her. The Marshal soon overtook and was leading her back; but when opposite the Episcopal Chapel, she fell, in a dying state, and died in a few minutes after near the Police Station.

After much enquiry, the woman's name was found to be Sarah Devine. She was a native of Scotland, and aged 40 years.—She had been an inmate of the Alms House since July 10. She left the House one week before her death,—having engaged to work in the Mill. The next day (being a person of intemperate habits, and falling in company with two women, former inmates, and of the same habits,) she did not go to the Mill, but went on a drinking frolic, and the result was, death in the street. Her remains were placed in a coffin at the station house, and taken to the City Farm for interment.

A SILVER WEDDING.—Mr. and Mrs. Woodbury Seavey celebrated the twenty-fifth anniversary of their wedding day at their home in Rye last Tuesday evening.—A host of relatives and friends gathered about the old homestead, now made sacred by a circle of blooming daughters and rosy-cheeked sons. The bride and bridegroom appeared as happy as the day when they first took up the burden of wedded life, and when "joy was duty and love was law." The friends of their youth, who stood by their side in life's morning, again clustered around them: and the heart-felt prayer of many was, that the future of their life might be as pleasant and unclouded as now. The festivities of the evening were interspersed with songs of "auld lang syne," and the merry dance, in which the old and young tripped lightly hand in hand together. Then all gathered around the festive board where the inner man was refreshed, and where mirth and appropriate interchange of sentiment made up one of those pleasant scenes which stand out as green spots in the memory of the heart.
H.

MRS. ELIZA L. GODDARD.—[In copying the following obituary notice from the Portland Press, we gratify many old residents of Portsmouth, who remember with pleasure one of the most graceful and attractive women who ever dwelt among us. She was the wife of Henry Goddard, Esq., who removed from this place to Portland about forty years ago.]

"We do not apologize for the following notice of the life of Mrs. Eliza L. Goddard, whose decease was recorded in the Press of the 16th—accompanied with a few spontaneous, but appropriate editorial remarks.

"Mrs. Goddard was a daughter of Jonathan Payson, Esq., in early life a member of the State Government of New Hampshire, and afterwards, and till his death, Postmaster at Portsmouth. On the mother's side a grandniece of Hon. Timothy Pickering, Secretary of State, under Washington. She inherited, as did her mother, a large share of the talent, high moral sense, industry and energy, which were characteristic of that family. With method and thoroughness, alike conspicuous, were combined a social, genial and most cheerful temperament—adorned by an humble trust in him who is the "light and the life of the world." To indolence, mental or physical, she was a stranger—being never idle, ingenious, and enjoying all she undertook to do, she excelled in all—her efficiency, during early and middle life, both in her household, and in searching out and supplying the wants of the needy, as well as in uniting in public benevolent enterprises, rendered her life a continuous habit of doing good—a preference of others to herself.

"Cultivating nothing resentful—speaking evil of none,—never impatient, nor reproachful—she diffused a calm sunshine around her, both at home and abroad. Of her it might truly be said, that 'in patience she possessed her soul.' The light of the eyes, and a support to the arm of her husband, he safely put his trust in her—being ever reminded during their domestic term of fifty-four years, (in which death had never entered the family circle,) that the last chapter of Proverbs, from the 10th verse to the close, presents a true portrait of her character and life. Devoted to the best welfare of her children, unwearied as their guide and instructor when in health, and as their nurse in sickness—in unison with the bereaded who are not of her kindred, they all unite 'to call her blessed.' Dignified, yet affectionate in manner—she was beautful in intellect, in character and in person. Beautiful in life—and in death."

POLICE COURT, Tuesday Feb. 23—Before Justice Odell.—David Berry for an assault on his wife Ellen, was fined $3; cost $3.09:—Paid.

Patrick Mead, for drunkenness was fined $3; cost $3.86:—Paid.

☞ We are requested to call attention to the fact that Shay's great combination (five in one) troupe perform at the Temple to-night—but we take it for granted that every reader of the Chronicle is already cognizant of it. There is no question but that this is the biggest and best company of the sort traveling.

APPOINTMENT.—King Kamehameha V., who, since the death of his brother, has ascended the throne of the Sandwich Islands, has appointed E. C. Harris, Esq., formerly of this city, to the office held by himself under the reign of his late brother, i. e., to preside over the department of the interior.

ATTENTION, SOLDIERS!—PROTECT YOUR HEALTH!—No sensible man will leave the city without a supply of Holloway's Pills and Ointment. ☞ See you fair maiden in another column, picking Sambucl Grapes for Speer's Wine. It is an admirable article, used in hospitals, and by the first class families in Paris, London and New York, in preference to old Port wine. It is worth a trial, as it gives great satisfaction. 1y

THE FRIEND IN THE HOUSE.—"The Shadow in the House," is the title of a recent novel. We prefer to speak of the Friend in the house, which Grace's Salve assuredly is. Its composition is the result of years of study. It is soothing, penetrating and of a wonderfully healing nature. In all cases of burns, scalds, fresh wounds, old ulcers, felons, and all eruptions of the skin resulting from impure humors, it is a sovereign remedy. With this friend in the house, accidents may be easily remedied. Try it, it will prove a friend in need. 25 cents per box.

He is the happiest who does most to make others happy. The inventor of Herrick Allen's Gold Medal Saleratus must be the happiest man in existence, for we hazard nothing in saying that the use of the Gold Medal Saleratus cannot fail to make a happy household. Our better half says she does not fear of our ever frowning, as long as she can get the genuine Herrick Allen's. We say success to the inventor, and if everybody knew how good it is, no other would be used. A good many of our Merchants have it. Their depot is 112 Liberty Street, New York.

Constitution Life Syrup,

COMPOSED OF
IODIDE POTASSIUM,
With the compound concentrated fluid extract of
VALUABLE MEDICINAL
ROOTS AND HERBS,
Prepared by WM. H. GREGG, M. D.,
Graduate College Physicians and Surgeons, N. Y., formerly Assistant Physician Blackwell's Island Hospitals, late Medical Inspector New York State Volunteer Depots, under Gov. Edwin D. Morgan.

Constitution Life Syrup
HAS PRODUCED
A REVOLUTION IN MEDICINE!

What may seem almost incredible, is, that many diseases hitherto considered hopelessly incurable are frequently cured in a few days or weeks, and we cheerfully invite the investigations of the liberal minded and scientific to cases which have no parallel at the present day.

Our medicine is peculiar, by it the seat of disease is directly reached, and the equilibrium restored. Those who have suffered long from painful and obstinate diseases, those who have vainly sought relief from advertised medicines, those who cannot be cured by other physicians—are invited to use Constitution Life Syrup.

During the past five years we have contended with obstacles and overcome opposition as heroic as ever encountered by any Reformers.

Rapidity of Cure.

Some say, "Your cures are too quick," while others doubt their permanency, and think that diseases can only be cured by the "slow recuperative process of Nature." This is our reply:

In health, the body, like a well-balanced scale, is in a state of equilibrium. But when from any cause down goes one side of the scale, we have the effects of disease. What is requisite is, to restore the normal balance of the scale.

CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP,

A positive and specific remedy for all diseases originating from an IMPURE STATE OF THE BLOOD, and for all hereditary DISEASES transmitted from PARENT TO CHILD.

Paralysis.

Hemiplegia, Paresis, Paraplegia, Paralysis Agitans.

It is so universally admitted that Constitution Life Syrup is the only effective means of restoration in this various forms of Paralysis, that we need not reiterate that it is emphatically the Great Life-Giving Power.

Dyspepsia.

Indigestion, Liver Complaint, Constipation, Weight at Stomach, Biliousness, Want of Appetite, Flatulence, Bad Breath.

Scrofula.

Strumæ, Glandular Swellings, Ulceration, King's Evil, Erysipelas, Salt Rheum.

This taint (hereditary or acquired), filling life with untold misery, is by all usual medical remedies incurable.

Rheumatism.

[Arthritis], Neuralgia, Gout, Lumbago, Sciatica, Tic Doloureux.

If there is any disease in which the Constitution Life Syrup is a sovereign, it is in the rheumatism and its kindred affections. The most intense pains are almost instantly alleviated—enormous swellings are reduced. Cases, circular or vacations, of 20 or 30 years standing, have been cured by us.

Nervousness.

Nervous Debility, Confusion of Thoughts, Epilepsy, Loss of Power, Shattered Nerves, St. Vitus' Dance.

Thousands who have suffered for years will bless the day on which they read this. Parents, particularly to weak, suffering women will this medicine prove an inestimable blessing—directing their footsteps to a Hope which fulfils more than it promises.

Mercurial Diseases.

Salivation, Feeling of Weariness, Rotting of Bones, Bad Complexion, Aches in Bones, Degenerate Syphilis.

Constitution Life Syrup purges the system entirely from all the evil effects of MERCURY, removing the Bad Breath, and curing the Weak Joints and Rheumatic Pains which the use of Calomel is sure to produce. It hardens Spongy Gums and secures the teeth as firmly as ever.

Constitution Life Syrup

Eradicates, root and branch, all Eruptive Diseases of the Skin, like

ULCERS, PIMPLES, BLOTCHES.

And all other difficulties of this kind, which so much disfigure the outward appearance of both males and females, often making them a disgusting object to themselves and their friends.

CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP
Cures all Swellings of the Glands,

Either of the Face, Neck or Female Breast, and should be taken as soon as the swelling is detected, thus preventing their breaking and producing troublesome Discharging Sores, which disfigure so many of our youngest portion of the community, from six to twenty years of age. Young children are very subject to Discharges from the Ears, which depends upon a Scrofulous constitution. These cases soon recover by taking a few doses of the Life Syrup.

All scrofulous persons suffering from Debility, Emaciation, Dyspepsia; Dropsy, of the limbs or abdomen, and in the female Dropsy of the ovaries and womb, generally succeeding from inflammation and ulceration of the uterus; are permanently cured by Constitution Life Syrup. The disease known as Goitre or Bronchocele, the Life Syrup will remove entirely. The remedy should be taken for some time, as the disease is exceedingly chronic and stubborn, and will not be removed without extreme care. Tumors of the Ovaries, Tumors of the Breast, and swelling of other glands of the body will be completely removed without resorting to the knife or operations of any kind.

Epileptic Fits, Sympathetic or Organic Diseases of the Heart (as Palpitation, Dropsy, Valves—producing a grating or filing sound), Dropsy of the Heart Case and all the affections of this important organ, or persons suffering from any acute pain in the region of the heart, will be greatly relieved by Constitution Life Syrup.

Broken Down and Delicate Constitutions, Suffering from Indisposition to Exercise, Pain in the Back, Loss of Memory, Loss of Energy, Nervousness, Horror of Disease, Dyspepsia, Sick Headache, Costiveness, Fear of Disease, Dimness of Vision, Dry Hot Skin and Extremities, Want of Sleep, Restlessness, Pale Haggard Countenance and Languishing Appetite, will require the aid of the CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP.

For all forms of Ulcerative Diseases, either of the Nose, Throat, Tongue, Face, Neck or Scalp, no remedy has ever proved its equal.

MOTH PATCHES upon the female face, depending upon a disordered state of the system, are very unpleasant to the young wife and mother. A few bottles of Constitution Life Syrup will correct the secretions, and remove the deposit which is directly under the skin.

In Diseases of the Liver, giving rise to languor, dizziness, indigestion, wind, costiveness, or accompanied with burning or other unpleasant symptoms, relief may be obtained by the use of CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP.

☞ As a general Blood-Purifying Agent, the Life Syrup stands unrivalled by any preparation in the world.

Diseases of the Spine, as usually developed in the young, Hip Disease, Neuralgia, and all Nervous Diseases, and Ladies who are suffering from diseases peculiar to their sex, will find this medicine just what they want, and know what to do, we would advise the use of CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP. It will restore their pallid countenance, strengthen their weak back and side, give them new energy, new life and happiness.

THE RICH AND POOR are liable to the same diseases. Nature and Science have made the Constitution Life Syrup for the benefit of all.

THERE BLOOD produces healthy men and women; and if the constitution is neglected in youth, disease and early death are the results. Do not delay when the means are so near at hand, and within the reach of all.

TO MOTHERS AND MARRIED LADIES. It is the safest and most effectual medicine ever discovered for purifying the blood and relieving the suffering attendant upon childbirth. It strengthens both the mother and the child, prevents pain and disease, and increases and improves the food—Those who have used it think it indispensable. It is highly useful both before and after confinement, as it prevents disease attendant upon childbirth.

Is the Poor Man's Friend and the Rich Man's Blessing!—Buy it, take it, and be cured.—It is Universal in its effects

BEGINNING TO WALK.

He's not got his sea'legs, the darling;

And learn the salt taste of the wave.

When our parts are the trade and grave.

SEAL FISHING OFF NEWFOUNDLAND.—A great fleet of three or four hundred vessels—chiefly brigs—goes out every spring about the first of March, from St. Johns, N. F., to engage in the business of catching seals. The field of operations in the floating ice which comes down from the North at this season. The men jump upon the field of ice and set off in couples—so that one may assist the other in case of accident—always keeping to the leeward of the ship, else they might lose her, as indeed sometimes happens in the dense fogs. About the 7th of March the young seals are found about the size of cats, mewing on the ice. They are not yet fit to be taken, but by lying in the sun and sucking the ice until about the middle of March they gain three or four inches of fat. Then commences the slaughter. The men walk up to the white coats, as the young seals are then called, and knock them over, stick them with the knife, cut them down the breast, and the carcass rolls out, leaving the skin and fat which are all the seal catcher is after, the carcass being left on the ice.

Usually in about the last week of March the seals begin to dip; they take to the water, and are then only to be captured by shooting from boats. So the season of catching them is but about three weeks in duration. The men often go five or six miles from the ship on the floating ice. They get one half the catch, sometimes making a good trip, at other times getting nothing. One spring a crew that were out three weeks and three days shared $135 apiece. It is a dangerous occupation, for the brigs are liable to be crushed in the ice, though they are strongly built. The fat of the seal is cut into small pieces and left to drain off its oil, which is an article of commerce. The skins are used for various purposes.—Com. Bulletin.

☞ W. C. Gould has recently invented a self-supporting double-lock joint for the ends of railway bars, which, he claims, combines the three essential qualities of economy, durability, and safety, and make a road in effect a continuous rail. The joint can be put upon either new or old bars. The same gentleman has also invented a lap joint for the use of city railroad tracks, by which the rail is kept in line on the side as well as the upper surface. Both of these rails, it is said, will prevent the continual bumping which passengers experience as the cars pass from rail to rail.

Rev. G. D——, of Fayetteville county, Arkansas, one of the genius "forest born" orators, preaching not long since on "the glory of the saints," delivered the following burst of "native" eloquence, which is too good to be lost: Who, my brethren, can describe the glory of the saints? Why, nothing on earth can liken it. If you drill a hole in the sun and put it on your head for a crown, and split the moon and put it on your shoulders for epaulettes—if you tear down the starry curtains of the skies and wrap it around your body for a robe, and ride to heaven on the lightning wings of the tempest—this will be as nothing to the glory of the saints!"

A COMPETENT WITNESS.—General Gantt greatly shocked the nerves of the Copperhead leaders of Pennsylvania in his late speech at Harrisburg. During the delivery of his speech he told the audience that when he was brought North as a prisoner of war, prominent "Democrats" of Pennsylvania assured him that if the rebels held out they would be successful, for the "Democrats" would arrest the war by defeating the conscription, &c. General Gantt added, with great emphasis, "I can give you the names if what I say is disputed."

— A clergyman was once asked whether the members of his church were united. He replied that they were perfectly united—frozen together.

LAST AND BEST.
THE MODEL COOK.
AN AIR-TIGHT STOVE,
WITH TWO OVENS,
And Five Boiling Places!

At the present high prices of fuel it is very desirable to lessen its consumption. This can be done and accomplished by using a MODEL COOK STOVE. More cooking can be done in one with a single ton of coal, or cord of wood, than with double the quantity in any common stove or range—and in less time also.

The fire being placed in the centre of the stove, with an oven on either side (which may be thrown into one at pleasure), all the heat from the fuel is made available for cooking purposes.

The oven doors are lined with tin, and jackets are provided for the bottom and back of the stove, thus retaining much heat, ordinarily wasted. A check draft is applied, by means of which much fuel is saved, and a continuous fire may be kept as long as desirable.

A Water Tank and Hot Closet can be applied to either size, when needed.

In fact, no pains or expense have been spared to make this a PERFECT Stove, and we think it surpasses all others for Economy, Durability, Capacity, Convenience, Beauty of Design and Perfection of Finish.

It is equally well adapted for Coal or Wood; Summer or Winter use; excellent in a family where help is employed, and invaluable to the housewife who does her own work, lightening it at least one-half.

No family, large or small, where economy, convenience and dispatch are desirable, should be without one.

We refer to some parties who have purchased the Model Cook—

A Great Variety of Cheaper Stoves
FOR WOOD OR COAL.
E. A. STEVENS'S
House Furnishing Establishment,
NO. 46 MARKET STREET.

THE MAGEE
COOKING STOVE.

The subscriber, having received his Fall stock of Stoves, would especially call the attention of the public to the

CELEBRATED AND UNEQUALLED
MAGEE COOK STOVE,

as the very best Stove yet made, and would invite those about purchasing or exchanging Stoves, to examine this, believing it to be far superior to any other Stove yet invented, the castings being heavier, and the oven larger than usual. The oven plates are covered with plaster, which renders it equal to the old-fashioned brick oven for perfection in baking.

There is a new style and very superior broiler and sad-iron heater combined, by which the odor of broiling meats are prevented from escaping into the room. With the extension top there is a large copper Reservoir for hot water; also a large tin warming-closet attached, in which any article can be kept warm, while the other parts of the Stove are occupied for other purposes.

The arrangements for lifting the coal and cleaning the grate are far superior to those of any other Stove now in use, as no dust can possibly escape into the room, and the removing up of the ashes is entirely dispensed with. The fire is regulated in the same manner as in the MAGEE PARLOR STOVE, and can be continued day and night for weeks together, thus saving the expense of re-kindling every day.

For economy, durability, ease of management, cleanliness and perfection in cooking, it cannot be surpassed by any other Stove, as hundreds of families in this city and vicinity, who are now using them, are willing to testify, and speak of them in the highest terms of praise.

We would refer to the following purchasers:

Portsmouth.

J. Woodman Moses, George Billbrook, Jas. W Lewis, George L. Treadwell, John H. Piper, Asel Upham, Robert King, John W. White, James Shaw, James Pender, G. C. Dodge, Albert F. Merrill, William R. "MAGEE'S PATENT"
VENTILATING & AIR-WARMING
FURNACES.

The subscriber, being the Sole Agent in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of this valuable Furnace, would ask those about remodelling or erecting buildings to examine this truly valuable invention.

For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, moist and agreeable;—and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pots is used for respiration, the tendency to produce headache so much complained of in other Furnaces, is entirely obviated.

The objects aimed at by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.

To accomplish this many complicated and expensive heating arrangements have been constructed, some possessing but little improvement over former methods, while many have proved a total failure. The reason for this is obvious. The combustible gases being lighter than the air, pass off into the pipe or chimney without being consumed. This objection, so common in other Furnaces, is obviated in the

MAGEE FURNACE.

The flue or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot descend, and are burned up by the admission of cold air through the fire-pot, which ignites them as they pass off from the coal, thus saving at least 20 per cent. of the properties of the heat in the fuel.

No heating apparatus with the smoke-pipe or flue on the top of the cone can be made to consume the gases of the coal, as they pass off with a large amount of the heat generated, making the chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.

This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.

These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.

For ease of management, economy and purity of air, these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire may be kept the entire season without once going out.

They give entire satisfaction wherever used. We have in store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world,—and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:

Samuel Cleaves, Esq., Aaron H. Hill, Henry F. Wendell, Albert R. Hatch, Esq., Charles H. Mendum, John Rice, and others.

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY,
SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,
Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, (under the Act of 1837.)
76 State street, opposite Kilby street,
Boston.

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with dispatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of patents or inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional service so moderate.

The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.

These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse."
CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.

Mr. R. H Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but ONE of which patents have been granted, and that is now pending. Such unmistakeable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges."
JOHN TAGGART.

During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of whmen was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents.

DR. TEBBETTS'
PHYSIOLOGICAL
HAIR REGENERATOR
—AND—
UNIVERSAL HAIR RESTORER.
ITS MODUS OPERANDI.
Immediately beneath the scalp there are very small glands, or, more correctly, pouches of the Hair. It is from these Glands that every hair of the head is formed and secreted. As long as the scalp is free from disease, these bodies will remain healthy, and the hair keeps its natural appearance and color. But when humors and other diseases affect the scalp, these glands become involved in the same disease, and the hair gradually turns gray, dry and brittle. Sooner or later the hair begins to fall off, and in many cases, if not arrested, will produce a complete baldness of the scalp.
To remedy this pathological condition of the glands and create a new and healthy action, the Physiological Hair Regenerator has proved a perfect success—inasmuch as it is the only preparation yet known that can boast of such wonderful results.
Unlike thousands of other articles in the market, containing Silver, Lime, Lead, Litharge, Tannic, Sulphur, &c., and producing only a sort of yellow or flax color, it will, if properly applied restore the hair to its former appearance and beauty.
The Physiological Hair Regenerator is warranted in all cases to produce the following results:
1. It is not a Dye and will not stain a single particle. It contains no coloring matter whatever, and will not injure the skin in its application.
2. It will certainly RESTORE the hair from a gray to a beautiful Black, Brown, Auburn, or whatever might have been its original color.
3. It will effectually prevent the hair from falling off, remove all dest, Inflammation and Dandruff from the scalp, keeping the head clean and cool, and the hair soft, glossy and of a silky appearance.
4. It will PROMOTE a luxuriant growth of new hair on bald heads, except in extreme cases of old age and where the glands have become disorganized.
5. It will cure the most inveterate itching and neuralgia of the scalp, and being highly perfumed, it affords a most delightful article for the toilet.
We have a great abundance of testimony to prove beyond a doubt all that we claim for the Regenerator; and it is positively certain that in a very short time it will have a world wide reputation.
HOME TESTIMONY.
BEDFORD, N. H., Dec. 17, 1863.
Messrs. Tebbetts Brothers—The preparation you induced me to try on my hair, about six weeks ago, has had a wonderful effect. My hair was then almost white and now it is almost black. My daughter has also tried it on her hair, which was fast falling off on account of a severe attack of the diptheria; it stopped it immediately on its application. My wife has also been trying it for baldness on top of her head, and finds that a new growth of hair is rapidly starting. We have only used one bottle, and I think one more will fix our heads up in good shape. J. C. CUTLER.
MANCHESTER, Dec. 20, 1863.
Gents—Unless I am very much mistaken, your Hair Regenerator is destined, ere long, to work a complete revolution with all other Hair Preparations. It not only restores the hair to its natural color and keeps the head free from Dandruff, but it is the most beautiful dressing that can be prepared. My hair, without any apparent cause, began to turn gray when about thirteen years of age, and had been gradually increasing for more than ten years, when at out two months ago I saw the use of your Regenerator, and it has completely astonished all my friends to see my hair brought back to its natural color, which is almost a complete black. It is the only thing, unless it was a regular Hair Dye, that I ever knew would produce such effect. It also keeps the head so clean and free from scurf, that it makes a very nice dressing. JACOB J. ABBOTT

Portsmouth, N. H.

FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 26, 1864.

THE REBELLION.

There is considerable skirmishing going on at Chattanooga. On Tuesday Gen. Palmer drove the rebels to Tunnel Hill.—In one skirmish at Cumberland Gap rebel cavalry captured several Tennessee troops, but in another they were repulsed three times.

The Savannah Republican says the fight at Lake City, Fla., was a disgraceful affair on the part of their officers and men. They lost all their guns, and all were taken prisoners except a few.

A steamer from Vicksburg, 20th inst., brings a report that Gen. Sherman's forces are in possession of Selma, Ala.

Of 30,000 troops in Gen. Meade's army whose terms expire during the next nine months, 25,000 have re-enlisted.

SOUTHERN NEWS.—The Richmond Examiner reports another Federal raid up the Peninsula, but says there is no occasion for alarm, as Richmond is covered from assault.

The Lynchburg Republican reports the death of Parson Brownlow in Knoxville.

Dispatches from Charleston, 11th, say Finnegan repulsed the Federals at Lake City, Fla., and that Gen. Wise repulsed the enemy on John's Island.

The Savannah News says there is little apprehension felt for the result of the Florida expedition.

The Richmond Examiner says 6000 Federal prisoners will be sent to America, Ga., at the rate of 400 or more a day.

The Charleston Mercury says every exertion is made by Secretary Chase to flood the South with greenbacks, which, unless immediately checked, will subvert our currency, and thus inflict a mortal blow on the success of the cause.

The same paper says the constant dropping of the enemy's shot is telling on the lower part of the city.

The Wilmington, N. C., Journal announces the arrival of the steamer Alice, from Nassau, 3d inst. Also that the steamer Spunkie is going to pieces under the guns of Fort Campbell.

— The rebel Congress has passed a bill providing that every soldier shall be furnished with one ration of tobacco.

— The loss of over three thousand barrels of mackerel in the fire at Gloucester, has advanced the price one dollar a barrel.

— Twenty-five thousand tons of Scranton coal was sold by auction in New York on Wednesday, at 6.62 1-2 a 8.10 per ton, prices irregular.

— The U. S. Senate, on Wednesday, passed the resolution reviving the grade of lieutenant-general, having first struck out the provision recommending Gen. Grant for the position.

— About fifty fishing vessels, from George's banks, arrived at Gloucester Sunday night, bringing goods fares. They received but little damage in the recent severe gale.

— The drafts drawn at the Cape of Good Hope by Capt. Semmes, in payment for coal furnished the Alabama when there, were protested for non-payment in England and returned to Cape Town previous to Dec. 31.

— A new Mormon organization, which repudiates polygamy, has been started at Cincinnati by Joseph Smith, Jr. 30,000 acres of land have been purchased in Missouri, whereon to found a new city after the war.

— The death of Adelaide Ann Proctor, the daughter of "Barry Cornwall" and the author of "Legends and Lyrics," is announced in the English papers. She was an earnest Roman Catholic, and literally gave her life to works of charity.

— The Spiritualists of New England commenced a series of meetings in Boston on Wednesday, to be continued three days. The attendance is large. The programme for each day is the transaction of business, discussions and addresses.

— The Gloucester Telegraph contains particulars of the late fire in that city, from which it appears that the number of houses burned was 103, the amount of loss $440,000, and of insurance $178,250. The contents of the vault of the Bank of Cape Ann were found free from injury.

— We learn from the Portland Press that the Police Magistrate at St. John delivered judgment on Wednesday in the Chesapeake case, ordering the prisoners to be committed to jail for surrender to the U. S. authorities. The Magistrate declared it to be "the work of cowards and villains,—piracy, robbery and murder."

— The situation before the battle of Mission Ridge is reversed. Then the rebel army was between the armies of the Ohio and Cumberland, now our forces are between the armies of Longstreet and Johnston, and with the railroad between Knoxville and Chattanooga to facilitate their movements. We now have in effect the interior line of operation.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— There are now 105 inmates at the State Reform School. The Mirror states that the influence of the revival have reached this institution, and some of the hardest young men in it are converts.

—— Paul R. George, who returned from a trip to Fortress Monroe, a few weeks since, on a visit to Gen. Butler, his brother-in-law, is reported but just alive at his residence in Contoocook.

—— The Hillsborough Agricultural Society (North) held their Annual Meeting, last week, and voted to hold a Fair for 1864, at Purington Park, Weare, Sept. 28th and 29th.

—— A party of thirteen ladies and gentlemen recently spent the day at the house of Mr. Horace Clark in New London, whose united ages were 964 years—six couples aged from 70 to 78 each, and a widow lady aged 83. They are all hale and hearty, and live in the same neighborhood.

—— The Mirror states that a man found dead, Monday, in a pasture near the Island Pond House, proved to be Silburn Andros Boyce, of Londonderry, and that it was plain that he came to his death by freezing. He was about 45 years of age and has relatives in that city.

—— Rev. O. T. Lampbear, of the Second Congregational Church of Exeter, has accepted a call to the pastoral charge of a society in New Haven, Conn. He bade farewell to his congregation there last Sunday, and will commence his pulpit labors in New Haven the first Sabbath in March.

—— Joseph W. Fernald, a native of Exeter, was killed by a recent accident to a railroad train, in Vermont, of which he was engineer. He was 36 years of age. His body was interred in Exeter. A brother of the deceased, also an engineer, lost his life on the Erie Railroad a few years since.

—— In the Supreme Judicial Court, at Dover, Lorenzo Hanscom has pleaded guilty of manslaughter, in the murder of Woodbury Lord at a rum shop in Somersworth, on the 13th of March last, and was sentenced to two days' solitary and eight years' hard labor in the State Prison." Darius G. Harriman, of Farmington, was sentenced to pay a fine of $200, and to six months' imprisonment in the common jail, for assaulting and knocking down with his fist a witness who had testified against him before a grand jury, in a liquor case.

—— The N. Y. Tribune states that Mr. Austin B. Williams, well known among the printing community, died suddenly in New York City on Sunday. Apoplexy was the cause of his death. He was in the 31st year of his age, a native of Exeter, and for the past twelve years connected with the New York Times. Mr. Williams was, perhaps, the heaviest man in New York, weighing 420 pounds, and requiring 17 yards of broadcloth to complete his exterior outfit. He was noted for his humor and ready wit, and was repeatedly sought after by Mr. Barnum as a natural curiosity for his Museum, but always declined to make a public exhibition of himself.

—— The Ballot states that a perfect jam was the result of Dr. Wm. Perry's invitation to his friends to call upon him on the evening of the 22d inst., which day completed fifty years of his medical practice in that town. The venerable doctor on the occasion was made the surprised recipient of several substantial presents. A massive and beautiful silver pitcher bore the inscription—"Exeter, February 22, 1864. William Perry. Our physician for fifty years." A luxurious rocking chair was presented by Com. Long; several volumes of books from other friends, and a beautiful bouquet labelled "From the Elm—Dan, Ned and May"—children of Mrs. J. T. Gilman.—During the evening it was stated that Dr. Perry during his residence in Exeter had attended 1700 births, including thirty-eight in three families. The occasion was a very happy one to all present, and the guests departed wishing the venerable doctor increase of years and happiness.

—— The Union Mass Meeting at Manchester on Wednesday evening had a tendency to make glad the hearts of all loyal men. We don't know how many strangers were in the city,—we didn't count them,—but there seemed to be enough to do all the work necessary between now and the 8th of March to re-elect Gov. Gilmore; while the strong enthusiasm manifested augured well for the Union cause. The speeches were eloquent, forcible, convincing, and the hearers gave abundant evidence that they appreciated them. Smyth's large hall was found insufficient to accommodate the thronging numbers, and a second meeting was organized in the City Hall. There was a large delegation present from this city, who returned in a special train at night; reaching home soon after three o'clock.—The whole affair was most pleasant to the participants, who manifested every confidence in the triumph of their cause, and greeted every allusion to the anticipated re-election of Gov. Gilmore with the most hearty and prolonged applause, exceeded only when that gentleman himself entered the hall.

Dictionary of the English Language.

By Joseph E. Worcester, LL.D. Boston. Brewer & Tileston.

How many of our readers are aware of the number of words in the English language? We speak of the language as it now is; of words not yet obsolete, but still in use by authors of acknowledged repute, and by correct speakers. The number exceeds one hundred thousand. This dictionary contains a total number of 104,000. Of these a very small portion, perhaps not exceeding a few hundred, may be regarded as antiquated or of doubtful propriety, yet found in approved writers of the English tongue, and authorities furnished for their use.

It is the aim of the present work to give this immense mass of words in their current orthography, with their proper pronunciation and etymology and definition. So far as the spelling of words is concerned, we accept Dr. Worcester's dictionary as authority over and above all others. And in doing this we follow the lead of the most distinguished scholars in the land, who have illustrated the power and richness of the English language by their written works, and who do not hesitate to declare their unequivocal preference for Worcester as standard authority in orthography. We have used both Worcester and Webster for twenty-five years, finding each useful and resorting to each for information and consultation, as occasion arose. The original quarto of Webster, in two volumes, has been in our possession more than twenty years, and its appearance now indicates a very faithful use. But the innovations of Dr. Webster upon the established methods of spelling words, we have never followed, for the simple reason that we never deemed these innovations any improvement, nor made with any sufficient reason. Worcester is an authority in this particular, and an examination, critical and careful, of the best writers, shows that they, too, adhere to the spelling of Worcester, for the simple reason, we suppose, that it is the English mode, and that there are no reasons for modifying that mode whatever, except certain arbitrary or fanciful reasons, having, however, no universal standard. We never, indeed, could see any good reason for the innovation of Dr. Webster upon established orthography, which would not compel a modification of the spelling of thousands of words, which, however, he has left untouched and unchanged. And, indeed, it may be remarked here that the usual result which attends all efforts to reform the orthography of a language by a dictionary, has attended the efforts of Dr. Webster. Scholars have not followed him. They persist in the established forms. And, after all, we suppose that writers of established repute and authority are, in fact, the standard which should govern the making of dictionaries.

In the matter of definition of words, Worcester is all that could be desired—accurate and discriminating, full and complete; the present work being exceedingly affluent in the department of synonyms, arranged in immediate association with the original or generic words. The value of the volume, in the matter of definitions, is greatly enhanced by the exemplification of the different meanings of words by citations from authors belonging to different periods of English literature. In this department there is nothing loose, no lack of precision, the treatment being philosophical and scientific, yet each word being followed and explained in the large variety of applications to which it has been subjected by usage—the object of the author being well attained, to wit: to explain exhaustively the meaning of the word in its original and in its derivative senses.

This volume is especially rich in technical terms relating to theology, law, medicine, chemistry, architecture, astronomy, botany, geology, mathematics, mechanics, etc., etc., etc.

Pronunciation of words has received full and satisfactory treatment, with a full exposition of the correct principles upon which pronunciation is to be determined. The dictionary proper is preceded by valuable suggestions on Pronunciation, Orthography, English Grammar, the Origin of, Formation and Etymology of the Language, and Provincialisms and Americanisms, with an instructive chapter on the history of English Lexicography, with a voluminous catalogue of English Dictionaries. There is also a very large appendix, containing a key to the pronunciation of geographical names, and also of the names of distinguished men.—There is also a collection of words, phrases and quotations from the Greek, Latin, French, Italian, and Spanish languages.

As a learned Lexicographer, Dr. Worcester stands at the head of his class. The amount of learning and research displayed in this work is immense, so great indeed that one perceives at once the necessity he was under of accepting from men of science and rich scholarship, the aid he acknowledges, in the preparation of a work involving the indispensible responsibility of a thorough investigation of the entire literature of the English tongue.

No one can consult such a dictionary as this without enlarging his ideas of the rich and varied character of the English language; so admirably adapted to all the purposes of literature, and all the demands of expression, sound, feeling and passion. It is affluent, flexible, susceptible of all applications, versatile, to the ear and to the intellect, inexhaustible in its resources, and capable of imparting in the hands of a master an indescribable fascination to style. No speaker, and no writer can ever attain the full measure of power, except by full and complete acquaintance with all the treasures of this medium, by which thought, fancy, imagination and passion must find expression.—And yet we imagine that few of our speakers and writers have any familiar knowledge of the quarter part of the one hundred thousand words of the English language. It is said of Rufus Choate, that his style so overflowing rich in words and expressions, so copious in varied turns of thought, and so electric in many of its effects, was formed by study, and that he pursued the study of words as diligently as he ever pursued the law. He knew the power of language, and how it was adapted to control the ear of a jury or of a listening audience, and each day he sought to enrich his style by the acquisition of new, fresh expressive, words.

It is said by Hon. G. P. Marsh, our former Minister to Constantinople, in his lectures on the English language, that very few writers use as many as ten thousand words, and ordinary persons of usual intelligence use only three or four thousand, leaving unused in all their life, and perhaps unknown, ninety thousand and more words of their mother tongue. Mr. Marsh says that Shakspeare and Milton would probably be named as having the most affluent English vocabulary. And yet in Shakspeare, in all his works, not more than fifteen thousand words can be found, and in Milton not more than eight thousand.

Kossuth made himself, to a marvellous extent, master of the treasures of our language. The fascination of his style, of his wealthy and gorgeous rhetoric, is due, more than anything else, to the manner in which he seized upon the large vocabulary of our mother English, and made it the instrument of his passionate, flaming thought, bringing forth from the treasure house words, not new but old, yet seldom used, and enriching his moving sentences by words that were pictures, and enforcing them by yet other words that were "half battles." We commend this Dictionary by Dr. Worcester to our readers. There is no better work. Our own individual preferences would choose it before any other.—St. Louis Republican.

OFFICE LIGHT-HOUSE BOARD,
February 15, 1864.

SEALED PROPOSALS will be received at this office until 1 o'clock P. M. on SATURDAY, the 19th day of March, 1864, for supplying the Light-house Establishment with fifteen thousand gallons of the best quality pure winter strained lard oil, and thirty thousand gallons of the best quality pure winter strained sperm oil, to be divided into four lots, and to be delivered at the times undermentioned, alongside of the government supply vessel, or at the warehouse or other place of deposit, to be designated by the Inspecting Officer or other authorized agent of the Light-house Board, in strong, tight, well-made casks, suitable for shipping, in good order, of an average capacity, each, of from eighty to one hundred gallons.

The lard oil will be delivered at Boston, Mass., for special inspection.

Any one of the lots of sperm oil, or all of them, may be delivered at New York, New London, Sag Harbor, Boston, New Bedford, Edgartown, or Nantucket, at the option of the bidders. The place of delivery must be distinctly stated in the bids, and will be embraced in the contracts.

The four lots will be delivered as follows, viz:

LOT No. 1. Ten thousand (10,000) gallons sperm oil on the 15th day of April, 1864, or as soon thereafter as the proper tests and gauging can be completed.

LOT No. 2. Fifteen thousand (15,000) gallons lard oil on the 1st day of May, 1864, or as soon thereafter as the proper tests and gauging can be completed.

LOT No. 3. Ten thousand (10,000) gallons sperm oil on the 1st day of June, 1864, or as soon thereafter as the proper tests and gauging can be completed.

LOT No. 4. Ten thousand (10,000) gallons sperm oil on the 1st day of August, 1864, or as soon thereafter as the proper tests and gauging can be completed.

No part of the oil proposed for and to be embraced in the contracts under this advertisement will be accepted, received, or paid for, unless it shall have been proved to the entire satisfaction of the person or persons charged with its examination, test and inspection, to be of the best quality pure winter strained or bagged oil, and free from mixture with other or inferior oils and adulterations.

The usual means for determining the character and quality of the oil will be employed, viz: specific gravity, burning the amount of residuum, and such other proper tests as may be correct conclusions that may be deemed necessary.

The casks must be gauged, under the direction and personal supervision of the inspecting officer, by a custom-house or other legally authorized and sworn gauger, according to the United States standard, and must be marked and accepted before they are removed from the cellar or warehouse of the contractor. The temperature of the oil will be accurately noted, and the measurements reduced to the standard temperature of 60° Fahrenheit by tables prepared for the purpose.

Proposals will be received and considered for each lot separately, or for all of the lots, at the option of the bidder; but no bid will be considered unless it covers more than ten thousand gallons of any lot, to be delivered at one time and place. Each bid must state explicitly the rate per gallon, in writing, the number of the lot or lots bid for, and the time and place of delivery, conforming to this advertisement.

Bids submitted by different members of the same firm or copartnership will not be considered.

The Light-house Board, under the authority of the Department, reserves the right to reject any bid, although it may be the lowest, for other considerations than the price.

No bid will be considered for any other kinds or descriptions of oils than those specifically called for in this advertisement.

A bond, with security to the satisfaction of the Department, in a penalty equal to one-fourth of the amount of each contract made under these proposals, will be required of each contractor, conditioned for the faithful performance of the contract, to be executed within ten days after the acceptance of the bid.

Every offer must be accompanied by a written guarantee, signed by one or more responsible persons, and known to the Department as such, or certified by a United States district judge, attorney, navy agent, or collector of the customs, to the effect that, if the bid or bids be accepted, the bidder or bidders will duly execute a contract in good faith, according to the provisions and terms of this advertisement, within ten days after acceptance; and that the said bidder or parties offering shall fail to enter into the contract as aforesaid, he or they guaranty to make good the difference between the offer of the said party or parties and the next lowest bidder.

All bids must be sealed and endorsed "Proposals for oil for light-houses," and then placed in another envelope, and directed, prepaid, to the Secretary of the Light-house Board, Washington City.

All bids will be opened, publicly, at the hour and on the day specified.

Payments will be made for the several lots of oil within thirty days after they shall have been received by the United States.

BY ORDER OF THE LIGHT-HOUSE BOARD:

☞ It is well known that the largest halls in the country have been wholly inadequate to accommodate those who have been desirous of seeing Mr. Barnum, and listening to his intensely interesting lecture. In Providence, the street in front of Howard Hall was densely packed before six o'clock, although the lecture did not commence until eight, and it was estimated that more than five thousand persons were unable to obtain even standing room. The large hall of the Cooper Institute, New York, one of the largest halls in the country, was crowded to excess long before the hour of the lecture, thousands having been turned away. At Albany, N. Y., and at Springfield, Mass., every seat was sold days before the lecture.

That all may have an equal chance to obtain a good seat on the evening of the lecture here, the Doors will be open at 6 1-2 o'clock, although the lecture will not commence until 8. To save confusion and avoid the crowd at the door, it is advisable that as many as possible should purchase their tickets at the Bookstores before the evening of the lecture. F19

RALLY FOR THE UNION.—Hon. Lewis Barker, of Maine, an old-line Democrat, will address the citizens of this city and vicinity at the Temple on Saturday evening next, at 7 1-2 o'clock. Mr. Barker, it will be remembered, was expected to speak in this city on Tuesday evening last. His absence was occasioned, we learn, by the failure of the train from Augusta, on the K. & P. railroad, to reach Portland in season for the train to this city—it being detained by an accident some four hours. Mr. Barker is an eloquent and powerful speaker, and has been recently speaking with the greatest effect in Strafford County.

Arrangements are being made for a series of Union meetings in this city previous to the election, and the following list of speakers is announced:—

On Monday evening, Feb. 29, Gen. B. F. Bruce, of New York, and Capt. Brinkerhoff, of Ohio.

On Wednesday evening, March 2, Gen. Richard Busteed, of New York.

On Saturday evening, March 5, Hon. John P. Hale.

Music will be given at each of these meetings by the Portsmouth Glee Club.

P. T. Barnum is to lecture in Portsmouth on Thursday next. Barnum is one of the most remarkable men in the country—the cutest Yankee of all Yankeedom. To many he may seem a humbug, but they mistake the man. He has enterprise, industry, business capacity and mental power, and he is the most honest showman that we ever knew, for he never fails to give the value for money received. He knows one thing that many do not—how to advertise; and knowing that, he is in but little danger of failing in whatever he undertakes.—Newburyport Herald.

The New Ocean House, now being erected at Rye Beach, N. H., for Messrs. Job Jenness & Son, is one of the largest and most substantial hotels in the State.—It will accommodate 250 guests. It is to be opened, we learn, for the coming season.—Boston Journal.

SALE OF THE "TEMPLE."—This edifice and the lot upon which it stands, has been sold to Messrs. Clement March and Geo. W. Haven. The price paid was $6000.—It is to be hoped that in the hands of the new proprietors, we may see more commodious accommodations for the benefit of public audiences.—Cor. Ballot.

SUPREME JUDICIAL COURT, Exeter.—The case of William O. Smith v. Jasper H. Rundlett—a suit to recover damages for false warranty of a blind horse, terminated on Thursday; but how it is difficult to state. The jury, we understand, first came in with an irregular verdict for one party, and having received instructions from the Court to correct and return it in proper form, retired, and on coming in again returned a verdict for the other party. The consequence was, both parties claimed the verdict, and Judge Bellows finally dismissed the case, and told the contestants they must settle the matter without further trouble to the Court. As near as we can understand, the jury were disposed to award damages to the plaintiff and make him pay the costs.

"Oh, if you want to get rid of your money,
We advise you to go to law."

Samuel H. Kingsbury v. James Moses—account for labor of the plaintiff. The parties belong in Portsmouth, and are carpenters. Defendant employed the plaintiff, agreeing to pay him the going rate of wages, which he offered evidence to prove was $1.50 per day. Plaintiff made his bill at the rate of $1.75 per day. Defendant refused to pay it, but tendered $136.50, the sum which he considered due the defendant, but which he refused. The jury found nothing due over and above the amount of the tender, which the plaintiff will probably find hardly sufficient to pay the cost of his lesson in litigation. Goodall for plf., Hatch for deft.

On Saturday the Court adjourned sine die, after a session of 33 days. During the last three weeks of the session we believe five cases were tried, and the gross amount of the sums in dispute was not sufficient to pay the jurors.—Ballot.

☞ In the Police Court of Boston on Wednesday morning, Philander H. Pease, who was arrested some days since for obtaining $18,000 worth of wool from Riley & Co., by false pretences, was discharged by Judge Rogers. Messrs. Riley & Co. have received the property back and acknowledged satisfaction.

☞ Mr. George Elliot, of London, has offered to give 1000 tons of coal, to be sold for the benefit of the Sanitary Commission, placing it on board at his own expense.—The coal is to be sold to the best advantage, and the proceeds paid over to the Treasurer of the Metropolitan Fair, to be held at New York.

☞ The dry goods store of Messrs J. F. Almy & Co., Salem, Mass., was entered on Tuesday night by the skylight and robbed of about $2000 worth of silks and a few shawls. The robbers are supposed to have been frightened away, as a package of silks was left in the store, wrapped in a shawl.

☞ A San Francisco dispatch states that Chinese papers of Jan. 5th, the latest received, say nothing of the Alabama being blockaded at Amoy at any time. The only news upon this subject comes in private letters, dated Jan. 9. One of these letters says: "The Alabama is reported to be in our vicinity," and another that the Alabama is reported at Singapore, coaling. Another letter says that American ships in Chinese waters are looked upon with some distrust, but why is not stated.

THE LOST STEAMER BOHEMIAN.—The Bohemian is the seventh steamship lost by the Montreal Ocean Steamship Company, which has been very unfortunate. She was of 2200 tons burthen, and nearly new, having been built in 1859. She was valued at $350,000, and is probably insured in English Companies.

THE FRIEND IN THE HOUSE.—"The Shadow in the House," is the title of a recent novel. We prefer to speak of the Friend in the house, which Grace's Salve assuredly is. Its composition is the result of years of study. It is soothing, penetrating and of a wonderfully healing nature. In all cases of burns, scalds, flesh wounds, old ulcers, felons, and all eruptions of the skin resulting from impure humors, it is a sovereign remedy. With this friend in the house, accidents may be easily remedied. Try it, it will prove a friend in need. 25 cents per box.

He is the happiest who does most to make others happy. The inventor of Herrick Allen's Gold Medal Saleratus must be the happiest man in existence, for we hazard nothing in saying that the use of the Gold Medal Saleratus cannot fail to make a happy household. Our better half says she does not fear of our ever frowning, as long as she can get the genuine Herrick Allen's. We say success to the inventor, and if everybody knew how good it is, no other would be used. A good many of our Merchants have it. Their depot is 112 Liberty Street, New York.

Constitution Life Syrup,

COMPOSED OF
IODIDE POTASSIUM,
With the compound concentrated fluid extract of
VALUABLE MEDICINAL
ROOTS AND HERBS,
Prepared by WM. H. GREGG, M. D.,
Graduate College Physicians and Surgeons, N. Y.; formerly Assistant Physician Blackwell's Island Hospitals, late Medical Inspector New York State Volunteer Depots, under Gov. Edwin D. Morgan.

Constitution Life Syrup
HAS PRODUCED
A REVOLUTION IN MEDICINE!

What may seem almost incredible, is, that many diseases hitherto considered hopelessly incurable are frequently cured in a few days or weeks, and we cheerfully invite the investigations of the liberal minded and scientific to cures which have no parallel at the present day.

Our medicine is peculiar, by it the seat of disease is directly reached, and the equilibrium restored. Those who have suffered long from painful and obstinate diseases, those who have vainly sought relief from advertised medicines, those who cannot be cured by other physicians—are invited to use Constitution Life Syrup.

During the past five years we have contended with obstinate and overcome hopeless cases, to a degree unknown to any Reformers.

Rapidity of Cure.

Some say, "Your cures are too quick," while others doubt their permanency, and think that diseases can only be cured by the "slow recuperative process of Nature." This is our reply:

In health, the body, like a well-balanced scale, is in a state of equilibrium. But when from any cause down goes one side of the scale, we have the effects of disease. What is requisite is, to restore the normal balance of the scale.

CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP,

A positive and specific remedy for all diseases originating from an IMPURE STATE OF THE BLOOD, and for all (hereditary) DISEASES transmitted from PARENT TO CHILD.

Paralysis.

Hemiplegia, Paralysis, Paraplegia, Paralysis Agitans.

It is so universally admitted that Constitution Life Syrup is the only effective means of restoration in the various forms of Paralysis, that we need but reiterate that it is emphatically the Great Life-Giving Power.

Dyspepsia.

Indigestion, Liver Complaint, Constipation, Weight at Stom'h, Biliousness, Want of Appetite, Flatulence, Bad Breath.

Scrofula.

Struma, Glandular Swellings, Ulceration, King's Evil, Erysipelas, Salt Rheum.

This taint (hereditary or acquired), filling life with untold misery, is by all usual medical remedies incurable.

Rheumatism.

Arthritis, Neuralgia, Gout, Lumbago, Sciatica, The Dolourous.

If there is any disease in which the Constitution Life Syrup is a sovereign, it is in Rheumatism and its kindred affections. The most intense pains are almost instantly alleviated—enormous swellings are reduced. Cases, chronic or vicarious, of 20 or 30 years standing, have been cured by us.

Nervousness.

Nervous Debility, Confusion of Thoughts, Epilepsy, Loss of Power, Shattered Nerves, St. Vitus' Dance.

Thousands who have suffered for years will bless the day on which they read these lines. Particularly to weak, suffering women, will this medicine prove an inestimable blessing—directing their footsteps to a Hope which fulfils more than it promises.

Mercurial Diseases.

Salivation, Feeling of Weariness, Rotting of Bones, Bad Complexion, Aches in Bones, Depressed Spirits.

Constitution Life Syrup purges the system entirely from all the evil effects of Mercury, removing the Bad Breath, and curing the Weak Joints and Rheumatic Pains which the use of Calomel is sure to produce. Hardened Spongy Gums and secures the teeth as firmly as ever.

Constitution Life Syrup

Eradicates, root and branch, all Eruptive Diseases of the Skin, like

ULCERS, PIMPLES, BLOTCHES.

And all other difficulties of this kind, which so much disfigure the outward appearance of both males and females, often making them a disgusting object to themselves and their friends.

CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP
Cures all Swellings of the Glands,

Either of the Face, Neck or Female Breast, and should be taken as soon as the disease is detected, thus preventing their breaking and producing troublesome Discharging Sores which disfigure so many of the younger portion of the community, from six to twenty years of age. Young children are very subject to Discharges from the Ears, which depends upon a Scrofulous constitution. They should be cured by taking a few doses of the Life Syrup.

All scrofulous persons suffering from Debility, Emaciation, Dyspepsia; Pain or Swelling in the abdomen, and in the female Dropsy of the ovaries and womb, generally accompanied with inflammation and ulceration of the Womb, are permanently cured by Constitution Life Syrup. The disease known as Goitre or Swelled Neck, the Life Syrup will cure, but the Medicine should be taken for some time, as the disease is exceedingly chronic and stubborn, and will not be removed without a long continuance of the treatment. Tumors of the Breast, and swelling of other glands of the body will be completely reduced without resorting to the knife or operations of any kind.

Epileptic Fits, Sympathetic or Organic Diseases of the Heart (as Palpitation, Disease of Valves—Pricking or Stinging of the Heart, Decay of the Heart Case and all the affections of this important organ, or persons suffering from any acute pain in the region of the heart, will be greatly relieved by Constitution Life Syrup.

Broken Down and Delicate Constitutions, Suffering from Indisposition to Exercise, Pain in the Back, Loss of Memory, Forebodings, Horror of Claiming, Fear of Disease, Dimness of Sight, Dry Skin and Extremities, Want of Sleep, Restlessness, Pale Haggard Countenances and Institute of the Masculine Frame, all require the aid of the CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP.

For all forms of Ulcerative Diseases, either of the Nose Throat, Tongue, Spine, Forehead or Scalp, no remedy has proved half so efficacious.

MOTH PATCHES upon the female face, depending upon a diseased action of the Liver, are very unpleasant to the young wife and married lady. A few bottles of Constitution Life Syrup will correct the secretion, and remove the deposit which is directly under the skin.

In Diseases of the Liver, giving rise to languor, dizziness, indigestion, weak stomach, or an uncated or costive condition of the bowels, accompanied with burning or other unpleasant symptoms, relief may be obtained by the use of CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP.

☞ As a general Blood-Purifying Agent, the Life Syrup stands unrivalled by any preparation in the world.

Diseases of the Spine, as usually developed in the young, Hip Disease, Neuralgia, and all Nervous Diseases, and Ladies who are suffering from diseases for which they are at a loss to know what to do, we would advise the use of CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP. It will restore their pallid countenance, strengthen their weak back and side, give them new energy, new life and happiness.

THE RICH AND POOR are liable to the same diseases. Nature and Science have made the Constitution Life Syrup for the benefit of all.

PURE BLOOD produces healthy men and women, and if the constitution is neglected in youth, disease and early death are the results. Do not delay when the means are so near at hand, and within the reach of all.

TO MOTHERS AND MARRIED LADIES.

It is the safest and most effectual medicine ever discovered for purifying the system and relieving and affording attendant upon childbirth. It strengthens both the mother and the child, prevents pain and disease, and increases and outlives the tonic—those who have used it think it indispensable. It is highly useful both before and after confinement, as it prevents disease attendant upon childbirth.

Lossing's Field-book of the Revolution.

Mr. Editor:—If I ever trouble your readers about a book that is not really first-class, it is because it occupies the place it has no claim to. Still I prefer to hurt poor books only by helping good ones.—The Field-book of the Revolution is a first-class book, that I took considerable pains to obtain; and when it came to hand I found it quite a different thing from what I expected. If any of your readers mistake it as I did, it shall not be my fault, for I will give you as true an account of it as I can in a short space.

You know my earnestness for positive, definite knowledge, particularly geographical knowledge. I am in misery all the time I read about Chattanooga, because I can find no map of that intricate mixture of cliffs, river-bends, railroads and ravines. I am angry with every history that takes for granted that the reader's geographical knowledge is infinite. For a long time I had been anxious to read an account of our Revolution from a geographical point of view.

I find the order in Lossing's book even too geographical. It is simply a book of travels, directed exclusively by a thirst for Revolutionary lore. "More than eight thousand miles" of journey are written up in two large volumes. While the author could not compete with our very best in the line of the pen, being at or a little above the average of writers of travels, in the use of the pencil he is most admirable. These volumes are "a thing of beauty"; and had they been occupied with mere ordinary travels in the United States, they would deserve a cherished place on the centre-table of the rich. But the greater part of these drawings have a higher value than for their beauty. They contain, I am informed by Harper's Catalogue, "245 portraits, 475 autographs, 182 buildings, 62 maps and plans, 46 views of battle fields, and 102 of other historical localities, 26 sketches of objects, 26 fac similes of manuscripts, 27 medals, seals, &c., 46 views of fortifications, 12 trees, 76 monuments, 24 old churches, 6 statues, 75 appropriate initial letters, and about a dozen fancy sketches,—or, in all, 1100 engravings, including 1500 distinct illustrations of objects described in the text."

Few of the maps and plans are original with Lossing. He has sought them far and near, from every authentic source, chiefly British. But nearly all the rest is the fruit of his own diligence. He gives the impression that he carried no photographic apparatus with him. I shall ever hold him in the highest respect for his diligence under circumstances in which diligence is almost a miracle—while traveling. He sketched at dusk, he sketched at dawn, in the rain, in the snow and benumbed by frost. He sketched, inquired, "learned, wrote—and was off.

One convenience of his arrangement is, that except in rare instances you do not need both volumes with you in your travels. None of the second volume relates to New England, and the first has no relation to anything south of New Jersey. But to the traveller in the places he visited they are invaluable. Few who have not visited our Revolutionary scenes could believe how little can be learned of them by mere inspection. I suppose I have walked more than a hundred miles through the woods and fields, where the battle of Long Island was fought; and this winter, for the first time, I found out what I saw there. Perhaps I have been on half the battle-fields of the Revolution—nearly all of them from Quebec to Philadelphia—but there are only two of which I ever gained any adequate knowledge—save from Lossing's Field-book. It provokes me to think of what I have lost. I have been within ten rods of where Andre was executed, and passed the house where he was imprisoned, without knowing it.

The persons and things sketched by Lossing are gone and going. The Apollo Rooms of Williamsburg, Va.,—the Faneuil Hall of the South—would have passed from the memory of man undelineated had he been but one day later. The carpenters had begun to transform it to a modern dining hall. Doubtless no other book has contained or ever will contain so much "illustration" of the revolutionary period.

The Field Book is rich in anecdote.—Lossing left no aged person unvisited or unquestioned where he had the least prospect of getting an anecdote hitherto unpublished. To these he has added very liberally of the old ones also, so that, probably no one work contains half so many.

But next to the engravings the biographical notices are perhaps the most precious part of the book. They are thrown down to the foot of the page to the number of some hundreds. And a copious index, just what no such book should be without, (and very few have one so good) renders the biographies and everything else available whenever wanted, either in the course of reading or future reference.

I won't question whether the order of his actual travels should have been so strictly followed. I am tempted now to re-read the book in an order of my own devising, beginning with the visit to Boston. But after all, it is not a History, but a book of travels, and a book of travels let it be.

One thing surprises me. In the original MS. the drawings were referred to by the page in the sketch book, and by inadvertence scores of these references crept into print, in place of referring to the page of the book; and these errata have gone uncorrected for years. So the purchasers of the book must endure the annoyance, because the critics were not sharp enough.

But the worst fault of the book—by far the worst—is its price. Books that cost the author so much as this seldom remunerate him. It costs less to write a score of novels or a dozen of ordinary historical works, than to gather the raw materials of the Field-book. Upwards of $40,000 were expended on this work. But cost what it will, no large library should be without it, and wealthy persons of taste and patriotism will have it. The price is $8 in muslin, post paid from Harper's, and up to $15.

And now Friend Lossing, farewell! For these many weeks you have been my daily companion when fatigued or indisposed, and now it grieves me to dismiss you so. I would gladly have you "fight all your battles o'er again," but this must not be. Often and often may we meet again, but now away to your shelf! J. F. H.

Glad News for the Unfortunate!

The Long Sought For Discovered at Last.

CHEROKEE REMEDY
—AND—
CHEROKEE INJECTION,
Compounded from Roots, Barks & Leaves.

CHEROKEE REMEDY, the great Indian Diuretic, cures all diseases of the urinary organs, such as Incontinence of the Urine, Inflammation of the Bladder, Retention of the Kidneys, Stone in the Bladder, Strictures, Gravel, Gleet, Gonorrhœa, and is especially recommended in those cases of Fluor Albus or Whites in females where all the old nauseous medicines have failed.

It is prepared in a highly concentrated form, the dose only being from one to two tablespoonfuls three times per day.

It is diuretic and alterative in its action; purifying and cleansing the blood, causing it to flow in all of its original purity and vigor; thus removing from the system all pernicious causes which have induced disease.

CHEROKEE INJECTION is intended as an ally or assistant to the CHEROKEE REMEDY, and should be used in conjunction with that medicine in all cases of Gonorrhœa, Gleet, Fluor Albus or Whites, as it speedily stops burning, scalding and debilitating discharges; removing all scalding, heat, chordee and pain, instead of the burning and almost unendurable pain that is experienced with nearly all the cheap brand injections.

☞ By the use of the CHEROKEE REMEDY and CHEROKEE INJECTION—the two medicines at the same time—all impure discharges are removed, and the weakened organs are speedily restored to full vigor and strength.

For full particulars get our pamphlet from any drug store in the country, or write us and we will mail free, to any address, a full treatise.

Price—CHEROKEE REMEDY, $2 per bottle or three bottles for $5.

LAST AND BEST.

THE MODEL COOK,
AN AIR-TIGHT STOVE,
WITH TWO OVENS,
And Five Boiling Places!

☞ At the present high prices of fuel it is very desirable to lessen its consumption. This can be best accomplished by using a MODEL COOK STOVE. More cooking can be done in one with a single ton of coal, or cord of wood, than with double the quantity in any common stove or range—and in less time also

The fire being placed in the centre of the stove, with an oven on either side (which may be thrown into one at pleasure), all the heat from the fuel is made available for cooking purposes.

The oven doors are lined with tin, and jackets are provided for the bottom and back of the stove, thus retaining much heat, ordinarily wasted. A check draft is applied, by means of which much fuel is saved, and a continuous fire may be kept as long as desirable.

A Water Tank and Hot Closet can be applied to either side, when needed.

In fact, no pains or expense have been spared to make this a PERFECT Stove, and we think it surpasses all others for Economy, Durability, Capacity, Convenience, Beauty of Design and Perfection of Finish.

It is equally well adapted for Coal or Wood; Summer or Winter use; excellent in a family where help is employed, and invaluable to the housewife who does her own work, lightening it at least one-half.

No family, large or small, where economy, convenience and dispatch are desirable, should be without one.

We refer to some parties who have purchased the Model Cook—

A Great Variety of Cheaper Stoves
FOR WOOD OR COAL.
E. A. STEVENS'S
House Furnishing Establishment,
NO. 44 MARKET STREET.

THE MAGEE
COOKING STOVE.

The subscriber, having received his Fall stock of Stoves, would especially call the attention of the public to the
CELEBRATED AND UNEQUALLED
MAGEE COOK STOVE,
as the very best Stove yet made, and would invite those about purchasing or exchanging Stoves, to examine this, believing it to be far superior to any other Stove yet invented, the castings being heavier, and the oven larger than usual. The oven plates are covered with plaster, which renders it equal to the old-fashioned brick oven for perfection in baking.

There is a new style and very superior broiler and and iron heater combined, by which the odor of broiling meats are prevented from escaping into the room. With the extension top there is a large copper Reservoir for hot water; also a large the warming-closet attached, in which any article can be kept warm, while the other parts of the Stove are occupied for other purposes.

The arrangements for sifting the coal and cleaning the grate are far superior to those of any other Stove now in use, no dust can possibly escape into the room, and the shoveling up of the ashes is entirely dispensed with. The fire is regulated in the same manner as in the MAGEE PARLOR STOVE, and can be continued day and night for weeks together, thus saving the expense of re-kindling every day.

For economy, durability, ease of management, cleanliness and perfection in cooking, it cannot be surpassed by any other Stove, as hundreds of families in the city and vicinity, who are now using them, are willing to testify, and speak of them in the highest terms of praise.

We would refer to the following purchasers:

"MAGEE'S PATENT"
VENTILATING & AIR-WARMING
FURNACES.

The subscriber, being the Sole Agent in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of this valuable Furnace, would ask those about remodelling or erecting buildings to examine this truly valuable invention.

For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, moist and agreeable;—and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pot is used for respiration, it will not tend to produce headache so much complained of in other Furnaces, is entirely obviated.

The objects aimed at by the cohstructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.

To accomplish this many complicated and expensive heating arrangements have been constructed, some possessing but little improvement over former methods, while many have proved a total failure. The reason for this is obvious. The combustible gases leave the fire-pot, and pass off into the pipe or chimney without being consumed. This objection, so common in other Furnaces, is obviated in the

MAGEE FURNACE.

The flue, or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot descend, and are burned up by the admission of cold air through the fire-pot, which ignites them as they pass off from the coal, thus saving at least 50 per cent. of the properties of the heat in the fuel.

No heating apparatus with the smoke-pipe off flue on the top of the cone can be made to consume fuel so economically, and at the same time a large amount of the heat generated, making the chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.

This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.

These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.

For ease of management, economy and purity of air, these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire may be kept the entire season without once going out.

They give entire satisfaction wherever used.

We have in store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world,—and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:

Samuel Cleaves, Esq.,	Albert E. Hatch, Esq.,
Aaron H. Hill,	Charles H. Mendum,
Henry F. Wendell,	John Rice, and others.

It is a spirit not to be encouraged.—Its common and continual mischief is sufficient to make it the interest and duty of a wise people to discourage and restrain it. It serves to embitter all the popular form, it is seen in its greatest rankness, and is truly their worst enemy."—Washington's Farewell Address

"THE CONSTITUTION AS IT IS."—This Constitution, and the laws of the United States which shall be made in pursuance thereof, and all treaties made, or which shall be made, under the authority of the United States, shall be the SUPREME LAW of the land; and the judges in every State shall be bound thereby, anything in the Constitution or laws of any State to the contrary notwithstanding.

The Senators and Representatives before mentioned, and the members of the several State Legislatures, and all executive and judicial officers, both of the United States and of the several States, shall be bound by oath or affirmation, to support this Constitution.—Constitution U. S.

QUARREL AMONG THE DEMOCRATS IN CONGRESS.—The Washington correspondent of the Traveler says:—

The opposition in Congress are in a brisk quarrel over James Brooks' speech delivered last Friday in the House. The peace democrats are particularly savage upon him, and denounce him as a deserter from their ranks. The war-democrats, on the other hand, are hugely pleased with the speech. Such men as Odell, Lanson, Keenan, and others I might name of New York, are delighted with it. When the Brookses desert a ship it is a very certain sign that it is going to sink. This quarrel portends trouble of a more extensive character in the ranks of the Opposition.

The peace and the war democrats are struggling for the supremacy. The war democrats are determined that Gen. McClellan shall be a war candidate for the Presidency upon an opposition platform. They claim that he is a moderate anti-slavery man and that he is utterly opposed to the Fernando Wood democrats. The regalts of these differences in the ranks of the opposition it is difficult to foresee, but if the Republicans are shrewd it will be comparatively easy for them to elect their candidate.

Mrs Polk, widow of ex-President Polk, denies that she is a secessionist, as has been reported, and declares that she is for the government, notwithstanding her "womanly sympathies are with the South."

This puts Uncle Toby in mind of some satinet pantaloons, years ago, which were said to be northern pantaloons with southern principles. We understand the lady now is for the government, decidedly, in preference to anarchy, but desires, above all things, to see it administered in strict subserviency to the slave power,—as it was when she lived in the White House,—but as it never will be again.

☞ M. D. Conway, in a letter to The Boston Commonwealth, thus shows one of the many forms of court etiquette, which restrict the will and affections of English princes:—

"I learn that there was quite a rebellion in Windsor Castle. The Princess vehemently opposed having a wet nurse, and the Prince took her side, and could not see why she should not be allowed to nurse her baby, as she strongly desired to do. But she was told that the court traditions could not be set aside; never was English prince or princess yet nursed by its own mother. So the healthy and virtuous Mrs. O'Somebody was sent for, and the princess had a long cry. This is a true story, and somewhat more valuable than ordinary court gossip."

— The Boston Barbers have advanced the price for cutting hair to 35 cents.

— New York has 64,000 men to raise under the last call.

— Fourteen United States vessels are now waiting for seamen.

— The Herald states that the centennial for Newburyport, so far as the city is concerned, has gone by the board.

— A young officer of Admiral Dahlgren's fleet off Charleston has recently fallen heir to over half a million dollars.

— An order was introduced in the Newburyport City Council on Saturday evening, for the purchase of a steam fire engine.

DR. TEBBETTS'
PHYSIOLOGICAL
HAIR REGENERATOR
—AND—
UNIVERSAL HAIR RESTORER.
ITS MODUS OPERANDI.
Immediately beneath the scalp there are very small glands, more commonly called the Roots of the Hair. It is from these Glands that every hair of the head is formed and secreted. As long as the scalp is free from disease, these bodies also remain healthy, and the hair keeps its natural appearance and color. But when humors and other diseases affect the scalp, these glands become involved in the same disease, and the hair gradually turns gray, dry and brittle. Sooner or later the hair begins to fall off, and in many cases, if not arrested, will produce a complete baldness of the scalp.
To remedy this pathological condition of the glands and secure a new and healthy action, the Physiological Hair Regenerator has proved a perfect success—inasmuch as it is the only preparation yet known that can boast of such wonderful results.
Unlike thousands of other articles in the market, containing Silver, Lime, Lead, Litharge, Tannin, Sulphur, &c., and producing only a sort of yellow or flax color, it will, if properly applied restore the hair to its former appearance and beauty.
The Physiological Hair Regenerator is warranted in all cases to produce the following results:
1. It is not a Dye and will not stain a single particle. It contains no coloring matter whatever, and is not the least injurious in its application.
2. It will certainly RESTORE the hair from a gray to a beautiful Black, Brown, Auburn, or whatever might have been its original color.
3. It will effectually prevent the hair from falling off, remove all heat, inflammation and Dandruff from the scalp, keeping the head clean and cool, and the hair soft, glossy and of a silky appearance.
4. It will PROMOTE a luxuriant growth of new hair on bald heads, except in extreme cases of old age and where the glands have become disorganized.
5. It will cure the most inveterate itching and neuralgia of the scalp, and being highly perfumed, it affords a most delightful article for the toilet.
We have a great abundance of testimony to prove beyond a doubt all that we claim for the Regenerator; and it is positively certain that in a very short time it will have a world wide reputation.
HOME TESTIMONY.
BEDFORD, N. H., Dec. 17, 1862.
Messrs. Tebbetts Brothers—The preparation you induced me to try on my hair, about six weeks ago, has had a wonderful effect. My hair was then almost white and now it is almost black. My daughter has also tried it on her hair, which was fast falling off on account of a severe attack of the diphteria; it stopped it immediately on its application. My wife has also been trying it for baldness on top of her head, and finds that a new growth of hair is rapidly starting. We have only used one bottle, and I think one more will fix our heads up in good shape. J. C. CUTLER.
MANCHESTER, Dec. 20, 1863.
Gents—Unless I am very much mistaken, your Hair Regenerator is destined, ere long, to work a complete revolution with all other Hair Preparations. It not only restores the hair to its natural color and keeps the head free from Dandruff, but it is the most beautiful dressing that can be prepared. My hair, without any apparent cause, began to turn gray when about thirteen years of age, and had been gradually turning more or less than ten years, when at out two months ago I began the use of your Regenerator, and it has completely astonished all my friends to see my hair brought back to its natural color, which is almost a complete black. It is the only thing, unless it was a regular Hair Dye, that I ever knew would produce such effect. It also keeps the head so clean, and free from scurf, that it makes a very nice dressing. JACOB J. ABBOTT.

THE REBELLION.

Gen. Sigel has been assigned to the command of West Virginia.

The rebel Generals Forrest, Chalmers and others have occasioned much dissatisfaction among the Mississippi troops, it is said, by detailing scouts to take the cotton from the soldiers' wives, and, running the blockade at Memphis, bring back greenbacks and divide the profits with the Generals.

In the engagement at Tunnel Hill, Feb. 24th, Gen. Palmer captured over 300 prisoners, who have been brought in. We lost about 75 killed and wounded.

A dispatch from Nashville to the Philadelphia Inquirer states that our forces carried Tunnel Hill on Thursday morning after considerable skirmishing, and were then in front of Dalton, Ga. Scouts report to Gen. Grant that Gen. Sherman has struck the Mobile and Ohio Railroad. He has also cut the rebel army of Gen. Polk in the centre, and the wings are flying in different directions, but the rebels have sent Hardee's and Claiborne's divisions to reinforce Polk. There is a large force of rebel cavalry in the rear of Gen. Sherman, but no apprehensions are felt for a Federal disaster. Gen. Sherman lives upon the country through which he passes, which, it is stated, abounds in stores of all kinds. Great excitement exists in Montgomery, Ala., and the people there are much frightened at the approach of Gen. Sherman. The scouts also report that a heavy attack on the forts at Mobile is in full operation, but with what success could not be learned.

The Cincinnati Gazette has a dispatch stating that Gen. Grant has occupied Dalton.

On Saturday the 20th, Longstreet began his retreat from Strawberry Plains to Bull Gap, first destroying the bridge, and report says he destroyed his camp equipage, &c. Gen. Schofield has moved to the Plains with the Union forces, assigning the post and defences of Knoxville to Gen. Hascall, who will send forward the army equipage and stores. Rumors of a Union raid on Longstreet's rear are current, and are supposed to account for the precipitate rebel retreat.

Perley telegraphs that the Navy Department is sending all available vessels to intercept the Florida, which escaped from the Kearsarge, by which vessel she was blockaded at Brest, by aid of the French authorities.

CONGRESS, Thursday.—The House passed the Naval Appropriation bill. The most material amendments made to the bill before it passed were the increase of appropriations from $22,800,000 to $23,300,000 for the construction and repair of vessels, and the appropriation of $52,000 for floating dry docks at the New York and Philadelphia Navy Yards for Monitors.

In the Senate, the bill relating to Assistant Paymasters in the Navy was called up by Mr. Hale, and, after amendment, was passed. The bill regulating the pay of Naval Paymasters' clerks was rejected.—The bill relating to appointments in the Naval service was taken up, and amended by striking out the clause discharging within 60 days after the return of vessel, and adding an additional section empowering Court Martials to reduce to seamen's rates such officers as absent themselves from their commands. As thus amended it passed.

A MISSING MAIL BAG.—A mail bag containing an immense amount of valuable paper, money, &c., &c., mysteriously disappeared between Albany and New York, or at the latter city, on the 11th inst. The New York mail that closes at the Albany office at 2.45 P. M., contains every day a bag that is filled with letters from Albany banks, containing remittances of drafts, checks, notes, &c. This bag contained, on the 11th inst., remittances that must at least have amounted to half a million of dollars, and also the mail for Philadelphia and Baltimore. It was placed in charge of mail agent Burhans, who states that he delivered it in New York, and his waybill shows that the proper number of bags were received. But the Postmaster of New York knows nothing about the bag, or whether it was ever received at his office or not. Nothing has since been heard of it. Various opinions are expressed on the subject. The most natural is, that it has been stolen; but as there was a mail sent by the European steamer from New York that day, and, we believe, another for California, it is possible that it may have been mis-sent, either to Europe or California.—Troy Times, Friday.

☞ Preparations to destroy the Malden post office were accidentally discovered on Thursday — supposed to have been made by Greek after the murder. The laths had been cut away for quite a distance, and the hole filled with shavings; over this paper had been pasted, and a lounge placed against it so as not to attract the attention of any one going in.

— The Draft has been postponed until April 1,—that is, the Government bounties will be paid up to that time.

NOTES OF FORMER DAYS.

Expedition to Cape Breton, in 1745,—Capture of Louisburg.—Rev. Samuel Langdon.

Governor Shirley submitted his scheme for capturing Cape Breton to the General Court of Massachusetts for their approbation. It was not favorably received at first, but was finally adopted in the House of Representatives by a majority of a single vote. He wrote to the Governors of the several provinces as far as Pennsylvania, informing them of his intention, and requesting their assistance. Vaughan came express to Portsmouth the 1st of February, 1745, with letters to Governor Wentworth, who communicated them to the General Assembly then in session. They immediately acceded to the proposition, recommended raising two hundred and fifty men, and that military stores and transports should be in readiness by the 1st of March. They passed an act for the emission of 13,000*l.* in bills, to defray their proportion of the expense attending the expedition, to which the Governor, by advice of Shirley, contrary to his instructions, gave his consent. The troops furnished by this province, were enlisted before the last of February, amounting to upwards of three hundred. They were divided into eight companies, and formed a regiment, which was commanded by Colonel Samuel Moore; Nathaniel Meserve was Lieutenant Colonel, and Mr. Samuel Langdon, who kept the grammar-school here, and preached occasionally, went as Chaplain to the regiment. Transports were provided for the troops, and an armed sloop, with a crew of thirty men commanded by Captain John Fernald, served as a convoy to the transports, and as a cruiser. William Pepperell of Kittery was appointed Commander in Chief of the expedition. He was "a merchant of unblemished reputation and engaging manners, extensively known in Massachusetts and New-Hampshire, and very popular;" but totally unacquainted with the art of war. The New-Hampshire forces were placed under his command, by Governor Wentworth. Canseau was appointed as the place of rendezvous, and the troops met there the last of March, Commodore Warren, with the squadron under his command, arrived April the 23d,—and, after consulting with the General, proceed ed to sea and cruised before Louisburg, to intercept any of the enemy's vessels, bound there with supplies. The French had no suspicion of the intended invasion, until they saw the British ships in the bay, and were quite unprepared for such an event. Captain Fernald, in the New-Hampshire sloop, captured a ship from Martinico and retook one of the transports, which had been taken by the French the proceeding day.

Pepperell landed his troops at Chapeaurouge on the 29th of March. Vaughan had the rank and pay of a Lieutenant Colonel, but was attached to no regiment. He conducted the first division of the troops through the woods, till they came in view of the city. On the 1st of May, he led a small party of thirteen men to the harbour, and burned the buildings, which contained the naval stores of the enemy, and destroyed a large quantity of wine and brandy. The troops in the grand battery, were so much alarmed by this fire, that they abandoned it, and fled to the city. When Vaughan and his men returned the next morning, he observed that the colors were taken from the flag-staff, and that no smoke issued from the chimnies of the barracks, whence he concluded that the battery was forsaken. He hired an Indian to climb into the fort through one of the embrasures, and open the gate. He found it deserted as he expected, and immediately gave notice to the General, and requested a reinforcement. The French sent a hundred men in boats to retake the battery; but Vaughan with his valiant party on the open beach, exposed to the fire of the enemy from the city and boats, prevented their landing until the arrival of the detachment, sent by the General, and with their assistance he kept possession of the battery. The French ship, the Vigilante, of sixty-four guns, richly laden with naval stores, was captured by Warren's squadron. She had been long expected, and when the news of her being taken was communicated to the French commander, it produced evident marks of depression.

The Governor, observing the preparations which were making for a general assault, thought it best to capitulate, and on the 17th of June he surrendered the city to the besieging army. The news of this important victory was received throughout the British provinces in America with every demonstration of joy, and in Europe with great surprise. Pepperell and Warren were created Baronets: Warren was advanced to the rank of Admiral; Pepperell and Shirley received commissions as Colonels in the British army. Parliament reimbursed to the colonies the expenses of the expedition. New-Hampshire received sixteen thousand, three hundred, and fifty-five pounds sterling.

The north parish in Portsmouth on the 6th of November, 1746, invited Mr. Samuel Langdon, who had returned from the expedition to Louisburg, to assist Mr. Fitch. They gave him permission to continue his school, as long as Mr. Fitch was able to preach, after which they agreed that Mr. Langdon should become his successor.
